MANNVILLE — On Saturday evening, April 2nd, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Croft, David, Glen and Gary entertained members of the Croft families at a buffet dinner in honor of the silver wedding anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hanning of Mannville, and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Croft of Elk Point.

The table was centred with daffodils, silver candle holders and white tapers.

Mr. Lowell Croft, on behalf of the family, presented Mr. and Mrs. Hanning with a chest of silver. Mrs. Robert Bennett of Edmonton then presented Mr. and Mrs. Croft with a bridge set. Both recipients were gracious in their replies of thanks.

The evening was spent in dancing, cards and games which all tended to make this special occasion a most memorable one.

Family members present were Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bennett and Barbara, Howard McLuckie, Mrs. Harold Turdt, James Croft, Mr. and Mrs. Card Lindbeck of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Greenwall, Bonnie and Rhena of Wetaskiwin, Mr. and Mrs. L. Croft, Mark and Donnie of Elk Point, Mr. and Mrs. Art Lord of Jasper, Mrs. Dick Wilson of Discovery Mines, N.W.T.; Mr. and Mrs. James McLuckie, Miss Audrey Modin, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hanning, Mannville.

Those unable to attend were: Harold Turdt of Uranium City; John Croft of the Royal Canadian Navy and Miss Elaine Bennett of Edmonton.

Home League Notes

On Feb. 3 little Terry Tully was dedicated by Lieut. Moore. It was a very impressive service.

At the Feb. 10th meeting fruit juices had been sent to sick members and a Valentine party was enjoyed at the devotional period.

A religious campaign was held the week of Feb. 17 with Capt. Tuerney and Roger Rooks of Calgary taking part. Roger, as you all know, is a Vermilion-raised boy. These meetings were well worth while attending.

On Feb. 24 old Xmas cards were prepared to be sent away to missionaries on foreign fields.

Dewberry CGIT activities

"We, the Dewberry C.G.I.T., have been busy these past few months.

In February, Mrs. Jones, one of our leaders, took seven girls to a week-end Presbyterial rally in Wainwright. We found the program varied and interesting. Many of us enjoyed seeing and visiting with camp pals from the C.G.I.T. camp last summer.

Early in March we held a rally of our own. Our theme was "Kum ba yah, my Lord", meaning "Come by here, my Lord". Miss Norma Kennedy was guest speaker and Mrs. Kruger showed slides on "Women of Africa".

On March 17 we held a St. Patrick's tea. The weather was just like spring and brought many out to patronize our effort. We would like to thank one and all for helping make it successful.

On April 3 four ladies from the Islay W.M.S. journeyed to our church to let us affiliate with them. Mrs. Sweet presented the new members with Affiliation badges. Mrs. R. Smith of Lloydminster was also present and presented us with our seal. Mr. Shortt had a special message for us as well.

On Friday, April 1 we went to an April Fool's party held by Kitscoty C.G.I.T. We had fun and were most fortunate in taking home four prizes."

The Carrier Indians of central British Columbia practised cremation and were given their name by early explorers because of the custom which required a widow to carry with her in a bag for the rest of her life whatever remained of her husband's funeral pyre.

C. G. I. T. Plans Easter Event

MANNVILLE — Meeting on March 29th in the United church social rooms, members of the C.G.I.T. opened with repeating of the purpose and joined in with the worship service which followed. Reports of the secretary and treasurer were adopted as read, and the roll call was answered by singing the chorus of Kumba Yah, an African song. The roof of the African hut which the girls have constructed came up for discussion under old business. Final discussion of an Easter party constituted new business. Each girl may invite a boy to this function, lunch will be served and dancing will play an important part in entertainment. Marian Schock and Miriam Ewing are in charge of entertainment, Dianne Gausvick and Phyllis Tymchyshyn, decorations, Terrilyn Bryden and Janice Finlay. An invitation to Vivien Lynch to bring her record player is to be dispatched. The meeting closed with the singing of Taps.

Teachers Entertain

MANNVILLE — On Friday [illegible], Mannville B. C. teachers were hosts at a social rally at Mannville and following a short business meeting the group took part in a variety of entertainment. The highlight of the evening came when all present made and modelled Easter bonnets. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Clements, Mrs. Brown, Mr. Minch and Mr. Forsyth. A most enjoyable lunch brought the happy evening to a close.

QUOTE OF THE MONTH

"An educated man stands, as it were, in the midst of a boundless arsenal and magazine, filled with all the weapons and engines which man's skill has been able to devise from the earliest time."

Oh Dear Oh Dear

These small misprints which are the bane of every publisher's life occasionally do result in copy gloriously rich in entertainment value, as witness the following culled from an item appearing in a weekly newspaper:

"It is proposed to use the donation for the purchase of new benches for our park, as the present old ones are in a very dilapidated state."

The local councilmen in this case (not ARK) for all their highly developed sense of public economy, would seem not to agree that a thing of beauty is necessarily and in all circumstances a joy forever.

He's been detained

At a recent convention, a delegate arrived at the hotel to check in. Unfortunately, the clerk informed him, there was no reservation for him and no room.

"Tell me," said the undaunted one, "if the Prime Minister should arrive today and ask for a room, would you have one for him?"

"Yes, I suppose so," the clerk replied.

"Well," said the delegate, reaching for the register, "the Prime Minister isn't coming, so I'll take his room."

Services Held for Mrs. G. Arnold

MANNVILLE — Funeral services were held recently for Mrs. Gertrude Arnold, 79, of Mannville, who died at Rosenhaven home, Camrose.

Born in Kettlebrook, England, Mrs. Arnold came to Canada to join her husband, Harry, in 1911. They farmed in the Chailey district until 1915, when they moved to the Creighton district to farm. Mrs. Arnold and family remained there until 1920, moving then to the Brass O'Benachie, north of Mannville, where they lived until 1927. Their final move was to Mannville village, where Mr Arnold helped build the creamery.

Mrs. Arnold, who had been teaching music while on the farm, and had classes in town, resumed her work on a larger scale for approximately 20 years.

She was a member of the Anglican WA and played the organ at Christ Church as long as her health permitted. She is survived by two daughters, Peggy (Mrs. E. Hubbard) and Joan (Mrs. R. Lugg) both of Mannville; and one sister in England. Mr. Arnold predeceased her in 1959.

Mannville 4-H Club Meets

The Mannville 4-H Clothing club held their third meeting on March 22 at the home of Mrs. S. Jackson, their leader. All members were present. At the meeting several of the members volunteered to help the blood donor clinic at Mannville in July. There was also a discussion on who would go to the 4-H spring rally on May 4 at Wainwright.

The 4-H project books were distributed. Gisela Khun joined the club as the 13th member. Just before the close of the meeting many interesting 4-H speeches were given and judged by Mrs. W. Jackson, Mrs. Pat Cotter and Mrs. R. Stephenson. A contest was given by Anita de la Salle.

It was decided the next meeting would be held at the Chailey Community centre on April 27 at 8 p.m. to which all parents and any others interested are invited. Everyone is to bring lunch. At this meeting Miss Hooper, the Home Economist for this area, is to speak. Roll call is "Your favorite color".

Gideon Official Visits Camps In This District

At their regular monthly meeting held on Friday, April 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mix, the local Camp of the Gideons had as their special guest Mr. R. Hugh Coldridge of White Rock, B.C., who is their western field secretary.

Vice-President E. Schurman was chairman and welcomed out-of-town members Mr and Mrs. John Lupul, Lloydminster, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Swanson, Marwayne, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stefanyk, Mannville, Mr and Mrs. D. Friesen, Streamstown.

Mr Coldridge spent Sunday and Monday in St Paul and Lloydminster visiting members at those points. Together with Mr Schurman and Mr. Clendenning he motored to Wainwright Monday evening to meet with the Camp there. He left Wainwright by train to cover the rest of his territory which extends from the head of the Great Lakes to Vancouver Island.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband Martin, one daughter Mrs. G. Frank of Rimbey, one son Elwood, of Allenstown, Pa., and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in Rimbey United church on Wednesday, March 16. Rev. [illegible] officiated and interment took place in the [illegible] cemetery, Rimbey.

"TRUTH IS ALWAYS STRANGER THAN FICTION"
—Author's name below—

Stories have been written about magic potions that could cure disease. But no fiction is as true as the present fact that five or ten dollars worth of antibiotic capsules can now, almost overnight, cure pneumonia.

The truth is almost unbelievable. Vitamins and Hormones are the fabled "Elixir of Life." They help add years to your living. The greatest miracle of all is that despite the tremendous research expense needed to discover and perfect new medicines, more than half the prescriptions we compound still cost less than $3.00, which is about the average charge for all prescriptions.

A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Negro Banned on TV

A Toronto Negro boy was asked to refrain from dancing with white girls on a television program in Buffalo, N.Y. Clayton Johnston, 15, was among a group of Toronto teenagers and chaperones who chartered a bus to Buffalo to attend the program "Dance Party," which was telecast. Master of ceremonies Pat Fagan said numerous calls were received by the station objecting to mixed dancing. Toronto MPP William Collings has demanded an inquiry.

NEWS from ISLAY

For the next three months, church service is at 11:30 a.m. with Sunday School at the same time.

A spring tea, apron sale with home baking and a table of odds and ends (a new venture for the W.A.) will be held at Islay in the near future.

Something of a family gathering at the Schaffer home took place Sunday. Many relatives sat down to a turkey dinner to celebrate three different birthdays in the family.

Mrs. Dorothy Webber and Brenda of Edmonton motored down on Saturday to visit their aunts, the Misses Stone, going back on the same day. They also visited with Mrs. Roy Stone in Vermilion.

Mrs. Lila Waterfield is conducting the church choir for Easter.

The Dewberry C.G.I.T. held their affiliation service Sunday afternoon in Dewberry church, affiliating with the Islay United church. Mrs. Sweet, Miss Anderson, Miss M. Stone and Miss G. Stone attended. Much credit is due to the two leaders, Mrs. Neil Jones and Mrs. Lowrie, who give much time to the girls of the C.G.I.T. A social hour followed the service at the home of Mrs. Jones.

FIRST AID FOR FURNITURE

Many of you have in your homes one or more pieces of furniture that has loose parts, dents, or scratches. While you are in the process of spring cleaning, you may have the urge to apply some first aid techniques to those pieces in need.

LOOSE KNOBS & HANDLES

Screws which penetrate a knob sometimes become loose because the hole in the knob has become too large to hold the screw. Remove the knob and fill the hole with plastic wood. Let it harden completely then replace screw.

STICKING DRAWERS

If the sticking is slight, it can be cured by rubbing the side and bottom edge of the drawer with soap or paraffin or by sand papering the edges. Drawers that stick badly have to be planed down.

DENTS

Dents may be raised by covering the spot with 3 or 4 layers of damp cloths or blotting paper then applying a heated iron over the dented portion only. The surface must then be refinished.

WHITE RINGS

These are usually caused by heat or moisture. If the action is stopped quickly, the ring can be avoided. If not, here are some remedies. If one doesn't work, try the next.

1. Quick application of ammonia or alcohol followed immediately by a rubbing oil or polish.
2. Rub with a cloth moistened in turpentine.
3. Rub with a cloth moistened in linseed oil.

SMALL SCRATCHES

These can sometimes be removed by flowing turpentine into them with a small brush. Build up the turpentine residue to the level of the rest of the surface.

LARGE SURFACE SCRATCHES

Wash the area around the scratch with carbon tetrachloride to remove any film of wax or polish. Now sand lightly with 6-0 or 7-0 finish paper to smooth down the sharp shoulders of the scratch. The sanded area can extend to as much as an inch on all sides of the scratch. There should be no noticeable change in level when you're finished sanding.

Wipe the spot clean and apply a thin coat of varnish. This coat overlaps the original finish slightly. When the first coat is dry, sand slightly and apply a second coat. Continue adding thin layers of varnish and sanding until the area is built up to the original level. Do not sand the last coat. Rub it with fine pumice to match the surrounding finish. Polish the entire surface.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS
But, now- WOW!
LIFE IS JUST TOO COMPLICATED!

Robert Newman Passes April 3rd

Robert Davis Newman, a long time resident of Vermilion passed away on April 3rd at the Vermilion hospital following a brief illness. Mr. Newman was 73 years of age at the time of his death.

Robert was born on Manitoulin Island, Ontario where he spent the first 23 years of his life. He then came further west and settled in Vermilion in 1910.

He is survived by one brother, Joseph, of Manitoulin Island.

Funeral services were held Thursday, April 7th from Vermilion United church with Rev. C. W. MacKay officiating. Interment took place in Vermilion cemetery.

Alliance Chapel

Guest speakers at the Alliance Chapel mid-week prayer meeting on Tuesday, March 29 were Rev. R. M. Knapp and Rev. H. Montgomery of the Yukon Baptist Mission, Whitehorse, Y.T. In this work they are associated with Ray and Ruth Wilson and "Tunny" Hill formerly of Vermilion. Mention was made during the evening that over thirty young people from this area are now serving in various mission fields of the world.

Mr. Knapp gave a talk of special interest to girls and boys, and Mr. Montgomery gave the message of the evening, showing colored slides of the work being carried on by the Yukon Baptist Mission in that area of our northland.

Twelve Million Dollar Surplus Set

Balanced budget forecast with few tax revisions

A surplus of $12,000,000 was forecast last night by Finance Minister Donald Fleming in a "stand pat" budget speech devoid of tax changes that would affect most Canadians.

Mr. Fleming himself called it a balanced budget, and made it clear that he is depending on continued buoyancy in the economy to bring his revenues up to and beyond the level of expenditures, while maintaining the status quo on taxes.

Although it was a neutral budget, it represented a triumph for Mr. Fleming, since it reversed the trend of deficits since the Progressive Conservatives came to power in 1957. No Conservative finance minister has been able to budget for a surplus since 1913.

"It is my hope," said Mr. Fleming, "that this balanced budget will strengthen the economic and [illegible] of Canada".

He left [illegible] the political [illegible], [illegible] the possibility of [illegible] the next time around, with a federal election in the offing.

SURPLUS IS HIGHLIGHT

In the absence of significant tax changes, the main highlight is the surplus itself, and the prospect it offers of small-scale competition in the money market by the federal government. Mr. Fleming forecast net cash requirements of about $310,000,000 compared with $900,000,000 during the year just ended and $1,373,000,000 in 1958-59.

His overall figures — expenditures, $5,880,000,000; revenues, $5,892,000,000; surplus, $12,000,000.

Even the old age pension fund will be a help, instead of a drain as in recent years.

PENSION REVENUE UP

Pension fund revenues will be about $630,000,000 and expenditures will exceed $590,000,000 — a possible surplus of $40,000,000. The fund already owes Mr. Fleming $24,000,000, cutting the prospective surplus to $16,000,000.

Thus, adding the old age pension figures to Mr. Fleming's budget figures, the total expenditure from the public purse would be $6,470,000, the total income $6,322,000,000; the total surplus, $28,000,000.

All these figures, except the surplus, represent all-time highs.

Revenues are expected to be up $591,000,000; expenditures up $173,000,000, leaving the old age pension fund out of it.

SOME BENEFIT

There were specific items of good news in the budget for certain groups.

Civil servants were told that 30,000 of them will receive pay increases totalling about $15,000,000. Principally affected will be the clerical and stenographic classes.

The textile industry received a small measure of increased protection through tariff increases, notably a 20 per cent increase in the rate against colored cotton fabrics from the U.S., and an increase from 7½ to 12 per cent in the tariff on man-made fabrics. Clothing manufactured from these materials will cost Canadians slightly more than before.

RAISE MEDICAL DEDUCTIONS

Canadians with high medical expenses receive an assist in the only significant change under the heading of personal income tax. Medical deductions are raised to $2,300 from $1,300 for single taxpayers, to $3,000 from $2,000 for married taxpayers and $730 from $500 for each dependent. The total permissable deductions for dependents, formerly $2,000 is raised to $3,000.

Budget Highlights

Personal and corporation income tax rates remain unchanged.

Budget surplus for 1960-61 is forecast at $12,000,000, compared with a $405,800,000 deficit for the year ended March 31.

Wage increases costing $15,000,000 in a year will be made for 30,000 civil servants effective April 1, 1960.

Maximum allowable deductions of medical expenses will be increased for income tax purposes, effective Jan. 1, 1960.

Changes in income and estate tax acts will help widows.

Canadian textile industry will get increased tariff protection, especially against imported cotton fabrics.

Expenditures are estimated at a record $5,880,000,000 compared with $5,707,000,000 in 1959-60, and revenues at a peak $5,892,000,000 as against $5,301,000,000.

No changes are made in taxes on liquor or tobacco, sales or excise tax rates, or estate tax rate.

Minor tax changes won't affect revenue picture.

Tariff board will examine the tariff structure on engineering and architects plans, nails, china and glass imported for decoration, and mining and petroleum machinery.

Forecast surplus of $40,000,000 for old-age pension fund would be first in fund's nine-year history.

The Homemaker

NANCY HOOPER
District Home Economist
Wainwright, Alta.

In spring the average homemaker's interests turn at least for a time to thoughts of color schemes. Whether the color scheme is for your home or your wardrobe, you must still plan it carefully if you want it to be effective.

"FOOLPROOF" GUIDES

If you hesitate to change the color of your living room walls because you're afraid you don't know the "rules", then these guides may help you. Concentrate on one major color scheme for your room. It's by no means monotonous. The second guide is to use accent colors for richness.

COLORS — WARM [illegible]

The warm group of colors include red and related colors, brown and related colors and yellow and its relatives. Cool colors include the blues and greens. Warm colors are stimulating and cheering while those in the cool range are restful and soothing.

SIZE INCREASING AND SIZE DIMINISHING COLORS

Warm colors make objects seem nearer and larger in size while objects of the cooler colors have the opposite effect. This can be put to use in the following way. Large pieces of furniture (e.g. chesterfield or chair) may be made to look smaller if covered in green or blue rather than wine or rust. On the other hand small furniture can give the impression of taking up more space if upholstered in warm colors.

ADJOINING ROOMS

Rooms often open directly upon another such as an open hall in the entry or one connecting living and dining rooms. An archway separating living and dining areas is another example. To create a pleasant harmonious color scheme, the neighboring areas should be treated as a unit. You would therefore be well advised to choose the same color for the two areas.

[illegible] windows in your livingroom? You can minimize the spotted effect by choosing a curtain fabric that is the same color as the wall. If the sofa seems too bulky, pick an upholstery fabric that blends with the wall. The bulkiness will be less noticeable. Does the wall seem to be cut up with too many doors and windows? Paint the woodwork to match the walls. For more information on color schemes get your free copy of our bulletin "Color in the Home", available at the Department of Agriculture.

Can't Spell; Change Back To Numbers

During recent years, the Alberta Government Telephone Company and a number of city owned exchanges have spent millions of dollars converting from the straight number system to a new 2 letter prefix on their exchange dialing. This was with the idea of subscribers being able to dial long distance direct from their homes.

Word now comes from the east where this brain-child was originally fostered and spread that a complete reverse of policy is in the offing.

Bell Telephone Co. will gradually change all telephone numbers in Ontario and Quebec from a combination of letters and numbers to straight numbers.

Other phone companies across Canada were likely to conform.

For instance, UNiversity 6-3911 dialed [illegible] would become 866-3911.

The changeover will take a number of years to complete but it will eventually rid the phone company of a lot of headaches.

- It will end the chore of inventing exchange names.
- Some combinations of letters can't be used because they are just unpronounceable.
- Some subscribers object to the implications of exchange names assigned to them. French Canadians for instance would not readily accept an exchange like ULster.
- Similarly some French names like CHamplain [illegible] because they would [illegible] English speaking [illegible]. Some people would [illegible] dial SH.
- The number system will also eliminate unnecessary enquiries to operators about spelling. Operators already give just the exchange letters instead of pronouncing the name in full.

With all these limitations, the [illegible] system [illegible] useful combinations for exchange names in [illegible].

The all-number system permits up to 800.

More than 1,700 miles of railway track in Canada is now under Centralized Traffic Control, an electrical system which permits dispatchers at different points to set signals and throw switches over long distances. CTC speeds traffic, reduces the chances of an accident and permits a single track to carry 75 per cent as much traffic as ordinary double-track.

G. A. Candidates Are Chosen

MANNVILLE. — Upon decision of two judges, Mrs. Ross Ewing and Mrs. Carman Hughes, two candidates were chosen for the forthcoming G.A. festival to be held in Edmonton, namely Miss Gail Mercer, who will compete in the Individual Bible Reading, and Miss Dawn Kreller, who will compete with other G.A. lassies for the title of "Miss G.A. 1960".

Four more chapters of the study book were recently exemplified by the members, and the whole book will be brought to life at a future Fireside Hour after church service in Anglican Christ church. The folk dance has been decided upon for the festival which takes place annually, date for this year April 19th. Members composed their own theme song again for this year and have chosen a folk song, to be sung in harmony.

STUTTERING

Many children go through a period of stuttering or stammering (which is the same thing) between the ages of two and five. They try to say something, hesitate, then try repeatedly to utter the sound or word they want to use. They may repeat the first letter of a word several times, or a whole word, or may even become so stuck they can't utter a sound. A great many children stutter at some time in learning to talk. By understanding its causes you may help prevent it becoming a persistent habit.

A young child's stuttering is the signal of too much nervous tension, making him lose control of the delicate muscular balance he needs for speech. That's why, in this early stage you should do nothing directly about correcting his speech, such as having him say the word or sentence over again. Your job is to find out what's making him so tense. This may not be simple since the causes can be varied and far removed from the speech itself.

Ignore the stuttering itself and for the time being accept your child's speech as normal. Above all, do your best to prevent him from becoming anxious about his speech. Remember that your anxiety is readily felt by him. If you're upset, or show pity, he'll react with more hesitation and stuttering.

Fatigue has a bearing on speech control. Stuttering spasms happen more often when the child is overtired. The stammering child needs more rest than other children. An early bedtime is important and the afternoon sleep or rest should be continued even after he starts kindergarten, preferably a morning kindergarten. If your child can't establish good sleep habits, your family doctor should be consulted. Poor toilet habits may cause emotional tension. Dealing wisely with feeding troubles or with bed wetting (especially if fear is tied up with it) may cause the stuttering gradually to disappear.

An emotional shock or fright sometimes results in stammering. Your task here is to build up his feeling of security after the disturbing experience. Let him pour out his fear and anxiety and don't try to correct his stuttering as he tells it. Help him forget the nasty shock by giving him pleasant experiences to enjoy — a family outing or a new plaything.

It's possible that his stuttering began when he tried to speak like the older ones around him. It turned out to be too much of a load. If you demand a lot from him and set impossibly high standards, he may find trouble in this hard business of learning to speak. When a child is making fast progress in talking, why complicate things by making a show of it in having him recite nursery rhymes and jingles? Don't urge him to say long words or show amusement when he makes mistakes in pronunciation.

Another possible cause: If he has been showing emotional tension by faulty habits such as thumb sucking, nail biting or facial twitching and if they are forcibly stopped, he may show his frustration by stammering. You can help by giving him love and affection, by providing pleasant activities such as painting or clay modelling, and avoiding the use of force in correcting such habits.

Sometimes, after a long illness, a child will start stuttering because he isn't ready to resume his usual daily routine. See that his readjustment of everyday normal living takes place gradually. He had extra attention during his sickness and if you take it away too suddenly, the emotional reaction may show up in stammering.

Sometimes trying to make a left-handed child use his right hand will start him stuttering. The part of the brain controlling the "preferred" hand is closely associated with the part that controls speech. Changing may therefore upset the child. At the age of two, a child uses both hands more or less equally. As he grows older, let him make his own choice of becoming right or left-handed.

Children who show a tendency toward stammering are usually overactive, emotional youngsters. Too much activity and excitement in play can have a bad effect in their speech. A regular routine is needed for them. Keep movies and parties to a minimum. Temper tantrums, jealousies, fear, in fact any sign of emotional insecurity should be examined carefully and handled with patience. When there is constant quarrelling between parents, lack of harmony in the household, the child's speech development may be deeply affected. Emotional security is your child's main need. The periods at which stuttering is most common after the 2-5 age are when he enters school and at adolescence — both times of adjustment in their lives.

Parents can do a real job of helping to prevent or cure stuttering if they always keep in mind the close tie-up between the child's emotional stability and his speech habits. Relieve his tensions and never hurry him in his attempts to talk. Give him a chance to speak without interruptions; listen with patience. Some direct ways of helping your child strengthen his speech muscles are through blowing bubbles and balloons, whistling and singing. They also bolster his confidence and make him feel he's doing something to overcome this uncomfortable habit. Curing the confirmed or severe stutterer is not a quick or easy matter and setbacks are to be expected. It may be advisable in stubborn cases to seek the advice of a speech specialist.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Legislature Wrestles Problem of Growing Hutterite Population

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Members of the Legislature last week wrestled with the troublesome problem of what to do about Alberta's growing Hutterite population.

A dozen bearded, black-clad brethren sat in the Assembly chamber as the House agriculture committee considered a bill which will bring in a new system of controlling Hutterite colony expansion.

Main provision of the bill is establishment of a three-man communal property control board, which will hear arguments pro and con every time the Hutterites want to set up a new colony, and make recommendations to the cabinet.

This replaces an existing law which states specifically, in black and white, that a new colony cannot be set up within 40 miles of an existing one. So what the legislation does in effect is replace a statutory restriction with broad laws which give the cabinet the final say.

This troubled Percy G. Davies, of Clyde, lawyer for Alberta's 5000 Hutterites. At least, under the old act, the Hutterian Brethren knew exactly where they stood.

But, under the new bill, he said, they're at the mercy of the government with no right of appeal to the courts. And on any matter concerning the liberty of the subjects, he said, he would sooner deal with the courts. Governments have to look at the political implications of everything they do; the courts are divorced from politics and local prejudice.

However, the most troublesome question of all was that of infringement on religious freedom. And it was on that question that Mr Davies built almost his entire case.

To the Hutterites, he said, community ownership of property is as sacred as the fundamental doctrine is to members of other religious faiths. Alberta's restrictive legislation, he said, violates the United Nations' Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

Mr Davies asked that the legislation be thrown out within a year. In the meantime he said, the Hutterites and the government would get together and negotiate an agreement concerning the location of new colonies.

Mr. Davies also hit back at arguments that the Hutterites refuse to educate their children, refuse to take civic responsibilities, evade income taxes, and refuse to defend their country.

In taking their children out of school at age 15 they're doing the same thing all parents are allowed to do by law. refusing to vote in elections they're no worse than the majority of Albertans, they are subject to income taxes the same as other farmers, and there's no law that says they have to be prepared to defend their country, he said.

Considering the strong feelings that can boil up in rural Alberta over Hutterites, the agricultural hearings drew few submissions. [illegible] of the Canadian Legion submitted a brief calling for continued statutory restrictions. A spokesman said the Legion branch is unfriendly toward the Hutterites "because they won't accept our way of life."

The Farmers' Union of Alberta local from Elnora also asked for continued restrictions, claiming Hutterite colonies in the area have depressed the value of farmland.

Premier Manning asked few questions during the hearings, but when all the arguments were heard he summed things up by telling the Hutterites that restrictive legislation is for their own good. The government recognizes their right to live as they please, he said, but at the same time they must realize their way of life creates problems in society. If the problem is not faced squarely, he said, the rights the brethren enjoy could be destroyed.

At week's end that's where it stood. Barring a few small amendments, the bill was expected to go through third reading pretty well as drafted.

Cabinet ministers brought in a flood of important legislation during the week. Amendments to the Vehicles and Highways Traffic Act would require anyone learning to drive a car to hold a "learner's permit."

The law would apply to every would-be driver from the age of 14 up. A teen-ager taking driving [illegible] would have to obtain a permit. Vision and reaction tests will be required before permits are issued.

Another bill increases the tax on diesel fuel by two cents a gallon, making it 12 cents. The tax on gasoline remains unchanged at 10 cents per gallon.

Legislation was introduced to pave the way for the province's new program of building chronic hospitals. It provides for the setting up of chronic hospital districts under boards similar to those of regular hospital district boards.

Members also set up a seven-man committee to study redistribution of House seats and report back to the next session. Hon. [illegible] portfolio, heads the committee. Members are Harry Strom, SC, William Ure, SC, Edgar Gerhart, SC, Ira McLaughlin, SC, Ernest Watkins, PC, Michael Maccagno, Lib.

4500 rural school children enter safety contest

[illegible] Farm Safety Essay contest it was announced Monday by Arthur J. Dixon, President of the Council.

This year, he said, 43,118 pupils in 55 school divisions have entered. A record total. Last year, 39,118 enrolled.

The topics this year, Mr Dixon said, are recreation safety and chemical safety chosen by the Farm Safety Essay Committee headed by Hon R. D. Jorgenson. Students may take their choice. To provide the youngsters with background information, 2,246 posters have been sent to the schools. The posters illustrate good swimming and boating practices and explain drowning causes and life-saving techniques. Camping trips, fire safety, drinking water safety, firearms and woodcraft in the event of becoming lost are dealt with also. Information on chemical safety covers pesticides and other farm chemicals and mentions the services of the new poison control centres.

The contest, as usual, is open to students in grades five, six, seven and eight. It closes April 29. Final judging will be done by the Dept. of Education, Correspondence School Branch. Awards to provincial winners will be presented in Edmonton on June 6th by Lieutenant-Governor J. Percy Page at a luncheon in the Macdonald hotel.

The winners from grades 5-6 and from grades 7-8 in each of the 55 school divisions will receive lapel pins as personal prizes and wall plaques for the schoolroom. In addition, first and second prizes will be awarded for the two best essays in the province from grades five and six and the two best essays from grades seven and eight, chosen from among the division winners.

The first prize in each group is $50, the second is $25. In addition, the four winners and their teachers will be entitled to an all expense paid trip to Edmonton for one day, June 6th, when the awards will be presented. Students in school divisions, counties, correspondence schools and Indian schools are eligible.

Last year's provincial winners were Sharon Tebbutt of Vegreville and Lois Sorgen of Rawlf in grades five and six, and Hazel Anne Henderson of Ponoka County and Myroslawa [illegible] of Vegreville in grades seven and eight.

The Farm Safety Essay Competition has been held each year since 1951.

ALBERTA [illegible]

'Be Citizens Or Leave' Urged For Hutterites

A committee of the Alberta Legislature was told Tuesday that the 5,000 Hutterites in the province should be told to leave the country unless they accept the responsibilities of Canadian citizenship.

John L. Oldham, president of the Canadian Legion, said members of the religious sect should take out Canadian citizenship papers if they wish to "remain within our borders."

Fred Colborne of Calgary, minister without portfolio, asked what should be done with the 85,000 Americans living in southern Alberta.

"They should also be asked to take out Canadian citizenship," he was told.

The committee opened its hearing on proposed amendments to the communal property act which governs the Hutterite colonies. The bill would eliminate the 40-mile spacing restriction on the colonies and instead set up a three-man board to regulate their expansion. All decisions of the board would be subject to cabinet approval.

WEDDING BELLS

ROMANCHUK—HASKELL

Saturday Feb. 20, Dewberry United church was the scene of a double-ring wedding ceremony when Carol Faye, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs. R. C. Haskell and Cyril Stephen, second son of Mr and Mrs. S. Romanchuk all of Dewberry, exchanged marriage vows before Rev. James Shortt. Miss Cheryl Jones played the wedding music and Mrs. Iris Hodgson sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a two-piece green and gold tweed suit. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and her only jewellery was a pearl necklace.

Miss Patsy Haskell, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore a powder blue wool suit with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Mr John Romanchuk, brother of the groom, was best man. Mr Meredith Whiteside was usher.

For the wedding the bride's mother chose a brown wool dress with coral accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home with 45 guests attending. The bride's table was centred with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Spicer. Daffodils and lily-of-the-valley graced the tables.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr Raymond Haskell, uncle of the bride. The groom ably responded.

Fresh spring flowers were placed on all the tables, a gift of the bride's aunt.

The happy couple opened their many wedding gifts before departing for Edmonton where they will make their home.

Modern science is now close to accounting for the fact that mammoths with buttercups in their teeth are found perfectly preserved in the Arctic. The April Reader's Digest reports that a violent shifting of the earth's surface thousands of years ago may be the answer. This change brought about a sudden temperature drop of 150 degrees and violent wind and snow storms that quick-froze and buried animals literally before they could swallow the food in their mouths.

Mr and Mrs. Johnson, Sharon and Allan were in one car and Mr and Mrs. Brown and baby in the other. The baby is also in hospital, all the rest having escaped serious injury.

A large number of ladies attended a shower in the United church hall on Saturday evening for Miss Arlene Kvill in honor of her forthcoming marriage to Dale George on Saturday Apr. 9th. The two mothers Mrs. D. Kvill and Mrs. S. George assisted the bride-to-be in opening her many beautiful gifts.

Professional boxing should be abolished

As "the down-at-the-heels [illegible] of organized sport," professional boxing should be abolished, says the April issue of Reader's Digest.

There is no excuse for it to exist an article says. When [illegible] watch a fight on TV the [illegible] are that you see two muscular [illegible] who are nothing but [illegible] of the mobsters who control the business. Often the [illegible] are subnormal mentally either because they were born that way or because they have practised their trade too long. They know who is to win and who is to lose -- when and how.

This shabby game should be abolished on both medical and moral grounds says writer James Stewart-Gordon. The medical proof is hard to deny. Sometimes a single hard blow to the head causes death by cerebral hemorrhage. It is the only sport where the head is the chief target, where the aim is to punish an opponent by knocking him out. And the brain, unlike some other parts of the body, cannot replace its own tissue. Damage is permanent. This results in what is known medically as the "punch-drunk syndrome," a shuffling gait, tortured speech and the inability to think clearly. Other common boxing injuries include damage to the eyes, kidneys and heart. Ex-heavyweight Gene Tunney decided to give up boxing immediately when he received a blow on his head while training. He was not able to recall anything that happened during the following three days.

Morally speaking, professional boxing is not a sport at all. It is a business which provides maximum profit to the men who control the fighters, the arenas and the TV outlets. Through their monopoly, known as The Octopus, they make the decisions for almost every boxer today, regardless of his skill, decide when he will win or lose, and when and whom he will fight next.

Before TV, professional boxing was generally confined to small fight clubs. But TV made it possible for The Octopus to dominate the entire business. The Octopus has tried to reach referees and judges as well as fighters. When the organization does not have control of a fighter, it uses direct methods to remedy the defect, usually by inflicting bodily injury on the non-conforming boxer or his manager.

Hi-school Hi-lites

The halls of V.H.S. have quieted down again as students are preparing for Easter exams. When those two-hour exams are over students will certainly be ready for the two weeks holidays. On Monday badminton got underway in the high school in the form of a double knock-out tournament. Boys and girls are entered from each of the junior, intermediate, and senior leagues.

When we entered the school on Friday, it was hard to believe that all those handsome fellows and pretty girls were the same ones we see every day. The special occasion was dress-up day as the pictures were being taken for the yearbook. Some of the students have suggested it would be nice to have a dress-up day more often.

CLAYSMORE CLIPPINGS

Mr and Mrs Lloyd McCrae of Calgary spent last week [illegible] visiting friends and relatives at Claysmore and Vermilion.

Mr and Mrs H. Hundl who have been working at the B. Winter home, have gone to their farm home at Walberg, Sask., for a short visit and will soon be leaving for Olds, Alberta, where they have purchased a farm.

Mr and Mrs H. Ralph of Minburn were callers at the home of Mr and Mrs. Robert MacMillan on Saturday.

Mr and Mrs Wm McCrae of New Westminster, B. C., visited Mr and Mrs. N. MacHardy last week.

Mrs. L. Van Nest is driving a new 1960 Chev. truck these days.

Weather has been very spring like this past week with snow almost all gone. Soon all the birds will be back with us. Gophers are out and soon someone will see the first crocus.

Thousands of Canadians alive today have been cured of cancer. Thousands more could be alive if they had sought medical advice at the first signs of danger.

Agricultural Society Sets Date For Annual Dinner

In keeping with the policy followed for several years past, the Vermilion Agricultural Society will hold its annual dinner on Thursday, May 12. They have been fortunate in securing Rev. Donald Bruce MacDonald, minister of MacDougall United church in Edmonton, said to be Alberta's foremost after - dinner speaker.

Mr. MacDonald is unusually well known throughout the entire Dominion as an outstanding speaker.

The date of the dinner is somewhat later than usual but has been established due to the fact that Mr. MacDonald found this to be the first free date on which he could be in Vermilion.

Unfortunately the number who can be accommodated has to be limited and reservations will be made on a first come, first served basis, so those desiring to hear this capable speaker should make their reservations at the office of S. C. Hackbert, Secretary-Manager of the Society, as early as possible. Officers, directors and members of the Society will necessarily be given preference of reservation and are urged to secure their admission tickets immediately.

RELAX AND GRO[illegible] [illegible]LIM WITH YOGA

Health experts claim proper exercise and diet may add years to one's life expectancy. Sure cure for flabbiness and a relaxing one is yoga, says Toronto instructor Henry Godfrey. Henry teaches more than 200 "disciples" to combat modern stress with the 5,000-year-old art of mental, physical and spiritual Indian culture. His pupils include children and people up to age 65. For those who are flabby Yoga is a sure cure to get rid of those rims of extra fat in the most revealing parts of the body. The group above demonstrate the "locust pose."

Selling their birthright?

(The Leader-Post, Regina, Sask.)

The bill to licence retailers, placed before the Legislature by Attorney-Gen. Walker Tuesday would put within easy reach of this government — or any future government — wide, dictatorial powers over livelihood of thousands of Saskatchewan shopkeepers. Ostensibly the bill is to curb "questionable retail practices," but in effect it would invest in a government body which would issue licences and mediate complaints, authority to set licence fees, cancel licences, call witnesses, demand documents and exercise other forms of control over thousands of individual business enterprises within the borders of Saskatchewan.

Under the bill no person in Saskatchewan carrying on a business in a wide range of retail enterprises would be able to operate without a licence. A licence may be refused or granted subject to "such terms, conditions or restrictions as the provincial secretary [illegible] necessary." The licence may be revoked if the provincial secretary is satisfied that a retailer has violated provisions of the act. If requested the provincial secretary must set up an advisory board to hear submissions relating to the granting, refusal or cancellation of licences. The decision of the provincial secretary may be appealed to the Court of Queen's Bench.

As can be seen from this preliminary outline of the act the government is proposing to take unto itself the power to regiment the retail industry in Saskatchewan. It is idle for the government to say that many provisions of the act will never be used or that sweeping control of the retail section of the economy is necessary to prohibit trading stamps. The brutal fact is that passage of the act in its present proposed form would entail the surrender by many citizens of their traditional right to earn their living in the manner they choose.

It is true that the act provides a limited right of appeal. But surely the next step for a government which has pledged itself to set up a planned economy would be to act to ensure that all decisions — made in its bureaucratic wisdom — would be carried out. It is not too difficult to believe that a future government would not tolerate any mass escape from its dictums through the avenues of the courts.

Passage of the bill must inevitably lead to speculation as to whether this type of bureaucratic control will ultimately be extended to other sectors of the economy. Certainly it is written into the political philosophy that guides the government, that such control is desirable. [illegible] government at some future date, seek to regiment, through a provincial licencing system other branches of business and industry not excluding the press or other means of communication? Could not the government, deciding there were too many corner drugstores, hike licence fees to a prohibitive level or refuse to grant licences to a prospective enterprise? The government could, in effect distort the whole flow of competitive forces in the provincial economy — lifestream of our economic system.

Those who up to now have favored the bill and those who are affected by it should carefully consider as they transfer to the provincial secretary powers formally held within their own democratic councils whether they are surrendering to the government a sizable portion of their individual freedom as it affects an intensely personal sphere — their very livelihood. Before this bill gains passage, the thousands of small businessmen and shop owners affected should ask themselves pointedly if they are not selling their birthright for a mess of pottage.

PREVENTS BAPTISM

Brian Thomas, 10, is the centre of his parent's religious battle. Philip John Thomas, [illegible] charged in a writ that his wife left him in 1956 taking the boy with her. He alleged that in 1958 his wife became a Roman Catholic and now intended to convert their son to the same faith. Mr. Thomas prevented the baptism and said he wanted his son to be given an opportunity of deciding which religion he will follow when he grows up.

1200 Cubs and Scouts attend 16th annual carnival at Calgary

By Jimmy and David Melling.

Akela, Cub leaders, and fellow Cubs, my brother Jimmie and I have had an experience this past week which we are happy to share with you tonight.

We attended the 16th annual Cub and Scout Carnival held in Calgary in the Corral, the huge ice arena where all the major hockey games of the season are held. This carnival is sponsored by the Cosmopolitan Club in Calgary for all the Cubs and Scouts of Calgary.

There were some 1200 Cubs and Scouts in attendance, all in uniform. The Cubs all in short pants and knee sox, the regulation for our full Cub uniform.

At one time there were over 600 Cubs, Scouts and leaders on the ice in full dress with their flags for the Colour Parade. This was a thrilling moment for both of us, as we had never seen more than our local group all together at one time.

During the evening Dick Cosgrove, the famous chuckwagon racer, and the originator of the chuckwagon races, was present and ran off the Cub and Scout chuckwagon races.

Each team consisted of 9 boys all dressed up in fancy dress. Each team had a regulation sleigh, which weighed about 30 pounds, and decorated by their Cub pack. Prizes were given for the best dressed outfit and chuck wagon.

The race was run exactly like a chuckwagon race with horses, except the boys were the horses. One rider sat in the sleigh and had a thrilling ride, the other eight were on skates, four pulling the sleigh, and one had to try to throw the stove into the chuckwagon, and the other three were the outriders. There were many spills and thrills as the races were run off.

Another race of interest was the steer decorating contest. The Cubs and Scouts took part in this. The Cubs were the steers, with horns attached to their heads, the Scouts were the decorators. However, the Scouts didn't have a chance as the little Cub steers raced to the corner on skates, the Scouts with only one skate took after them and were left far behind. They decided that on Saturday night they would try the contest again, but allow the Scouts to wear both of their skates.

The Girl Guides took part for the first time in this carnival. They were very clever as they tied their knots to music so that all could see. When this number was over the master of ceremonies told of one Scout who was asked "What is the highest award a Scout can get?" The Scout hastily replied, "a Girl Guide."

The final act of the night made a great hit with the 6000 spectators. Twenty-eight boys dressed in Mountie hats and tunics each riding a horse and carrying a flag, performed for us the exact same musical ride as the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are so famous for.

David has told of the highlights of our trip to the Scout and Cub Carnival in Calgary. However, he did not mention the clowns.

The Boy Scouts who were too old to enter in the races dressed up as clowns and kept performing the whole time. One clown was dressed up like a woman and carried a doll. We did not know that it was a doll until he tossed it to another clown, and we all thought it was a real baby.

Another clown was dressed up as a gambler and had a pistol that made a loud bang. Two others had a basketball and a tire. One clown would throw the tire at the other and knock him off his feet. Three other clowns did an act where they beat up on one of the group, and then put him on a stretcher and carried him off the ice.

The costumes the Cubs wore for the chuckwagon races were just wonderful. Their mothers must have spent many hours making them. Some dressed as clowns, majorettes with short skirts, negroes with grass skirts, Indians with feathers, cowboys, doctors and many others. The most interesting group was "The Bawl Baby Special." This group wore pink and blue diapers with three white frills on the seat. They each had on a bonnet and ribbon.

I will never forget the time when Granddaddy took David and I through the stadium, over to the penalty box, where they were calling the events. Here we were introduced to the 6000 people in the Corral as "two Cubs from Vermilion." We were proud to be wearing our uniforms from Vermilion. David had more badges than any other cubs we saw taking part.

We were happy to have had the trip to Calgary, we only wish each one of our pack could have been there too. We hope that some day we will have an Ice Stampede in Vermilion.

Jane Chrenek married at Grande Prairie

St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, Grande Prairie was the setting for the February wedding of Miss Jane Chrenek and Mr Andrew Mercier. Pink and white tulips decorated the altar at which Rev. I. A. Sheila officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs M. A. Chrenek of Grande Prairie and the groom's parents are Mr and Mrs. R. Mercier of Islay.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a self-styled floor length gown of white crystal charm. A shoulder length veil misted from a pearl crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids with pink sweetheart roses and a crystal rosary. Crystal beads were her only jewelry.

Miss Cecilia Sheptycki of Edmonton and Miss Viola Varabiov of Vermilion attended the bride. They wore identical sheaths and headbands of deep velvet and to their matched muffs were pinned white feathered carnations.

Best man was Mr Lou Chrenek of Beaumont and ushering guests was Mr Bert Chrenek.

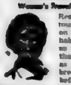
For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Chrenek wore a beige dress with brown accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

A reception was held at the Hotel York banquet room. Fr. [illegible] proposed the toast to the [illegible]. Many telegrams of best wishes and congratulations were read.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr and Mrs Ed Black and Norma of Egremont, Mrs Dorena McIntyre and Mrs. Lil Wilson of [illegible], Mr and Mrs S. Sheptycki, Miss Lorraine Dubyk, Miss Alexandra Bayduza, Mr Jim Stannard, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stannard, all of Edmonton, Miss Rose Andriashek of Ponoka, and Mr Bob Palmer of Calgary.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority



Really effortless touring depends on good driving habits becoming so ingrained that they are as automatic as breathing. But before your driving habits are formed, try to eliminate these common everyday faults which experts say are among the most frequent causes of accidents. Here they are:

1. Failure to reduce speed on streets lined with parked cars.

2. Entering an intersection the instant the light turns green, without looking.

3. Depending on the driver ahead to signal what he intends to do.

4. 'Trailing' the car ahead too closely.

5. Relying on just the rear-view mirror when making a turn.

VETERANS OF VIMY

Fifteen veterans of the Battle of Vimy Ridge were honored by the Canadian Legion at a banquet held on the Anniversary of Vimy on April 9th. Shown answering the roll call, from left to right, are: Pte. Wm. [illegible], Pte. Cliff [illegible], Gunner Harry Scott, Pte. Jim Dunsmuir [illegible], Pte. Curtis Martin, Capt. Alex Rankin, Sgt. W. The show must go on say Hardware Happy Bandits

In a subtle way last week, we tried to inform the public of the fate that awaits them when they venture into the web spun by two Spiders known as Casey and Renaud by injecting that well known phrase that means "Let the buyer beware", or "Caveat Emptor" into our news item, but still these refugees from the press gang crew of Long John Silver wish to go ahead with their "Telerama Show"!

For those who value life and limb it would be well to wear hockey pads and carry a big club. This pair of nogoodnicks are splashing money around like it is going out of style to bring interested Vermilion residents a TV closed circuit show that would resemble a fourth rate showing of 1910 magic lantern slides. However, the public is asked not to be afraid to attend the Elks hall on April 22 and 23 at the hours stipulated in the full page ad in this edition. Casey and Renaud only attack small children who are not with their parents. It is the parents who should be afraid because this show is so big and so modern that every lady and gentleman attending will find something new and interesting.

Remember the date April 22 and 23, and the place, the Elks hall. Plan to attend and view what's new in the magical world of TV and appliances.

Burning Garbage Chars Garage

A cloud of smoke at the east end of Vermilion Friday morning was the main reason for people scurrying towards the residence of Frank Shongrunder where a minor fire had broken out at the rear of his property and had started burning the garage.

Damage was estimated at approximately $35, thanks to the fast action of the Vermilion Fire Department who were quick to answer the alarm.

Most of the smoke, however, was not from the fire. A greater part of it eminated from the smoke stack of the coal burning (locomotive) fire truck whose vintage dates back to Louis Riel.

Cause of the fire was burning garbage that had been fanned by a stiff breeze. No one was injured in the incident.

Now that spring has officially arrived, a note of warning comes from the local fire department. PLEASE WATCH BURNING GARBAGE AT ALL TIMES. WITH WIND SUCH AS IS EXPERIENCED IN VERMILION, IT IS QUITE EASY FOR A FIRE TO SPREAD BEFORE IT CAN BE BROUGHT UNDER CONTROL. IT MAY BE YOUR NEIGHBOR WHOSE HOUSE IS DAMAGED BY BURNING PAPER BEING BLOWN AROUND. DON'T SMOKE IN BED — THE ASHES MAY BE YOU!

Executive members of Vermilion 'Tigers' hockey club have decided not to hold a Sportsmen's banquet this year as has been the custom during previous years. However, plans have been made for a tigers banquet and dance on May 6th at the Elks hall. Awards to most valuable players will be made at this event. Watch The Standard for further details.

Late shopping begins April 30

Members of the Vermilion Board of Trade decided last Wednesday that April 30th shall be the date designated for the beginning of Saturday evening shopping.

Bill Sutherland, chairman of the Civic Committee suggested that the "Slogan" contest should be tied in with the Vermilion Park promotion that is forthcoming.

Jim Champion asked all members of the Board of Trade and all residents of Vermilion and district to scour through their picture albums to ascertain if they have pictures of the park before, during and after work had commenced. Such pictures are urgently needed for promotional purposes. Anyone having such pictures is asked to contact Mr J. Champion.

Another suggestion made by members of the Board to the executive was that a letter be sent to town council asking that a thorough check be made of all buildings before granting permits for erection of signs.

Kinsmen-K of C raise $125 for proposed Civic Arena

Proceeds of close to $125.00 were raised in aid of the proposed Civic Arena recently when, under the combined sponsorship of Vermilion Kinsmen and Knights of Columbus a variety show was staged under the directorship of Bob Carmichael. Webb and Sons; a Legion sweater from Craig's; a $5.00 credit slip from Art's Cleaners; 2 lubrication jobs from Duke's Service; a bottle of Cologne from Rusk's Drug Store; Westclock mantle clock from Renaud and Casey Hardware; a table lamp from Rockhart Insurance; a $5.00 food hamper from Vermilion Co-op and 25 pounds of grease from Ireland Farm Equipment.

Dr. Brown Opens Animal Hospital

Dr James J. Brown is pleased to announce the opening of his new veterinary hospital located in the building formerly known as Dargatz Tire Service, directly across the street from the Standard Office.

Dr Brown, a recent graduate from the Ontario School of Veterinarians, was born and educated at Tofield. He was married on February 20th of this year and both he and his bride chose Vermilion as their future home.

Dr Brown, in keeping with the progress of modern medical science, will maintain a small and large laboratory for testing milk samples for antibiotic sensitivity. Other microscopic examinations and analysis will also be made as well as post mortem inspections. A convenient drive-in door is located at the rear of the building.

Dr Brown will also maintain a veterinary drug dispensary and invites all those interested to drop in and look over his newly renovated premises.

Hog producers meet at Mannville

— By Joan C. Legg

MANNVILLE. Approximately fifty farmers from Irma, Innisfree, Myrnam, Vermilion and Mannville examined the possibility of forming a Hog Producers' Association when they met at the Legion hall last Wednesday, April 6th.

With the forming of a similar association in Vermilion and Lloydminster, it was thought that Mannville could also become active.

A vote was taken with the results as follows: 20 were in favor; 3 opposed; 5 ballots spoiled.

Three representatives from the Lloydminster Association were present to outline the program [illegible].

It was decided to call a meeting at a later date to attempt the formation of an active association. Milton Finlay volunteered to act temporarily as organizer.

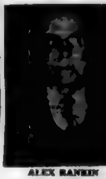
15 Men of Vimy answer Legion roll

Vimy Ridge . . . a classic conflict between two armies of World War I, the most outstanding battle in history in which Canadians participated, a battle which will retain its lustre until the end of time, was commemorated in Vermilion last Saturday at the Legion Hall when veterans of two wars gathered to honor comrades who made the supreme sacrifice during this struggle. To add to the lustre of the commemoration banquet, 15 veterans of the Battle of Vimy Ridge were in attendance.

April 9th, 1917, saw the beginning of the Battle of Vimy Ridge. The Canadian soldiers, fighting for the first time as a unit, was assigned the responsibility of storming and capturing that strongly fortified position.

At great cost of life and with [illegible], the Canadians poured over the shell-torn terrain to smash the enemy position and establish their own stronghold.

This great victory lives in the memory of all who fought in and lived through these terrible days. It is celebrated throughout the entire nation.



ALEX RANKIN

Capt. Alex Rankin, a veteran of the Boer War and the world conflict of 1914-18, was one of the "Men of Vimy" present at the annual banquet on Saturday night. He is an old timer of the Vermilion district, farming south of town.

Last Saturday evening, fifteen Vermilion veterans of Vimy Ridge were paid homage by some [illegible] grateful Legion members who gathered for the annual banquet.

Following the excellent meal catered to by Ladies of the Royal Purple, Sgt.-Major Bob Allen called the roll of Vimy veterans and received an answer from the following: Pte. Oxley, Gunner Harry Scott, Pte James Dunsmuir, Pte. Curtis Martin, Capt. Alex Rankin, Pte. George Chick, Pte. Art Terry, Pte. Thos. Wilson, Pte. Albert Beck, Sgt. William Anderson, Pte. Gordon Terry, Pte. Roy Wills, Pte. Rudy Fielding and Sgt. Cliff McCormick.

Toastmaster for the program was Tom Thompson, who has been president of the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion for the past three years. The list of toasts included the following.

"Men of Vimy", proposed by Don Keene with response by Harry Scott; "Ladies of the Legion" proposed by Alex Callan, replied to by Mrs. Ina Webb, president of the Legion W.A.; "The Legion", proposed by Ed Roberts, replied to by Vic Tillett, zone commander.

Short addresses were given by His Worship Mayor Hill; Ashley Cooper MLA, Mr McVea of the Department of Veterans' Affairs and J. W. G. Merriam, honorary president.

Guest speaker of the evening was Comrade William Rorke of Edmonton, first vice-president of the Provincial Command, who paid tribute to the men of Vimy as he said "It was at Vimy that the Canadian Army fought, for the first time as a unit, under Canadian officers. The victory at Vimy won for Canada a place among the front ranks of the nations of the world".

A most interesting ceremony was the presentation of a past president's medal and a certificate to Mrs. Ivy Pare who has [illegible] president of the Canadian Legion W.A. for the past three years. The presentation was made by Mr. Rorke.

To add further to the enjoyment entertainment portion of the program, Stanley Clark, with his fine Irish tenor voice sang, "Mother Machree" and "Bless This House". He was accompanied by pianist Mrs. Charlie Upshall.

Two films, one of the infantry in actual battle during World War I, and one of aerial combat during the Second World War were shown by Mr. Mike Fleming.

President Thompson voiced his thanks to all who had contributed to the success of the evening.

'Snowball Bonus' reason for petition

Sixty-eight farmers from Vermilion South and district gathered at Buffalo Coulee school last Monday evening to arrange and discuss a petition addressed to the Provincial and Federal Ministers of Agriculture over what they termed unfairness in the distribution of Emergency Unthreshed Grain Assistance.

To further support their demands, a committee of ten men was elected to canvass townships designated as distress areas.

It was hoped by members attending the meeting that the petition would be ready for presentation before the present session of the Legislature prorogued; however, the session came to a close on the eve the petition was sponsored.

The balmy weather which covered the Vermilion area last [illegible] faded fast and was replaced by strong chilly winds which stirred up the dust. The weather office forecasts scattered showers and temperatures much the same as at the beginning of the week. Winds will remain the same cool and nasty. A distant display of lightning was viewed by Vermilion residents on the north-western horizon Tuesday evening.

A fire which started in a [illegible] of the home of Mrs. Lawrence Coates of Tulliby Lake completely destroyed the residence before help could arrive. A small portion of their personal belongings was salvaged before the fire ravaged the building.

Members of the family are now making their home in a little log cabin on the same property. Neighbors have donated articles of furniture and clothing to assist them. It is reported that there wasn't any insurance on the building or personal effects. No one was injured in the blaze.

Board of Trade Hears Address On Civil Defence

George Martin of Vermilion, director of Civil Defence for Vermilion River M.D. and the Town of Vermilion, to use his own term gave a very bombastic and informative address covering the "what could happen" in the event of an ICBM landing in the neighborhood.

Mr Martin stressed the urgency for trained personnel and stated that Vermilion was not one of the towns that could boast of sufficiency of such a commodity.

With the Provincial government offering such courses as are available Mr Martin thought that a great deal more interest could be shown by the immediate population.

The subject of Civil Defence is very interesting said Mr Martin and he would gladly entertain anyone's application for recruitment into the ranks.

Now Is the Hour

By Rev. J. M. [illegible]

History, both biblical and secular, sparkles with the crisis hour of men and nations.

We have never recovered from the hour of crisis when Adam and Eve were banished from Eden. From the crossing of the Red Sea to the crossing of Jordan, Israel had its fateful hours. Bethlehem and Jerusalem were the scenes of several crisis hours in the life of Jesus. The prayerful statement, "the hour is come" found in the gospel of John 17:1 marks the Master's finest hour.

Just what did this hour mean to Christ? It was the hour of humiliation, for "he humbled himself and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross." God's Son humbled for me! Unfathomable [illegible] and mystery! It was the hour of renunciation. First He renounced His glory for mankind. Now He was about to renounce His life for them too!

It was the hour of oblation. The sacrifice was now ready. The "lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world" was soon to be placed upon the altar.

It was the hour of exaltation. Angels [illegible] soon [illegible] to greet Him. The empty throne at the right hand of the Father would soon be occupied by the risen Christ.

It was the hour of consummation. "It is finished!" Soon would be fulfilled His word "This is my blood ... shed for many."

What did this hour mean to mankind? It was the hour of emancipation. "Whom the son sets free is free indeed." Freed from the bondage of sin. Loosed from the guilt of sin. Escaped from the penalty of sin. The captive set free. Pardoned!

The hour is come — for you! Volition, the power of choice, was never more in evidence than during the final moments of a church service. Every day is D day for someone. The decision must be clear cut, for or against Christ. It was so the first Easter.

"We will not have this man to [illegible] over us." This is the negative [illegible]. We'll take ourselves and the broad way. We'll remain on the left hand with the [illegible] and the chaff. We're [illegible] enough. We're orthodox, sincere and nice! What more do you want?

Before self-sufficiency friend carries you away in a cloud of conceit and complacency, better [illegible] with me and stand beside [illegible] centurion while he repeats [illegible] words, "truly this was the [illegible] of God." Put your fingers into the spike prints — while he is still on the cross! There! I dare you to leave this place to brag about your orthodoxy, your [illegible], your morality, while [illegible] bleeds to death on a cross. Better tell Him to come down from the cross! You don't need Jesus? Of course you need Him!

He is your reconciliation, your [illegible]! Accept Him now! This is the hour. This is your hour.

The execution of the laws is more important than the making of them. — Thos. Jefferson

An Easter Message

By Rev. W. A. [illegible]

"The victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." 1 John V:4

We can think of our faith in three ways — as a challenge, a consolation, and if we are true to it the victory that overcomes the world.

It is a challenge. It challenged slavery and though slavery has not by any means gone out of life it has gone to a very great extent. It has challenged war [illegible] there is growing a stronger and deeper feeling that war is [illegible] and mad. The world is not divided into good and bad people, good people who have a right to think that other people ought to be destroyed, and bad people so bad that they ought to be wiped out. There is good and bad in all of us, and the challenge of faith is to ourselves.

It is challenging unemployment. If there is not and cannot be, enough work to occupy everyone the challenge of faith has to assert itself until all people have the opportunity to live a proper Christian life. If a man wants to work and cannot work, then an honourable leisure should be made possible for him and he should be saved from the hopelessness of unemployment as we know it so often now.

Our faith is a challenge and a challenge to the whole of life. Christ cannot be a little King of a little group. He is King of the whole world. The character of Christ rises up again and again as He Himself rose from the dead, not only undefeated but more than conqueror.

OUR FAITH IS A CONSOLATION

On Easter Sunday [illegible] four frightened disciples were gathered together in the upper room, and a little band of men utterly heart-broken and disconsolate. And lo and behold there was a stillness, and in the midst of them they saw Jesus, and heard the words "Peace be unto you." They had peace because they had Him. Our faith is a consolation to us all, for Jesus is our peace, and we have Him with us always, though on our faith depends our realization of that peace.

OUR FAITH IS A VICTORY

It did not look like a victory on the first Good Friday when they crucified Him. He believed in God, and believed that God is Love. He believed in man, and believed it consistently all through. He hung upon a Cross. He died true to that faith, and we know now that [illegible] upon the Cross is the [illegible] that has ever been known, the victory of forgiveness over selfishness, of love over hate. We talk about the Great Wars and the victory of the allies. Was it a victory?

What victory is there [illegible] when people believe in the [illegible] of [illegible] and learn to [illegible] one another and love one another and work together? The only real victory over an enemy is the winning of your enemy to be your friend. Our Lord [illegible] without a crown, but [illegible] has been loved as no other [illegible] ever been loved, and the [illegible] reason because He Himself lowered the standard of [illegible] love. Our faith, and faith alone, will be the victory that will make the world the Kingdom of God. Until it is that, it is not a world worth living in. It is full of envy and hate and every kind of treachery. This is the thing that destroys the world — the opposite of our faith. This is our defeat.

On Mount Calvary it looked as if Christ had been defeated, but the people who crucified Him returned beating their breasts. They [illegible] that they had crucified their friend, and that, though they had crucified Him, He had died their friend. We know that He lives forevermore, and that when we are untrue to His friendship, we are our own worst enemies.

"The Living Lord"

By Rev. C. W. [illegible]

The message of the angel to the seekers was, "why seek ye the living amongst the dead? He is not here. He is risen." There are many in this 20th century seeking the living among the dead. But we worship not the dead Christ who walked the street of Galilee and Jerusalem but rather the Living Lord.

The Master's personal message to us at this Easter season is, "Because I live, ye shall live also". It is quite true that Christ died and rose again thus giving the assurance of our resurrection. It is quite true that because Christ lived the followers lived glorious lives transforming the ancient world. But one of the most significant messages of all is that because Christ lives we too can live purposeful, radiant, joyful lives in this 20th century.

We should not live a negative life governed by a lot of don'ts, but a positive radiant Christian life. When will people learn that the Christian way of life is the easy and not the hard way? To go contrary to it is to find misery and unhappiness. Is not the way of self-centredness, envy, ill [illegible], greed, the hard way? Is not the way of loose-living, infidelity, drunkenness, the hard way?

The resurrection happened 1900 years ago and then it happened to a young man in Bedford England. A young lad who, according to his own story "was a ring-leader in all manner of ill and ungodliness" saying to God "Depart from me, for I desire not knowledge of Thy ways". This young man overheard four women talking about Christ and what He had done in their lives with the result that later he became author of Pilgrim's Progress, a book that has probably influenced more to Christianity than any other except the Bible.

The resurrection happened 1900 years ago and then it happened to an eight-year-old girl, blind, deaf and dumb when a kindly teacher came into her home and Helen Keller rose from the grave of silence and uselessness to become one of the most loved and respected women in the world.

The resurrection happened 1900 years ago and then it happened to a young girl in a town in Alberta. She ran away from home with a young man disgracing the family and herself. After a few weeks he left her and she was forced to come home to her parents. During the membership classes of her church she learned about the Living Lord and His forgiveness. It was a happy day for her as she stood before the congregation to profess her faith and later on have her little child baptized in His name.

The resurrection happened 1900 years ago — has it happened to you? The greatest thing that can happen to you this Easter season is to be able to say with Apostle Paul "I live, yet not I, but Christ within me". It will change your health.

Certain ones, in Jesus day, were seeking the Living among the dead. While they were doing this their own lives were defeated and frustrated. Where are you seeking Christ today?

When the followers of Christ knew He was alive their lives were transformed. When the resurrection happens to us we will live transformed lives this Easter, 1960.

GREEN ACRES

By: H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist and
EDWARD DOSKO, Assistant D.A.

SUMMERFALLOW

There is definitely room for a significant decrease in the amount of land summerfallowed each year in Alberta. Not only is fallowing an expensive operation (usually more than $5 per acre for a limited number of operations) but serious losses due to soil erosion can be encountered as a result of this practice. In drier areas of the province moisture conservation may be the number one reason but in the park land and wooded regions adequate moisture is usually available. Hence, weed control, not moisture conservation is the only reason for fallowing in this part of Alberta. Where moisture is not a limiting factor in crop production summerfallowing can be eliminated in many instances by the use of the improved selective herbicides. Grass-legume rotation is also strongly recommended because in addition to increasing the productivity of the soil it reduces the incidence of weeds. Occasionally summerfallowing may be necessary to control certain weeds.

RAT WARNING

Farmers along the Saskatchewan border are warned to keep a sharp lookout for rats this spring. Although the infestations were lower at the end of 1959 than at any time since 1953, rats could have harbored in feed supplies where detection is difficult when snow is on the ground. With feed supplies being cut and weather milder any rats present will seek shelter under buildings or rubbish piles. Therefore poisoned bait should be laid out under all buildings, unnecessary debris, boards and structures like granaries, old lumber, etc. should be raised at least one foot above the ground to discourage rats from seeking shelter there.

SPRINKLING HOGS IN TRANSIT

Studies on sprinkling hogs in trucks to reduce losses from heat in the United States indicated that substantial savings can be derived from in-transit water sprinkling of hogs. Savings resulted from lower mortality, less transit shrink and higher dressing yields. The greatest benefits were found on long-haul trips up to 27 hours.

Vermilion Cardinals To Re-organize

The Vermilion Cardinals fastball team will re-organize at a meeting to be held in the Rio Cafe on Tuesday evening at 8:00. Every girl interested is invited to attend. Those wishing to play but not able to attend the meeting should leave their names with Herman Rohwer or John Gordey.

Many new players will be needed to fill up the ranks of the Cardinals this season as several of last year's starry performers have left town, and a few are retiring after the past very successful seasons. Good coaching, an active season and plenty of fun can be looked for by members of the Cardinals Fastball Club.

C. G. I. T. Report

Monday was an important day for the girls of Vermilion C.G.I.T. It was the night of their annual affiliation with W.M.S.

The Junior girls were presented with their insignias by Mrs. Clark who represented W.M.S.

They were extremely fortunate to have with them Mrs. Smith, the Presbyterial Secretary for Affiliated C.G.I.T., from Lloydminster. She gave a talk on the use to which their contributions were put.

Each group presented W.M.S. with a doll which was clothed by the girls. The four dolls are to be sent to the United Church hospital in Cold Lake in hopes that some little girls will play with them and that they will brighten their day.

Lunch of cake and chocolate milk was enjoyed by all the girls.

Mrs. Dr. Stephens is teaching one group how to make little slippers.

On Monday, April 4 Mrs. W. L. Robinson [illegible] the group on their affiliation with the W.M.S. and what its meaning is.

YOUR EASTER HAM

Many families have accepted ham as a menu favorite for Easter. We are fortunate today in having a variety of hams from which to choose.

If time does not create a problem for you, you may choose one of the uncooked hams. If time is limited, you might select one of the "fully cooked" or "ready to eat" hams. A tenderized ham does not mean a ham that has been cooked previously.

COOKING [illegible] FOR TENDERIZED HAMS

Method 1: Place ham, fat side up, on a rack in a covered roaster. Pour 2 cups of water around the ham. Bake in a 325 degree F. oven. For ham under 6 pounds allow 30 minutes per pound, 6 to 12 pounds allow 20 to 25 minutes per pound. These times are only approximate. A roast meat thermometer is a more accurate method of determining cooking time.

Method 2 — This is recommended for mild cured hams only. Wrap ham in aluminum foil and place fat side up in an open shallow pan on a rack. Do not add water. Use times and temperatures as in Method 1.

Method 3: Simmer in a generous amount of water allowing 25 minutes per pound. If the ham is to be served cold, cool it for about an hour in the water in which it is cooked, but do not leave the ham in water until cold.

GLAZING

Hams cooked by any of these methods may be glazed if desired. Half an hour before the ham is done, take from the water and remove rind. Score the ham as follows: With a sharp knife, make diagonal cuts ½ inch deep and ½ inch apart across entire fat surface of ham. Repeat at an angle to make squares or diamonds. Then stud top of ham with whole cloves. Glaze with one of the following and return to a 400 degree F. oven for 20 minutes.

1. Mix 1 cup drained, crushed pineapple with 1 cup brown sugar. Spread over ham and baste with drained pineapple syrup.
2. Baste ham with 1 cup of maple syrup.
3. Mix 1 cup brown sugar with 1 teaspoon dry mustard and 2 to 4 tablespoons vinegar.

Bob Maggs Takes Arab Mare East

Bob Maggs and Orest Misick left on Sunday, April 3, to take "Karana" Bob's purebred Arab mare to the Al Marah Horse Farm, Washington, D.C. The mare will be taken to the court of Count Dorrez, famous Arab stallion who is on lease to the aforementioned farm from England where he was Supreme Champion riding horse at the White City Horse Show, London, for three consecutive years.

Bob and Orest plan to visit several ranches including Arthur Godfrey's Arabs, Virginia. They also hope to take in a National Hockey League game in Toronto and to [illegible] F. S. W. [illegible] Maggs and family at Camp Borden during their two weeks away.

The mare will be left at the Al Marah Horse Farm for about a month and then will be taken to Ontario by Bob's brother to be shown in the Eastern Ontario rings. By July 1 the mare will be back here ready for entry in the western shows during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith spent Saturday in the city a week ago visiting relatives.

Roy Dibben, Waldon Westman and David Hughes accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibson to Edmonton on Thursday of last week.

Curling was brought to a close on Friday evening when all regular curlers took part in a bonspiel held at the Deerwood [illegible] center with a short [illegible] following. An event everyone looks forward to all year.

The variety show sponsored by the [illegible] Central [illegible] Union was a decided success. It is gratifying to have such talent and people give freely of their time. Mr Pollo did a fine job as M C and a lot of credit goes to Dave Hagen who was instigator of this project. The skating rink is a lot closer. The advance ticket draw on a camera was won by Bob McIntyre of Vermilion who bought the ticket from Gary Crozier.

Rev. McKay accompanied by Mr Robertson gave a wonderful sermon on "Blessed are they which are persecuted for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." He will be out again on April 24, when the service will be held at the church. On May 1st our student minister Miss Marilyn Hunter will be here.

Mr and Mrs George Webb Jr and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr and Mrs Waldon Westman. Murray returned with them to visit for a few days.

The home and school had their meeting on Monday night but wasn't very well attended on account of quite a few going to the meeting at Buffalo Coulee to discuss the pro's and con's of the [illegible] under lease.

Mr and Mrs Wilson Ford of Vermilion returned home this week after spending two weeks at the home of their daughter, Mrs Frank Gibson.

Blue Jeans Replaced By Business Clothes At High School

A dazzling new look [illegible] up each [illegible] at Vermilion High school last Friday as students both male and female appeared prepared for [illegible]ly dressed in smart business clothes. The entire school looked more like a professional office than a classroom.

The idea stemmed from a suggestion by Mr A Hunky, principal of the school, and was [illegible] accepted by many students. Mr Hunky was very pleased at the response, and to further popularize the [illegible] some students suggested that it be done more in the future.

According to students and Principal Hunky, [illegible] gives them a greater feeling of responsibility toward their study.

Gasinspections

A total of 2,353 inspections of natural gas mains and service lines were carried out in 1959 in Vermilion, A. L. Mireault, local agent for Northwestern Utilities, reports.

Residential areas are checked at least once a year, he said, and business areas once a month in summer and twice a month in winter. There were 633 residential area inspections and 1,720 business area inspections last year in Vermilion.

In addition a survey was conducted of vegetation along gas pipelines in the town as another check for possible leaks.

Mr. Mireault reported an increase of 26 customers in Vermilion last year to 743 at the end of 1959. Some 1,380 feet of distribution main were installed to provide service for the new customers.

During the year 394 requests for service were completed, mostly calls from customers relating to adjustment of their gas appliances.

Among other items of construction was the lowering of 1,375 feet of main in 52nd Ave., due to road construction.

Dominion government regulations require that gas meters be re-tested and certified accurate every six years. In this program 171 meters were changed in Vermilion during the year.

SPRING CLEAN-UP

Now that spring weather is here, houses in towns, villages and hamlets and even farms are in need of a special effort to clear up all the waste materials accumulated in the winter months.

Flies and our latest public enemy the rat, will soon take advantage of open garbage piles which provide them with food and shelter.

WATER SUPPLIES

Any farmers or residents of villages or hamlets who rely on private wells for their water supply can have the water checked which is part of the Health Unit service. Advice is also given on protection and setting of water supplies. Please leave your name and address at the Health Unit offices in Vermilion or Wainwright or with village secretaries or by writing or phoning the Health Unit offices in Vermilion No. 308 or Wainwright No 455.

FLIES

As soon as the warm weather arrives so does the house fly. Screens and insecticides are useful but by far the most effective and economical method of reducing the fly population is by depriving them of food, shelter and breeding grounds.

Burning your garbage in a barrel does not make it any less attractive. On farms it is good practice to throw your garbage into a pit and immediately cover ing with soil.

Clandonald CWL elect Sarah Martin

Miss Sarah Martin was elected president of the Clandonald C W L. at a meeting held Tuesday March 29th. Other officers and executive elected at the same meeting were Mrs. Pat McCormack, vice president Mrs. Ike Huxley, treasurer and Mrs Hugh Logan, secretary. The nominating committee and election was conducted by Mrs. George Convey.

Following the reading of the financial report, Mrs. E. Sutherland presented a cheque for the parish building fund and other expenses.

Other committee heads will be appointed at a later date when the executive will draw up six "working circles" involving all the women of the parish. To each group will be assigned two months of the year during which they will be responsible for the operation of the C W L.-sponsored activities on behalf of the parish.

The proposed new set-up of "working circles" will, it is hoped, involve all the women of the parish and leave the executive free to plan other activities of a spiritual and social nature for the C W L. Sponsoring retreats, a First-Communion breakfast for the children on June 9, a Day of Recollection for the members, are among the proposed spiritual activities planned for the members.

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

— By Grace Hills

Hi square dancers!

Our club held the regular dance on April 9th and as usual, everyone had a good time, with three outside clubs in attendance.

Due to poor road conditions and illness our crowd was small, which just goes to show that you don't have to have a large crowd to enjoy square dancing.

Henry Lien was to have been our guest caller, but unfortunately Henry was sick. Luckily, we have a caller in our club, and Johnnie took over for the evening. He did a very good job of calling and a few round dances were enjoyed during the intermission.

Some of our members journeyed to Islay on Wednesday to join their club in an evening's fun. Again on Saturday some motored to Vegreville to join the Jolly Mixers for a night of dancing.

The square dance season is coming to a close, as it is the beginning of a busy season and folks must work as well as play. The 12th dance of this season will be held in the Rawtell hall on Friday, April 22nd. Henry Lien is to be our guest caller. Come on out folks and join in the fun. All visitors are welcome.

The perfectly natural is the perfectly spiritual.

How majestic is naturalness. I have never met a man whom I really considered a great man who was not always natural and simple.

— Charles G. Dawes.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

The weather has been just grand, with temperatures close to 60 above at times.

"Spring" in the last issue of The Standard, what an inspiration to all! A wonderful piece, no author given.

On March 22 Mrs. Keith Bluck from Calgary was a caller at the home of Don Wilson. Mrs. Bluck was a former teacher at Allandale.

Orley Omnees accompanied Don Wilson, Dorothy and Raymond to the city to attend the Spring bull sale on March 22. They called later at the Walsh home.

"A Dog Named Shep", what a thrill we had reading this item in the April Reader's Digest. Two years ago while we were in Montana, Fort Benton was one of the places visited. There we viewed the stately form of a collie dog high up on a hill just beyond the depot. A monument in memory of "Shep" for his untiring vigil for his master. "The one absolutely unselfish friend that man can have in this selfish world. The one that never deserts him, never proves ungrateful or treacherous is his dog" and with those words the casket was lowered. But at that Shep's story was far from ended. Read it, it is well worth the time.

Miss Mary Gourlay, a nurses' aide, is employed at Fairview hospital. Her sister Margaret is working at the Mannville hospital.

Donations to the Red Cross from the district totaled $[illegible]. From the community centre $[illegible], making a total of $[illegible]. Thanks to everyone who participated.

On March 25th the Couples' club in Vermilion had a grand evening. The old slides of Newfoundland taken in 1870 and a new modern picture as it is today were shown.

The latter part of March Mrs. C. Christman spent with her daughter and family at Medicine Hat. Son Walter motored to that city on the 29th.

Mrs. O. Omnees went to Edmonton by bus on March 29 to visit at her daughter Della's, the Walsh home. Mrs. Walsh attended the Girl Guide convention at Calgary on March 30, 31 and April 1. While there she stayed with her sister Orlene at the Whelan home at Lincoln Park. Mrs. Marian Bluck of Calgary also attended and Della appreciated very much her kindness and hospitality.

While in Edmonton an old acquaintance of the Nelson's, Mrs. Evelena Wilson called and a grand time was had talking over days gone by. A visit was also enjoyed with Mr. and Mrs. George Crosby. Mr. Tom Souder and son Frank called. They are contemplating a trip to the U.S.

On March 23 Mr Gus Throndson got word of the death of his sister in Norway. Our deepest sympathy is extended to him.

Mr. and Mrs. Idelore Nelson and son Leslie motored to the city on April 1st, returning on the third.

Doreen Nelson, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Lee Nelson, is now home after spending five days in the Vermilion hospital.

Mrs. Evelyn Throndson received a phone call from her sister Sylvia Sheppard at Vancouver on April 5. The call was very distinct. Sisters Sylvia and Donna (the latter teaching in the city) plan on spending the Easter holidays in the States. We hope their plans for the summer holidays materialize. Hawaii here they come.

Remember the dance on April 29 at the community centre. The proceeds for cancer fund.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Wm. Cusack of Clandonald on the birth of a son, to Mr. and Mrs. Eric Nelson, south of town, a son, and to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dutchak of Campbell Lake, a daughter.

Whist at the centre was much enjoyed on April 1. Being April Fool's evening those winning first received the consolation — ladies Mrs. Delsie Strome; Men: Wm. McIntyre. Balance of the score cards were boxed and drawn. Ladies - Mrs. Joan Butler and Alvin Throndson, men— George Mead and Bill Cross. Mrs. Hilda Cross kindly donated the prizes.

PIONEER OF THE WEEK

Birthday greetings to Mr. S. F. [illegible] "Joe", of Vermilion on his 8[illegible]th year on Apr. 1[illegible].

Joe is one of our most ardent western citizens. From the late 19th century he saw Alberta grow from prairie and wilderness to the developed province it is today. He homesteaded at Pelican Lake in 1906 and until his retirement farmed and ranched in that district which is west of Allandale. His favorite sports were baseball in which he took an active part in the early days, hunting and fishing. Though Joe was born in Ontario he is an ardent exponent of sunny Alberta. We salute this old timer on his birthday and wish him many more.

Mr and Mrs. Herb McPhee were recent visitors at the Durward Bowman home in Deer Lake. What a glorious trip they had to Hawaii and what lovely souvenirs they brought home from the famous island, the 50th state of the Union.

Belated congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gus Throndson of Vermilion on their 43rd wedding anniversary on April 4th.

Congratulations also to Mr. and Mrs. Herb McPhee on their 21st anniversary on April [illegible].

Closing thought: May the faith and hope and promise of this joyous Easter bring happiness to you and yours.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Industrial Tax Program Slowed; May Mean Fall Session for House

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON.—Yielding to pressure from without and within Social Credit ranks, the government last week decided to slow down its revolutionary industrial tax program.

As a result, members of the Legislature may have to attend a special session in the fall—possibly in October—to put the program into effect.

Here' how it happened:

The government has been prepared to pass two bills. One of them would have authorized the government to assess certain major industries, collect taxes from them and distribute the revenue to municipalities on the basis of service rendered to industry and its employees.

The other would have given rural municipalities the right to tax pipelines and power lines. This would make up for the revenue they stand to lose to cities and towns under the industrial tax bill.

But there was persistent opposition to immediate passage of the bills, notably from Edmonton and Calgary and a number of major industries. They said too many points were uncertain, and they wanted more time to study the implications.

Apparently the majority of government supporters agreed these arguments were reasonable, because last week Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke introduced an entirely new bill.

The new bill gives the government the green light to start carrying out a uniform assessment of industrial plants, power lines and pipelines.

But it makes no provision for levying taxes.

This provision, said Mr. Hooke, will be made later under separate legislation after the assessment is completed and some of the other questions answered to the satisfaction of municipalities and industries.

He said he hopes the assessment will be completed by fall, and if that should be the case the government would be prepared to call a special session.

At the special session bills could be passed to provide taxing powers, and the program could go into effect in time for the 1961 fiscal year. Otherwise it would have to wait for the 1961 regular session of the Legislature and the program would be delayed for a year.

Mr. Hooke made it plain he isn't backing down an inch in his determination to bring in the new taxation program. In fact, if everything comes off on schedule he won't even be slowed down.

He said the recent hearings of the House agriculture committee into the industrial tax plan convinced him that the principle behind the scheme is a good one.

The hearings, he said, pointed up one significant thing: "No one opposed the bill in principle. No one said it's no good or that it should be thrown out."

But on the other hand, he said, nearly everyone felt the bills should be given more study and he saw nothing wrong with this. "We want the public to be aware of all the implications," he said. If the program is right — and we think it is — then it should have general public acceptance.

At stake is an increase in revenue for many Alberta municipalities.

Cities and towns stand to pick up a share of the taxes paid by industry in adjacent rural areas.

Rural municipalities — municipal districts and counties stand to gain millions from the tax on pipelines and power lines. This particular tax field has been vacant since 1942 except in cities, towns and villages. Since that time Alberta has acquired thousands of miles of pipe and power lines, and it will add up to a healthy assessment on which to base taxes.

Members started out last week hoping it would be the final week of the session.

But toward the end of the week their hopes flew out the window as the House became mired down in committee study of bills. A major stumbling block was a bill containing some extensive amendments to the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act.

An all-out push on Friday of last week probably could have written finish to the session, but Premier Manning is anxious to avoid any appearance of undue haste, especially with the small Opposition he has.

At the time of writing it appeared certain the session would drag into this week, but probably will be prorogued by the time this piece appears in print.

Payment on eggs

Statement by Agriculture Minister The Hon. D. S. Harkness, Apr. 4, 1960.

On Jan. 11 I announced that the Agricultural Stabilization Board would make an interim payment to producers for eggs marketed during the period January 1 to March 31. I also pointed out that at that time egg marketings were at a relatively high level and that this interim payment was being made to provide assistance to producers during the period of adjustment.

The national weighted average price for Grade A Large eggs during the period January 1 to March 31 was 25.4 cents per dozen, or 7.6 cents below the prescribed national weighted average price of 33 cents per dozen.

In establishing exact amount of the deficiency payment the Agriculture Stabilization Board took into account the fact that the national weighted average price of Grade A Large eggs during the last quarter of 1959 was slightly below the prescribed price and will accordingly pay an interim deficiency payment of 4 cents per dozen. This payment will be made for all Grade A Large size and Extra Large size eggs up to a total of 1,000 dozen marketed in the period January 1 to March 31 1960, by producers registered with the Agricultural Stabilization Board. Cheques will be mailed to producers as marketing records for this quarter are completed which is expected to be within the next few days.

During the period January 1 to March 26 1960 egg marketings were 7 per cent below marketings for the same period in 1959 and for the week ending March 26 marketings were 12 per cent below the same week a year ago.

The reduction in egg marketings is now reflected in improving price levels. Egg marketings are now in a more realistic balance with domestic requirements and except for seasonal variations prices may be expected to remain at or above the support level. During the week of March 26 the national weighted average price for all grades of eggs in Canada was 34.9 cents per dozen, or 1.9 cents above the support price, as compared with the national weighted average price for the same week a year ago of 31.9 cents when the Board was purchasing eggs to support the price.

The deficiency payment of 8 cents per dozen on Grade A Large eggs, which will be paid to all producers regardless of location, is 4 cents per dozen higher than producers in Alberta and Saskatchewan would have received under a regional average basis, and 4 cents less than the producers in Manitoba would have received.

Rancher robbed

RCMP said Friday two men who robbed an 80-year-old retired rancher near Lloydminster on Wednesday night, were sentenced in Lloydminster police court to two years and one month each in Prince Albert Penitentiary.

The men were arrested at noon Thursday on a highway near Vermilion.

Lorne Almand, 24 of Lloydminster, and Floyd James Hames, 24, of Marwayne, pleaded guilty to robbery with violence before Magistrate J. R. Noyes.

According to RCMP, Donald Hathaway, who lives five miles southeast of Lloydminster, was robbed of $120 shortly before midnight Wednesday. On answering a knock at his door, he was attacked and his wallet taken.

At 1:15 p.m. Thursday, Almand and Hames were picked up by the RCMP while hitchhiking near Vermilion. They were taken to Lloydminster and arraigned before Magistrate Noyes.

TULLIBY LAKE

Mr. Frank Fox is making plans to visit his brother George at Turner Valley, whom he has not seen for several years. He is an elderly gentleman, having undergone major surgery last fall.

Ken Perks has been busy getting out logs this winter. Harlan and Dennis Rund have also hauled home a big pile ready for the sawmill.

Ross Maas and Stan Willoughby are participating in the winter relief work program by cutting brush along the road allowance in the vicinity of the homestead of the late Mr Bill Maas.

Mrs. Louise Huntly celebrated her 86th birthday on March 29th at the Amae Ricard home in Lloydminster where she has spent the winter. Several friends and neighbors dropped in to wish her the best of the day and to admire the big birthday cake which had been baked and decorated by Mrs. Dustow.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Hanning mark 25th anniversary

— By Jean C. Legg

MANNVILLE — Mr and Mrs. Donald Hanning were very pleasantly surprised April 5th, on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary, when friends and neighbors gathered to help them celebrate this happy event. Among those present were Mr and Mrs Cliff Hamilton, old friends of the Hanning family who now live at Wainwright. Guests enjoyed cards, visiting and reminiscing.

The tea table was graced with a lace cloth, wedding cake and a basket of [illegible] the latter being a gift from the guests and placed on the table by Mrs. Jas Bennett. Mrs Ernie [illegible] decorated the wedding cake, [illegible] supplied the lace cloth.

The ladies present served lunch and the guests of honor, Don and Gwen Hanning, cut their wedding cake.

Harry Hamilton, as master of ceremonies for the evening, commented on the qualities of friendliness and neighborliness which Don and Gwen both possess. During his remarks he invited Walter Dommesworth, Harvey Robertson, James McLuckie, Frank Scott and Walter Laurenceson to express their good wishes to the happy couple. The emcee, on behalf of all present, congratulated the bride and groom of 25 years, and presented them with a purse of money. Don expressed his and Gwen's appreciation and thanks to all and the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" brought the happy evening to a close.

U. K. Official To Speak At Spring Banquet

The Vermilion Board of Trade have been singularly fortunate in obtaining Mr Idris L. Davies, United Kingdom Trade Commissioner, as the guest speaker at the annual spring banquet. Mr Davies, widely known as a very entertaining after dinner speaker, who mixes a vast amount of interesting information with a great fund of humor, has chosen as the subject of his address "Come with me around Britain today."

The talk will provide indications of conditions in Britain today and will cover as well the historical and geographical background.

The spring banquet will be held on Monday, May 30th at 6:30 p.m. in the Legion hall. Tickets are now on sale from members of the Board of Trade.

Boy "Fished" Out Of Vermilion Lake

Clarence Keys of Edmonton was visiting his mother, Mrs Mary Keys, during the Easter week end. They took a drive down to Vermilion lake, and while there noticed a young boy fishing near the bridge. While they were watching the boy, instead of a fish coming out of the water, the boy fell in. Clarence immediately went to the rescue, and pulled him out. They bundled him off to his home in Vermilion apparently none the worse for the cold water bath. However, it is hoped that the incident will serve as a warning to all children and their parents that the water can be dangerous, and others might not be so fortunate as to have someone near at hand to "fish them out."

Capacity Audience Attends "Martin Luther" Film

The film "Martin Luther" was shown in the Alliance Chapel on Friday, April 15 under the sponsorship of the Youth Fellowship.

The film 110 minutes in length, portrayed the times and conditions during the period of the Reformation. The capacity audience included many from Mannville, Lloydminster, Wainwright and intervening districts.

Attend Semi-Annual Convention

Vermilion Constituency was well represented at the semi-annual executives conference of the Alberta Social Credit League which was held in the new Social Credit hall in Edmonton last Friday, April 8th. Delegates were the president Castle Scott, Peter Noster, Derwent; and Clarence Ewing of Mannville. They were joined at the noonday banquet by the member Ashley Cooper, and again in the evening at which a very interesting panel discussion was held with Premier Manning, Hon. A. J. Hooke and Hon. E. Hinman forming the panel.

DRESS-UP DAY AT V. H. S.

A dazzling new look brightened up each classroom at the Vermilion High school recently as students, both male and female, appeared prepared for study neatly dressed in smart business clothes. The entire school looked more like a professional office than a classroom. The idea stemmed from a suggestion by Mr. A. Husby, principal of the school, and was soon accepted by many students. Mr. Husby was very pleased at the response, and to further popularize the movement some students suggested that it be done more in the future. According to students and Mr. Husby, appearance gives them a greater feeling of responsibility toward their study.

Articles of handiwork to be entered at the fair were decided upon.

At 6:00 o'clock a bountiful pot luck supper and fellowship hour was enjoyed with Mrs. Oldenburg, Mrs Folk, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Prill acting as conveners.

At 7:00 o'clock the Canadian Girls in Training held their annual affiliation service with the W.M.S. By affiliation the group has a share in the missionary work of the church.

Mrs. R. C. Smith of Lloydminster, Presbyterial Secretary of C.G.I.T. received their cheque and presented the Certificate of Affiliation. She gave an inspiring talk on the purpose of the C.G.I.T. and work accomplished by the girls. One project she cited was that the girls, by collecting old nylon hose and sending them to Korea provided work for otherwise unemployed elderly women. The women unravel the nylon thread and wind it on spools ready to be used in industry. There are 293 branches of C.G.I.T. in Alberta with 3100 girls enrolled.

The following took part in the service: Margaret Rooks, President of the C. G. I. T.; Sharon Martin, Secretary; Miss Machan, Leader; Mrs. H. J. Clarke, who presented the World Friendship badges and Mrs. D. Folk, pianist.

Plans Extensive Program; Mill Rate Set

A heavy agenda faced the council at the regular meeting on Monday evening at which the mill rate for 1960 taxes was set at 53 mills. In attendance at the meeting were Mayor Hill and councillors C. T. Heckbert, R. J. Ireland, A. R. Kent, Dr. Ben King, C. J. McCormick and K. E. Rowe.

The Husby residence will be in the east end on lot 7 and the west half of [illegible]

Fine Progress by Retarded School

At the first annual meeting held by the Vermilion Retarded Children's Association, the President, Percy E. Cooper, reported a most significant and encouraging year.

During the past year, an association was formed, premises leased and school opened, which school reported marked progress with 10 pupils attending.

Financially, the association was operating "in the black", assisted to a very great degree by donations from clubs, groups and individuals, which greatly supplemented the education grant.

Building plans are not as yet decided and it is hoped to make basic program in this regard during the next year.

On a motion from the floor it was decided to forego election of officers until such time that a constitution is finalized and that the present executive, with the addition of Mr. Emmett McLaughlin of Mannville, carry on for the present.

Prior to the business meeting a very powerful film, "Opening the Door", carried a poignant message to all concerned with the plight of the retarded child.

Civil Defence Director Addresses Board of Trade Meeting

At the meeting of the Board of Trade held on April 13th, the members heard a very interesting address by Mr George Martin, director of civil defence for the Town of Vermilion and Vermilion River M. D.

Mr Martin stated that it was astounding to find out what little defence we have against a nuclear offensive with the intercontinental ballistic missile. As it would never be known when such a missile would be dropped the idea of a massive evacuation of the population has been abandoned.

The speaker asked the board to consider the question of available supplies of food stuffs at any given time if supplies from outside sources should suddenly be cut off.

Mr Martin suggested that the Board of Trade form a committee for the consideration of Civil Defence matters and particularly for the purpose of obtaining information on the supply of necessities at any given time. He also [illegible] that as many business men as possible take civil defence training as everyone should have some training in Civil Defence.

The thanks of the Board for the informative address were expressed by Mr A. M. West who added that in his opinion we were fortunate indeed to have Mr. Martin as director of civil defence program in this area.

President of the Board, Angus MacMillan, was chairman.

"BOARD OF TRADE WEEK"

Across this great land of ours — from Vancouver Island to Newfoundland — thousands of men and women are now participating in "Chamber of Commerce Week." There are Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce — in Canada the terms mean the same — in more than 750 communities from coast to coast. These are voluntary organizations of the forward-looking citizens of each community, banded together to promote the civil, commercial, industrial and agricultural progress of the community and district which it serves.

A key word in this definition is voluntary. Here are men and women who have accepted the responsibilities of citizenship and who have recognized that their country, their province, their region and their community demand something more than mere observance of the law. Canada depends upon strong, progressive, vital communities. Only by giving something of themselves in time and effort can men and women make the contribution which spells the difference between a live community and a dead one.

"Chamber of Commerce Week" was established to bring to all Canadians a concept of the role of the local Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce in community building for the national good. Here are cells of democracy — independent and vigorous — binding citizens together to make their communities better places in which to live and in which to earn a living. Boards and Chambers can truly be called the conscience and the will of their communities. The conscience to see and recognize the needs of the community and the will to take effective action. It has been well said that a community is poor in purse and poor in purpose that has not a strong, vital and active Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce.

Nor do these Board of Trade or Chambers of Commerce work in a vacuum. At the provincial level there is a strong federation expressing the unified viewpoint of communities to the provincial government. At the national level there is the parliament of business—The Canadian Chamber of Commerce — [illegible] federation of more than 800 Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce which makes the views of business and community leaders known and respected at the federal level.

Dependence on governments leads to the drying-up of initiative and self-reliance. Through Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce, forward-looking citizens banded together voluntarily express their views and arouse public opinion — not for any selfish or partisan interest — but for the benefit of all members of the community, the province and Canada.

Support your Board of Trade at all times — physically, morally and financially!

Has Vermilion District A Master Farm Family?

All nominations for the Master Farm Family award must be in by June 15. Master Farm Families will again be chosen from [illegible] regions of the province if suitable candidates are nominated.

The award consists of $1,000 in cash and a plaque. Families nominated must be Canadian citizens and the head of each family must be the owner-operator or lease-operator of the farm. He must also have [illegible] at least 20 consecutive years as sole operator of the farm. In the case of war veterans, time spent in military service will be accepted in lieu of farming.

Nomination forms, which must be signed by at least three neighbors, are available from all district agriculturists and should be returned to them upon completion.

Possible nominations for this valuable award is a worthwhile project for the Agricultural committee of the Board of Trade.

U. S. Junior Chamber Makes Alcoholism National Project

The U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce has adopted as a national project an educational program designed to promote awareness, knowledge and understanding of alcoholism among the American public.

In a [illegible] for the [illegible] by [illegible] and Commerce [illegible] by the Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta, the program and the Jaycees' approach to it are described as follows: "The committee's belief and philosophy are that it can do a service to its community by interesting the public of the facts on alcoholism. Its definite belief that alcoholism is a disease, a departure from health which interferes with the well-being of the individual and calls for treatment.

"With proper understanding of the symptoms, and the knowledge that alcoholism is a progressive illness and not simply a moral lapse, the problem may be alleviated.

"It is important that the program by-pass emotional, [illegible] and other attitudes [illegible] obscure the facts. [illegible] in approaching members and the [illegible] as a [illegible], the Jaycees do not take sides in the wet-dry controversy. Their concern is with alcoholism as a treatable disease."

J. George Strachan, executive director of the Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta, commenting on the action of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, said, "The Junior Chamber is to be commended for its enterprise in tackling the problem of alcoholism on a national basis, and for its realistic approach to a public health problem which U. S. industry describes as "The two-billion dollar headache."

Miss Dorothy Galloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Galloway, was among the 62 nurses graduating from the Royal Alexandra hospital.

The final graduation exercises of the CWAC at the Vermilion Training centre will take place this Friday.

Fire on the Fred Haines' farm on April 26 completely destroyed three barns, a chop granary, a wagon and box, chicken house, harness for twelve horses and numerous other smaller items.

E. Wells who farms north-west of Islay finished seeding 25 acres of oats on April 24 and the whole area was up on April 29, which should almost create a record for quick germination. The oats now present a very uniform stand about 3 inches in height.

A gigantic bee is being held on Arbor Day May 7 when it is hoped to plant 100 trees on the public school grounds. All citizens are urged to turn out armed with picks and shovels for the job.

The induction of Rev. H. A. Boyd, M.A., took place at First United church on Friday evening.

LOW GRADING HOGS MUST GO!

A. J. Charnetski, Alberta's Live Stock Supervisor in charge of swine states that every 'C' hog marketed this spring means a net loss to the farmer of at least $5. This does not take into account that 'C' grade hogs are not eligible for deficiency payments which brings the net loss to at least $10 per head. Feeding can make a hog overweight, underweight or market weight but only breeding can produce a 'C' hog. Deflated prices make this spring an opportune time for the purchase of breeding stock. When buying breeding stock insist that the breeder supply a veterinary certificate guaranteeing the herd free of all contagious swine diseases.

TREE PLANTING

If you are unable to plant these trees or shrubs on arrival put them in a cool, shady [illegible] and keep them watered. When planting, make certain the hole is large enough not to damage the roots. Put only good top soil around the roots. Top soil is more conducive to rapid growth. Pack the soil firmly around the tree after planting and water, if possible. Any tree or shrub over four feet high should be staked.

RATS

Rats are still a decided menace in Alberta and it is the responsibility of every citizen to report anything suspicious to the local M.D. or D.A. office. Those people living in Ranges 1 and 2 must keep fresh bait out at all times. Bait is supplied free of charge by your municipal district.

FERTILIZERS

Following several dry years many people are expressing doubts about whether or not to use fertilizer. Fertilizer always improves growth but it does cost money. So when money is scarce the fertilizer should be applied where it [illegible] returns. [illegible] fertilizing [illegible] returns [illegible] per acre. [illegible] to apply a lighter application than 100 lbs. to the acre. Straight nitrogen fertilizer promotes grass and nitrogen [illegible] fertilizer promotes legume growth.

H. M. Douglas [illegible]

LIVE STOCK AUCTIONS

As a result of the increasing popularity of live stock auction markets the Alberta Department of Agriculture [illegible] to enforce strict health rules. These rules are to prevent the spread of contagious diseases such as T.B., brucellosis, hoof rot, rhinitis, etc. At times these rigid controls seem unnecessary but they protect buyer or seller and market operators alike. Anyone buying at an auction market has the right to know how good the veterinary inspection is. It is fairly safe to [illegible] that the veterinary inspection is good if farmers are [illegible] permission to unload [illegible] because of disease or stock is being sold only for slaughter. If you want buy at the auction markets do so where there is a veterinarian on the job.

LLOYDMINSTER [illegible] SALE

Lloydminster [illegible] show and sale of pure bred bulls will be held May 2 and 3.

PRIVATE PILOTS NUMBER 10,000 IN CANADA

By the end of this year there will be 2,000 privately owned light aircraft in Canada, a figure which grows at the rate of about 10 a week. There are now about 10,000 licensed private pilots. There are nine flying fields devoted to private flying within a 30-mile radius of Toronto. The cost to learn to fly is $300 to $400 depending on how long you take and where you learn. Pictured above is Harvey Varden, his wife and daughters, of Unionville, Ont., who fly as a family.

Cancer of the skin is the commonest form of cancer in man. If treated early, it can nearly always be cured.

Grace is but glory begun, and glory is but grace perfected.

Beauty without grace is the hook without the bait.

There is no such way to attain a greater measure of grace as for a man to live up to the little grace he has.

Bride-Elect Honored At Shower Monday

Miss Sally Duggan of Edmonton, whose marriage to John Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stewart, will take place on April 30, was the guest of honor at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Rose Harle at her home in south Vermilion.

There were approximately 20 guests gathered on Monday to extend their best wishes to Miss Duggan and to shower her with gifts to be used in her future home. She and John will be making their home in Vermilion following their wedding trip.

Various parlour games and much sociability was enjoyed by Mrs. Harle's guests prior to the presentation of the shower gifts in a beautifully decorated Easter basket.

Miss Sally Duggan, bride-elect of April 30, is being widely entertained prior to her marriage to Mr. John Stewart which will take place at Robertson United church. Miss Doreen Barry was hostess at a shower when guests were business associates of Miss Duggan, and Mrs. A. R. Mann entertained at luncheon at her home recently. Tuesday evening Mrs. H. C. Cooper and her daughter, Miss Gail Cooper, entertained at their home at a dinner party for Miss Duggan.

Dewberry Boy Defenseman With Champion Oil Kings

We congratulate Lorne Braithwaite as a member of the Edmonton Oil Kings hockey club. Lorne is a defenseman and it can well be remembered how many hours he used to spend on the local rink in Dewberry. His parents, Mr and Mrs. Joe Braithwaite reside on the farm at Dewberry. His brother Ernie played hockey with Lacombe this year and went a long way on the hockey trail.

NEWS OF DEWBERRY & DISTRICT

The road north of Islay to Dewberry is to be finished, or nearly so, this year. The new bridge on the Vermilion river this year solved the problem of the icy hill which was always dangerous and sometimes impassable.

FARMER'S DAY CELEBRATION

The Farmer's Day picnic in conjunction with the Dewberry Chamber of Commerce will be held on Friday June 10 at the sports grounds. A full program of baseball, football and horse racing is planned.

SWAN RESTS ON FLIGHT NORTH

A large white swan was noticed on a farm slough just south of Dewberry for two days, apparently resting before continuing its long flight north.

A duck's nest with one egg in it was discovered April 11th. Yep, the early bird gets the worm!

C.P.R. ground in Dewberry has been all cleared of brush which certainly helps to make the town cleaner looking.

Meets Old Friends At W. A. Conference Held in Calgary

By Mrs. Opal Cooper.

I have just returned from Calgary where I attended, as a delegate, the Alberta Conference Women's Association of the United Church of Canada.

This is always an inspiring and uplifting experience, meeting in fellowship with other women, all working together in the Lord's work.

To many of us this is like "Old Home Week", renewing friendships and making new ones and at this point I would very much like to tell of two ladies I met whom many of you will remember in their girlhood. A new friend, Mrs. Dell McFadden of Mannville, the former Mettie Wharry Bowtell, and Mrs. Henry Greig (Fay, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Deford of Trochu). It has been over thirty years since I had seen Fay. In comparing notes we found that all three of us had grown up at different age levels with the same people. Both Mettie and Fay were anxious to hear news of old friends and relatives. Mettie spent many a night dancing in the Allandale school and sent greetings to the following old friends and any others still living in the district: Omness family (especially Nora); the Meads, Scarfs, Bob Butz, Frank Deford and Mrs. Sylvia Gould; greetings also to Mrs. Myrtle Waltz, niece of Mr. McFadden.

Fay also sends greetings to all her old friends around Allandale, Bowtell and Vermilion, and to all her relatives living in the vicinity with special greetings to her aunt Mrs. Sylvia Gould, Uncle Frank Deford and her sister Mrs. Everett Fry of Vermilion. Both ladies send a very special hello to Fay's aunt Mrs. Ella Olmstead. As we had very little free time all of our reminiscing was of necessity done at meal time.

As I am not the press secretary I have not attempted to give a report on the conference but will be glad to report proceedings to any W. A. groups who are interested at any time.

On my way home I had a visit with our daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Don MacGillivray, son [illegible] and Robin Attfield. All are well and working at good jobs.

FAR EAST COMES TO CAMP BORDEN

A little bit of Japan has come to Camp Borden, Ontario, where Mrs. James Bradley parades with her daughter Irene, four, in gifts sent to them from Japan. Mrs. Bradley is one of six Japanese wives of Canadian soldiers who have been posted to the base. Most of the Japanese wives now speak English fluently and several have children attending school at the camp. All six are married to Korean war veterans.

It Must Be Spring

A frosty tang still fills the air,
The gopher ventures from his lair;
The snow is gone, and fields are bare;
Methinks it must be spring!

The crocus in her furry coat
In warming sunshine seems to gloat;
To splash in mud the kiddies dote;
Methinks it must be spring!

The lambs upon the hills do bleat,
The ducks enjoy green grass to eat,
The farmer talks of planting wheat;
Methinks it must be spring!

Birds fly about with string and twigs,
The sow has ten new baby pigs,
And Grandpa 'round the flower bed digs;
Methinks it must be spring!

The fairer sex now dons new frills,
Poor hubby groans about the bills,
The youngsters swallow tonic pills;
Methinks it must be spring!

The flies are buzzing 'round the door,
The hens are laying eggs galore,
And something makes our spirits soar;
Methinks it must be spring!

The crow is cawing from a limb,
The wife the soap suds starts to fling,
She's working, dusting everything;
I know it must be Spring!

The Bible Today

The extension of Bible distribution in Mexico has required the building of a new Bible House in Mexico City.

Plans are well advanced and a suitable site in the central portion of the city and easy access has been secured. An appeal is being made to the Protestant constituency of the country for assistance in this necessary project. The committee in charge reports good progress in the planning and a ready response to the appeal.

Unless the rate of distribution is increased it has been estimated that it would take 250 years for every inhabitant to receive a Bible or a New Testament.

In the last 20 years 877,000 Bibles and Testaments have been circulated in a country with a population of 23 million. In the same period seven and a quarter million gospels were distributed. The increase of population points to the fact that the number of those for whom no Bible or New Testament will be available is increasing.

Ten Macleod Stores Represented At Annual Bonspiel in Vermilion

Ten Macleod stores were represented by rinks competing in their annual bonspiel held in Vermilion recently. Rinks came from Red Deer, Bonnie Doon, Vegreville, Lloydminster, North Battleford, Bonnyville, St. Paul, Saskatoon, Wainwright, and Vermilion.

At the end of the day's play, two rinks, Vegreville and Red Deer were tied in points. In the play-off the Vegreville rink was victorious. This rink was skipped by Sid Bowman with Marie Doyle, Alex Hillich and Sam Krokowich.

At the conclusion of the play a banquet was served in the Legion hall with sixty-five Macleod employees and wives in attendance. The guests included Mr. Art Fletcher of Red Deer, district manager for Alberta, and Mrs. Fletcher; Mr. Walter Gibson of Saskatoon district manager for Saskatchewan and Mrs. Gibson. At the banquet the cup was presented to the winning Vegreville rink and other prizes distributed.

The annual Macleod's bonspiel was started here a few years ago with four rinks competing. This has now spread to ten and the number is increasing each year. It is the largest gathering of Macleod employees with the exception of conventions.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

A $5 scratch on the fender can increase in importance until it hits the law courts, or it can remain as simple as well a $5 accident. In most cases it depends upon you.

If you have an accident, no matter how serious or minor, do these things:

1. Remain at the scene. Leaving, for any reason, immediately puts you in the wrong.

2. Check occupants of each car for possible injuries. If any one is injured, the law requires that even the most minor accident be reported to the police.

3. Exchange license numbers, names and addresses with the other driver. Get the names of a witness or two, if possible.

4. Inspect both cars and jot down the exact nature of the damage. Note exactly where the accident took place, the time, the weather.

5. Report by phone or letter to the nearest office of your insurance company.

A final word. If you leap out of your car hot under the collar looking for trouble, you'll find it. But 9 out of 10 minor accident cases can be settled simply and easily with a cool head and a sense of fair play.

Great Interest Shown In Hog Producers Associations

As great interest is being evinced in this area in hog producers association, the STANDARD publishes the following article:

The Hog Producers Association is a self-help organization which has as its main objective to place the control of the production and marketing in the hands of the producers themselves so that the hog industry will become firmly established as a means whereby we will be assured of receiving a return for our production which will bear a direct relationship to the cost of

In order to do this the Hog Producers Association which is formed of actual farmers actively engaged in the production of hogs, have drawn up, from careful thought and consideration the following points which are considered necessary if the objectives are to be reached:

1. An improved product, through (a) The use of A.R. breeding stock. (b) Using improved management practices. (c) Requesting enforcement of purebred sire areas. (d) The establishment of better veterinary services.

2. Controlled production, to (a) Fill requirements. (b) Eliminate bulky surpluses.

3. Orderly marketing by (a) Avoiding seasonal market gluts. (b) More efficient livestock handling.

4. Stabilize prices for our product by (a) Producer negotiated prices. (b) Assembling and utilizing market information. (c) Elimination of geographic discrimination. (d) The establishment of producer controlled marketing agencies.

It was pointed out that the above is only tentative and can be added to or changed by the members as the organization grows. Mr. T. Rackham, Agricultural Economist from Ontario Agricultural College gave a short talk in which he pointed out some of the essential facts which the producers must face in implementing their program as outlined.

Whoopers On Move: Protect Them

WASHINGTON — Only 18 whooping cranes were counted Tuesday in an aerial survey of the wintering area in Texas, the U.S. fish and wildlife service reported. This indicated that 15 whoopers have started the long journey to northern nesting grounds. Thirty-three of the rare birds wintered in and near the refuge.

PENSE, Sask. — A rare whooping crane flying in a northwesterly direction has been reported by youngsters on a farm in the Pense district 20 miles west of Regina.

Grant Sadon, 12, and his sisters, Sandra, 10, and Carol Ann, 3, reported seeing the bird while they were out on the fields with their father.

The birds are believed to nest in the Wood Buffalo National Park area in the Alberta-Northwest Territories boundary.

TOLLAND TOPICS

Mr. and Mrs. John Crooks of Airways, Alberta, were visiting recently at the latter's home in Tolland, taking Mrs. Lysons back with them for a week's visit.

Johnnie and Charlie Coward of Easyford called for a short visit at the Wolters' home recently.

The slides on Ireland shown at Tolland by Mr. and Mrs. McCorry of Kitscoty were much enjoyed by a full house. It is said that they have more slides than they showed at that time, so it is hoped that they will show them in the not too distant future.

We are glad to hear that Eleanor McGrath is able to attend high school again this week after missing a week's school due to an infected tooth.

CANADA ADOPTS UNIFORM TRAFFIC CONTROL SIGNS

Alberta has joined other Canadian provinces in accepting a plan for uniform traffic control devices prepared by a special committee of federal, provincial and civic government officials, representatives of the Canadian Good Roads Association, the Institute of Traffic Engineers, Canadian Automobile Association and other national groups.

Motorists travelling in any part of Canada will now be able to easily recognize the meaning of any road sign which may be the same throughout Canada.

The special committee standardized road signs with regard to shape, color, dimensions, symbols, wording or lettering and illuminization or reflectorization.

The types of signs used across the nation were classified into three general groups. Regulatory signs give the highway user notice of traffic regulations, with a few exceptions these are rectangular with the longer dimension vertical. They are usually white with black, green or red lettering and border. Exceptions in shape and color are the red, octagon "stop" sign, yellow, inverted-triangle "yield" sign, and "one-way" sign and "night speed" sign.

Warning signs which call attention to conditions that are potentially hazardous to traffic operation are generally diamond shaped. They have a yellow background with black lettering or symbols. General exceptions are advance railway signs which are circular and the railway crossbuck sign.

Guide signs used to show route designations, directions, distances, points of interest, other geographical or cultural information are green with white symbols or lettering. They are rectangular in shape with the longer dimension horizontal. Provincial route markers can be white with black lettering.

Major changes in Alberta will involve the use of more symbol signs to mark schools, playgrounds and pedestrian crosswalks. The Uniform Traffic Control Devices committee recommended that a new and distinctive shape and color be used for advance warning of a school, crosswalk or school speed zone. The selected sign is a pentagon-shaped schoolhouse which bears a symbol of two children in white on a blue background. The sign is being used on Alberta highways approximately 1,000 feet before the beginning of a regularly marked school speed zone.

DAVID BAR-ILLAN

Israeli Pianist To Play at Lloyd.

Israeli pianist David Bar-Illan whose 1959-60 season includes four performances with the New York Philharmonic under the baton of Dimitri Mitropoulos has concertized extensively in Israel, Europe, South America, the U.S. and Canada. His appearance in Lloydminster has been scheduled for Tuesday, April 26 at 8:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Bar-Illan who was born in Israel in 1930 received his primary musical education in Haifa, his home town. After appearing in recitals and with orchestra in Israel he made his first trip to the United States as a scholarship student. He interrupted his studies a few months later to join the army of Israel during the War of Independence, then returned to America and was graduated by the Julliard School and the Mannes College of Music.

Acclaimed by the press as "one of the most brilliant pianists of his generation" at the time of his Carnegie Hall debut in 1954, as "poet of the keyboard" after his first appearance in Wigmore Hall in London and as "one of today's most notable pianists" in Buenos Aires, Bar-Illan has been touring regularly on the three continents.

Last season Bar-Illan appeared with Mitropoulos in Israel with the Israel Philharmonic, as soloist in concertos by Schumann and Robert Starer. Bar-Illan introduced the Starer Concerto, which was written for him, in Boston and Cincinnati under the direction of Thor Johnson, in New York with Wilfred Pelletier and last summer in Buenos Aires with Carl Bamberger. He also played it on a TV-network program with the CBS orchestra conducted by Alfredo Antonini.

Bar-Illan's current American tour was preceded by major engagements in South America and Europe, where he performed for a third time with the Liverpool Philharmonic and made a debut appearance with the Birmingham Symphony, Sir Adrian Boult conducting. In addition to the Philharmonic concerts his present tour includes the opening recital of the Masterpiece Series in Minneapolis and numerous concerts throughout the U. S. and Canada.

"DISEASES ARE THE PENALTIES WE PAY FOR OUR NEGLECT OF THE MEANS OF HEALTH"
—Author's name below—

Your own body is a wonderful manufacturer of medicines for the cure of disease. As soon as any invading germ or virus attacks you, your blood rushes its weapons of defence to the danger zone.

If your health and strength are good you win the fight and the attack is defeated. But, if your resistance is low, any disease can gain a dangerous foothold. Therefore it is wise to visit your physician for regular check-ups to make certain you have enough energy to fight off sickness. He can prescribe the proper needed medication.

EX-AVRO ENGINEERS BUILD WINGLESS GYRO PLANE

Georgetown, Ont., backers and former Avro engineers invented and built a cigar-shaped, wingless gyro plane which they claim will cost less to operate than a car. The gyro plane takes off vertically and has a cruising speed of 150 mph. During taxi-ing tests on Georgetown streets, the unusual aircraft travelled at speeds up to 35 mph. The company hopes to mass produce the plane starting in 1960. Asking price for the two-seater is $10,000.

Hog Producers Association Organized By Area Farmers

On Wednesday evening, April 6th, hog producers from Lloydminster, Vermilion, Claysmore, Mannville, Irma, and Innisfree, met in the Legion hall at Mannville to publicize the objectives of the Hog Producers Association came into being recently at a meeting in [illegible], with a Local also formed at Vermilion. Ralph Wilson, F. U. A. Director for District [illegible], chaired the meeting and [illegible] on Eric Salt of [illegible] and other members of the Association to outline the objectives of this new organization.

The speakers stressed the fact that it was a self-help organization, realizing the futility of running to governments with pleas for help and assistance in solving the problems facing hog producers today, they were forced to the conclusion that, self-help is the best help and they are out to organize the hog producers in order to control their own production though a producer-controlled marketing board. A pamphlet setting out the objectives of the Association was distributed. It contained the following:

The Hog Producers Association is a self-help organization which has as its main objective to place the control of the production and marketing in the hands of the producers themselves so that the hog industry will become firmly established as a means whereby we will be assured of receiving a return for our production which will bear a direct relationship to the cost of production.

In order to do this the Hog Producers Association which is formed of actual farmers actively engaged in the production of hogs, have drawn up, from careful thought and consideration the following points which are considered necessary if the objectives are to be reached.

1. An improved product through (a) The use of A.R. breeding stock. (b) Using improved management practices. (c) Requesting enforcement of purebred sire areas. (d) The establishment of better veterinary services.
2. Controlled production, to (a) Fill requirements. (b) Eliminate bulky surpluses.
3. Orderly marketing by (a) Avoiding seasonal market gluts. (b) More efficient livestock handling.
4. Stabilize prices for our product by (a) Producer negotiated prices. (b) Assembling and utilizing market information. (c) Elimination of geographic discrimination. (d) The establishment of producer controlled marketing agencies.

It was pointed out that the above is only tentative and can be added to or changed by the members as the organization grows. Mr. T. Rackham, Agricultural Economist from Ontario Agricultural College gave a short talk in which he pointed out some of the essential facts which the producers must face in implementing their program as outlined.

Walter Davidson and L. Kenzie of Lloydminster were among others that spoke. After a question period in which many questions were taken care of, and a variety of suggestions and comments offered, a vote was taken by ballot which showed 34 in favor of forming an association, with two against and three spoiled ballots. A few did not vote.

Following this it was decided to form a committee and take membership in Mannville and that some of those present from Irma were to make arrangements for a meeting in Wainwright, before seeding starts if possible, but if this is found impossible then immediately after seeding.

It was agreed that an account of this meeting should be written up for local weekly newspapers.

Car Sales Soar

The Canadian automobile industry has just chalked up the third-best first-quarter production total in its history, reports The Financial Post.

Passenger car output was up 7% and commercial vehicle production 28% better than in the January-March period of 1959.

New car sales in February were 27% better than in January, yet the two-month total of registrations across Canada failed by a 5% margin, to equal those of Jan.-Feb., 1959.

If good weather holds, adds The Post, dealers expect sales to be away to a running start that might bring the year-end total close, if not equal, to last year's all-time record.

A sore that does not heal may or may not mean cancer. It should always be checked by a doctor. 95 per cent of skin cancers are cured. This could be increased to 100 per cent if there were no delay in seeking treatment.

Yes...The Mother of God WILL Help You!

You may not approve of the age-old Catholic devotion to the Blessed Virgin.

Perhaps you have heard — and believed — that this is "un-Scriptural" . that Catholics are trying to establish Mary as a divine person equal in power to God.

But if you will look at the facts, you will see that these things are not true . . . and you will realize that Mary can exert a wonderful influence in your personal life.

It certainly is not "un-Scriptural" to recognize that Mary is the Mother of Jesus Christ. If we are to be truly "Scriptural," we must further acknowledge that Christ is the eternal Son of the eternal Father — a Divine Person who assumed a human nature like ours in all things except sin. And while Mary did not give Jesus His divine nature, the Savior was her Son . . . as truly as anyone is the son of his own mother.

In view of these truths, how can anyone look upon Mary as just another woman, or just another mother? Why should we hesitate to honor one whom God so greatly honored . and upon whom He conferred a surpassing holiness and complete freedom from sin? Why should we believe that one so close to the Son of God in his earthly life is not close and dear to Him in His eternal Kingdom?

It is erroneous, of course, to think that Catholics worship Mary as a divine person. But we do love and venerate her for the unique place she occupies in God's plan for our salvation . . . for her intimate association with the all-holy Son of God . . . for her own holiness.

But, you may say — why should we pray to Mary when we can pray directly to God, as the Scriptures command? The answer is that Catholics do pray to God and they seek from him grace and forgiveness — for these are blessings which only God can grant. But there is no law of God which commands us, when we go to Him in prayer . . . that we must go alone.

Like St. Paul, we believe in praying for others and having others pray for us. And whose prayers could find greater favor in the sight of God than those of the Mother of His Divine Son?

These are the chief reasons for the world-wide Catholic devotion to the Blessed Virgin. These are the reasons why millions of people, in every land and every language, are heard to pray:

"Hail, Mary, full of grace! the Lord is with thee; blessed art thou amongst women; and blessed is the fruit of thy womb, Jesus . . ."

The name of the Blessed Virgin is in the headlines these days . . . and people everywhere are discussing her place in Catholic devotions. We have prepared a special pamphlet dealing with Mary's place in the Christian creed and will send you a copy free of charge. Write today . . . ask for Pamphlet No. KC-34.

DIFFERENT?

No other car has springs like these!

Volkswagen rides like a big car—with springs you can't even see! Sealed in tubes, they're protected from rust, dust and dirt. These torsion bars give independent springing to each of the four wheels—unlike any other family car. You get the same remarkable riding comfort front seat or back.

Volkswagen wheels are different, too. They are larger than normal with larger tires for a softer, more comfortable ride. And oversize brakes give you maximum safety.

Volkswagen's unique suspension, large wheels, luxurious contoured seats—these are the important things when it comes to riding comfort—not size. Volkswagen's ride on any road is unmatched, even by big cars.

That Volkswagen's famous engine is different, is a well known fact. It's in the rear, of course. It's air-cooled. In fact, it has set a new trend in motor design. You get up to 40 miles per gallon and can drive at top speed all day long—if you wish.

All this makes Volkswagen different. When you drive it you'll find—it pays to be different.

No wonder, then, that Volkswagen is the largest selling imported car in North America—by far!

Chemical Control Of Wild Oats

A new publication entitled "Chemical Control of Wild Oats" is now available to Alberta farmers.

The publication deals with the effective use of two new herbicides, Avadex and Carbyne, as aids to cultural methods in reducing wild oat infestations. It has been prepared by the Field Crops Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

Answers to such questions as which crops may be safely treated with these herbicides, how the chemicals are applied, at what rates and time, are all to be found in this useful and informative bulletin. In addition there is a section on preparation of the seedbed and another of a more general nature dealing with the use of these chemicals and precautions that should be taken.

"Chemical Control of Wild Oats" (No. 144) can be obtained from your district agriculturist or from the Field Crops Branch, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

END OF AN ERA—The steam locomotive, work horse of the Canadian railway industry for 124 years, will disappear from Canadian National Railways lines this June. At that time, the company's 10-year, $[illegible] dieselization program will be completed. Pioneer of the diesel-electric locomotive in North America, the CNR introduced the first diesel car in 1925 and the first two-unit diesel locomotive in 1929. With the disappearance of steam power in June, the CNR will have 2,144 diesel locomotives and 25 Railiners in service.

Vermilion W. I.

The April meeting of the W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. J. McCaig with the president in the chair. Twelve members were present and two visitors, Mrs. P. Sloan and Mrs. J. Wallington.

The meeting opened with "O Canada" followed by the Creed. Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted and treasurer's report accepted.

During the month five get-well and two sympathy cards were sent and flowers to a member on her golden wedding.

Handicraft list was again discussed and members will start on their articles. Due to the illness of Mrs. Astley a new handicraft convener, Mrs. T. Davis, was chosen and consented to take over. The handicraft list from the Vermilion fair board was tabled until next meeting.

It was decided not to renew the subscription to Readers' Digest for the hospital as they now have a library.

A letter was received from Mrs. Lee thanking us for the loan of the wheelchair. Flowers are to be sent to Mrs. Fraser, a long time member who is in hospital.

The roll call, "our oldest possession" proved most interesting and entertaining. Many old relics were displayed, among them a long curved pipe which could rest on the knees when smoked, a small silver knife and fork, a Godmother's gift, earrings [illegible] from very old jet buttons, [illegible] dated 1880, bills of sale [illegible] 1907 and 1908, a very fine [illegible] with a latchet used for [illegible] stockings, a [illegible] 210 years old; a Crimea war medal; old photographs, an old lace cap and bonnet and hair combs.

Mrs. Green gave part of her report on the district conference and will continue it next week. Mrs. Rooks won the mystery box.

Health Unit Notes

HOW TO CONTROL YOUR CHILD'S TEMPER

Parents are often surprised when their "little angel," of a year and a half or two years of age, begins to have temper spells. Before this they have usually discovered that small babies show stout wills of their own. What is called the "temper cry" means usually that the baby is hungry, or he is covered too tightly, or he is physically uncomfortable for any of a dozen reasons, and he is telling the world how he feels about it.

But there is a stage of development around two years of age, when the child is walking and talking, at which temper tantrums are especially common. At this age, even children who are usually placid will shatter the peace with angry outbursts.

What is happening is that your baby is becoming a person able to make his demands more clearly known. Physically he is able to get about more. He is demanding his rights to explore his expanding world and to make a few decisions for himself. While he is a helpless baby we expect him to behave as such, but when he begins to walk and talk we expect him suddenly to have almost as much self-control as an adult. The "gos" and "stops" are not easily combined at this age. "Go" is the dominant drive.

Anger and resistance are natural reactions to "stop" signs. It is important that parents limit their controls over the child to the most necessary ones. If you [illegible] excessively, perhaps in order to suit the wishes of older members of the family, you can expect not only outbursts of temper throughout the early years, but a feeling of frustration that may lead to difficulties later.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO

When your child resists dressing, eating, or giving up some treasured object, two courses are open to you. One is to hold fast to your determination, thus creating even stronger resistance in him. The other way is to respect his resistance, to see the situation from his eyes, to try to appreciate and support his effort to "do it myself." If the job must be pushed through, a firm but friendly way of going about it is highly desirable. The resisting child can respect authority if it is not turned against him. To build a cooperative relationship with your child rather than an antagonistic one is the aim. It takes time, for the trial-and-error ways of a small child are slow and fatiguing to an adult. There is no quick way out.

Even in the midst of a temper tantrum it is far better to take the child off to some quiet place with new objects of interest, not in isolation but with an adult close by — an adult who is available and understanding. Security is what he lacks when he loses control of himself. Punishment only increases his feeling of insecurity.

Preventing temper spells is far better for all concerned than having to cure them. Hunger and fatigue make such outbursts more likely to happen — so be sure your child is getting enough sleep and having his meals on time. He has a strong need for play materials suited to his development and for the companionship of other children his own age just as much as he needs the right kind of food. Repeating "bad" and "naughty" to your child is to be avoided.

HE NEEDS HIS ENERGY

The early temper spells die appear for a period of time, but usually reappear in bold fashion sometime during the four and five-year-old period. The temper tantrums of children, four, five and six years of age can be most disturbing, causing the parent to wonder if his methods have been faulty or if he has a "problem child" on his hands. The new outbursts, following a period of more controlled behaviour, are indications of new growth and are not a "back track." In this period parents tend to become exasperated and a more rigid control usually goes into force. "Surely by four and a half he should be able to put away his toys," a mother says. In fact, his new laziness and resistance and boldness stem from a hundred new interests and abilities that he has just grown into. From his point of view there isn't time to pick up his toys. There isn't energy enough to dress himself. He needs his energy to explore these new interests.

Affectionate assistance for him at this age may prevent displays of temper and a feeling of hatred of his parents. It can help him to become more responsible during his fifth and sixth years.

If this temper spell causes an outburst on your part, it will only increase his opposition. Give him plenty of attention at other times, reading to him, talking to him, and spending more time in his company.

SET A GOOD EXAMPLE

Prevent anger from becoming a serious handicap to your child. As an adult you can't afford to have a "hair trigger" temper exploding every time things go badly. Avoid this type of behaviour in your child by setting a good example. See to it that he does not meet too many frustrations in early life. Be sure that his training and his opportunities are suited to his age level. Anger is [illegible] that you can [illegible] from a child's nature but you can help him to manage it.

Secret Phone Nos.

Despite telephone company attempts to discourage it, more than 12,000 people in Toronto keep their telephone numbers a deep, dark secret, says Robert Marjoribanks in The Financial Post.

Bell Telephone Company hasn't worked out an estimate for the whole country but presumably the total for other cities would be proportionate to population.

Not for the Prairies

Electrical house-heating, promoted strongly in the East, won't find a big market on the Prairies in the near future, predicts the Winnipeg correspondent in The Financial Post.

Winter tests on the Prairies' first electrically-heated house, in St. Boniface, Man., show heating costs will be about double the figure for oil, coal or gas.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Legislature Prorogues After Session Lasting Nine Weeks

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — It took members only one day last week to put the finishing touches on the first session of the 14th Alberta Legislature.

MLAs assembled at the regular time Monday afternoon, plowed headlong into clause-by-clause committee study of 16 bills, approved them with little or no discussion, then gave them third and final reading.

Just before 4 o'clock the lieutenant-governor, J. Percy Page, entered the chamber and gave royal assent to a total of 123 bills. Speaker Peter Dawson left the chamber with the sergeant-at-arms carrying the mace, members of the press gallery hurled eight weeks of torn up notes at the legislators, and it was all over for another year.

Or was it all over? Not quite, because Social Credit members went immediately into a closed caucus meeting, and were back at it again the next morning before packing up their luggage and heading for home.

MANY CAUCUS MEETINGS

The session just passed must have set a record for caucus meetings. The Social Crediters were at it day and night for two months. Much of the time was taken up with explaining procedure and bills to new members. And there were some knock-down, drag-out battles over a number of issues, including the revolutionary industrial tax plan; the rural power and pipeline tax; the diesel fuel tax; and [illegible].

At the final caucus members had a lot to say about public [illegible]. Some members were unhappy about the government's habit of introducing important bills late in the session without any explanation. They felt it left the public — and themselves — little chance to become familiar with the public's business.

INDUSTRIAL TAX BILL LARGEST SINGLE ISSUE

The government's municipal tax proposals added up to the biggest single issue of the session and as a result of it members may have to return to Edmonton in the fall for a special session.

The government had been prepared to pass two bills. One would have allowed the province to assess and tax certain major industries and redistribute the revenue among municipalities.

The other would have allowed rural municipalities (counties and MDs) to levy property taxes on pipe and powerlines. This would have made up for the revenue they stood to lose in the industrial tax shuffle.

But when the proposals went to the House Agriculture committee for a thorough airing, members found the cities and major industries almost unanimously against immediate passage of the bills. They wanted more time to study the implications.

Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke decided to go along with them and brought in an entirely new bill. It simply permits the government to carry out a uniform assessment of industries, pipeline and powerlines.

The new bill makes no provision for taxation. That provision will have to be made later — possibly at a special session in [illegible] if the assessment is completed in time.

Mr. Hooke is determined to go through with the program pretty well as planned, but by slowing down he will give the public more time to study it from all angles. He says the agriculture committee hearings proved the government is on the right track because no one opposed the bills in principle.

HUTTERITE COLONY CONTROL

Other major pieces of legislation included a new bill to control Hutterite colony expansion. The statutory 40-mile spacing between colonies is replaced with discretionary legislation which permits the cabinet to decide where and when new Hutterite colonies can be established.

AMENDMENTS TO HIGHWAY TRAFFIC ACT

Extensive amendments to the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act were designed to weed out accident-prone drivers, make it easier for police to nab hit-and-run drivers, and to require all student drivers to carry "learners' permits."

The VHT Act amendments also make it mandatory for a magistrate to endorse a motorist's driving license for any and every moving offence. Three moving offences is all a driver is allowed before he has to submit to a driver's test.

DENTAL AUXILIARIES FOR RURAL CARE

Another bill paves the way for a unique program of training "dental auxiliaries." The auxiliaries will help staff mobile clinics which will bring preventative dental care to rural Alberta. Health Minister Dr. J. Donovan Ross hopes to get the program started this summer with dental students working under the supervision of graduate dentists.

RECORD BUDGET

Other highlights of the session included a record $[illegible] budget, major changes in the Labor Act and a raise in pay for MLAs and cabinet ministers.

Marwayne F.W.U.A.

MARWAYNE. — The Marwayne F.W.U.A. met at the home of Kay Bacon on March 28th with 24 members and two visitors in attendance. Meeting opened by singing "School Days" and repeating the Farm Women's creed.

Questionnaires from head office were answered and much correspondence was read and discussed.

The Horticulture show is to be held the third Friday in August.

Final plans were made for catering to the George Kvill wedding reception April 9 and for serving lunch at Allen's sale.

Donations of $10 each were made to the polio fund and Red Cross.

It was decided that pairs of members should visit local 'shut-ins' as our Easter project instead of sending baskets as in recent years.

Amelia Young gave an interesting talk on a unique Indian school for grades 5 to 13 at Hobbema.

A silver flower basket was presented to Della Protsch as a farewell gift from the club. She is leaving shortly for the west coast and her departure will leave a very definite gap in our ranks.

Lunch was served by hostesses Kay Bacon, Thelma Saville, Amelia Young and Golline Kvill which brought the evening to a close.

The April meeting will be held on the 25th.

Slow Pick-up

Spring may have arrived on the calendar but in the economy there are still only here-and-there whiffs of a balmier climate for business, says Dalton Robertson in The Financial Post

Protracted cold weather in many parts of the country and a later Easter are producing a late-blooming spring pick-up

And one set of figures takes some of the warmth out of spring 1960. These indicators which traditionally anticipate turns in economic activity are pointing downward.

FOR THE HOME SEWER

The lovely array of spring fabrics in the catalogue and in local stores is an inspiration for the home sewer. To assure satisfactory results you must choose a fabric suited to the pattern you select. Dress designers envision certain materials for each style they design. Unless you have a great deal of experience with fabric and its properties, you would be wise to confine your choice of those listed on the pattern envelope.

PRINTED PATTERNS

Many women conclude patterns are printed simply because they are easier to understand and work with. This is very true but another reason which is most important is the accuracy of the pattern. Numerous patterns can be printed with no variations in size. However, patterns that are cut out of paper are cut in stacks of two hundred or more. The two hundredth and others not so far down in the pile can vary from an eighth to a quarter of an inch from the master pattern.

PATTERN MARGINS

Printed patterns have a narrow margin all the way around the outside of the double cutting line. It is a mistake to cut this away before using the pattern.

When cutting out your garment, cut through the paper and material in one sharp slash. This gives a truer and crisper edge.

If you are cutting something sheer and crisp like chiffon, the margin has a second use. Pin your pattern to the material twice - one row of pins inside the cutting line and another row outside. This way, tissue and fabric are held together securely

USE OF PINKING SHEARS

Do not cut your garments out with pinking shears. If you do this, it is very difficult to determine the seam allowance. If fitting alters seam width, you do not have a uniform seam allowance. Pinking is a seam finish applied after the garment is assembled. Cutting through many thicknesses of material and pattern quickly dulls your pinking shears

Any change in a wart or mole should be reported to your doctor immediately, warns the Canadian Cancer Society It may mean the beginning of cancer.

ARE GHOSTS TOO GOOD?

Dear Editor

Last year about this time the local Checker Ghosts were approached by the Lloydminster softball organization to enter their league. The invitation was accepted and the Ghosts went on to win the league and the playoffs that followed and were awarded the cup which by the way has not yet been received by us. However, we realize Vermilion Ghosts is quite a long name and it takes months to have it engraved on the cup. Or maybe the cup is lost.

During the season an all-star team was picked from the league's five teams and only one of the Ghosts players was chosen and this was a case. Lloyd needed another player to enter the provincial playoffs. Who were the people responsible for picking the team? What about the three or four other players on the Ghosts who were far better at their positions than players chosen?

Then this spring we sent a representative to a meeting held about a month ago. He was elected to the league executive. There was some opposition to having Vermilion in the league but we understood that it was overcome and that we would once again be one of the five teams entered. Then the executive held another meeting to which they forgot or just neglected to invite our representative. At this meeting the subject of Vermilion's entry was again brought up. With nobody present to state our case, our entry was refused and we find ourselves with no league to play in. Why was our representative not informed of the meeting? We think it was because a couple of fellows did not want us in the league and they saw their chance and a way to swing the rest of the executive against us also. Why was our entry refused? Was it because a couple of the local players cannot take it, or was it because of the way one fellow was admitted? Perhaps we didn't make the opposition look silly especially when it was done at Lloyd's home park. A sure way to prevent a recurrence of this was to refuse us entry to the league this year.

But what does a team do when we have advertised a league game for a week and have a couple of hundred fans waiting at the park and at the last minute receive a phone call from the opposition saying that they will not be able to make it? Why couldn't they make it? They went to a tournament. Should they not have looked after their league commitments first? We think so. In another instance the opposition appeared with only six or seven players.

Also we [illegible] to [illegible] game [illegible] Were we [illegible] the [illegible] loss of gate receipts [illegible] [illegible] a team [illegible] We do not think the Ghosts can be blamed for getting [illegible]

However, the league does not matter [illegible] but we do believe we should have been notified of the meeting so we could state our case. We feel the issue was dealt with in a very unfair manner.

The Ghosts are looking forward to the coming tournaments and exhibition games. We are sure of opposition with enough some of the Lloydminster teams. If so we [illegible]

Onus Not on Driver

The Alberta Legislature Thursday threw out a section of the proposed Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act which would have automatically blamed the rear driver for a rear-end collision. Highways Minister Gordon Taylor said he originally introduced the clause in an effort to reduce tail-end collisions.

During discussion of the bill in committee, Roy Ells (SC — Grouard) criticized the section because it would remove discretionary powers from not only the police but even the courts. He said that under the section the rear driver would be judged to be in the wrong irrespective of the circumstances

Mr Ells pointed out that as the section was worded, if a driver were to back his car into another automobile the rear driver would be charged. He moved that the section be struck out

Ernest Watkins (PC Calgary Glenmore) said that objections to the clause overweighed any advantages claimed for it. He said it created "dangerous loopholes that would permit unfair treatment"

Mr. Taylor said members would have to balance the possibility that the clause would reduce rear end collisions with the possibility it might put innocent persons in an unfair position.

On a voice vote of the House the section was deleted from the bill Approval of the bill was held up until other clauses are studied.

Grace is but glory begun, and glory is but grace perfected.

Tips on Touring

A plain 6-inch ruler can save you many dollars in costly brake or clutch repairs if you know how to use it. Now that fair weather is luring us to longer trips, it's a good idea to get that ruler out immediately. And here's what to do according to Shell Oil's automotive experts.

Press down on your brake pedal. With your ruler, measure the distance your brake goes down before it takes effect. It should be at about two inches. If the measurement is less, your brakes are too tight and need adjusting. If it is appreciably more, your brake lining has probably worn a bit, so brakes need adjusting again. If your foot goes right down to the floorboard before you feel results, the chances are your brakes need fluid or relining.

Under any circumstances, it's wise to have the brake fluid in your master cylinder checked every thousand miles and replenished if necessary. Lack of the correct amount of fluid is likely to impair seriously your brake's effectiveness.

The clutch pedal should go down about one-inch on the ruler before it disengages. Less "play" can create a high rate of clutch wear.

You may save yards of money by measuring these inches now.

Youth Groups Work Outlined At Rotary Club

One of the finest programs ever enjoyed by the Vermilion Rotary club was that held Friday in conjunction with Boys' and Girls' Week. Arranged by Gordon Ross, who introduced each of the young guest speakers, said in his opening remarks — "In our community we have quite a number of year-round programs of character-building activities. Today as part of Rotary's plan under Boys' and Girls' Week, our committee is pleased to be able to acquaint our club with the community agencies which serve this purpose. To tell in their own words we have with us seven outstanding leaders in their own spheres of activities. We welcome them and congratulate them for having been chosen to be here today."

Mr. Ross introduced each one as he called on them to speak. The young leaders were as follow:

Margwynne Clendenning, representing the Guides and Brownies. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Clendenning.

Brian Keen, Scouts and Cubs. Brian is a son of Mr and Mrs. Don Keen.

Miss Sharon Isley, Youth activities in the Salvation Army. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Isley.

Miss Vivian Tillett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vic Tillett; Young People's organizations of St. Saviour's Anglican church.

Miss Sylvia Dibben who spoke on behalf of the Youth Work in the Alliance Chapel. Sylvia is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dibben.

Miss Dorothy Tovell daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Tovell, represented the Youth organizations of the United church.

Cpl. Tony Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dixon, told of the work and activities of the Army Cadets.

In thanking the young people on behalf of the Rotary club, Ashley Cooper stated that never before had he heard a panel of seven speakers of such uniform excellence, not only was the material exceptional but the actual presentation of each one was superb. With such young people as these, he said, the future of Canada is in excellent hands.

Vice-president Elmore Stewart was chairman of the meeting. Visiting Rotarians were Cpl. Harry Alme of Vegreville and Marshall Tindall of Lloydminster. Another guest was Fred Purdee of Edmonton.

Derwent Hog Raisers Plan Association

Hog producers at Derwent on Friday night heard the outline of plans which would lead to a strong Hog Producers Association, and eventually to hog marketing board legislation. At the conclusion of the meeting, while it was generally agreed that the conditions surrounding the hog producing industry today left much to be desired, no action was taken to form a branch of the association, but everyone voted in favor of the aims and objectives of the organization as outlined at the meeting.

Mr Frank Podlubny of Derwent was moved to the chair for the evening, and the panel of speakers for the Hog Producers' Association were all members of the first organization formed, namely Lloydminster. These included Mr. Salt, the president, Mr. Davidson, Mr. Claude Rider of Lashburn, and Mr. Weaver.

All of the speakers were enthused over what a strong hog marketing association could accomplish, and they have worked very hard to organize hog producers into an association. It seems the only way to improve the present very low price and other undesirable features of present day hog production.

Mr Ed Nelson, president of the F.U.A. was in attendance and spoke several times during the evening. He was accompanied by Mr Ralph Wilson, F.U.A. director for the district. Mr Ashley Cooper, M.L.A., spoke briefly, and later outlined the present act governing marketing board legislation.

An interesting film was shown illustrating how the lot of the hog producer had been so greatly improved by orderly and controlled production and marketing in Ontario.

The meeting adjourned at exactly 12:00 o'clock midnight.

A large number of members of the newly formed Hog Producers Association at Vermilion were in attendance.

Heart Seizure Claims Life of Islay Farmer

A heart seizure claimed the life of [illegible] George Purves, aged 37 years, while he was engaged in combining his last year's crop on Tuesday evening.

He was found by his wife, out in the field where he had slipped from the seat of the tractor. Apparently his last act had been to bring the tractor and pull-type combine to a stop. He had no bodily injuries.

Mrs. Purves is a nurse on the staff of the Islay hospital. When she had gone to work in mid-afternoon Mr. Purves had been combining. Completing her shift at midnight she had returned home and had been startled by the fact that her husband wasn't in the house. Sensing that something was wrong, she began a search of the field and found the tractor and combine, and the body of her husband. He had slipped off the tractor seat but was still on the tractor.

Dr. A. H. Sweet was summoned, and after examination, declared that death was due to a heart attack.

The deceased is survived by his wife and two little daughters, Anne and Jacqueline, his parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Purves of Islay, and one sister Miss Sheila, of Riviere Qui Barre, Alberta.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday, April 30th at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon at the Islay church. The Rev. A Potter of Kitscoty will officiate. Interment will be in Islay cemetery.

Moyer's Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

School Board Holds Organizational Meet

The local Vermilion school board held the organizational meeting on Monday evening with all members — Don Taylor, Ashley Cooper, Claude Brennan, Gordon Ross and John Webb in attendance.

John Webb, newly elected to the board, and Ashley Cooper, re-elected, signed the oath of office. Don Taylor was unanimously moved to the position of chairman for the ensuing year.

Mr Taylor has now completed 23 consecutive years as a school trustee. For most of that time he has been chairman. Ashley Cooper, who sought to retire as secretary, was prevailed upon to carry on in that capacity. He is also a veteran board member having served on the local board for 16 years, as well as on the school division board for five years.

Attending the meeting also were [illegible] school division superintendent, Jas. R. Robson, divisional secretary-treasurer, and principals A. Husby and W. F. Stewart.

[illegible]

It is still early but it does appear that fewer teachers are planning moves this year, while applications have been received for possible vacancies on the town staff. Resignations have been received to date from Miss Proudfoot and Miss Machan who plan to spend a year in Europe, Mrs. Shalka who is retiring from teaching, and Mr Miller who is returning to University.

GRADE SEVEN TO MOVE

Increased enrollments are creeping into the high school grades with the result that more classrooms will be required for grades 10, 11 and 12 this coming term. Accordingly grade seven will be moved from the new junior and senior high school building back to the west end schools, where extra rooms are available. The move will be required in September.

Many matters pertaining to grounds, equipment, fire protection, discipline and teacher supply were reviewed.

Meetings of the local school board are held on the third Monday of each month at 8:00 p.m.

Talk on Procedure By Vermilion MLA

The Vermilion Board of Trade heard a talk on procedure in the Alberta Legislative chambers, given by the Vermilion M. L. A., Ashley Cooper, at the last meeting. The speaker dealt with procedure, both in assembly with its decorum, and in the free and easy atmosphere of sitting in committee.

Sittings of the Agricultural Committee on the proposed industrial tax legislation and the Hutterite question were [illegible] to be intensely interesting with many well prepared briefs presented by skilled counsel.

The talk was concluded with reference to local constituency matters such as highways 15, 41 and 16, school grants and development at the Vermilion provincial park.

President Angus MacMillan was chairman and several other business matters were discussed during the course of the meeting.

Mr Cooper was thanked for his talk by Mr Tom Watts as well as for his conscientious representation in the Legislature.

Teachers Study Cameron Report

Annual general meeting of the Alberta Teachers Association was attended by Miss M Knapp of the Vermilion high school and Mr. Fred Stewart, principal of the elementary school and Mr. Merlin Moncrieff, principal of the Islay school.

Meetings were held at Calgary during the first two days of the Easter week holiday. Matters of professional interest were brought up. One of the chief items of business was a seeking of ways and means to implement recommendations of the Cameron Commission.

Local Teachers At A.G.A. Convention

Marjorie Knapp, teacher counsellor at Vermilion High school and Janet Filipkowski, Supervisor of Guidance for the School Division, attended the annual convention of the Alberta Guidance Association during Thursday and Friday of the Easter holiday week. Programs were offered for Beginning Counsellors, Experienced Counsellors and teachers of special classes. This group implemented one of the recommendations of the Cameron Commission in that it voted to establish itself as a Specialist Council and is believed to be the first group of teachers to do so. The aim is research on problems in the field of guidance in Alberta.

Some idea of the interest taken in the recent "Telerama" program presented by Renaud & Chany can be gleaned from this photo taken of the crowds which thronged the Elks hall to see the display. Many familiar personages may be seen in the crowd.

Barry Williams, 8 Electrocuted at Home

Barry John Williams, aged 8 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, was electrocuted at his home Sunday night while in the bath tub. The accident occurred about 8:20 o'clock.

It appears that the lighting fixture in the bathroom was out of order and an extension cord had been run into the bathroom from a nearby bedroom. In some way the light had fallen into the bath tub, electrocuting the small boy.

The boy's parents and other members of the family were home at the time. They tried to revive him, and two doctors who were called also were unable to revive the victim.

Barry Williams

Barry, a bright active boy in grade two, is survived by his parents, three sisters, Mrs. June Miller of Peace River, Karen and Brenda at home and an infant brother Brian. Also by his paternal grand-parents Mr and Mrs Barney Klashinsky and his maternal grand-parents Mr and Mrs. [illegible] Point.

Oooh, A Big One!

A jackfish measuring 43 ins. long and weighing in at 21½ pounds was caught in the Battle River south of Vermilion. This does sound like a fish story, but to make it even more so, the successful angler doesn't even want his name mentioned. However the fish was really caught and it was really that big.

Telerama Attracts 2500 M. Knutson Wins Prize

The Telerama first show of its kind ever to be presented in Vermilion, attracted 2500 people during its two-day presentation last Friday and Saturday. The Telerama and appliance show was sponsored by the Renaud & Chany hardware, and brought to the large crowd closed-circuit television. This meant that many people attending saw themselves on television for the first time.

The crowd also saw the very latest development in TV sets by Philco, General Electric and Rogers Majestic. They were treated to displays of attractive laundry equipment by Philco and General Electric, and beautiful stereophonic hi-fi sets displayed by Rogers Majestic.

For the domestic-minded there were Zenith home freezers and refrigerators, General Electric refrigerators and Tappan and G. E. electric ranges.

There was no doubt that the closed circuit TV broadcast with people seeing themselves on TV for the first time was a great attraction and held the interest of those attending throughout.

This part of the program featured Mrs. Sugar and daughters Marilyn and Janice of Wainwright, [illegible] McCauley, Jim Scott of Wainwright and Don Wilkes, Sylvia and Patricia Olenuk, Stan Clark, Randy Sunderland and his Hammond organ. Lynn, a Philco transistor radio; Stephen Jensen, a kitchen spice set; Jim Johnson, G.E. steam iron; Roy Rusted of Minburn, G.E. tea kettle; Stan Manyluk, G.E. can opener.

Miss Mavis McCauley was presented with a Philco transistor radio for drawing the prize winning names.

It was the first time that a local firm had attempted a display on such an ambitious scale, and the huge attendance during the two days indicated that the people really appreciated the opportunity to see the live television on its first appearance in Vermilion, and the many fine appliances.

Those who share Prime Minister Diefenbaker's concern about what the inflationary impact of rising wages and rising costs is doing to Canda's competitive position in world and domestic markets, and how the country's growth may be adversely affected, should note what Mr George K. Ridley, trustee for the estate of the late Duke of Westminster, which has substantial investments in B.C., had to say recently at Vancouver. "I am often asked," says Mr Ridley, "is there any likelihood, for instance, of British motor manufacturers, such as the British Motor Corporation, establishing a plant in British Columbia, and, at the present moment, there are two answers to this question. The first and foremost is that the British motor industry can manufacture their cars in the United Kingdom and distribute them on the North American Continent at the price much below that which would obtain if manufactured on this Continent, for the simple reason that proportionately your wage rates and other costs are so much higher than in the United Kingdom. For instance, when we send members of our staff from the United Kingdom to live in Canada we have to multiply their salaries by 2½ before converting to dollars. This gives you some idea of the wage differentiation.

"Secondly, your lack of population means that there is no basic domestic demand large enough to justify the establishment of a plant. The high cost of living coupled with high wage rates enjoyed here produce costs which may restrict your sales market to countries with similar financial structure unless you are capable of producing and using machines which will increase production in proportion to cost."

Production costs driven sky-high by wage pressures from US-based international unionism, together with low population density, depriving Canada of the benefits of a mass domestic market, are two serious disabilities.

The Bible Today

The translation of the Bible into new languages is always a live subject. Recently the British and Foreign Bible Society reported that a first Bible in Lushai for Assam has been issued. There are also two first New Testaments in Gangte for Burma and Quechua Ayacucho for Peru, the latter in conjunction with the American Bible Society. Two first productions of any part of the Bible in Dusun for Borneo and Rang for India have also been made. Altogether at present, 219 languages are being worked on in the translations department.

The effect of having the Scriptures in a man's own language is illustrated by the comment from an Aymara village in S. America when they received the fully revised translation of the Scriptures in their own tongue. [illegible] of the translators said: "Since the Good News came to us, it is as though Jesus Christ were living in our village."

WHO HAS RATS?

During the week of April 20 an infestation of rats was discovered and destroyed on a farm west of Paradise Valley. The farm operator was totally unaware of his unwelcome guests. The rats had turned an old log building into a guest house and were doing arithmetic so rapidly that other farmsteads were being infested. Deserted buildings, bale piles, junk or any form of rubbish provides rat harborage. The only way to be free of rats is to destroy all refuge and useless buildings. Be prepared for unwelcome guests by keeping warfarin bait out at all times.

VIBRIOSIS

A late winter survey indicated strongly that large numbers of grazing association beef herds and several other herds were infected with vibriosis. There is nothing particularly bad about having vibriosis except that the cows don't have any calves. Although abortions occur they do so so early that few farmers ever see the aborted fetus (calf). The only positive and true test for vibriosis is to submit an aborted fetus to the Alberta Veterinary laboratory, Edmonton. The only cost involved is express. Try to send aborted calves so they will arrive in as fresh a condition as possible. Vibriosis is a self-limiting disease. A few a breeding rest in beef herds, usually over winter, the cows conceive normally and the calf crop comes back almost to normal. Treatment in most cases is impractical. The rapid spread of vibriosis seems to be linked with trading and buying proven sires. If your calf crop is normal, don't take a chance! The only virgin bulls from good pure bred herds.

AUCTION MARKETS

One thing that really stirs up farmers is when they market their heifer calves and have deductions from their cheque for brucellosis vaccination. As angry as I might get for having these deductions from my cheque that is the place I would go to buy feeder stock. Lines your auction market the claim heifer calves if they aren't carrying a brucellosis tag." This is one regulation enforced by the Alberta Department of Agriculture to protect farmers.

PESTICIDE TIME

Careful! It could be you and not the pest that gets the bait! Read the label on each pesticide container every time before using. Follow all instructions and precautions. Store [illegible] chemicals in original [illegible]. Keep pesticides out of the reach of children. Avoid inhaling dusts and spray. Wear [illegible] clothing and masks [illegible] directed to do so. Wash hands, face and clothing in soap and water when directed to do so. Dispose of empty containers safely by burying them.

A party of members of Vermilion Fish and Game Association recently journeyed to Hazeldine to inspect the C.P.R. dam on the Vermilion River at that point. It was found this dam prevents fish from coming up the Vermilion River to spawn. The Association is contacting the C.P.R. and will press for the installation of fish ladders in the dam to enable pike, pickerel and gold eyes to ascend the river.

Wainwright Student Wins Public Speaking Contest

The annual elimination in the United Nations Public Speaking Contest for this zone was held in Irma high school auditorium on April 19th. The winner of the event was Mr. Robert Swanston of Wainwright who spoke on "The International Court of Justice." Competition was keen, as there were eleven participants, each of whom had previously won first place in a local competition. Mr. Swanston will leave next July on a three-week all expense-paid tour to eastern Canada and the United States with a week's visit at the United Nations headquarters in New York. This project is sponsored jointly by the Oddfellow and Rebekah Lodges.

The local Rebekah Lodge wishes to congratulate and express appreciation to Miss Sylvia Wilson who won the competition in Vermilion on March 25 and so ably represented Vermilion High school at Irma. Her topic was "The Achievements of the United Nations in South-East Asia". Sylvia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson of Vermilion, is a grade XI student at Vermilion High. Many interested citizens accompanied Miss Wilson to Irma.

The local Rebekah lodge desires, through the columns of The Standard, to thank the various local organizations for their interest in the venture, with special mention being given to the Rotary Club and the I.O.D.E. for invitations extended to Miss Wilson to speak at their meetings. Thanks is also extended to Miss K. Fulcher and Mrs. K. Stewart for help and encouragement given the students here.

Mannville Girls Auxiliary Wins Missionary Cup

MANNVILLE. — On Tuesday April 19, girls of the Edmonton Anglican Diocese gathered for their annual festival at All Saints parish hall, Edmonton. Following registration, girls attended a service of worship in All Saints church conducted by Rev. A. R. J. Molyneaux and addressed by the Primate of all Canada Archbishop H. H. Clarke. In the Primate's address he asked that special prayers be said for Very Rev. Dean Burch, who will soon be dedicated as our Suffragan Bishop.

Speaking of the early Christian days Archbishop Clarke referred to the Catacombs, and the manner in which the dead were [illegible] in secrecy almost and the Glory of Immortal Life which was quietly evident in these gloomy caves and tunnels. One entire family had been executed for their faith, according to the tombstone. The Primate urged G.A. girls to set a pattern for human life with this thought in mind — "Jesus Christ is risen from the Dead".

Following service lunch was enjoyed with city branches being hostesses. All visitors were welcomed by Janis Price from All Saints. The reply was given by Joan Crispan, Tofield. Greetings were heard from the Diocesan W.A. board by Mrs. W. D. Noeles.

All the marks now were ready for totalling and awards were to be announced at the evening's concert at which parents and friends were present.

Presiding over this year's annual festival was popular Mrs. Jean Shirlaw, graduate of A.W.T.C., and diocesan secretary for G.A. this year elected at the annual Diocesan W.A. meet in February. Warm welcome was extended to all members by Mrs. Shirlaw who spoke of Mrs. J.A.L. Smith's years of service. Welcome was also given to five visitors from Frog Lake Indian Reserve who were accompanied by Rev. R. T. Clennett and who joined in with the girls' activities during fun time.

At the Wednesday night concert Mannville presented all three of their numbers by request, and winners of pennants and cups were announced by Mrs. Shirlaw as follows: Pennants — Dancing Tofield; Singing Hardisty, 2nd St. Mary's Edmonton and Mannville tied; Drama St. Faith's Edmonton, 2 Fort Saskatchewan; Miss G.A. 1960 Miss Bunnie McLean St. Mary's, Edmonton; Individual Bible Reading Elizabeth Suss, St Mary's Edmonton; Handicrafts St Luke's Edmonton.

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

The Vermilion Circle 8 club held the final dance of the season on Friday, April 22nd. This was well attended, with five visiting clubs joining in for a wonderful evening of fun square dancing. Henry Lein was guest caller and did a real job keeping everyone bouncing for the evening. A bit more was added as one of the members was there taking movie pictures of square dancers. If the pictures turn out, everyone will be able to see themselves in action at a later date.

All are sorry to see the square dance season end, but the busy season is here once again and one can't work hard all day and dance at night so all good things must come to an end.

However, there is something to look forward to and that is another season of square dancing in the fall.

The club may hold a few dances in the band shell at the lon lake this summer. That will be decided upon at the annual meeting which will be held in the near future.

A large number of the club journeyed to Vegreville on the 23rd to the Jolly Mixer's round-up dance and all had a very good time dancing to Art Ziegler and Ernie Powers. Again on Monday night quite a number of the members travelled to Elk Point to dance to Johnnie Maxwell's calling. A good time is reported.

Some of the Polar Bears from the club at Cold Lake were here to attend the club dance recently. They stayed in Vermilion over night and travelled to Vegreville, and then back to Cold Lake in the wee hours of the morning.

The Ackerman boys, Bob, David and Richard spent last week-end in Vermilion. They returned home last Sunday, accompanied by Elliott Urquhart who was returning to resume his studies at Red Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Soldan and family from Consort were Easter week-end visitors at the home of their aunt, Miss Anne Smaychuk.

Many people were pleased to renew acquaintances with Clare White, formerly of Clandonald, and now of Edmonton, on Friday and Saturday of last week. Clare is now with Ashdowns and was in town in connection with the display of Philco TV and other appliances at the Telerama sponsored by Renaud & Casey.

Mrs. Wm. B. Mix is at present a patient in the Mayo Clinic at Rochester. She is undergoing surgery on her legs.

Jack Cross judged the Hereford cattle at the recent show and sale held at Stettler.

"Sweet are the memories kept

"God took him home, it was His will
But in our hearts we love him still.
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own."
Always remembered and sadly missed by his loving wife, son, daughters and families.

TULLIBY LAKE

Plans have been started to organize a 4-H girls' sewing club and a ladies' sewing club, which we are given to understand, will actually amount to a sewing course, to operate during the summer months. More details on this will be available later on when final arrangements have been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gilroyed are now living in the 'Doc' Coulte house.

When you see a column of smoke rising up during the summer, contact Ian Forbes as he has been appointed the new fire ranger. Ian is taking over the position that Wesley Hayes vacated when he moved to Brooks.

Mrs. Forbes Parke visited her sister Marjorie (Mrs. Bruce Parke) up at Peace River for a few days.

Mrs. Jim Elliot, Mrs. Tom Belsheim and Mrs. Oscar Eldevik canvassed the district for the Red Cross.

It was nice to see so many take advantage of the free first aid instruction classes that Mrs. O. Eldevik conducted in the Central school every Monday evening during the last two and one-half months. The participants were required to make a journey to Kitscoty on Saturday to write an exam on what they had learned from the course.

During the transition stage from winter to spring Johnny and Neil Forbes were two busy gentlemen smoothing off the roads and ditching the water for run-off where necessary. The road past the Behrens' coulee is impassable as the water ran over the road for sometime, thus blocking traffic from settlements to the north. Dufresne Lake is at flood stage and the overflow coming down past Colin MacArthur's home rushed over the main road serving that area. It is strongly felt that bigger culverts should be installed at these spots to prevent any future occurrences of this kind.

Milo Peavey wishes to express his sincere thanks to all those from this area who have complimented him on his accomplishments in boxing circles.

After motoring down to Calgary to visit his granddaughter for a week and his son at Brooks for two weeks, Mr. John Kay was unable to return to his home as the road is still impassable. He will be staying with the Roy Morris family until the road improves.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

The weather is actually not too discouraging for April, with light showers falling in the district.

Wanted for the Allandale school, now the community centre: Any old snapshots or pictures of people and scenes of the early days. Negatives would be accepted and returned. These pictures will be mounted and hung in the centre for observation, making it more interesting for all concerned. Anyone who has pictures please contact Nora Ronaghan, Islay.

Congratulations to Rosemarie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Nettleton of Landonville on her marriage to Mr. Arthur Axani of Cold Lake on April 21st. Mr. and Mrs. O. Laird of Clandonald were guests. Mrs. Laird sang at the wedding.

Stevenson at Trail, B.C., (Mrs. Stevenson is head supervisor of Retarded Children's School) and son Mr. Douglas McGibney, a graduate of U.B.C. in chemistry, also at Trail, recently went on to Vancouver to visit her nephew Dr. M. McNabb, M.D.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kepke and family from Edmonton were callers at the Scilas Lee home on April 15. They were on their way to Earl's mother's, Mrs. Gertie Swanson at Elk Point. Mrs. Swanson also had on Easter Sunday daughter Myrtle and Howard Robertson and family from Kitscoty.

Gary Anderson from the city was holidaying at Easter with his grandparents the Wm. Armstrong home in town, and on the farm with his uncle Jimmy and Verna Armstrong and family.

Gary's sister Dianne Anderson of Bonnyville, was released from the hospital there on Good Friday after having an emergency appendectomy.

Bent and Ib Hansen, well known in the district, left recently for the north, Waterways and Fort McMurray.

Easter Sunday visitors at Alvin and Evelyn Throndson's home were Alvin's parents Mr. and Mrs. Gus Throndson of Vermilion, Evelyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Sheppard and daughter Patsy of Kitscoty, and Alvin's sister Delsie and Ralph Strome and family.

At the Idelore Nelson home for the holidays was niece Beverly Swanson from the Fort, her parents and brother joined her for the week-end of the 23rd. For Easter Sunday were son Lee, Joan and girls, and daughters Helen and Frank Schmidt and family and Anna and Peter Lacusta and son from Lloydminster.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb McPhee left on Easter Sunday for Camrose to visit the Gordon McPhee family and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baldock.

Mr. and Mrs. James Walsh and family from the city arrived at the Omness home on Good Friday for the Easter holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilson and family joined them for Easter Sunday dinner, later going to the Woody Wilson home for supper.

Sisters Mrs. Mabel Lee and Mrs. Stella Mayers from town were visitors at the home of brother Orley Omness on Easter Monday. Stella took possession of her car where it had been since last August.

Mrs. Lee had been visiting her daughter Isobel and Jim Ronaghan and family in Edmonton and was joined there by Mrs. Mayers from New Serepta. They accompanied the Ronaghan family to Vermilion on the 16th.

Mrs. Mayers will be motoring to New Serepta and staying at the home of her brother Rufus and Ruth Omness until early in May when they will be returning from Kelowna. They are progressing very well with their new home at that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mayhew, the two younger children and Mother O'Fee from Bawlf, were visitors at the McCormick home at Rusylvia Easter Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. Louis Baldock from Camrose were visitors in Vermilion and the district last Sunday.

Rev. MacKay was on the air last Sunday with church service from the United church in Vermilion. It was an inspiration to all we are sure.

Church service at Allandale will be May 1, presumably as last year, 11:45 a.m. Our student minister will be Miss Anne Evans from Toronto.

We appreciate very much the greetings Mrs. Cooper brought back from Calgary from friends of yesteryear.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lee of Vermilion were visitors on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moore of Deer Lake.

Closing thought: "Gossip always travels faster over grapevines that are sour."

Loyalty Campaign Opened At Alliance Chapel

The 'Loyalty Campaign' which started Sunday, April 24th at the Alliance Chapel will continue through Sunday, May 29th. Ben Francisco is campaign manager. The theme for the campaign is "Build Youth in the Church". The project for the campaign will be the making of a church album which will show the history of the Alliance Chapel activities in Vermilion since its inception 25 years ago.

During the morning church service Miss Dorothy Grinde sang "What Shall I Give Thee Master" accompanied on the piano by Miss Margaret McLennan. The sermon "A Divided Heart" was given by the pastor J. M. Schroeder.

Delegates to the Youth Rally at the Canadian Bible College were welcomed back in the evening service. Miss Margaret Sturt spoke briefly on their activities while at the rally in Regina. Special musical items were: A duet by Mr. Albert Mix and Rev. Schroeder "God is Working Out His Purpose" and a solo by Albert Mix "When I Met My Saviour". The sermon topic was "Father into Thy Hands I Commend My Spirit". This was the last in the series on Jesus' words from the cross, which have been presented by the pastor.

Fellowship Service In United Church

During the past two weeks visitors have been calling on the homes of the United church people in Vermilion. On completion of this visitation, a fellowship service will be held on Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. The film "Missionary to Walker's Garage" will be shown. Following the service, there will be a short fellowship with lunch. All members, adherents and visitors are invited to this special service on Sunday, May 1st at 7:30 p.m.

Dale and Raymond Hermann have erected in their yard what the boys call a "bucking barrel". This consists of a wooden barrel with an apparatus that when a certain attachment is pulled it behaves like a real bucking horse. Dale has been getting in practice sessions on the barrel in preparation for his entries in various stampedes this summer!

CHILD SAFETY DAY MAY 1st

HOW DID SHE GET IT ?

This little girl won't be hurt by her father's razor for the blade has been removed and she is just posing for the camera. Hundreds of Alberta children, though, are injured every year when they play with razors carelessly left within their reach. Motor vehicles, machinery, poisons, falls, burns, matches, scalds and firearms bring suffering to many more. In 1958, 99 Alberta children under 15 died in such accidents. Another 25 drowned and 38 died in other accidents, including suffocation. This was a total of 137 deaths. Most of them, authorities say, could have been prevented. The 1 - 4 age group recorded the most deaths. Child Safety Day on May 1st, sponsored by the Alberta and Edmonton Safety Councils and the Alberta Department of Public Health, is designed to reiterate the need for parents to teach their children safety, demand obedience, and follow safety rules themselves.

Aircraft Makes Emergency Landing Vermilion Airfield

Used many times in the past by aircraft in distress, the Vermilion airfield last week again proved a haven of refuge for a flier in trouble. Pilot M. Rutty of the Rutty Trans Aircraft Co. of Calgary, on a flight from Edmonton to Lloydminster found his plane losing power over Birch Lake south of Innisfree. Fortunately he had plenty of altitude and managed to make a forced landing on the Vermilion airfield which has two long runways. Examination showed an exhaust valve had stuck and as a result a cylinder head gasket had blown. Repairs were effected during the week by mechanic J. H. Wilson.

United Church W.A. At Dewberry Hold April Meeting

The April meeting of the Dewberry United church W. A. was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Craige with seven members present and one visitor, Grandma Craige. An Easter song was sung, followed by reading from the Bible by Mrs. Craige and from the Upper Room by Mrs. G. Dunn.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted, and the Sunshine report was given. A motion was made by Mrs. W. Boyce to have a silver collection at the Easter tea and was seconded by Mrs. A. Farmer. Committees were formed for the tea. A motion was made by Mrs. Milo Hodgson to order flowers for the church for Easter. The C. G. I. T. girls house-cleaned the church for Easter and Mrs. Jack Porter volunteered to do the curtains.

The benediction brought the meeting to a close and then lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Boyce.

The large congregation which attended church on Good Friday evening and Easter Sunday afternoon were given the opportunity of hearing two beautiful and inspiring services. At the evening service six new members were received into the communion of the church.

Special music was rendered by the choir and on Easter Sunday, solos by Mrs. Milo Hodgson and Mr. Marlon Green on the flute were much enjoyed.

HOW ABOUT THAT SUB?

Vermilion Area To Participate In Civil Defence Exercises

The Town of Vermilion along with the Municipal District of Vermilion River have decided to take part in the forthcoming Civil Defence exercise, and all who have taken instruction in Civil Defence are invited to participate in the exercise on Tuesday, May 3rd by contacting the director.

The purpose of Exercise TOCSIN 1960 is to practise those emergency measures necessary for national survival and the continuity of government at all levels. Specifically, the exercise aims will be to test those measures for which there is a current capability and also to direct attention to gaps in planning that need to be met.

SPECIFIC AIMS

The specific aims are:

a. To exercise the National Attack Warning System down to municipal level;

b. To practise the manning procedures of emergency government facilities at the federal, provincial and municipal levels;

c. To test elements of the emergency communications system;

d. To examine some problems of post-attack government at the federal, provincial and municipal levels;

e. To exercise federal, provincial and municipal governments and operating staffs in survival procedures.

ASSUMPTIONS

The exercise will be based upon the following assumptions:

a. There will be no strategic warning of attack:

b. A maximum tactical warning of 3 hours will be allowed between time of national warning and bomb strikes;

c. There will be no physical movement of Civil Defence forces.

SCOPE

The exercise will involve, on a national scale, the federal, provincial and municipal governments and the Canadian Army, but particularly those elements which have a direct responsibility for survival measures, governmental and public. In Alberta, the conduct of the exercise will emphasize the following:

a. The issue of attack warnings down to municipal levels;

b. The manning of provincial, zone and municipal headquarters;

c. The mobilization of key government and Civil Defence personnel;

d. The establishment of emergency communications;

e. Survival procedures carried out in accordance with the exercise situation as it develops.

Town of Vermilion and M.D. No. 71 Participation

a. Members of Town of Vermilion and M.D. No. 71 will participate throughout the entire exercise.

b. All municipalities, with or without Civil Defence organizations, are requested to participate to the extent of manning their headquarters with key municipal government and Civil Defence personnel on receipt of the "Test Civil Defence Alert" Warning from the Alberta Government Telephones.

c. Municipalities with a Civil Defence organization and staff who find it convenient to do so, are requested to continue to participate throughout the day.

Miss Edna Martin Hostess At Shower

Miss Edna Martin was hostess recently at a shower at her home in honor of Miss Sheilah Toner, whose marriage to Mr. Wayne Ireland took place on April 23.

Contests and games were enjoyed, following which, little Miss Cindy Trouscher was called upon to present Sheilah with a wagon-load of gifts. The wagon was suitably decorated to represent a Wainoco truck and was filled to overflowing with many lovely and useful gifts, for which Sheilah very graciously thanked those present.

Lunch and a social hour followed.

Prog.-Cons. Annual Meeting At Viking

The Battle River-Camrose Progressive Conservative Association held the annual meeting in Viking at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, April 20th.

Mr Clifford Smallwood of Irma, M.P. for this constituency, gave an informal report on happenings at Ottawa and answered questions from the meeting. Subjects discussed included the "snowed-under" payment, deficiency payments and the acreage payments on wheat. The meeting gave Mr Smallwood a hearty vote of thanks and commended him for his work in Ottawa.

The provincial organizer for the Conservative party in Alberta, Doug Morgan of Calgary, spoke briefly on proper constituency organization and financing an election campaign.

Officers elected for the forthcoming year were: President — Ernie Moore, Chauvin; Vice-Pres. — Don Wilson, Vermilion; Sec.-Treas. — Dr. Sweet, Islay; Directors — Mr Dowling, Ohaton, Bill Dunbar, Irma, Dr King, Vermilion, with others to be added by the executive.

Heckbert and Mr and Mrs. Thos. Watts. Some one hundred people sat down to a very tasty meal, served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the United church, after which there was a short program of toasts under the chairmanship of Mr Max Borowski. Some of those taking part were Dr F. G. Miller who, as usual, entertained with a very subtle toast, S. C. Heckbert with his customary style and Dan McAllister, Edmonton, who carried through in a humorous vein. The evening finished with a very enjoyable dance held in the school auditorium.

Lucky winners at the Foresters Bingo last Saturday evening were: Joe Payne, a set of melmac dishes; Mrs. Beatty, Reflex camera and flash outfit; Paul Fagnan, set of cutlery; Mrs. D. Findlay of Dewberry, an electric toaster; Mrs. Koppter, Dewberry, a tri-light lamp; Mrs. Sid Burdett, luggage; Mrs. John Kochan, blanket; Jim Ross, kitchen step stool; Eric Ludwig, a smoker stand; Alice Moore, a carving set; Albert Hildreth, electric frying pan; Mrs. Geo Barlow, desk set.

The Foresters convey their sincere thanks to the public for their support, to Leeds Dept. Film Depicting Life Saving At Couple's Club

A life saving film will be shown at United Church Couples' club on Friday, at 8:30 p.m. All members of the club are urged to attend this very timely film on the saving of life through mouth to mouth breathing. This is a most recent color film and one which every person, young and old, should see. With the summer months ahead, the lessons taught in this motion picture may prove most beneficial. In addition, a short film on the Gold Rush days in Alberta will also be shown, through the courtesy of the National Film Board.

Mannville Royal Purple Hosts District Meeting

MANNVILLE — The Mannville Lodge No. 205, Order of the Royal Purple, was the hostess lodge to District No. 8 meeting which was held in the Mannville school auditorium on April 21st. Delegates to the number of 155 came from the lodges at Lloydminster, Vermilion, Vegreville, Marwayne, Two Hills, Myrnam, Edmonton and Leduc.

The meeting was opened by the Mannville Lodge with H.R.L. Caroline Donnenworth presiding. Folowing the opening D.D.S.H.R. Lady McCullough of Edmonton conducted the proceedings. The day will go down in the annals of O.O.R.P. history as a very successful and worthwhile conference.

Reports from various lodges showed a tremendous amount of time, thought and volunteer labor had been given to accomplish so much work.

At the close of the conference a banquet was served in the Orange hall and catered to by the Catholic Ladies Altar Society. The ladies were entertained by two Mannville artists. Miss Lorraine Younge gave a delightful rendition of "Moto Perpetuo" as her violin solo with "Siboney" as her encore. Miss Betty Proudfoot chose as her vocal solo the lovely semi-sacred favorite "Bless This House" and "Garden of Tomorrow" as her encore. Both artists were accompanied by Mrs. George Younge at the piano.

Girls Plan Early Morning Service

Easter Sunday the Teen-Age girls of the United Church held an early morning service at the Vermilion Park lake. This venture proved such a success that the girls have requested another service — but they have asked that it be held to see the sun rise. The sun will rise at 4.30 a.m. this Sunday. Messages will be taken by Miss Dorothy Tovell and Rev. MacKay. Favorite musical selections chosen by girls of the group will form the background.

Many thanks are due to Mayor Hill and the Park committee for their kind co-operation in so willingly preparing the Wolf Point camp site for the first service on Easter Sunday.

In order to see the sun rise everyone should be at the lake before 4.30 a.m. In the event of rainy weather the service will be cancelled until the sun rises a little later.

Golden Age Club Members Celebrate Birthdays

The April social of the Golden Age Friendship club, held in the Legion hall on Wednesday evening, April 20th, was a great success with 60 members in attendance. There were 14 tables of whist and the winners of the very lovely prizes were: Ladies: Mrs. Sibyl Rosback, Mrs. W. Walker and Mrs. M. A. Baldwin. Gents: Mr. P. A. Cross, Miss Alice Keith and Mr. Otto Repp.

Prizes for this social were purchased from the club's funds and a big "thank you" is extended to Mr. and Mrs. W. Waldenberger on their capable selection.

There were 4 members around the birthday cake with a total of 297 years. Heartiest congratulations to Mr. Joe Kilian who is celebrating his 87th birthday this month. Joe was asked if he was enjoying himself and his answer was "that's what I come here for." His answer is typical of the feelings of all Golden Age members.

Following whist, the girls of the kitchen committee took over and in their usual capable manner served a lovely lunch. We thank these ladies and also the ones who volunteered to dry dishes.

After lunch, president Mr. W. Waldenberger made a few remarks, speaking of our next social to be held in the Legion hall on May 18 at 8:00 p.m. sharp. This is the last social before vacation time, so it is to be hoped that as many members as possible will attend with a cordial invitation to any newcomers in the district. Everyone over 50 years of age is welcome, you will be assured of a good time. There is no entrance fee, no forms to fill in, just sign the register and that's all.

To all members on the sick list best wishes for a speedy recovery. It is hoped that all will be back again in May.

The evening came to a close with Mrs. Rosback at the piano leading the theme song, followed by "The Queen."

STUDENT SHELTERS

Little school houses keep children out of the weather while they wait for the school bus, reports The Financial Post. The shelters, made of corrugated aluminum and with two benches along the interior walls, protect 10 to 15 school children.

Most people are on the world, not in it — having no conscious sympathy or relationship to anything about them.

CHATSWORTH CHATTER

Spring has definitely arrived, although winds are still cold and weather rather changeable, as is to be expected at this season of the year. The meadowlarks and robins are back, while blackbirds, crows, gophers and ducks have been in evidence for quite some time.

Fields have dried up rapidly and some folks are trying to finish up last year's harvesting. Others more fortunate are already at this year's work.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Farkash have moved from the Cummings' farm to their new location south of town. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Wasylik are now occupying the Cummings' place.

A large crowd was on hand at the auction sale at Chas. Stewart's on April 8.

On April 12 a talk by Mr. Don Keen, of town, was sponsored by the F.U.A. local at the school. There was a fairly good attendance and the talk much enjoyed. Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

The March meeting of Chatsworth Country club was held at the home of a new member, Mrs. Dahoy, on the 16th. There were nine members present and much business was accomplished. The regular multiple sclerosis letter was read, a donation of $5 was voted for the Red Cross, the Sick committee of Mrs. Arthur Tovell and E. Henningsen reported flowers and cards sent to a sick member. The new committee is Mrs. Farkash and E. Henningsen. Arrangements were made for the home baking sale in the Legion hall on March 26. At the close of the meeting a lunch was served by the hostess and lunch committee.

Mr. Steve Jacula has been a patient in the General hospital in Edmonton where he underwent surgery on his leg. He has now returned home and is able to get around pretty well without crutches.

Sincerest congratulations to Dean Jacula on winning third highest standing in the provincial finals of the A.C.T. "Search for Talent" show. Dean was the recipient of a number of very nice prizes.

Mr. Paul Dahoy is at present a patient in the General hospital, Edmonton. Friends wish him a complete recovery.

The April meeting of Chatsworth Country club was held at Mrs. Steve Jacula's home as Mrs. H. Good was unable to have it there as scheduled. Seven members were present and one visitor, Mrs. Phillips, who became a member at this meeting. The Sick committee reported cards sent to the husbands of two members who were ill in Edmonton hospital and flowers to a member in the local hospital. The report of the success of the tea and sale of home baking in Vermilion March 26th was heartening. The thanks of the president was extended to all who who had helped with donations for tea, sale assistance at the sale and with cash. A donation of $5 was made to each of the following: Crippled Children's fund, Cancer fund, and to School for Mentally Retarded.

The nickel draw was won by Sophie Jacula. The new Sick committee is Mrs. Farkash and Mrs. Arthur Tovell. May meeting is to be held at the home of Evelyn Henningsen on the 19th. Lunch committee: Mrs. Alice Davis, Mrs. Clayton Davis, Mrs. East and Mrs. Dahoy or Mrs. Steve Jacula.

The "Chatter" writer spent a week in hospital recently with an attack of quinsy, but is now back in circulation. Daughter June and family took over on the home front arriving on Tuesday evening 12th, by car. Little Bobby Honey was holidaying here previously.

The Chatsworth Country club takes this opportunity to thank all those friends who helped to make the tea and sale of home cooking such a success.

Former Paradise Valley Residents Feature in Bowling and Hockey

During the past week we have had two clippings handed us referring to former residents of Paradise Valley. One was Pop Taylor, who at 90 years, is a very keen bowler. He now lives at Vancouver and at one time farmed in the Moyerton district. The following is taken from a Vancouver newspaper: "Alma Recreation has a "Mr. Chips" of five-pin bowling. He is 90-year-old "Pop" Taylor, oldest competitor in the lower mainland. "Pop" hasn't missed a bowling night in three years and is not about to. Every Wednesday he's on the firing line with "Indians" of the Alma Neighbours Bowling League." Teammates include Margaret and Art Cook, Louise Cranston and Mabel Nicholson, "none of them babies", says Taylor. Pop is a relative newcomer to the game. He dropped in at the alleys one night about six years ago to watch son Clarence perform. The next league night he decided to give it a try, was quickly conscripted into the team, and has been a regular ever since. Pop sports an average of 110 and is tickled with his triple of 446 scored [illegible].

IS COMMUNISM A DEAD ISSUE?

On a trip through the USA my wife and I tried to get Americans talking politics with us so we could find out what the average man down there is thinking.

What startled us was this: virtually every American we talked with is worried about the inroads communists have made during the past 5 or 6 years. They seem to have wormed their way into positions of importance in scores of organizations. Wherever there is a trouble spot, they are there to aggravate it and to frustrate a solution.

"They are smart," one old fellow told us. "You see, when McCarthyism became sort of bad medicine, the people got the idea that anybody who pointed out communist influence was being a witch hunter, or something. So they started to keep mum. That's given the commies a real chance to burrow right in. But they've overplayed their hands a bit and now the people are catching on. I'd say that most Americans right now have a sharp eye for spotting the old communist line that tries to belittle all the things that have built up the States."

Americans are growing more and more sensitive about criticism. When a restaurant owner asked me how I liked the States I told him I was fond of it but disappointed that so few people knew where Winnipeg is or anything much about Canada. He jumped right back at me. "If we know too much about a country people would think we've got designs on it. If we don't know about it they say we're ignorant. We've given away great fortunes every year to try to help them. Lord, we don't want to do anything but build up our own country. We've accepted people in here from all over the world, made it easy for them to come here and made them welcome. We have no designs on other countries. But the Russians have said openly they have designs on us ... they don't make any bones about it. We've made something out of this country and we want to keep it that way ... if the rest of the world would just leave us alone. It seems to be a world-wide pastime ... picking at us."

Back home we've been thinking over these and other comments from Americans and wondering too why we hear so little about communism in Canada these days. Is it really such a dead issue? Or are we too afraid of being called witch hunters?

FOOT FASHION

The familiar old adage, "if the shoe fits, wear it" might be more appropriately worded "if the shoe doesn't fit, by all means don't wear it." Misfit shoes are the major reason for women having foot trouble. Even the fully developed foot of an adult can easily be harmed by constant abuse.

HOW SHOULD A SHOE FIT?

If shoes are correctly fitted, you should be able to wiggle your big toe while standing. Behind the base of the big toe, the shoe should be snug enough to firmly grip your instep. Heel should fit snugly without rubbing or pinching.

There is only one hinge in the foot. It is the natural bend of the toes, right across the ball of the foot, so shoes should be flexible at this point. Be certain the ball of the foot falls on the widest part of the shoe. This is the most important point of fit and must be accurate. The shoe should be at least one half inch longer than your foot, and should neither cut in or gap as you walk.

WHAT SIZE

You may not wear the same size in all shoes, because the form over which the shoe is made varies by style and make.

The difference in a half size is only one sixth of an inch. The width increases one quarter of an inch in circumference with each change in width. Thus a 7 D shoe would be three quarters of a inch larger around than a [illegible].

The size you've always worn may be the wrong size now, as your feet may expand with the start [illegible] standing or w[illegible] [illegible] If you find you [illegible] [illegible] shoes [illegible] narrower width.

[illegible] generally argue that the other [illegible] have both feet measured every time you buy shoes.

To the natural philosopher there is no natural object unimportant or trifling. From the least of Nature's works he may learn the [illegible] lessons.

YOUR BASIC SHOE WARDROBE

Your [illegible] should include an ample number of shoes for frequent changeoffs, and appropriate types of shoes for each of your activities. Shoes need rest and airing, and you should avoid wearing the same pair of shoes until they are worn out.

For home work your feet need the support of well fitting shoes of comfortable heel height. Never make the mistake of wearing backless [illegible] or old run-over shoes. They don't give the feet proper support and many serious [illegible] accidents are caused by wearing them.

Reports of various locals were given. A pot luck dinner was enjoyed. In the afternoon [illegible] Braithwaite gave a talk and showed pictures on her trip to attend the A. C. W. W. conference in Scotland. Mrs. Donald Mathison gave a talk on some of the recommendations of the Cameron report. In handicrafts Stapledone came 1st, Marwayne 2nd, Riverton 3rd. LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Thirty-one Senior Citizens Lodges Under Construction

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Thirty-one homes for the aged are a-building throughout the province and, according to provincial welfare department officials, they will be opening in the spring and early summer.

Eventually, 52 homes will be built to provide accommodation for more than 4,000 elderly Albertans. The project is last year's phase of the government's "five-yaer development program," and when it's finished the cost will be around $16,000,000.

Alberta is providing living accommodation for its senior citizens on a scale which is believed to be unequalled anywhere in North America. Welfare Minister R. D. Jorgenson is understandably proud of the project, has been claiming it will kill once and for all the stigma of the poorhouse.

This depends to a certain extent on how the homes are run. Regardless of how attractive and comfortable they are institutions are still institutions. The answer will come when elderly citizens begin moving into the homes.

The government however certainly seems to be on the right track. The provision of fifty small homes, each with accommodation for fifty residents, scattered throughout the province will be far more attractive than one or two huge institutions centrally located. The big advantage so far as the elderly citizen is concerned is that he will be able to live in the area he calls home.

Recently the provincial cabinet passed orders-in-council constituting local foundations which will be charged with responsibility of operating the homes. The foundations were set up in the 32 areas in which homes are being built. Athabasca, Viking, Bonnyville, Camrose, Cardston, Medicine Hat, Drumheller, Edson, High River, Bow Island, Spirit River, Lethbridge, High Prairie, Three Hills, Lacombe, Stony Plain, Mayerthorpe, Olds, Brooks, Berwyn, Innisfail, Rocky Mountain House, Pincher Creek, Ponoka, Stettler, St. Paul, Vermilion, Raymond, Westlock, Wetaskiwin and Fort Macleod.

Agreements which will lead to the establishment of foundations are being negotiated with 17 other rural areas and the government hopes to get the municipalities concerned signed up soon.

Welfare department officials anticipate little trouble finding residents for the new homes. J. K. G. Austin, director of homes for the aged, points out that Alberta has some 85,000 senior citizens. Of these around 30,000 are 70 years of age or older.

Remember talk in February about the Social Credit "watchdog" committees which were to familiarize themselves with the legislation and be prepared to keep debates lively during the recent session of the Legislature? Some observers are wondering what the committees actually accomplished. Social Credit M.L.A.s admit privately the committees didn't accomplish too much.

To be fair it should be pointed out that the committees didn't have much time to study bills. For one thing, the Socreds attended caucus meetings day and night. For another several important bills were introduced during the late stages of the session, giving members little opportunity to study and analyze them.

True, the government received more criticism from its own supporters than it did from the four Opposition members. But in many cases it was individual effort and quite spontaneous.

Looking back on the session as a whole, it added up to a lot of hard, plodding work.

COMMITTEE TO ADMINISTER COLONY LAWS

Cabinet last week set up the three-man board which will administer the province's new Hutterite colony laws. E. F. Breach, chairman of the Alberta assessment appeal board, heads the new board. The board will hold hearings every time the Hutterites seek permission to establish a new colony. It will make recommendations to the cabinet, which will have the final say on colony expansion. Mr. Breach says he expects the first applications to come in shortly from the Hutterites.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Like picnics? Here are some of the latest gadgets that will make your next outing easier for you and more fun for your family.

Get off the grass with the smallest camp-stool ever made. The whole thing folds flat and compact enough to fit into your purse, coat pocket or car's glove compartment. With a steel frame and canvas seat, it's plenty sturdy.

How about a heavy aluminum griddle, 16 inches across? It holds steaks or fish to feed six hungry picnickers. It has a [illegible] that guarantees cool fingers and folds over for easy packing.

Like coffee en route? Then pick up an 8-cup coffee pot that has plugs for both car lighter socket and house current. It comes in a kit with cups, saucers, spoons, carrying case. The pot has a bracket so you can hang it on the car window. If you picnic far from the car, you might like a 7-cup coffee maker that burns propane. The fuel tank fits right under the handle. It makes coffee in about 10 minutes.

Your children will probably hate you for this one! A leakproof, 2½-gallon water tank that comes equipped with a shallow basin, brush, soap, and towels.

And, finally, if you camp out for any length of time, you may want a two-burner stove that carries six pounds of propane fuel in a refillable tank. It holds enough fuel for over a week of cooking, and the tanks can be filled again for about $1 at any propane station.

At one time "cancer" was a dirty word and many persons were reluctant to say it. Now most people realize that the best way to solve a problem is to face it honestly and intelligently.

Cubs Spread Sunshine To Senior Citizens

A mass "Good Deed" day was held by local Cubs last Wednesday afternoon, April 27, when they distributed 86 May baskets to senior citizens of Vermilion. These baskets contained some toothsome goodies and wild spring flowers to help bring springtime into their homes. The aim of this project is twofold, the first being to show the Cubs respect and appreciation of all our pioneers have done for us, and secondly, to show people at large that the motto "A good deed every day," is still foremost in Cub training. - Standard Staff Photographer

Council Grants Permit for New Store on 50th Avenue

At the regular meeting of the town council on Monday evening a permit was granted to John P. Boreson of Vegreville for the erection of a new store located on 50th avenue. The location is just east of the post office. Size of the structure will be 120 feet long with a 40-foot frontage.

Construction of the store will be cement blocks with a full glass front and glass doors. The business to be carried on will be dry goods and clothing. The building is expected to start at an early date.

TOWN TO RELEASE LOTS

Another interesting development was the release of the last two lots held by the town in block 5 fronting on 50th avenue. Located between the town hall and Civic tire building these lots were being held for town hall or firehall purposes and are situated in the heart of the business section. Due to demand they have now been placed on the open market, subject of course to the building by-laws of the town.

C. Isley was granted a permit to build a new residence on Lot 8, Blk. 4, Plan 5706AY. This is in the hospital subdivision and marks the fourth home building permit this spring.

KART KRAZE KATCHES KIDS

The first rumblings of the current kart kraze that is sweeping the nation as a whole, were heard here last Sunday when a demonstration was given by the two young speedsters shown above. Racing took place on the tarmac of North Star service. Larry Pollard on the left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl (Road-eo Champ) Pollard, and Bud Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Dunn, appeared to be real Indianapolis material, cornering well, controlling the karts during spins and general handling of the vehicles. —Standard Staff Photographer

Farm Accidents One in Every Four Families

About one in every four farm families in Canada is involved in a farm accident, and one in every fifty is fatal. This was indicated in a cross-country farm accident survey —taken for a year's period - which has just been completed. Results are announced by J. S. Whyte, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee of The Canadian Chamber of Commerce and J. E. McArthur, President of the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs.

In the period studied, according to the survey.

Over 30 per cent of all farm accidents involved under-20 age groups.

July is the most "dangerous" month of the year, and accounted for 13 per cent of accidents. August was second, May third.

One out of every four accidents involved farm machinery.

A female was involved in one out of every five farm mishaps.

Mr Whyte said that a report containing a composite picture of the Canadian farm accident situation would become available in printed form in about six weeks' time. "These statistics", he said, "should make possible more effective farm accident prevention programs."

The survey was carried out by the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs, the Provincial Departments of Agriculture, The Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Canada Department of Agriculture, and The Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Mr Whyte paid special tribute to members of the 4-H Clubs for the "important part they played in reporting accidents to people living on farms for the purposes of this survey."

Province-by-province statistics are being mailed to the provinces for their study.

Are Credit Cards Making Cash Obsolete?

Yes — according to an article in the current Maclean's. The author, Alan Phillips, reports that three big credit-card companies are already established in 96 countries to enable visitors to buy "almost anything they want, without cent or centime."

Now a fourth company has launched a campaign aimed at making credit-card holders out of "the nation's real money-managers, the housewives whose day-to-day buying forms the bulk of all personal spending."

Phillips quotes an executive of one credit-card company as predicting: "The day is coming when every housewife will carry a credit card. Some day money will be obsolete."

Meanwhile, says Phillips, North Americans already hold 15 million credit cards, and more and more stores are being obliged to allow credit. "This extra cost will be passed on to every customer, including cash buyers."

But even the resulting higher prices seem unlikely to inhibit the trend, he says. People boost business by spending money more freely when they don't have to pay cash. Besides, says the Institute for Motivational Research, "credit cards are symbol of status."

However, there has been one counter-trend already, in the U. S. Three firms there have formed clubs that provide their members with a ten percent discount whenever they pay cash in affiliated hotels and restaurants.

Mother's Day — Success and Defeat

Miss Anna Jarvis was the prime mover in establishing Mother's Day. During the period of mourning following her mother's death in 1905 she conceived the idea of establishing a Mother's Day for everybody, reports the May issue of Reader's Digest.

From her home in Philadelphia she conducted one of the strangest and most effective letter-writing campaigns in history. She wrote to anyone with any influence and received such tremendous response that she had to devote her time wholly to her crusade. Her own house was too small to serve as an office so she bought the house next door for additional space. She also traveled to visit other cities and speak to various organizations about her plan. She wrote and published booklets about her idea and distributed them free of charge. The fact that her inheritance was dwindling away never bothered her.

U.S. President Woodrow Wilson signed the proclamation which urged that the second Sunday in May, the anniversary of her mother's death, be observed as Mother's Day. But this was not enough for Anna. She wanted the Day to be international and she was successful.

During her lifetime Canada and 42 other countries adopted Mother's Day.

But Anna's triumphs were mixed with frustrations. Her Day was being commercialized by individuals and organizations who had found a way to make money out of it. Soon she was writing in despair to hundreds of newspapers, complaining that she wanted Mother's Day to be a day of sentiment, not one of profit. She despised manufacturers of greeting cards, candy and others who were exploiting her Day. She regarded florists as her principal enemies, they were profiting from her mother's favorite flower, the white carnation.

By now the money Anna had inherited was gone. Suddenly she locked herself up with her sister in their home and refused to see anybody. She died in 1948, terribly bitter that she had ever started Mother's Day.

Mother's Day was instituted to [illegible] on May 8, 1914, according to the World Book Encyclopedia. On that day President Woodrow Wilson signed a joint resolution of congress recommending that Congress and the executive branch of government observe the special day.

New Look Given To Islay-Dewberry Highway

Changes in the topography of the Vermilion River valley between Dewberry and Islay have been considerable. Last fall road crews did away with the twisting, turning hill road and threw up a grade straight across the valley and over a new bridge. In this process the river bed was also changed, giving the view seen in the above picture early this spring.

Recently a few of the Riverton ladies attended a local convention of the FWUA held in Marwayne.

A very nice shower was held in the hall recently in honor of Miss Jean Hyatt.

The FUA meeting was held in the hall with the main topic "Should the farmer be licensed?"

The Riverton Ladies' club held their [illegible] and tea with a very nice crowd attending.

Penny Ryan was admitted to Islay hospital.

Bruce Hansen was home for Easter, also Patsy Hyatt, who was a visitor of Jane Hyatt's.

Lorraine and Oscar Isert were visitors at Mr and Mrs. Sam Hyatt's at the week-end.

Mr and Mrs Jack Hansen returned home after being away all winter.

SOAPS AND DETERGENTS

SOAPS:

Pure soap reacts in hard water with the minerals and forms a film or curd which deposits in the fabric and leaves it gray and dingy. There are several types of soaps.

1. LIGHT-DUTY, UNBUILT SOAP. This is all soap with nothing added. It is pure and mild and consequently recommended for hand washing fine fabrics of sheer or delicate construction, and for those with non-fast colors. Example Lux and Ivory.

2. HEAVY-DUTY, ALL PURPOSE BUILT SOAP. This is pure mild soap with special alkaline ingredients added to increase cleaning power. It also generally has water softening materials added. Examples: Rinso and Super Suds.

DETERGENTS OR SYNDETS:

These do not form a scum in hard water so are your best choice if your water is hard. You use less and get a cleaner wash.

1. LIGHT-DUTY MILD (SUDSING) SYNDET. Use only for hand-washing sheer fabrics and those with non - fast colors. It doesn't have enough cleaning power for machine washing. Examples: Dreft and Vel.

2. HEAVY-DUTY, ALL-PURPOSE (SUDSING) SYNDET. It contains builders for increased cleaning power, plus a sude-making ingredient for visual measuring of quantity. These detergents are mostly used in Fab, Surf, and Tide.

3. HEAVY-DUTY (LOW SUDSING) SYNDET. This is a special syndet designed specifically for low sudsing. It is used in all types of washers and especially automatic washers where excessive suds reduce effective washing action. Example: All.

WHICH TO USE — SOAP OR DETERGENT?

You are the judge whichever does the better job for you is the right choice.

Washing effectiveness of soap and detergent increases as water temperature rises. Detergents will dissolve more readily than soap in warm water or cool water. But with either hot water (160 degrees) is essential for perfect washing results.

Many soaps and syndets contain a fluorescent dye, which, while making the fabrics appear whiter and the colors brighter, actually doesn't make the laundry any cleaner.

PRE-SEEDING CHORES

The first essential in spring chores is clean seed. It is estimated that last year weeds cost every Alberta farmer $5 an acre. Almost as important as clean seed is seed treatment. Despite what has been written elsewhere mercurial seed treatment is still the cheapest and most effective treatment of cereals and flax. Mercurials not only control smuts, bunt, seed rot and some blights but promote germination. If recently broken land is to be sown or there is any reason to suspect wireworms, the seed must be treated against these pests. Sowing untreated seed on wireworm infested soil simply increases the wireworms. These pests live from seven to fourteen years in the soil, so if they were there last year they will be there this year. Don't confuse wireworms with cutworms. Wireworms are orange, hard-shelled, rather long and narrow worms (larvae) which feed under the ground. Cutworms are soft gray and usually fat worms (by the time you are aware of them) which cut the plants off at the ground level. Good luck for the 1960 crop! If everything is done right, no new pests or diseases attack the crop and it rains enough at the right time, there may be a crop to worry about harvesting next September.

PURE BRED SIRE AREA

The M.D. of Vermilion River is a Pure Bred Sire Area for swine and cattle. A pure bred sire is defined by the act as a sire registered with Canadian National Livestock Records of [illegible] Ottawa. At a recent meeting of the Agricultural Service [illegible] the Pure Bred Sire area was discussed thoroughly. The board strongly recommended a more rigid enforcement of the regulations. Every bull or boar kept for service in M.D. No. 71 must be registered at National Records, Ottawa.

GOT A WILL?

A will is probably one of the most important documents a farmer ever signs. It may be the blueprint of his family's future. The holograph and formal will are both valid in Alberta. When making a will it is wise to seek legal advice because the average person does not have access to all the facts, acts, laws of inheritance, etc., which come into force at the time of death. The most important thing about a will is "Do you have one?" It may not make much difference to you but certainly does to the family left behind.

FARM AUCTIONS

Vermilion River M.D. 71 and Minburn M.D. 72 — Brucellosis restricted areas. The Livestock Diseases Act states that no cattle may be sold at private auction or a community sale of breeding stock in a restricted area except:

1. Cattle blood-tested within 30 days reacting negative to the brucellosis test.

2. Vaccinated cattle 30 months of age or under, providing proof of vaccination is given.

3. Vaccinated cattle over 30 months of age which have been blood-tested within 30 days reacting negative to the brucellosis test.

It is the auctioneer's responsibility to notify a veterinarian of the proposed sale and to sell only vaccinated and blood-tested cattle. The auctioneer shall announce whether or not animals are blood-tested. The contributor is responsible for defraying the charges of blood testing and vaccination. Blood-tested stock always command higher prices so in reality this Livestock Diseases Act works to everyone's advantage.

Renovations Made To United Church In Marwayne

MARWAYNE — An extensive renovation and improvement program has been made to the church belonging to the United Church congregation in Marwayne.

With funds made available by the sale of the manse it was possible to re-line the ceiling and walls. New pews have been bought, the front entrance enlarged, and one coat of stucco has been applied to the outside of the church.

The Memorial Fund for the church was started in February 1958 when Mr Pinse, [illegible] away. Through the years the fund has been built up by donations in memory of loved ones who have passed away, and there has also been an accumulation of interest. In January of 1960 there was a total of $1122.80 in the fund. It had been planned to spend the Memorial money on something of a permanent nature for the church, and so, after discussion with the various groups, it was decided to buy an electric organ, with the piano to be moved for use in the Sunday School room.

There are also colored glass windows installed, four of the six are memorial windows.

The congregation is pleased with the improved appearance of their church, with the new organ and with the windows. Thanks is extended to all whose contributions have made these changes possible.

African Program Is Presented BY United Church Youth

MANNVILLE - The Youth groups of the Mannville United Church depicted African scenes, costumes and customs on Tuesday evening April 26. The Mission Study for the C.G.I.T., Explorers, Hi-C and Mission Band members for the past season has been on the subject of Africa.

The United Church social rooms took on the appearance of an African village with real huts constructed by the Sr. C.G.I.T., a mural expertly painted by the Explorers showing African scenery, a picturesque market stall erected and managed by the Hi-C group who sold typical African products. The young people had dressed in African costumes for the occasion.

The program for the evening was opened by Rev. Frank Andrews with a speech of welcome. Mrs Andrews, director of Christian Education acted as chairman.

The Hi-C was in charge of the devotional service. Malcolm Kufeldt offered the prayers and David Croft read from the 8th chapter of Acts telling of first mention of Africa. The devotional period concluded with a hymn.

In introducing the program selections presented by the various groups, Mrs. Andrews explained that African customs and ideas would be clarified with reasons for their development.

The Mission Band guided in their studies by Heather Andrews, Mrs Flora Schock and Mrs Mary Larcombe, repeated their Purpose and explained that the letters K Y B stand for "Know Your Bible". The singing numbers were accompanied by drums.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Ruth Hubbard, the Explorers presented their toftrpach Ypiend presented their part of the evening's entertainment. Carol Rostron led them in singing a hymn "This is My Father's World", after which there was an African song such as is used by the African women as they prepare an evening meal. The singing group who sang an African hymn. The president, Joan Leitch, led the group in a recitation of their Purpose.

Mrs. Mabel Gamble is leader of the Sr C G I T and also the convener for Christian Education for the W A group. The idea of the African Palaver was originated by Mrs Gamble. Under her direction the Senior C G I T had decorated the hall very effectively. Shirley Metruk, the president of the group spoke to the audience telling them that learning is a life that leads to everything lovely and she led the girls in a repetition of the A.G.I.T. Purpose similar in many respects to the C G I T Purpose. The girls attired as Africans sang a catchy song entitled Yive la A.G.I.T. and it was explained that the African G.I.T. studied the language, songs and customs of our country. Kumbah Yah meaning Come By Here Lord was the title of the concluding song.

Mrs Gamble and Rev and Mrs Andrews thanked everyone who had assisted in the preparation of the evening's program and also those who had supported the groups by their attendance. Rev. Andrews closed the inspiring and enjoyable evening's entertainment with the Benediction. Lunch served by the W.A. featured date and banana breads.

Choristers Present Evening Of Music at Paradise Valley

Lloydminster Choristers presented an evening of music in the Paradise Valley hall on Friday evening April 29 to a very disappointing audience. Why so few turned out to hear such an outstanding program is a mystery. Mr Fred Makin, President of the Choristers, acted as M.C. for the evening. Mrs. E. Batty the conductor, and Miss Eileen Yaxley was accompanist. One of the group was Mr Holtby, a Barr Colonist who is 73 years of age. The following numbers were given: 1 Jerusalem, 2. Summertime, 3 I Got Plenty of Nothing, 4. Fishermen's Night Song, 5 How Are Things in Glocca Morra, 6 Lassie O' Mine, 7 Come to the Fair, 8. Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Some distaff drivers regard travelling alone or with other women as "uncharted of the highway." They are prey to fears and doubts as to their ability to cope with emergencies. This little [illegible] came to light in a recent survey of women motorists conducted by my company, Shell Oil.

Yet, despite this uncertainty on the part of a few the popularity of one-woman or several-women vacation trips by car is growing by leaps and bounds. In the course of my own extensive travels, either alone or with other women, I have learned a number of ways to dispel distaff difficulties.

The first and most important rule for the woman traveller is to have confidence in herself and her own ability to make all necessary arrangements en route. Next, she should be sure that her car is put in perfect condition before she leaves. For example, the carburetor should be adjusted if the trip is to include mountain driving.

Also, the fear of boredom seems to figure in the lone woman's concept of car travel. Good boredom-relievers for the woman who wants to "have alone and like it," are listening to the radio, observing changes in the landscape or noting different styles of architecture. But never pick up hitch-hikers no matter how harmless they may look.

Avoid driving late at night over lonely stretches of road. Stay on the safe side by stopping for the night about 4 or 5 o'clock. This also will help you avoid fatigue and drowsiness. Always stay at well-recognized and respected lodgings.

Several women travelling together can eliminate financial frustration by having a "car kitty." Each woman puts a certain amount into the "kitty" to defray each day's expenses and one member of the group is selected to be bookkeeper. You'll find identification cards and travellers' cheques highly useful, while

Poor Posture While Driving Leads To Accidents

When you slouch behind the wheel, you may be driving toward a serious highway accident.

Poor posture while driving produces fatigue, and is therefore a highly dangerous practice, according to Dr. D. F. Lawson of Calgary, president of the Alberta Chiropractic Association.

The chiropractic profession in North America is sponsoring a "Correct Posture" week May 1 to 7 to focus public attention on the importance of good posture.

"Keeping your spine in an unnatural position for prolonged periods is contrary to good body mechanics," Dr. Lawson said. "The best position for long drives is to sit far back in the seat, with the spine resting on the back of the seat. In other words sit tall."

He added that correct driving posture not only will result in less fatigue after long hours at the wheel but also will tend for a more alert and better driver.

Many complaints of back pains are the result of poor posture habits while driving declared Dr. Lawson.

your driver's license and ownership permit are "musts" on any trip.

War Amps Provide A Valuable Lost Car Key Service

Did you ever lose your car key? Then you know something about the lost car key service of the War Amps of Canada.

For 14 years the War Amputations Association of Canada has been operating a vast Dominion-wide service of finding lost car keys for car owners. To do this, they sell little car tags to motorists: last year 10,126 sets of lost keys were returned to their owners.

During April more than seven and one-half million car key tags were mailed to Canadian motorists.

All the key tags are manufactured by war amps. Not only does the key tag service keep 25 men gainfully employed, but all the profits go toward the benevolent work of the War Amputations Association of Canada.

Allen David Piper, who wears two iron hooks in place of the hands he lost in the grenade explosion in 1942, is General Manager of the War Amps Key Tag Service. Piper said today that the system of sending out duplicate key tags in the same mailing is paying off real dividends, because many Canadians have two cars, and in most homes both husband and wife have car keys.

The key tags are sent out gratis. The recipient is expected to mail back to the War Amps 50 cents for duplicate car key tags; 35 cents if only one tag is required. The money is sent to the War Amps Key Tag Service, 140 Merton Street, Toronto 7.

Lt. Col. the Rev. Sydney E. Lambert, O.B.E. is Dominion President of the War Amps Association. Allen L. Bell is Honorary Secretary-Treasurer.

CANADIAN BRINGS ANSWER TO BITTERNESS IN THE WORLD

Wellington, New Zealand, April 26—Chief Walking Buffalo of the Canadian Rocky Mountain Sioux stands with E. T. Tirikatene, (left) Acting Minister of Maori Affairs and Minister of Forests, on the steps of the New Zealand Parliament. Mr. Tirikatene asked Walking Buffalo to address a large crowd on Moral Re-Armament.

With the Chief is Chief David Crowchild from Sarcee, Alberta, one of the delegation of 11 Canadians travelling through Australasia, Africa, and Europe. Walking Buffalo told the crowd, "I ask any colour to stand by my side with me to unite the whole of mankind. Moral Re-Armament made me put away all bitterness, pride and fear,—the choice is between Moral Re-Armament and Communism."

In the past six months the 89-year old Chief has travelled over 25,000 miles to bring the ideology of Moral Re-Armament to the peoples of the world. He has been received by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany, Archbishop Makarios of Cyprus and other national leaders. One hundred million people have heard and seen him on radio and television. He goes next to Australia and Africa.

Salvation Army Home League Notes

At the March 2nd meeting the Salvation Army Home League members were led in the devotional period by Mrs. Fish, with Lt. Moffatt offering the concluding prayer. A report concerning the tea was read by Mrs. Fish.

Mrs. Melvin Hill was guest speaker and accompanied her [illegible] of the trip that she and Mr Hill took to the south last year.

It was announced that World Day of Prayer would be Mar 4. Mrs. Geake suggested that the Home League send a gift of the paper "Home Leaguer" to the missionaries adopted by the Vermilion group. It was decided to make aprons for a donation for the camp.

Games were enjoyed after the devotional period at the March 16th meeting. And at the March 23rd meeting aprons were made for the Pine Lake camp.

At the March 30th meeting Miss Craig led in prayer. At the next meeting it was decided to send a book to Mrs. Simester who was sick in the hospital.

Plans were made for a Home League rally to be held Apr 29 in Edmonton. Twelve of the members expected to attend. Two women will go out on visitation each week from the local Home League.

On April 13 the Wildmere W.A. ladies attended the ministerial church service held at the Salvation Army.

ABOUT EATING

You can get bacon and eggs in every small restaurant from Noyes on down to El Paso, in the USA - but what a world of difference.

Starting our trip South, we didn't bother too much about where we ate breakfast because I had a theory.

"It's pretty hard to cook and spoil good bacon and eggs," I told my wife, "so we needn't worry too much about morning eating spots."

How wrong I was!

Bacon and eggs in almost any Kansas or Oklahoma restaurant are a dream and delight. They are served with a flourish, cooked just right, fresh, savoury and appetizing with [illegible] brown eggs and lots of butter. And the coffee. Coffee that smells good and tastes rich and your cup filled as fast as you empty it at no extra charge. Well fried potatoes too.

Maybe the North won the war against the South some time long long ago. But if there's ever another war, I know the South will win. Undernourished Northerners won't have a chance against the well-fed South. In most of the Northern states they dish out bacon and eggs that are greasy, no potatoes with them, and toast that is either half toasted or burned.

Back home, I have been comparing Manitoba food to that served up in the various states. We don't come off too badly—we are better than the Northern states, not as good as the South. Many Manitoba restaurants give you no fried potatoes with your breakfast although Manitoba grows the tastiest potatoes in the world with the possible exception of some Maritime provinces where they are very careful [illegible] grading but where in my opinion, the flavour is not quite as perfect as the Manitoba flavour.

The North American continent is prosperous. There is food in abundance. It is too bad the good cooks weren't distributed more evenly. Nothing brings tourists back again and again in the same magnetic manner that good food [illegible]

So let's quit taking our fine food for granted. Let's prepare and serve it better. Fine food deserves such respect.

Mannville and District Local News

The United Church W.A. will hold a Mother's Day tea in the United church May 7 at 3 p.m. There will be the usual sewing and baking tables, so all mothers can take a rest this week-end.

On Monday afternoon of last week Mrs. Ruth Hughes entertained members of her bridge club on the occasion of her 83rd birthday at an afternoon tea. Many fond memories were relived and a most enjoyable time was spent visiting over the tea cups.

Mrs. Grace McPhee is visiting her daughter Roberta and family at Peace River.

Seen around town renewing acquaintances with one and all was a former resident of the district who farmed north-east of Mannville, Frank Stumpf.

Many out-of-town [illegible] attended the 50th anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Smith.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion had a gratifying response by girls wishing to play ball this season. The players are to be sponsored by the Auxiliary. Enough turned out for four teams, 36 girls, and all eager to get into action. This makes the ladies feel their effort is going to be very worthwhile.

Charles Gerhart and a friend from Edmonton spent a week's holiday at the home of Charlie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Gerhart.

Hans Pedersen was a visitor to his home here from Red Deer, at the week-end. He leaves Tuesday for Fort Smith where he will be employed.

Seen home over the week-end Danny and Jackie Hasnoff.

The flu bug has attacked a goodly number of Mannville residents. It is most important to be very particular regarding after effects of this flu. Care must be taken to stay right in bed for two or three days at time of its peak.

Notices are posted re mailing times at the new post office. Hereafter the last call for mail is 5:30 p.m. to insure mail being dispatched. Post office now closes from 12:30 to 1 p.m. Therefore all news articles submitted to this correspondent for inclusion in the Standard must be handed in before noon Mondays at the latest, and before if possible.

Island Hill News

Basic Board Rates Set For Senior Citizens' Lodges

The cabinet last week set the basic rates which will be charged pensioners who move into the province's new homes for the aged later this summer.

A single room will rent for $45 per month, while the rate on double rooms will be $40 per person. In some cases however pensioners may be able to rent accommodation for slightly less. Welfare Minister R. D. Jorgenson says the government wants every pensioner who moves into one of the homes to keep $10 per month for pocket money.

If the basic rate would leave a person with less than $10, his rent would be reduced. The difference would be made up by the province and the municipalities involved.

Mother's Day won national recognition on May 8, 1914, according to the World Book Encyclopedia. On that day President Woodrow Wilson signed a joint resolution of congress recommending that Congress and the executive branch of government observe the special day.

Rotarians Hear Vocational Talk by Dan Lutzak

Good hotels are a valuable asset to any town according to Rotarian Dan Lutzak who gave his vocational talk at the regular Rotary Club meeting on Friday. The speaker dwelt on services rendered, standards maintained, and the good-will engendered for the community by the courtesy and service given by good hotels. The Hotelmen's Association also awards numerous university scholarships each year.

Dan was introduced by [illegible] and thanked on behalf of the club by Gordon Park.

Don King was chairman for the meeting as both president and vice-president were out of town.

Volunteers were called to coach the Rotary baseball team in the little league and as a result the youngsters will be looked after by Aldean Kent, Warren Bergquist and Chauncey Medley.

Boys' Bands Give Enjoyable Concert At Mannville

MANNVILLE. Under the leadership of Bandmaster John Dobush of Vegreville School Division the Vegreville and Mannville boys' bands presented a concert that delighted and amazed the capacity audience in the Mannville High School auditorium recently.

The Vegreville band led off the concert with 'O Canada', looking particularly smart in their white shirts and gold capes lined with red. There were only four players who had more than two years' experience in the band, but their rendition of a Military March and some Irish numbers was outstanding. Through these selections and a western piece, also the "Song of a Rose" Mr. Dobush showed an understanding of young boys, and a keen sense of humor.

The Mannville band, with only 8 months of training, showed an interest and progress that was remarkable. They played a variety of selections including a Chorale number, a March, "Short'ning Bread", a Waltz and a [illegible] entitled "Mysterious Mike", [illegible] the Marine [illegible] as a final.

The standard of the band's performance was a tribute to the effective leadership of Mr Dobush, and Mannville can be pleased and proud that the boys are receiving such [illegible] training.

The Vermilion C.W.L. sponsored a successful tea and bake sale on Saturday, April 30 in the Legion hall. Agnes Killen, the president, was hostess during the afternoon. Schmidt Sr. and Mrs. J. Toner Sr.

Serving tea were Marie Edwards, Mrs. Houck, Mrs. Steve Jarula, Mrs. J. Mercier, Joan Woloshyn, Kay Williams and Emma Holgate.

A draw was made following the tea and lucky ticketholder Keith Brandon of Clandonald won the transistor radio and Emmanuel Fedechko of Mannville won the food hamper.

The C.W.L. is grateful for the assistance and patronage contributing to the success of the tea and sale.

New Location For Credit Union Office

As forecast by President Tom Davis at the last annual meeting of the Vermilion Savings and Credit Union, expansion is continuing at an increasing rate. In order to cope with this greater volume of business, the Credit Union has obtained new premises in the downstairs of the Co-op building extension. [illegible] hours will continue to be [illegible] 3 to 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

As present members are aware, the Credit Union offers facilities for saving at a high interest rate, and makes loans available at a very reasonable rate. The unique insurance on both savings and loans, at no cost to the member, continues to attract much interest and new members. Greater service to the community is forecast by the executive.

The Bible Today

"What is the Bible worth?" or "What would you pay for a Bible" are questions easily answered in Canada. But in the days gone by, even in Christian lands, the answer to either question would be dictated by the circumstances. Dr. Martin Niemoller said in an address given at the third Jubilee of the Scottish National Bible Society, "When the first Bibles were printed people had to pay very high prices for them—at the beginning of 16th century a Bible cost our forefathers eight yoke of oxen. One Bible!"

"Even so it was not the highest price paid for this book. Many people living in the Alps of Austria in the days of the counter reformation paid for their Bibles with their homes and all their possessions. There have been people who have paid for the Book with their lives."

There are still places in the world where to be found in possession of a copy of the Bible means death.

School Trustees Discuss Wages

Alberta school trustees from Zone 3 met Thursday afternoon at the Corona Hotel to discuss teacher's salaries before going into negotiations later this spring.

Zone 3 includes the school divisions of Wainwright, Leduc, Clover Bar, Foremost, Vermilion, Vegreville, Lamont, and Provost.

Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister of education for the province, spoke to the meeting on recent legislation regarding school trustees.

GREENLAWN Goodwill Club

Twenty members and one visitor gathered at the home of Mrs. Robert Gray for the April meeting of the Club.

Due to the president and the vice-president being unable to attend, Mrs W. Jones called the meeting to order.

It was decided to help the Dewberry high school with their year book by sending congratulations of the club to the grade twelve students.

Vivian Curtis donated two doilies, one for the hostess and the second one went to Mrs. McGowan on the lucky draw. The roll call was answered by a garden hint.

The May meeting will be at Mrs. Wm. Holman's.

Door prize was won by our visitor Mrs. Lloyd Engelking of Vermilion. At the close of the meeting the hostess and the teen age girls served a delicious lunch.

Leighton Ford and Team to Conduct Evangelistic Campaign, Wainwright

Rev. Leighton Ford, Billy Graham's associate evangelist and vice president of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, will conduct an evangelistic crusade for the churches of east central Alberta to be held in the Peace Memorial arena in Wainwright from May 29 through June 12.

Mrs. Ford, the former Jean Graham, the youngest sister of Evangelist Billy Graham, will accompany her husband to Wainwright. Mr. Ford met her at Wheaton College and they make their home at Charlotte, N.C. They will also bring their little daughter and only child, Deborah Jean, born Sunday morning, September 14, 1958.

The Rev. Mr. Leighton Ford at only 29 years of age has already become an experienced evangelist much in demand in North America from Toronto to Texas and from New York to Los Angeles. He has held city-wide united missions in cities across the continent, as well as in Great Britain, Australia and Africa.

Beginning his career as director of the Youth for Christ program in Chatham, Ont. Mr Ford was then the youngest director in Canada or the U.S. Shortly after that he attended Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill. [illegible] was graduated in 1952 with highest honors (B.A. Philosophy Major) and an intensive extra-curricular program behind him including working on the official college Gospel team.

Following his graduation Mr Ford attended Columbia Theological Seminary, Presbyterian, at Decatur, Georgia. While there he became president of the student body, served as student supply pastor of several Presbyterian churches and conducted his own evangelistic missions during the summer periods. He was graduated from the seminary in 1955 and was ordained as a Presbyterian minister by the Mecklenburg Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church U.S.

Joining the Billy Graham Evangelistic team in 1955 during the Wembley Stadium Crusade in London, England, Mr Ford quickly became invaluable to the organization. One of the first engagements was to supply the pulpit of the famed Wellington church in Glasgow, Scotland for several Sundays. He also carried on a very successful time of ministry with the "Tell Scotland" movement following the Billy Graham Crusade in Scotland.

Next week The Standard will publish the second part of Mr Ford's personal life story. The executive of the Greater Wainwright Crusade would solicit the prayers of the public for this campaign.

Alberta Publicized In Times Square, New York

A spectacular animated sign to advertise Canada's travel attractions on New York's Times Square has been rented by the Canadian Government Travel Bureau for a period of 13 weeks. The two-panel electronic sign, the only one of its kind in the world, measures [illegible] feet overall and is located over a building at the corner of 46th Street and Broadway. The sign, which shows animated scenes, will feature the vacation attractions of the National Parks of Canada and colorful events and holiday activities in all of the ten Canadian provinces. The sign will be seen during summer by millions of New Yorkers and visitors from the States and abroad. It is estimated that more than a million persons visit Times Square daily. Half of them are from the city of New York, 25 per cent from the surrounding area and the remainder from out of town.

Built in two panels the sign provides an unusual degree of flexibility. The upper panel, known as the Epok animated electronic screen display, features a unique photo-electric lighting system that enables animated scenes to be projected onto its 750 square foot bank of 4,000 light bulbs. The bulbs are activated by photo-electric cells which, in turn, are set off by light passing through a moving picture film. The result is a travel movie, in gigantic form, depicting animated scenes of vacation activities and holiday events in each of Canada's ten provinces.

The scenes to be shown include the Calgary Stampede, Highland Games in Nova Scotia, fishing, golf and other recreations, all of which are in full view of crowds who pass through Times Square every day. On hot summer days a special advertising message will be switched on the screen inviting New Yorkers to exchange their steaming sidewalks for Canada's cool lakes and mountains. The lower panel, measuring 9½ by 31 feet is located just below and attached to the Epok animated sign. Constructed of translucent plexiglass, it is brilliantly illuminated from within by grids of fluorescent tubing. In block copy it will carry the current slogan of the Travel Bureau's advertising: "Canada . . . The Wonderful World At Your Doorstep".

M. F. C. To Borrow Twenty Millions

The Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation is negotiating for a $20,000,000 loan — its first this year and officials are hopeful of finding the money at satisfactory interest rates on the Canadian market. If not, they'll have to go to New York for the second successive year. Before the year is out, MFC expects to borrow around $65,000,000 to re-lend to municipalities to finance their capital works programs.

Ice Finally Goes - Swim Anyone?

The ice in the Vermilion Park Lake was loath to leave this year, not clearing until Friday of last week. The picture above, taken the previous Sunday, April 24th, presents a chilly view. This was in contrast to last year when the first swim in ice-free water was recorded on April 15th. Low water levels and cool temperatures combined to hold the mass together. —Standard Staff Photographer

LITTLE LEAGUE BALL

Spring must be here as Little League practices have begun. After several meetings it has been decided to have a three-team league consisting of Woodvale, Buffalo Coulee and Preston. This is a very worthwhile project and leaders and coaches would appreciate it very much if parents and others interested would turn out for the games. Preston Little Leaguers are very thankful to Geo. Webb & Sons and Ireland's Wainoco Service for sponsoring their ball suits and some of the equipment.

The interviews at the school are over and a very good turnout is reported.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Record Number of Tourists Expected In Alberta This Summer

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — Alberta may be invaded by a near-record number of tourists during the coming season.

Authority for this forecast comes from Dan E. C. Campbell, director of the Alberta Government Travel Bureau, who reports that requests for information on the province's holiday attractions are almost double that of last year.

Mr. Campbell, who occupies a small office just inside the front door of the Legislative Building in Edmonton, is receiving letters from prospective visitors at the rate of 400 to 500 per day.

He answers every inquiry with a packet of literature including road maps, guides to accommodation and illustrated booklets extolling Alberta's countless tourist attractions. Some inquiries require special treatment. For example, if a would-be visitor is interested in canoe travel over the historic waterways followed by the early explorers and traders, Dan sees to it that the writer receives the information he needs.

Judging by the volume of mail received so far, Alberta is in for a big tourist season. Mr Campbell last week had received 21,936 inquiries, compared with 15,711 at the same time last year.

INTEREST IN CAMPING

This year's mail also indicates more people are interested in camping. Mr. Campbell estimates 30% of the letters he receives are from campers. With understandable pride, he sends them information on Alberta's more than 300 campgrounds which range from small roadside clearings with kitchen shelters, pumps and outhouses to big elaborate campgrounds in the national parks.

FISHING PARAMOUNT

There is terrific interest this year in fishing for the giant trout which inhabit Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territories. Mr Campbell says he is receiving hundreds of letters from anglers who want to have a crack at the big fish.

APPRECIATION

Trouble is though, many of them don't realize fishing Great Slave is vastly different from anything they've ever before encountered. It's not impossible but it's an expensive proposition involving the chartering of good sized boats and guides, or hiring aircraft to reach the good fishing spots.

Dan doesn't want to discourage anyone with the money and the determination to tackle the great fishing of the N.W.T. but he's making sure the people who inquire know the facts before they start.

He attributes the interest in Great Slave fishing to articles in a number of U.S. outdoor magazines.

CALGARY UNIVERSITY HEAD

Dr. Malcolm G. Taylor, 44, University of Toronto professor, has been named principal of the new University of Alberta in Calgary and vice-president of the parent University of Alberta which is situated in Edmonton. A native of Alberta, Dr. Taylor attended the Normal school at Calgary. He taught in various Alberta schools from 1934 to 1937. Dr. Taylor is pictured above with Mrs. Taylor and children Deanna and Barbz.

PARENT EDUCATION

This article has been written in the hope of improved understanding and further development of education in child training. The term "parent education" is commonly used to cover the many ways by which parents are assisted in bringing up physically and emotionally healthy children. This applies to everything from your doctor's advice to hints picked up at parents' meetings. There is so much of this information and from so many sources that it is little wonder that sometimes parent education appears to be confusing. Let's take a look at why it is receiving this attention these days:

1 We now have at our disposal added scientific knowledge about the way children grow and develop.

2 Parents feel they need outside help.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT

Careful studies by professional people have yielded a lot about how we develop physically and emotionally, how our mode of living affects our lives and those of our children. Out of this knowledge springs the question "If this is how a child grows then how can parents create the best conditions for this growth?"

Many adults live unhappy maladjusted lives because of the way their childhood went and again the question arises "What can we do about a child's upbringing that will help him to develop into a reasonably happy, well-adjusted child?"

It is in seeking the answers for these questions that expert investigators have been able to provide some reliable guideposts for parents. Such studies, incidentally, are continually going on and as this new knowledge is made available it becomes translated into effective parent education.

THE NEED FOR EXPERT HELP

Why do modern parents need more specialist education in child training than their grandparents? The answer is that the vast majority of Canadians today are living under entirely different circumstances than their grandparents who, as young people, gained experience in child upbringing and housekeeping in large, closely knit families. They knew how to look after a crying baby, do the chores and take major responsibilities long before they started their own families, a somewhat different situation to the girl of today who is going to high school and college or working right up until marriage, and has fewer opportunities for "home training".

So the modern young mother, backed by less personal experience, often hampered by being far away from her mother and aware that there is new knowledge available, tends to turn to others for guidance. Again, women have a different position in our society today. More is expected of them by way of community obligations and economic ones, too, being frequently called upon to supplement the family income. These add up to demands on time and energy that are bound to change living patterns. And let's not forget father. He too has undergone a change. There seems to be an increasing tendency for him to take a more active part than formerly in the care of young children. As a result he is seeking reliable advice in child training. With this background, it is no wonder that young parents look for assistance. When parent education plays its true role it can serve as a partial substitute for their own lack of experience and help them be more objective about their family problems. By giving them some understanding about themselves, as well as their children it can help to develop the confidence that is basic to good parenthood.

Parent education supplies an abundance of sound advice. But trouble often arises when it comes to be applied. Why is this so?

Information is most useful when fitted to the individual family situation. Emotional experiences in childhood are related to development but this doesn't mean that everything you do to a child under five is going to affect him for good or bad the rest of his life. So making mistakes needn't cause the anxiety it often does in some parents. For example when experts say "too much frustration isn't good for a baby" it doesn't mean "never frustrate the baby". It is up to the parents to determine just what may be frustrating, when it is too much and when it is necessary. This principle should be applied to all "rules" for bringing up children. There is no simple fit-it advice because children differ. This is perhaps one of the main difficulties parents face, failing to appreciate individual differences among children. And too often they try to be perfect parents.

The more parents know how children grow in a healthy way the better prepared they are to meet their basic needs such as to be loved and to have the freedom to develop. They want to learn what situations call for restraint and when to give full rein to the child. Filling the child's needs shouldn't mean avoiding unpleasantness but rather helping him to live more happily.

Also raising children cannot be a neatly planned process because so much of what we say or do is on the spur of the moment, without stopping to reason things out. We are just not cool and calculating all the time and who would want to be? But to rely entirely on snap judgment won't work either unless the parent has the necessary fund of personal experience not usual among present day young mothers. Parents should find satisfaction in knowing they are doing their best, relax and enjoy their children. After all, parents are people with needs, too. The father working at home must have quiet and the mother with too much to do and no help must be forgiven if her nerves are edgy. The individual interests of mother and father just have to be fitted into the situation.

Used wisely parent education can reduce worry and increase enjoyment in being a parent.

DON'T try to follow a general "rule" without adapting it to your own situation.

DON'T expect to find an easy solution to every problem.

DON'T forget all parents differ including you.

DON'T forget parents as well as children have their special needs.

DO keep aware of the informational materials available to parents.

DO take advantage of meetings, lectures, etc.

DO seek expert help when necessary.

DO relax and stop trying to be perfect."

Prior to his departure for the National 4-H Conference in Washington, D.C., the Alberta delegate, Kenneth Copithorne (centre), chatted with Premier E. C. Manning, right. Showing interest in the discussion is C. L. Usher, left, supervisor of 4-H Clubs for the province, who is also attending the conference.

Alberta Represented At National 4-H Conference in Washington

A 21-year-old Calgary district youth, Kenneth Copithorne, will be the official representative of Alberta at the thirtieth national 4-H Club Conference to be held in Washington, D.C., April 23rd to 29th.

The Alberta delegate, born and raised on a ranch in the Springbank district west of Calgary, forms part of a ten-member delegation to the annual meeting. Delegates, five men and five women, are chosen one from each province.

The Washington Conference will also be attended by representatives from each of the United States and from many foreign countries. It is designed to develop an appreciation of 4-H club work as a nationwide extension service program. Delegates are selected on the basis of outstanding achievements in 4-H club work and contributions to the movement.

Canadian delegates will meet at Ottawa with federal government officials before proceeding to Washington to take part in an extensive program of educational and entertainment features.

Mr. Copithorne was a member of the Springbank Beef Club for seven years, having served as vice-president and president. He has also served as junior leader for three years and attended Club Week at the Olds School of Agriculture as efficiency winner in 1956. Two years later he won the group championship in inter-club competition and also won several awards for showmanship.

In addition to his 4-H activities, Kenneth has been active in the Boy Scout organization, the Cochrane Light Horse Association, agricultural society, church young peoples' club, students' union and sports activities.

He has just completed a diploma course in Agriculture at the University of Saskatchewan School of Agriculture at Saskatoon.

One of the two supervisors accompanying the Canadian delegation to the Washington conference will be C. L. Usher, Supervisor of 4-H Clubs for the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton. Mr. Usher will also attend sessions of the United States 4-H Leaders Conference and during May 2 to 4 will represent Alberta at the annual meeting of the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs in Victoria, B.C.

Self-knowledge, humility, and love are divine strength.

United Grain Growers To Build New Grain Storage Annex

Decision to construct a new grain storage annex at Port Arthur has been announced by J. E. Brownlee, President of United Grain Growers Ltd., following a meeting of the board of directors at Winnipeg. The new annex will be built on the same site and will replace the two and one-half million outshore storage structure which suddenly toppled into Lake Superior last September. The new annex will have a storage capacity greatly in excess of that of the original (2,500,000 bushels). It will be built in sections with the total capacity to be announced later.

Meanwhile work is continuing on replacement of rail trackage and erection of a permanent trestle alongside the plant to serve the workhouse and the inshore annexes which were undamaged. Two of the six tracks have already been replaced, enabling the loading of grain boats as navigation opens on the Great Lakes. Completion of the work with full track operation is anticipated by the end of May.

Contract for the construction of the new annex is expected to be awarded shortly with completion expected during 1961.

Rotary Club Sponsor Driving School

Once again the Vermilion Rotary Club is sponsoring a school for all those who wish to learn to drive cars. The Alberta Motor Association do the actual teaching, and the class will be announced just as soon as the class of twelve is filled. Five have already signed for the course and others wishing to learn should contact Warren Rosenquist for the necessary application forms. The class is open to students, women and men. 413

Many Improvements Planned By Town Council For 1960

Extension of Disposal System, 16 New Blocks of Sidewalks, New Fire Engine, More Lights

The mill rate for the Town of Vermilion for 1960 was set at 53 mills at a recent meeting of the council. This is made up of 33 mills for school purposes, 4 mills for hospital and 16 for municipal purposes.

Of the many projects planned for the coming year the largest is the proposed sewer extension, amounting to an expenditure of $90,000. This will be a debenture issue with money obtained from the Municipal Finance Corporation, and will be voted on by the ratepayers in the very near future.

The proposed sewer extension will do away with the present lift station in the east end of town, and will be in the form of a lagoon disposal system. This lagoon will handle the sewage from east end for the present, and will be so constructed to handle the entire disposal system in about ten years.

This debenture will be paid back over a 25-year period, and the annual payments and interest amount to about 1½ mills a year.

EXTENSIVE SIDEWALK AND STREET PROGRAM

An extensive program for the sidewalks and streets in the town has been planned. It is proposed to construct 16 blocks of new asphalt sidewalk, and several blocks of asphalt road, as well as repair and maintain those streets and sidewalks already in existence. To handle all this work the town is purchasing a new tractor and digging machine. With a well-trained and experienced town crew and under supervision of the town superintendent this work can all be done without hiring outside contractors.

STREET LIGHTING TO BE IMPROVED

It is also planned that throughout the year all the street lights in the town will be increased in strength and several new ones added where needed.

A new fire engine has been ordered to replace the old machine which has given many years of service. This will then make it possible, in an emergency, for the Fire Department to answer a call outside of the town limits as well as give the local citizens the protection to the degree that they are entitled to expect.

Sr. Citizens Lodge Nearing Completion

Site of the Senior Citizens Lodge for which a name will shortly be sought, is a scene of great activity these days as the large building is rushed to completion. Preparations are now completed for stuccoing, while interior finishing is being carried on apace. While the Lodge is not scheduled for official opening until August, it appears that it will be ready for occupancy long before that time. Planned to accommodate fifty guests, the building will be completely furnished and grounds landscaped before being turned over to the Municipality of Vermilion River. On Thursday, May 26th representatives of Vermilion River M.D., Lloydminster, Vermilion, Dewberry, Marwayne and Kitscoty will meet at the M.D. office at Kitscoty to form the Foundation in charge of the administration of the Lodge. The above photo shows the south wing and south entrance.

New Post Office Opened at Mannville

MANNVILLE — Sans pomp or ceremony, contents of the former post office on the main street of Mannville village were quietly moved to the new post office over the week-end. The attractive new structure is situated directly north of the Beaver Lumber company, and the outside is finished with grey stucco and red brick veneer. Facing west there are five large windows, with side light on the south of the main door, which is made of wood with large glass pane enclosed. Outside is to be found a popular and handy stamp dispensing machine of the modern trend, while an outside mailing chute delivers the mail safely inside.

The outside dimensions of the building are 22½ ft. by 34½ ft., and the modern flat roof is complemented by a canopy-type shelter from sun or rain, with a large outside light attached thereon. The fine ultra modern office was constructed by the Dominion Dept. of Public Works as a part of the winter works program.

As one enters the lobby there are seen at a glance the rows of mail boxes on the north and east walls, with a counter table for convenience of the public. Here also is the bulletin board to be seen on the south wall of the lobby, which is separated from the main office by a handsome glass door.

Upon passing through the door one notes the predominant shade of blue accentuating the color scheme of each door, wash room and harmonizing with the varnished birch plywood walls and finishing. The clerks are kept busy behind a modern service counter which resembles the construction in banks, and over which all business transactions take place.

Inside the dispatching zone there is seen, besides the washroom, a loading lobby and janitor's store room. Counter tops are covered in attractive tan masonite. There are 16 large fluorescent lights in the building, an interesting waste paper dispenser, and ventilation is noted directly over the five windows as smaller ones which may be opened. A table is contained on the customer's side of the counter for his convenience. It is a most attractive addition to Mannville's main street and postmaster Norman Crooks with assistants Mrs. Harold Cockle, John Finley and Mrs. James McLuckie are prepared to offer the same courteous service as in the past.

SOMETHING TO AIM FOR

On returning from a trip to Eastern Canada and the States, Bill Sutherland presented The Standard with a Sunday issue of The Chicago Tribune which advertises itself as the "World's Greatest Newspaper." Bill remarked, "this is something for The Standard to shoot at." This one paper and it wasn't a special edition of any kind, weighed exactly 3½ pounds and contained 14 sections with a countless number of pages. The advertising was, of course, something tremendous; proceeds of the one daily issue alone would set The Standard up for life.

Practically all of the pulp and a huge amount of manufactured news print used in the U. S., (and they are, as can be realized from the size of this one issue alone prodigious users of paper) comes from Canada.

YOUTH SERVES ROAD SAFETY

An upsurge in the interest of Canadian youth in highway safety, as well as a noticeable increase in driver education in secondary and elementary schools in Canada, is reported by the Canadian Highway Safety Council. W. Arch. Bryce, the council's executive director, points to the fact that promotion of high school driver education as an extra-curricular subject is gaining in impetus everywhere in the nation, as is the establishment of school safety patrols, paralleling greater concentration on safety education in the lower grades.

Teen-agers, the Council advises, are becoming more and more involved in improved driving methods, chiefly through the increasingly popular Teen-Age Road-eo. At the Council's annual conference in Vancouver, a special Teen-Age Road-eo demonstration will be staged on the parking lot of the British Columbia Automobile Association in which winners of recent provincial contests will compete with officials of the provincial government and safety organizations. To add glamor to the competition, one of the drivers will be the well-known Canadian television star, Lorraine McAllister.

Following the demonstration will be a banquet honoring youth (sponsored by the Imperial Oil Co. Ltd.) at which all speaking, introductions and presiding will be handled by teen-agers. Guests will include representatives of a variety of youth groups such as Boy Scouts, high school organization, Hot Rodders and others, as well as delegates to the conference.

"DIMMIT DAMMIT"

Quite often one sees a car with a sign on the rear bumper requesting drivers behind him to "Please Dim" or sometimes just "Dimmit Dammit."

On occasions, this request—or command—has expressed our sentiments exactly. There is one thing more annoying while driving at night than meeting a driver who refuses to dim his lights, and that is being followed by such a driver. It is hard to understand why any driver does not realize that when his headlights are on high beam while following another car, he is sending a blinding beam of light into the rear view mirror of the car ahead, and this is reflected into the eyes of the lead driver.

Night driving is hazardous enough under best of conditions, without the added task of fighting blinding lights. This is one thing on which highway police patrols could focus more attention, and something the erring driver could spend more time thinking about. —Camrose Canadian

the Snapshot Guild

What more could one want in a picture for the family album.

A Boy and His Dog

"A boy and his dog"—how many times have you read that phrase or seen it pictured in books and magazines? The idea behind it is so universally appealing that it has been used in advertising campaigns for products as diversified as life insurance and linoleum.

In our every-day picture taking, too, children and pets are among the most popular subjects there are. Someone recently pointed out that more cameras are aimed at kids, canines and cats in one day than at the Grand Canyon in a whole year.

It's interesting to note that both youngsters and their favorite animals actually have a great deal in common as subjects. Both of them—whether pictured together or separately—provide plenty of action, can be alternately [illegible] and aggravating, demand considerable patience on the part of the snapshooter and view the world from a much lower eye-level than we adults do.

It is by capitalizing on these special characteristics that the picture-taker can succeed in getting really superior snapshots. Shooting kids and their pets is by no means "kid stuff," but the results are rewarding and make whatever efforts involved thoroughly worth the little extra time it takes to achieve just the effect you want.

In many cases, some perfect shots of children and pets we've seen wouldn't have been possible at all unless the picture-taker had come down to their level. Inhibitions thrown to the winds and armed with a few appropriate props like lollipops, balls and biscuits, the snapshooter should be prepared to crawl about, laugh and play with his young subjects.

Lively is the word for any child and his pet. So your camera must be ready to catch them "in action" at precisely the moment when the small youngster and kitten together discover the pleasant warmth of an electric blanket, or the tiny pup takes to gnawing on the child's bunny-eared slipper.

To tell your story, don't rely on one shot only—make a series of them, too. —John Van Guilder

CHOOSING A VEGETABLE

There are few cooks who haven't on one or more occasions frowned over selecting vegetables to accompany the main course. Classic combinations are pan browned potatoes with roast beef, julienne carrots with lamb, sweet potatoes with ham, onions with liver or asparagus with veal. But don't be afraid to try almost any vegetable with almost any meat, so long as the flavors, textures and colors make a pleasing combination.

And speaking of combinations, they're a good idea too. Peas and carrots have been going around together for years. Other pleasing combinations are peas and celery, peas and mushrooms or turnips mixed with carrots.

CAREFUL COOKING — CHOOSING A VEGETABLE

No matter what the choice of vegetables, the flavor will be poor if proper care is not used in cooking. The cooking period for all vegetables should be as short as possible. The exact time is determined by the age and size of the vegetable and the method used. Overcooking destroys or reduces the value of some of the vitamins.

As salt tends to drain out vitamins, use it during cooking only when absolutely necessary. Leave salting after the cooking process is complete when most other seasoning may be added as well.

COOKING IN HARD WATER

If you cook in hard water, you are faced with discoloration problems. A few drops of vinegar or lemon juice in the cooking water helps to stabilize the the colors in white or red vegetables, e.g. potatoes, cauliflower, onions or beets.

REHEATING VEGETABLES

Reheating vegetables is frowned on both from a culinary and and health standpoint. If you do reheat vegetables, place them with a few teaspoons of water or stock in the top of a double boiler or reheat or bake them in a hot sauce. Allow about half as much sauce as vegetables.

NEW RECIPES:

Wouldn't you like to try some new ways of serving vegetables? Doesn't "Cabbage with Sour Cream and Parsley Sauce" sound appealing? For this and other recipes write to this office for your free copy of "Vegetables Make the Home Plate."

BACTERINS

Bacterins should always be bought from a source where they have been kept under refrigeration, advises Alberta's Director of Veterinary Service, Dr. E. E. Ballantyne. At this time of year this rule should be borne in mind when purchasing drugs for use against blackleg, malignant oedema or swine erysipelas. For satisfactory results bacterins must always be kept refrigerated at temperatures recommended by the manufacturer. Careless handling causes them to deteriorate; furthermore, out-dated bacterins should never be used.

Veterinarians, druggists and certain vendors who have special permits issued by the Department of Agriculture, handle these products and keep them refrigerated.

BEWARE USED MACHINERY

The Alberta Department of Agriculture advises all farmers to exercise caution when purchasing second-hand machinery. The deputy minister R. M. Putnam reports that used farm machinery is at present being purchased at auction sales in the United States and shipped to Alberta for resale. In most cases these importations are being handled by men who are not dealers in farm equipment. The operation efficiency of much of this machinery may be below par and also repairs may be difficult to obtain. Even relatively new equipment that is a make or model not handled in this province may be of questionable value as far as performance and maintenance are concerned. Used machinery purchased from a reputable dealer and in good condition is often a worthwhile investment but poor machinery will prove to be an expensive venture in the long run.

KEEP THE COSTLY

The importance of keeping rats out of Alberta, which has been successfully done so far, can be seen from the damage they do elsewhere. Rat damage in Canada is placed about $75,000,000 a year! In the U.S. it is estimated to more than three billion dollars annually.

Leighton Ford and Team In Evangelistic Campaign, Wainwright

Rev. Leighton Ford, Billy Graham's associate evangelist, and vice president of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association will conduct an evangelistic crusade for the churches of east central Alberta to be held in the Peace Memorial Centre arena in Wainwright from May 29 through June 12. Mr. Ford will be supported by his team which is comprised of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Ekstrom and Mr. Robt. Glockner of Minneapolis, Minnesota. Mrs. Ford, the former Jean Graham, youngest sister of evangelist Billy Graham will accompany her husband with their tiny daughter, Deborah Jean.

Mr. Ford recently returned from Africa with the Graham team. There he conducted area-wide crusades with Billy Graham speaking on the closing night. World news agencies reported that he spoke to the largest crowds ever to attend religious gatherings in the history of the church. Many people heard Leighton Ford when he conducted Evangelist Billy Graham's Hour of Decision during the month of August last year.

Being a native of Canada (born in Toronto, Ontario, 1931), Mr. Ford carries on much of his evangelistic ministry in this country between the Billy Graham Crusades. He is increasingly in demand in the United States area evangelistic crusades. Often for Mr. Ford's crusades the available auditorium has become inadequate and to augment this in some of his Canadian crusades closed circuit television has been put into use for the meetings.

In 1959 Mr. Ford was in Australia with the Graham team where he conducted the crusades in Wellington, New Zealand, and Brisbane, Australia, with Billy Graham speaking at the closing two or three services. Record crowds attended the missions in both places. In Brisbane the opening rally drew 22,000 people. It was the largest Protestant service ever held in the history of Queensland. An average of 9,000 persons nightly attended the services and over 2,800 decisions for Christ were recorded in the twelve nights of Mr. Ford's meetings.

The churches of East Central Alberta feel that they are privileged to have Mr. Ford and his team conduct this crusade. The pastors of the local churches would urge the public to promote, pray for and make plans to attend the crusade.

Silver Cross Mothers Honored At Mannville Legion W. A.

MANNVILLE. Twelve members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. met in the local Legion hall on the evening of May 3rd at 8:00 o'clock for the regular monthly meeting. After the usual opening ceremonies, President Phyllis Jackson extended a warm welcome to the Silver Cross mothers of the district as well as members of Vermilion Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, who had been invited to help celebrate Mannville Auxiliary's fifth anniversary, which takes place this month.

Miss J. McClymont was then brought forward by the sergeant-at-arms to be initiated as a member of this branch of the L.A. to Canadian Legion.

Kenneth Johnson, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Johnson, was presented with a box of pastels in appreciation of a very fine piece of art he had so kindly done for the Auxiliary.

It was regrettably reported that the [illegible] secretary Mrs. I. Hamilton was ill in the local hospital at this time. A hearty wish for a speedy recovery goes out to her from her fellow comrades in the Auxiliary.

It was also noted there had been a goodly interest shown in the 10 to 14 year girls' ball team which is being sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Following adjournment of the meeting a social period of games and contests took place. Guests and members, numbering 25 in all, enjoyed a friendly chat during the refreshment period, the highlight of which was a delicious anniversary cake, baked by Helen Gelinewski and suitably decorated by Berna Cutler.

Ladies' Golf Club Plan Extension To Club House

At a meeting of the Vermilion Ladies' Golf club held on Tuesday evening, May 10, it was decided to go ahead with the plans to build a verandah on the front of the clubhouse. The addition will be across the front of the present structure, and will be roofed, with possibly glass ends, the side facing the number 9 fairway will be screened, with provisions for enclosure against the weather. It is planned to have a doorway cut into the present kitchen so that lunch and meal service may be offered on the new verandah on occasion.

The ladies have funds in their treasury to pay for the materials needed and have made arrangements to hire Floyd Bottorff to do the carpentry work with the aid of volunteer labor. This is to be started as soon as possible and it is hoped to have a Strawberry tea for the official opening of the new premises, approximately the first of June.

Anyone, especially golfers, who can help in the building of the new structure, is urged to volunteer his services.

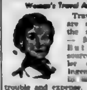
Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority



Travel gadgets are sold in all the stores now — for a price. But the resourceful traveller can devise ingenious ways [illegible] trouble and expense.

Take, for instance, the lowly spring type clothespin. One driver I know fastens it to his dashboard ashtray and parks his cigarette snugly between the two upper prongs. I've also seen it used to clamp a road map to the sun-visor—very handy.

Every try to jam ice into your old, not too foolproof thermos bottle? A friend once showed me how she made triangular pieces of ice by doubling a piece of wax paper, folding it into pleats, and placing it into a water-filled refrigerator tray. The next morning the ice triangles slid effortlessly into the thermos!

A travelling family I know takes along an ordinary metal cookie sheet to serve as a drawing board or game table for their restless children. They also keep a small footstool in the back seat so the small fry can enjoy the view. It can double as armrest for adults, too.

My prize story on this subject is the couple I observed picnicking on the roof of their car one sunny Sunday. The reason, they explained, was ... to avoid the ants!

From my bank account I sadly learn that spending money is all I earn.

NEWS from ISLAY

The Islay 4-H girls held their regular meeting on April 25th. Plans were made concerning the Achievement day which will be held May 18 at 8 p.m. in the church hall. Everyone is welcome. There will be a door prize for the lucky ticket holder. The 4-H club spent an enjoyable day at Wainwright Saturday May 7 where they [illegible] part in a 4-H rally.

NEW STUDENT MINISTER
The Family Day service at the United Church was a joint affair, the Sunday School taking part of it. The Junior choir led the singing and did very well. Also it was the day the student minister, Mr Eric Snider from Ontario, met the congregation for the first time. Mr Snider will assist for the next few months. Service time at Islay will be 11:30 a.m. All are invited to attend these services. With the new pews installed, seating is comfortable.

TWO RECENT FIRES
A fire siren has been installed at the town well. Now when help is needed in a hurry just hop over there and put in your call. Last week Lindsay Buchanan had quite a fire which cost him [illegible] chicks and turkeys, [illegible] harness and some [illegible]. Bruce McLennan [illegible] fire loss when a small out-building fell prey to flames.

The extra recipe cook books several have been waiting for have now arrived. They may be picked up anytime. The autographed quilt which has been on the go for quite some time, is just about completed. It is still on the quilting frames but there is very little to do on it. It will make a very lovely bedspread.

Mr and Mrs. Robert Taylor who have been visitors at the home of Erva's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Sweet, returned to Ponoka Sunday. They were here to attend the graduation of Elaine Sweet at the Lloydminster High school. Elaine won [illegible] trophies, and Ken Gunn brought some home also. It is with a great deal of pleasure the community congratulates these two students, both products of Islay school.

Ross Lamb has moved to the J. H. Ford farm.

Noticed Jim McGee going through town one day last week.

Saw Miss Willa Bowman in town recently.

Harold Brown is working at Bobby Barnett's farm.

Mrs. Baguley is now driving from Vermilion to school in Islay. She recently purchased a home in Vermilion.

Miss Helen McKerrihan is the student teacher in Islay school for the next few weeks.

Mrs. Solyma and two girls went to Edmonton for Mother's day.

Mrs. Wm Terrance had telephone calls on Mother's day from her two daughters, Gwen in Calgary and Marjorie in San Francisco.

Lindsay Buchanan who spent a few days in hospital, is now home again.

More Shrinking

Shorter, slimmer, lighter Canadian-made cars are forecast for 1961, says The Financial Post. Rear deck areas and rear fenders are main targets for trimming. Fins — both vertical and horizontal — will be de-emphasized. Four new compacts are in the works, all with engines up front; one may have a four-cylinder power plant.

Rotarians Hear of Machinery Sales, Service from M. Norton

Rotarians listened to an enlightening talk from Mark Norton on Friday. Mark told all about his vocation of truck salesman as well as the allied parts of his local business, machinery, parts, implement sales and service. A remarkable point was noted when the speaker stated that when R. H. Norton purchased the I.H.C. business approximately fifteen years ago, $1400 changed hands; now the inventory of parts alone, carried for the service of farmers, is $40,000.

Mark told of the length to which they often go to service farm implements and trucks. They have instituted a special service which calls for parts to be obtained from any source regardless of expense when an implement is held up for want of a repair.

From his talk it was apparent that farmers in the area received the best possible service from local implement dealers.

Rudi Renaud brought the members up-to-date on Mark's previous history while Ed Corley extended the thanks of the club for an interesting talk very well given, despite the protestations of the speaker that he had no aspirations towards being an orator.

Several of the projects of the Rotary Club were announced. Note was taken of the special employer-employee dinner and program for Friday, May 13th. Employers are required to take an employee to the event. A special speaker will dwell on relationship between employee and employer.

CHARTER NIGHT
Rotarians will celebrate the fifth birthday of the Vermilion club on Wednesday, May 25th. An extra special banquet and entertainment is being arranged. It is expected the night will go down in history as being outstanding.

DRIVER TRAINING
The club is sponsoring another driver training school with the teacher being supplied by the Alberta Motor Association. Twelve who wish to learn to drive are required in order to warrant a school. Applications should be made to Warren Rosequist immediately so that plans may be finalized. The school will not be held unless twelve applications are received.

Adventure in Citizenship
Raymond Kowalski, student of the Vermilion high school, who was selected by the Rotary Club for the trip to Ottawa for the annual "Adventure in Citizenship", was due to leave Friday evening. Ashley Cooper was delegated to see Raymond off on the Continental.

Israel Miller, a charter member of the club and now living in Edmonton, was a guest and was given a royal welcome. Israel is always a very popular visitor to the club.

In a typical league opener, the Buffalo Coulee Ponys trimmed the Foresters by a 14-12 margin at the Vermilion ball park Wednesday evening.

A free-hitting, crowd-pleasing brand of ball was played with early season errors playing a big part in the high score.

Two home runs, one by Wilson of the [illegible], and the other by Cameron for the south country team, were long and cleanly hit balls worthy of any league.

Enthusiasm was high and the game "[illegible]", every boy [illegible] seemed to be happy to be in the midst of the "ol' ball game" again.

These same teams meet at Buffalo Coulee on Friday night. Mannville 10, Vermilion Elks [illegible].

Rotarians Distribute 48 Dozen Tulips

Mannville W.A. Holds Mother's Day Tea

MANNVILLE. — Sponsored by the W.A. of McQueen Memorial United church, a Mother's Day tea was held on Saturday, May 7th in the church social rooms. Tastefully decorated for the occasion, the room took on a spring look as each table was graced by a vase of colorful tulips.

There were tables of home baking and many very attractive aprons for sale which found a quick sale. The tea was officially opened by the Rev. Frank G. Andrews with a prayer. Mother's Day boutonnieres were sold at the sewing table, as well as sunsuits, rompers and garments for the little tots. Lunch was served by the ladies, and all in all a successful day was reported.

C.W.L. To Sponsor Closed Retreat At Clandonald

CLANDONALD — The C.W.L. of St. Columba Parish decided at their last meeting to sponsor a Closed Retreat for women at St. Joseph's Academy, and invite C.W.L. members from Vermilion, Lloydminster and Derwent for the last week-end of May. They have engaged the services of Rev. H. T. Swift, C.Ss.R. of Edmonton as Retreat Master.

The meeting presided over by Miss Sarah Martin and attended by twenty five members was in unanimous agreement to cater to the K of C camps to be held again this year at Raft Lake during the first two weeks of July. It was also agreed to put on a breakfast for the children who will be making their First Communion on June 19.

Working circles, set up since the last meeting were assigned particular months during which they will convene fund-raising projects under the sponsorship of the C.W.L. for the parish. It was also decided to send two delegates to the Archdiocesan C.W.L. convention in Red Deer to be held May 20 to 22, and if possible to arrange that these delegates would travel with those from neighboring parishes.

Mothers Honored By C.G.I.T. Group

Junior Red Cross Aids Refugee Cause

MANNVILLE. — Junior Red Cross members of Mrs. Muriel Lugg's room recently gave talks in each room at school explaining the reasons why refugees are in camps, and why money is needed so desperately. The idea of self-denial was stressed.

A film clearly illustrating the plight of the refugees called "Exposure" was shown at the April Home and School meeting, and at the school. On May 3rd pupils of Mrs. Gamble's room collected the money in the Elementary school, while the Juniors from Mrs. Lugg's room collected in the Junior and High schools. The sum of $48.45 was sent to the Junior Red Cross director at Calgary. As the total amount for Alberta is set at $15,000, the Mannville school should feel proud that they contributed such a comparatively large sum.

Not so long ago diseases like smallpox, tuberculosis, diptheria, pneumonia and polio were the scourge of mankind. Now they are controllable.

There are some, like cancer, for which we still have no positive cure. But, if the diagnosis is early, in the majority of cases a normal life can be lived. Meanwhile research scientists feel that within a few years a cure will be discovered. More than forty new drugs are released for prescription use each month. Your physician knows their special values and will prescribe one of them for you if necessary.

Health Unit Notes

TUBERCULOSIS

Tuberculosis is caused by a germ, the tubercle bacillus. The infection more commonly occurs in the lungs though it can occur in other parts of the body, for instance, bones and joints. None of us would like to develop tuberculosis but it is comforting to know that it can be cured and more quickly in its early stages. Treatment usually takes at least six months but can be longer. It is much better to discover tuberculosis early, to be treated properly, and to get well as fast as possible. Almost all who die from this disease could live by finding their tuberculosis early and by having it treated correctly.

SYMPTOMS

Often the patient does not feel sick. A chest X-ray will discover tuberculosis early, when it can be cured more readily. Another mode of diagnosis is the tuberculin test, a simple skin test. In some cases symptoms such as lassitude, weight loss, loss of appetite, night sweats, raised body temperature, cough and spitting up blood occur. If you have these symptoms, seek the advice of your doctor. Your symptoms may not be those of tuberculosis but make sure.

HOW DO YOU CATCH TUBERCULOSIS?

It is not inherited but is got by (1) breathing air containing the tubercle bacillus, (2) by close contact with someone with active tuberculosis, (3) by putting objects in your mouth, which have not been sterilized after being used by someone who has active tuberculosis.

The most serious danger of infection comes from the person who has tuberculosis but does not know it and from the person who knows he has tuberculosis but will not follow his doctor's orders. You can develop the disease at any age.

VACCINATION

There is a vaccine called B.C.G. which affords some protection. In Canada, B.C.G. is used mainly in special groups where there is a special danger of developing the disease.

TREATMENT

1. REST — in hospital is practically essential.

2. GOOD FOOD — the important thing is a well balanced diet.

3. DRUGS — of which there are a good number. Streptomycin is an example.

4. SURGERY — in certain instances operations are advised.

AFTER CARE

A person who has had tuberculosis will always have to take good care of himself and have periodic check ups, but we should all do this. Usually he will be able to lead a normal life. These patients often get training in hospital so that they can find easier jobs when they get better and often this training helps them to get better jobs at more pay too.

PREVENTION OF T.B.

1. Keep in good general health. Eat a balanced diet. Get enough exercise, rest and sleep.

2. Have a chest X-ray and check up with your doctor every year.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD SCULPTURE GENIUS

Derita Poor, seven, has amazing talent as a sculptor, her teachers say. Louis Stern, assistant supervisor of art in Toronto schools came across Derita when her teacher Marion Scott recognized her ability and called for expert advice. Plasticine is her favorite but she has turned out work with paper mache, asbestos paste and regular sculpture clay. Derita's work has influenced other children in her class. Many have begun to create at higher age levels. Above Derita admires work she has already done. Horses, shown here, are her favorite and the best examples of her artistry.

Wildmere Women's Institute Notes

The Wildmere W.I. met at the home of Mrs. W. T. Garnett on May 4 with 11 members and one visitor present.

After the minutes and treasurer's report had been disposed of, the correspondence was read. A letter from Mrs. Percy Sloan, constituency convener announcing the date of the constituency conference as June 15 at the Vermilion School of Agriculture was read. Lunch is to be served at the Legion hall.

Miss Nancy Hooper, D.H.E. at Wainwright, hopes to visit the branch in September.

Mrs. A. M. Holte volunteered to make a scrap book of the history of the district, if every member would submit one true story that they remembered, with a picture, if possible.

An account was read of the spectacular animated sign to advertise Canada's travel attractions on New York's Times Square, which has been rented by the Canadian Government Travel Bureau for 13 weeks. The two-panel electronic sign, the only one of its kind in the world, measures 30x32 feet [illegible] and is located at the corner of 46th Street and Broadway. It is estimated more than a million people visit Times Square daily.

The purchase of the Adelaide Hoodless birthplace has now been completed. This interesting house and the [illegible] acres of land on which it stands is now the property of Federated Women's Institute of Canada. The biography of Adelaide Hoodless, the founder of the Women's Institute, is to be written by Marcus Van Steen of Brantford.

The branch resumed study of "Ageing is Everybody's Business", Section 4, which relates chiefly to living accommodation for older people. Roll call was "Name a Canadian woman and tell why she was famous".

Johnny Jump Up was won by Mrs. C. Cruthers. Next meeting will be held at Mrs. F. H. Gibson's home. Roll call: "How I would like to be remembered if I were a shut-in."

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Uniform Assessment Starts Of Major Industrial Plants

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON.—Initial work has started on the big job of carrying out a uniform assessment of major industrial plants, pipelines and power transmission lines.

The provincial government hopes the assessment can be completed by next fall so it can call a special session of the Legislature to bring in a revolutionary new financial deal for municipalities.

J. B. Laidlaw, provincial assessment commissioner, says preliminary discussions have already been held with representatives of a number of industrial plants, pipeline companies and power firms. More meetings are in the offing.

Lyle K. Dunsmore, formerly supervisor of the municipal affairs department's Lethbridge office, has been placed in charge of the industrial assessment. [illegible] M. Scott, former supervisor of the Red Deer office, is administering the pipeline and power line assessment. They can draw all the assistance they need from the department's staff of some sixty professional assessors.

Mr. Laidlaw says there's a good chance the assessment work can be completed by next fall, but he hastens to point out it's a mighty big job.

The government is anxious to get the work done, because the new financial deal hinges on its early completion.

[illegible] the government proposes is a redistribution of industrial tax revenue based on the uniform assessment. Net result in most cases would be a loss in revenue for rural areas, a gain for towns and cities.

To make up the loss to rural municipalities (counties and municipal districts) the government proposes to let them levy property taxes on power lines and pipelines.

A lot of detailed work must be done first, but the government hopes the Legislature can be called into session next fall to implement the taxing powers.

NEW HUTTERITE BOARD HOLDS FIRST HEARING

Alberta's newly appointed Hutterite central board held its first hearings last week at Fort Saskatchewan. Result — a Hutterite colony near the town was authorized to lease two quarter sections of land. The colony at Scotford, now holds 4,173 acres. The additional land will be leased for three years.

AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS

R. E. English who collects, analyzes and interprets statistics for the Alberta department of agriculture, has started his annual spring and summer job of gathering and publishing reports of crop conditions from district agriculturists throughout the province.

Last week he issued his first crop report of the season. And considering the black picture which ended the crop season last year, things this spring look fairly bright.

The report says farmers have been concerned mainly with the harvesting of last fall's unharvested crops. And thanks to a dry spring, the yield is better than had been expected. Naturally, there's been a drop in grades, but lack of rain is permitting farmers to harvest dry grain. At last reports it looked as though 75% to 80% of the crop would be salvaged.

Seeding will start soon, the report says, and soil moisture conditions are generally good. At the time of reporting, seeding varied from 25% in parts of the south to 5 and 10% in central and northern regions. Many farmers are just waiting to cultivate out the first crop of wild oats before they start seeding, says Mr. English, and in a week or so spring planting could become general.

SWAN HILLS NEW BOOM TOWN

Alberta's newest boom town is fairly quiet for the moment, but it should be booming before long, say officials of the municipal affairs department.

The new town in question is Swan Hills, 140 miles northwest of Edmonton, hub of the bustling Swan Hills oil field. The population currently stands at around 300, but officials estimate it will top 1,000 by the end of July.

Roads are impassable at the moment, but within a week or so they should be dry enough to permit travel. As soon as they are dry, crews will move in to begin construction of a hotel and shopping centre, and start work on the servicing of residential lots.

Development of the new town is being recorded on film by the provincial photographic branch. Shooting will continue for the next two years or so. The branch plans to turn out a 45-minute documentary showing how Alberta carves new, modern settlements out of the wilderness.

News from Tulliby Lake

Art Fayant is out on $2000 bail after being charged with manslaughter in the death of a middle-aged man in a brawl at Prince George, B.C., according to information recived here. No further details are available at the present time.

Mrs. Jim Elliot attended the convention in Edmonton for district health nurses, held during the week.

Maxine Belsheim is a member of the teen-age girls' choir at the Camrose Lutheran College. The choir was recently on a tour making personal appearances at various spots in Northern Alberta.

While in Calgary Mr. John Kay called on Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roberton. Bob has made a complete recovery from a stroke of a year ago while Carrie has been fortunate in having good health since leaving the district some 16 years ago. All the children live in or near Calgary with the exception of Johnny who is at Cold Lake and Jenny who is in Holland. Mr. and Mrs. Roberton expressed their intention to return here to look over the home place and to visit all their old friends.

The district was just nicely getting over the measles and the chicken pox when mumps and measles moved in. Myles Belsheim being a victim of the latter.

Murray Belsheim is coming along as well as can be expected with his foot condition.

On Sunday Leslie Barker a travelling representative of the Watchtower Society spoke on the subject "What It Means to be a Christian", at the Kingdom hall in Lloydminster. Following this a Bible study was conducted by Gordon Enns and Eddy Petras. Mrs. Mollie Behrens and Juvenile and Mrs. Christine Maas were in attendance.

Mr. Arthur Fortin Sr. moved his house down on Thursday to the little city.

Elwood McLean conducted an evangelistic gathering at Robert Chief's on Sunday.

After her return from the coast Mrs. Tom Belsheim was taken to hospital at Elk Point suffering with carbuncles.

The washout at Behrens' coulee has been filled in and flooding of the road from Dufresne Lake has been stopped so all the district roads are back to normal following the spring break-up.

New Bath Tub

A new fibre glass bath tub will not peel or chip since the finish is an integral part of the tub, the maker reports to The Financial Post. It's also stain-resistant and light-weight. A 4½ ft. tub weighs only 18 lbs. Nail polish, iodine, mercurochrome and similar stains are easily removed. The fibre glass construction means low heat loss of the bath water and absorption of bathroom noises. Also available is a fibre glass sink.

New Car and Old Garage

There will be more compact cars built next year and standard models will be slimmer and shorter, says The Financial Post.

The popularity of small European cars, and more recently of North American-made compact cars, wasn't all a matter of buying price and driving economy.

The truth is that no standard American type car built since 1955-56 will fit into a standard garage. And not everyone can afford to trade in an old garage every time the family trades in an old car.

Alberta Paintings Available for Exhibit

Twelve different exhibits of paintings by Alberta artists will go on tour throughout the province during the coming year it was announced this week by the Arts and Crafts Board of the Cultural Activities Branch of the Department of the Provincial Secretary.

These travelling exhibits are made of selections chosen from various artists' groups throughout the province and will include from 15 to 22 paintings each.

The displays will be available for display in such communities as request their exhibition. The cost of shipping and for crating the canvases will be borne by the Alberta government.

Requests for inclusion in the schedule of displays should be forwarded to [illegible], Arts and Crafts Supervisor, Department of the Provincial Secretary, [illegible].

Wheat Pool Distributes Dividends

Alberta farmers are now sharing in a $3,082,000 distribution being made by the Alberta Wheat Pool. This represents the patronage dividend on grain and seed delivered to Alberta Wheat Pool elevators during the 1958-59 crop season.

Cheques amounting to approximately $766,000 have been mailed out to Pool elevator agents who will make the distribution to some 30,000 members. The balance of the payment, amounting to $2,316,000, will be credited to the accounts of member patrons in the form of reserves.

On a per bushel basis, the patronage dividend is believed by Pool officials to be the largest ever distributed in this province. On wheat and flax it works out at 6⅓ cents a bushel, and for coarse grains 3 1/6 cents a bushel. About one-quarter is in cash.

There is no cash dividend on seed deliveries, but $19,000 is being credited in reserves to members who marketed seed through the Pool. This represents a dividend of from ½ to 2 per cent of the gross value of seed delivered, depending on the kind marketed.

The reserves represent the members' ownership in the organization. At present, reserves in the members' hands total $13,780,000.

This patronage dividend brings the total distributed by the Alberta Wheat Pool since its inception to $26,179,000. Of this amount $9,298,083 has been in cash and $16,881,014 in reserves. A substantial amount of these reserves has already been redeemed in cash as part of the Pool's plan of revolving the reserves so that at all times they will remain in the hands of operating farmers.

Last season the Alberta Wheat Pool handled 61,504,000 bushels of wheat and 15 million pounds of forage seed. Net earnings totalled $3,308,504.

New Prairie Crop

Commercial sunflower seed production is making an all-out bid in southern Alberta this year to become one of the region's all-important specialty crops, reports The Financial Post.

Acreages upwards of 100,000 acres are being discussed as contracting of this new crop continues with the farmers well on into spring.

Aluminum Bumpers?

Colored aluminum car bumpers?, asks The Financial Post which says: Aluminum companies are bidding hard for this big tonnage business. They claim the lighter metal is effective, doesn't suffer permanent deforming as easily as steel, can be anodized to desired colors. Aluminum bumpers could be extruded. This might mean Canadian production. Steel bumpers are mostly imported because of high die costs.

Grads Pledge $100,000 To University Residences

The campaign to relieve the critical need for student residences on the three campuses of the University of Alberta received a substantial boost over the week-end when University graduates pledged $100,000 from Alumni Fund payable at the rate of $10,000 a year contingent upon there being proven that a plan for the immediate erection of a residence or residences is available and acceptable.

The pledge was made at the 21st annual general meeting of the General Alumni Association held at the Banff School of Fine Arts on Saturday. A cheque for the first $10,000 was presented by Bruce Burgess, President of the Alumni Association 1959-60, to Dr Walter Johns, President of the University, who addressed the meeting.

There hasn't been a square foot of residence space built on the U. of A. campus in Edmonton since 1927. In 1959 only 750 out of some 5,800 students could be accommodated in official University residences.

In addition to the substantial support for the residences the alumni delegates representing many of the 21 U. of A. alumni branches across Canada unanimously accepted a recommendation to purchase and donate to the University the largest part of an extremely valuable collection, 1213 reels of microfilm of the "New York Times" for the period 1851 to 1938. Purchase of the complete index of the "Times", to be housed in the Rutherford Library on the Edmonton campus, would make it one of the best university research libraries in Canada.

The "Times" collection will be an invaluable asset for undergraduate and Ph.D. post-graduate study in the departments of history, political economy, education, commerce, and medicine.

Purchase of the "Times" was made from the Alumni [illegible] Membership Fund, a special [illegible] of almost $5,300 built up [illegible] last ten years from fees paid to the Alumni Association by interested graduates.

This year's $10,000 commitment for the [illegible] residence was drawn from the Alumni Fund, a voluntary annual program conducted by the U. of A. Alumni Association and inaugurated [illegible] to further [illegible] through helping to meet the needs of higher education on the three U. of A. campuses in Edmonton, Calgary, and Banff.

Centralized Traffic Control, a system designed to improve the safety and average speed of train operation was established on four more CNR subdivisions during 1959.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

[illegible] April was cool at times but fortunately we missed the snow. With the favorable weather the farmers were able to carry on their harvesting. This spring especially has been busy but very gratifying.

May 2nd 1959 we had around five inches of snow. This year just a light fall of snow on the morning of the 4th.

On April 28th Mrs. Evelyn Throndson accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C Sheppard, and Patsy of Kitscoty, to her cousin's wedding at Mirror. They returned home the next day. Mr and Mrs. Gus Throndson of town were at the Alvin Throndson home for the latter part of the week.

COUPLES' CLUB MEET

An enjoyable evening was had at the United Church hall on Apr 29th when the Couples' Club met. "Prejudice" was the theme of the devotional led by Frank Wilkinson. A poem, "A White Girl's Prayer", by Orley Omness, concerning the darker race. Mrs. Roebuck was the capable pianist for the old hymns led by Mrs. Samuelson. A show "The Gifted Ones", was very interesting and showed a class of girls and boys [illegible] knowledge of adults. Their discussion too fitted in very well with the theme. Lunch was served at the close.

The cancer show and lecture put on by the P.A. W.I. on the evening of April 30th at the community centre was very educational and interesting.

A hub cap from a Ford product was found by the Wendy Wilson children near the [illegible] centre. It is at their home east of the centre.

The week-end of May 1st Mr. and Mrs. Wendy Wilson and family motored to Rabbit Lake, Sask., to visit the latter's sister Mr and Mrs. John Paslo and sons.

Civil Defence Ex. Tocsin 60 was carried on through the day of May 3. For some "We learn from doing" so let us do more. It was a pleasure working with our director and others who were participating.

Mrs. Ivy Arnold accompanied the Baldwin family to Lloydminster on May 3 to attend the bull sale and grand old Opry in the evening. The cast was from her old home Nashville Tenn., and brought back old memories.

NEW STUDENT HOLDS CHURCH SERVICE

Church service on May 1st was conducted by Miss Anne Evans. Her theme was "The Majesty of God" and was a most enlightening service. Church will be at 11:30 a.m. every Sunday. Sunday school is at 7 p.m. on Wednesdays.

Mrs. Joy Dellman and daughter Helen will be missed from the Campbell Lake and Allandale districts. Joy has been an enthusiastic worker on the farm and in community affairs. We wish them every success in their future undertakings.

Mrs. Gertie Swanson from Elk Point has been visiting relatives in Vermilion. She later went to Kinsey to visit daughter Myrtle and Howard Robertson and family.

W.A. HOLDS JOINT MEETING

On the evening of May 5th the [illegible] W.A. met with the Allandale W.A. at the Mabel Nelson home. After each group dispensed with the business part of their meeting, Miss Anne Evans took the devotional. Her theme was "An Ideal Mother" depicting the love of a mother for her family, the many [illegible] and who looks to God for help and guidance. Mrs. Norma Laird, W. A. representative for Camp Whitney, spoke briefly of the need of leadership and financial support at the camp.

Mrs. Opal Cooper gave a very interesting report of the Calgary conference she attended in April, a delegate from the St. Paul United Presbytery. The W.A. is fortunate in having a member so willing to give of her time and to bring such a splendid report of the doings of the Women's Association.

Mrs. Mary Thompson, president of the Clandonald W.A., on behalf of that group, thanked the Allandale ladies for their kindness and hospitality. June meeting will be held in town at the home of Mr and Mrs. Wm. Armstrong. Lunch will be in charge of Mrs. Monsy McPhee and Mrs. Evelyn Throndson.

On the evening of Saturday, May 7th a light rain is falling steadily. Very welcome at this time of year.

Closing thought: "The clock of life is wound but once, and no man has the power to tell just when the hands will stop, at a late or early hour. NOW is the only time you own. Live, love, toil with a will. Place no faith in tomorrow, for the clock may then be still."

Joint Piano Recital Held on Saturday

MANNVILLE. — Mrs. George Younge was chairman on Saturday evening, May 7, when the pupils of Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. Frank Andrews, Miss Elaine Rea and Miss Lynn Kreller performed at a piano recital which was much enjoyed by parents and friends.

Interspersed with piano selections were several vocal numbers, adding to the evening's enjoyment.

Presentations were given to the teachers by their pupils at the conclusion of the recital, a token of appreciation for many long hours of work and patient guidance.

BOWTELL BULLETIN

Mr. Dixon and Mr. Gow are back from enjoying a long holiday in the States.

Visitors at the writer's home recently were Mr. and Mrs. G. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Knutson and family, Logan Gow and Cal McPherson. Come again folks.

The May meeting of the Leafers' club was held at the home of Mrs. Alice Walker. One visitor was present, Mrs. Mary Walker. The lucky draw was won by Mrs. Sherwood. Place of next gathering will be Miss Nellie Millar's.

Mr. and Mrs. McPherson visited Les and Rena at the farm on Sunday.

Miss Barbara McAleese was rushed to the hospital on Thursday from school for an appendectomy.

STOCKYARDS CLOSE

Many farmers in the Bowtell and surrounding districts are very sorry to see the closing of the stockyards at Borradaile.

Mr. and Mrs. Knutson, Harold and Maybelle, were visitors to Edmonton on Tuesday.

Quite a number of trees are being planted on the farms of H. Wulf and Jim Repp.

Edgar Williams was noticed combining for Jim Miller.

Miss Margaret Robinson spent the week-end with Miss I. Anderson of town.

Cadet Corps Undergoes First Inspection

The Vermilion Cadet Corps underwent their first official inspection on Tuesday, May 10th, when Major K. F. Wakefield and his party of the L.E.R., Edmonton, visited for that purpose. The Cadets under the command of Sgt. Tony Dixon and Cpl. Walter Brower gave practical demonstrations of ceremonial drill, first aid and signals. Adding considerably to the inspection was the playing of the Pipe Band of "A" Coy., L.E.R.

Shown in the photo during the inspection are Sgt. Tony Dixon, Major K. F. Wakefield, and immediately behind Major Wakefield is Lieut. Donald, Army Cadet officer for the Alberta area. Other members of the inspection party were Capt. Jim Kaiser, chief instructor of the Vermilion army cadets, and Ashley H. Cooper, M.L.A.

Plebiscite June 10 To Decide Grant For Recreational Centre

Ratepayers of Vermilion have the opportunity to obtain a modern recreational centre costing $224,000.00, for less than half that price. The opportunity is here today in the way of substantial grants totalling $122,400.00 from munificent Dominion and Provincial governments. The opportunity might easily be gone tomorrow.

A plebiscite to be taken on Friday, June 10th will decide if the Town of Vermilion can make a grant of [illegible] toward the establishment of the proposed recreational centre. A straight majority decides the issue. The money is to be taken from surplus town funds available and in no way is a charge on the town ratepayers. The grant does not affect the tax rate. The town is in the fortunate position of having the funds available, a surplus built up over years of careful management.

It is felt that within a few years the present arena, now thirty-three years old, will be in need of rebuilding for safety's sake, if for no other reason.

At the present time grants to a maximum of $100,000 are available towards construction of agricultural buildings on fair grounds, a further $22,400 is available for recreational purposes from the provincial government under the five-year plan. It seems the logical time to take advantage of both grants, to have town and Agricultural society co-operate, and to build a centre on the fair grounds of which the maximum use can be made as an arena in the winter, for an exhibition building at fair time, and with waiting rooms available all the year long for agricultural and other meetings 4-H club work and gatherings in general.

With $122,400 available by way of grants, $80,000 voted by the town for a total of $182,400, still leaves a gap of some $30,000 in order to reach the estimated cost of $224,000 of the recreational centre. Service clubs have undertaken to channel all of their efforts to this objective, admittedly a big one.

Should the plebiscite pass, the project will be proceeded with immediately. Should the people of Vermilion vote against the $80,000 grant, the gap between $122,400 and cost of the new arena centre would be too great to bridge and the opportunity to secure a needed and desirable recreational centre will be lost, . . . OPPORTUNITY SUCH AS THIS, KNOCKS BUT ONCE.

Pony and Little Leaguers, Men's and Ladies' Teams To See Ball Action on May 23rd

All that is needed now is the co-operation of the weather man to witness a top-notch fastball and baseball tournament in the Vermilion athletic park on Victoria Day, Monday, May 23rd. A great variety of ball will be offered, including Pony League and Little League baseballers, and ladies' and men's fastballers in action all day long.

In the Pony league division [illegible] Buffalo Coulee, Preston, Vermilion [illegible]. [illegible] Kinsmen, Vermilion Rotary, Preston and Buffalo Coulee will battle it out in the Little league tourney.

In the men's fastball, five teams had entered by Wednesday, so that it appears a full complement of eight teams will see action Monday.

Entries for the ladies' fastball were not numerous and only two [illegible].

Arrangements are complete — the ball park is in fine shape, and it is the best in the west to accommodate a large number of teams at the same time, with fine level playing surfaces and a nice green sward. Make it a point to spend the holiday at the ball tournaments in Vermilion.

An esteemed lady who has lived in Vermilion and district since 1930, Mrs. Myrtle Evelyne Davies, passed away at the Vermilion hospital on Monday, May 16, following a lengthy illness. She was 73 years of age.

Farm Delegation Interviews Minister On 'Snowball' Bonus

Arising from a recent widely signed petition a delegation from the Vermilion River and Minburn areas comprised of Wm. Garnett, Cecil Kennedy, Ernie Stuhl, Ralph Wilson and Ashley Cooper, M.L.A., interviewed the Hon. L. C. Halmrast, minister of agriculture, and the deputy minister, Mr. Robt. Putnam in Edmonton last Friday.

The delegation was well received and a two-hour discussion did much to clear away misunderstandings on both sides of the controversial [illegible] bonus payments. The members of the delegation cited inconsistencies in payments and pointed out that the remaining farmers who had not received payments were [illegible] qualified for the most part because of inconsistencies in PFA statements and [illegible] appraisals. As this was the only area subject to PFA inspections, and as the applications [illegible] municipalities in all other parts of the province were taken at their face value, it was asked that PFA statements be not considered and payments made on the basis of municipal applications. This request to [illegible] these farmers still on the [illegible] list.

[illegible] farm members of the delegation had received or were eligible for the bonus but spoke strongly on behalf of their neighbors who had been ruled ineligible due to inconsistencies between PFA and municipal applications.

The Minister promised to give due consideration to the request.

Retired Farmer Dies In Local Hospital

Joseph Farkash passed away in the Vermilion hospital on Monday, May 16, at the age of 63 years.

The late Mr. Farkash first came to this district in 1926. He farmed until 1957 at which time he retired and came to live in the town of Vermilion. He was an active member and supporter of the Farmers' Union.

He leaves to mourn his loss his loving widow, three sons, Mike, Joseph and George, all of Vermilion, two sisters and one brother in Hungary. There are eight grandchildren.

Rev. C. W. MacKay officiated at the funeral services held in the First United church, at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, May 19. Interment was in the Vermilion cemetery.

Snow and rain accounted for a total of exactly one inch of moisture last Friday and Saturday, while light showers have added another 11 this week. Last Friday 1.40 inches of snow fell and on Saturday 2.4 inches, also of snow fell, along with rain. Moisture conditions are now excellent and this Thursday promises some warm, bright growing weather. Trees and grass have progressed rapidly and grain is now showing through.

Vermilion Ghosts Start Ball Season

Checker Ghosts started the baseball season in winning form by taking both ends of a double header at Fabyan on Sunday, May 15, by 12 to 2 and 3 to 2 scores.

The first game was, as the score indicates, was Ghosts all the way as they grabbed the lead in the first inning and never looked back. Andy Bedford showing mid-season form, pitched a fine 2 hitter. This performance combined with a home run by George Cruthers, solid hitting and fielding by the rest of the club proved to be too much for the Fabyan team.

The second game was a pitchers' battle all the way as both teams many times left runners stranded on the bases. Fabyan had the tieing run on third, with nobody out in the ninth, but he was put out at home plate and the next two batters were retired in order.

If these first two games are any indication the local fans are in for a fine season of softball. The Ghosts are not in a league this year, but they are making an effort to get some of the best teams in northeastern Alberta for exhibition games. Ghosts have some added strength this year with the addition of three or four new players and it looks as though this could be the year of a provincial championship.

Kinsmen Organize Pedal-Pushers Club for School Children

At the annual meeting of the Vermilion Kinsmen Club, held on Monday evening, May 16th, the final arrangements were made to organize a Pedal-pushers club in Vermilion.

The Pedal-pushers club is open to bicycle riders of school age. The purpose of the organization is the instruction of young bicycle riders in traffic and safety rules. The Kinsmen committee in charge of the project is composed of Bill Flechuk, Corp. F. Morris, and Const. R. McDonald.

The first meeting of the Pedal-Pushers' club was held on Wednesday, May 18, and was devoted to organizational matters, with instruction and checking of the bicycles to make sure that they were in good safe running order.

It is hoped to have a total enrollment of about 30 members who will be divided into groups of approximately ten. There will be a series of seven lessons on traffic safety and rules.

A competition will be arranged to determine a winner who shows the best riding habits and knowledge, with an award of a brand new bicycle to the outstanding club member.

At the Monday meeting of the Kinsmen the final arrangements for the Sportsmen's banquet on Wednesday were made. There was also discussion concerning the proposed car raffle, proceeds of which are slated for donation to the Civic Centre project.

Peculiar Accident Kills Two Saddle Ponies and Two Calves

A peculiar accident on Sunday saw two saddle horses and two calves electrocuted by electric wires in the pasture of Mr. Dave Shields [illegible].

It appears that cattle in a neighboring pasture had rubbed against a guy wire supporting a pole in the Shields pasture. Constant scratching had loosened the wire and this caused the pole in the Shields pasture to fall over until the wires were close to the ground. The horses and calves came into contact with the live wires. The lines are part of Bill Bruce R.E.A.

Canadian Utilities who supply power to the area, have insurance coverage for even such strange accidents as this, so that Mr. Shields will be recompensed for his loss.

Vermilion To Continue Neatest Town -- If Citizens Do Their Bit

Preparations are well under way for a town-wide clean-up with pick-up day set for Wednesday, May 25. On this day a fleet of trucks will converge on every part of the town and carry away the debris and garbage. All the rubbish should be piled at the rear of each person's property, for easy access to the lane so that no time may be lost by the pick up men on their rounds.

Each and every householder and business proprietor is expected to clean up every bit of debris around their premises and any empty adjacent lots into and have it piled for the [illegible].

KEEP IT UP!

A speaker of national renown, Father Athol Murray, complimented the people of Vermilion during his address at the Sportsmen's banquet on Tuesday evening, on the clean tidy state of the town. Father Murray had not only travelled around the town by car, but on his arrival by plane had circled over it. His remarks coincide with the annual spring clean up, tidy up and paint up campaign, sponsored each year by the Board of Trade with the co-operation of the Town Council.

The writer has heard this same remark numerous times from visitors, "What a clean, neat town you have." It takes effort and care to keep it this way, and it is absolutely necessary that every householder and every business man do his share. Besides seeing that lanes are clean and boulevards attractive, every property owner should look at his buildings with a critical eye, to see if a coat of paint would improve house, fence or garage.

Don't stop at just doing the obvious. Go a little beyond that point — and further enhance Vermilion's reputation as clean, tidy, neat town. Such a town is a standing invitation to people to come and live here.

"Payment," Not "Subsidy"

It has been drawn to the attention of the Standard that an item announcing the interim payment on the 1958-59 wheat pool by the Canadian Wheat Board, was mistakenly referred to as a subsidy in the heading. This was, of course, incorrect, as was amply borne out by reading the item, wherein the word "payment" was used four times with "subsidy" never appearing apart from the head.

Just in case anyone is interested in how slips occur in the type, the original heading on this item was "INTERIM PAYMENT SET." In picking a bold type for a heading it was found that the word "Payment" would not go into the narrow one column space available. The typesetter, who would have no actual knowledge of the contents of the item, searched for an alternate word, and in this case came up with "Subsidy" which fitted for size but not for meaning. Thus quite innocently can a slip be made. "Subsidy" was decidedly the wrong word in this case.

Learn the Rules of Water Safety

During the coming holiday week-end it is safe to predict that some Albertan will make the headlines as a drowning fatality. With an increasing number of Canadians "taking to the water" for recreational activity during the summer months drowning tragedies are vieing with highway casualties for the front pages of our newspapers.

More and more, boating is becoming a pleasurable pastime for holiday-goers in Alberta . . . a pastime that is resulting in costly loss of life. Last year boating accidents took the lives of 15 Albertans. Most of these victims drowned during two holiday week-ends. Most of these tragedies could have been averted if the victims had learned and practised the rules of water safety.

Red Cross Water Safety officials urge holiday-goers to be "Water Wise" this summer and list the following rules to ensure "Fun without Fatalities":

FOR SAFE BOATING

DON'T go out in small boats unless you are a strong swimmer or are wearing a life jacket; DON'T overload boats; DON'T use a boat that is not seaworthy; DON'T go boating in stormy weather; DON'T stand up in a boat or canoe; DON'T change places in a small boat; DON'T leave boat if it capsizes, cling to it until rescued; DON'T shoot rapids; DON'T use home-made rafts or logs as boats; DON'T endanger your life and that of your passengers by "show-off" tactics.

FOR SAFE SWIMMING

DON'T swim alone; DON'T swim at unsupervised swimming places; DON'T dive into unknown waters; DON'T swim for at least two hours after eating; DON'T swim when overheated; DON'T swim when overtired; DON'T swim too far from shore; DON'T swim after dark unless familiar with swimming area; DON'T "duck" or push bathers into water . . . PLAYFULNESS MAY COST A LIFE.

Oil Field Workers Practise First Aid Requirements

Safety and first aid requirements peculiar to oil field truck operations were discussed in a recent week-long clinic held at Edmonton. The clinic, jointly sponsored by the Alberta Workmen's Compensation Board and the Alberta Motor Transport Association, was attended by 72 drivers from the Edmonton area. A similar clinic was recently held at Calgary.

A considerable portion of the time was devoted to practical first aid instruction by safety supervisors of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

A particular hazard to anyone working near an oil drilling site is the presence of hydrogen disulphide gas. The vapor, which has a characteristic "rotten egg" odor is deadly in very minute quantities. The proper method of rescuing and reviving a person exposed to the gas was demonstrated by first aid instructors and safety equipment supply companies.

Several oil field hauling firms presented demonstrations of the proper way to handle equipment. These included a tu-box loading demonstration and instruction in the use of a gin pole. The supervisor of the Electrical Protection Branch of the Department of Labor discussed power line hazards.

Certificates of attendance were presented to the oil field truckers upon completion of the clinic.

The first safety clinic for oil field haulers was conducted in [illegible] under the direction of the Workmen's Compensation Board. The attendance this year was the highest of all clinics.

The United church at Elk Point was totally destroyed by fire on May 16. The church was being used as a school until the new school building is erected.

START THE DAY RIGHT:

Nobody, man woman, or child, active or sedentary—can afford to go without, or settle for a too skimpy breakfast. Many doctors feel that breakfast is the most important meal of the day. Children will be more alert and active in school, workers will attack their jobs with more vigor, and weight - watchers will find it much easier to stick to their diets, if they start the day with a good breakfast.

WHAT WILL I GIVE THEM?

The ideal breakfast includes fruit, bread or cereal, a protein food such as egg or meat and milk.

Vary the fruit course for a better breakfast. Besides juices, oranges or grapefruit serve bananas and orange sections. How about trying out the occasional baked apple on your family? These could be baked at supper time the night before and served cold. Berries in season are also a welcome addition to the breakfast menu. Why not serve a tomato slice or a pineapple slice to accompany eggs or bacon?

CEREAL:

To dress up any cereal hot or cold: brown sugar, a drizzle of honey or maple syrup or try a sprinkle of fruit flavored gelatin straight from the package.

TOAST OR A REPLACEMENT

In place of toast some morning serve some type of muffins: bran, date, plain English or corn muffins. Now and then serve pancakes, waffles or French toast for a variety. To add glamor to breakfast some Sunday morning bake and serve a fruit filled coffee cake or a quick coffee cake.

THE MAIN COURSE:

This can be any one of a number of combinations, but with many families part of this combination is eggs. Achieving variety in the breakfast menu is just as important as getting it in the lunch or supper menus. Serve eggs in different ways: poached, scrambled, fried, boiled or just as an omelet (plain or filled). Link sausages go well with French toast. Have you served small sausages with cinnamon apples or a sausage ring filled with scrambled eggs? For recipes write or phone this office.

Elephant: an animal occurring in one of three colors, depending on whether you are on safari, a church committee or a week-end party.

M. D. Qualifies For Relief Aid

The municipal district of Vermilion River in east central Alberta has become the only municipality to come under the provisions of the Agriculture Relief Advances Act this year.

Field Crops Supervisor A. M. Wilson said this week that the district has experienced full or partial crop failures for two or three years. The cabinet Tuesday authorized $30,000 for loans to farmers under the act.

This enables farmers to obtain feed, seed or fodder as required. The provisions of the act are administered by the municipal government. Last year some sections of the Peace River country needed aid under the act.

Father Nearing Addresses Graduands At Clandonald Separate High School

Graduation exercises at the Separate High school which is under the direction of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Peterborough, were held last Thursday with a graduation class of five students, John Convey, Barbara Campbell, Gail Goddard, Joan Leslie and Gloria Nowakowski.

In referring to their smallness of number, Father C. Nearing who addressed the graduands, said: "Though your number is small we make no apologies" He pointed out that this very circumstance in the school allowed for the catering by their teachers to their individual differences and provided for the personal help they were given by teachers who possessed qualifications and certification comparable to those in any Alberta high school. "You have without exception, been given equal opportunity to realize your potentialities here at Clandonald High" he told them "and just because your number is small you have enjoyed an intimacy with fellow students and teachers not enjoyed in the city - factorytype schools where such is not the case".

The program opened with the Processional, "Land of Hope and Glory", rendered by the school choral group. Art Lawrence, chairman of the school board, congratulated the students for their perseverance thus far and wished them success in their forthcoming examinations. Pat Convey, secretary to the board, presented the graduands with token diplomas.

Miss Gloria Nowakowski read the Salutatory, Miss Barbara Campbell the Valedictory and Miss Eileen Logan delivered a most entertaining "School Prophecy". A school play "The Brass Tea Kettle on the Rocks", featuring Patsy Theissen, Anna Leslie, Marvin Waltz, Marie Campbell, Anthony Lawrence and Elden Ripka, was very well received by the audience of about two hundred parents and friends of the graduands.

A club swinging demonstration and various numbers rendered by the school choral group made for a well balanced program.

In his address to the graduands, Father Nearing encouraged them to live up to the ideals which their parents and teachers have tried to inculcate in them and told them that their parents and teachers would be disappointed in them if by now they were not fired with the ambition to perfect themselves scholastically through higher studies. He encouraged them to go on to university and equip themselves with a wider and deeper knowledge and training befitting the role they were expected to fulfill in society.

The students' graduation dance was held on Friday night in Columbia hall and despite inclement weather, was attended by a large number of young people who enjoyed the music provided by the Williams' orchestra of Vermilion.

Terrilyn Brydon moved the meeting's adjournment which concluded a profitable evening and the Singing of Taps provided a fitting ending.

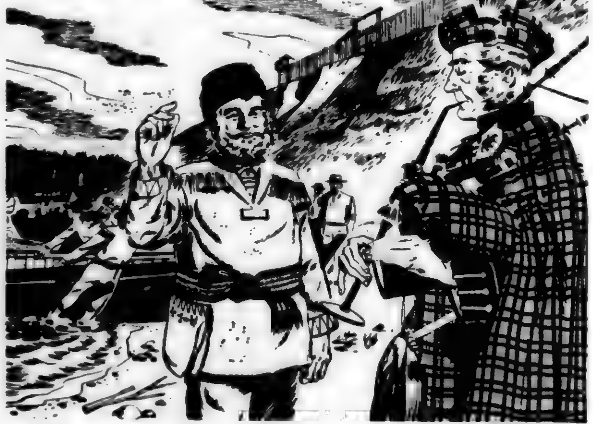
A Salute to Alberta's Scottish-Born Pioneers



Piping ashore Saskatchewan River fur brigades at Fort Edmonton – about 1840.

Historical data by courtesy of The Glenbow Foundation.

Prominent among many nationalities whose colorful history and significant accomplishment has added lustre and character to the tapestry of Alberta's development are the Scots. Proud, rugged, fearless, these men brought the advance guard of civilization to the land at the foot of the Rockies as early as the 1700's, as explorers and fur traders.

Beside the river highways on which they penetrated the wilderness, they established their trading posts, Fort Edmonton, Rocky Mountain House, Fort Dunvegan, Chesterfield House, Vermilion, Assiniboine, White Earth, Jasper House, and a dozen others. Here, proudly retaining the dress, language and customs of their native Scotland, they worked—alone and lonely—in the great North West to build the beginning of a way of life we enjoy today.

The Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. Ltd.—itself a pioneer in Alberta—is proud to salute the first Alberta pioneers, the Scottish explorers and fur traders.

Farewell Party Held For Buffalo Coulee Students

Last Friday evening the Buffalo Coulee gym, beautifully decorated in the theme of "The Desert Song", by the grade nine class, was the setting for the farewell party for the B.C. grade ten students. The background for the stage was a desert scene with beige and brown streamers, cacti and numerous colored balloons effectively used throughout the rest of the gym. The honored guests were Catherine Barlow, Robert Cameron, Lyla Eyben, Grant Haverslew, Ronnie Kennedy, Laurena May, Lenore McInnis and Alayne Stone.

Mr. Juslow, principal of the school, acted as chairman. Miss Betty Marfleet sang the theme "Desert Song".

Greetings were extended on behalf of the local board by Tom Smith, the Vegreville School Divisional Board by Albert Minton, the Home and School by Mrs. Ken Kennedy, and Rex Cunningham of grade nine the farewell message to their fellow students who will be leaving the school.

Mr S. Pagee, student minister gave a very inspiring address, with much food for thought for the young people. Mr. Jack Bauman, former principal, as guest speaker, gave the students some good advice on how to adjust to what will be their new environment in a different school next year. Miss Jean Kochan presented the grade tens with their B.C. pennants. Robert Cameron was valedictorian for the grade ten class and gave a short but well delivered message. A chorus by the girls, "It's Just a Little Street", concluded the ceremonies.

Weaver's Orchestra of Mannville provided peppy music to which young and old danced until the wee small hours. Lunch was served at midnight by the grade nine students who, all in all, provided a very pleasant evening which the departing students will always remember.

Mission Convention At Alliance Chapel

The annual Foreign Missions Convention of the Alliance Chapel will be held from Tuesday, May 23rd to and including Sunday, May 29th, with Mrs. George Klein as guest missionary speaker. Mrs. Klein accompanied her husband the Rev. George Klein for the past four terms (20 years) in missionary work in Gabon.

Mrs. Klein has with her curios, native costumes and colored slides which will be used during the meeting.

The final services on Sunday, May 29th will be conducted by Rev. and Mrs. Henry Miller, a former Pastor of the Alliance Chapel, Vermilion and soon to return to the Mission field in Ecuador, S.A.

As a result of the united efforts of these and other missionary couples today there are in the Gabon Church 1200 members, 54 evangelists and 8 pastors. Eleven children, ages 10 - 16, recently confessed their sins and took stand for Christ in a Sunday school class as a result of a Bible class held daily for school children.

Today's Surplus Tomorrow's Shortage

An Alberta Department of Agriculture Economist, C.H. Perries, stated recently that a potential population increase coupled with sustaining strength in the industrial and business economy of Canada will demand for food in excess of what is being currently produced. Mr. Perries added that it would be an error to allow the present surplus situation to influence our thinking from a long term point of view.

Recalling the Gordon Commission Report, concerning the prospects for Canadian agriculture by 1980, he pointed out that the consumption of some of the major foods by that year will have increased by approximately the following amounts: Potatoes 30 per cent, cereals 40 per cent, dairy products 60 per cent, poultry meat 110 per cent, red meats 110 per cent and eggs 125 per cent. To meet these requirements it will be necessary to double the present numbers of hogs and beef cattle. There will also have to be a one-third increase in the dairy cow population and a ten per cent increase in the present poultry production. The money invested in a farm business in 1980 will be approximately double today's figures.

In order to meet and cope with the adjustments that will be necessary at the individual level, a producer must take a critical look at this over-all farm business now, if he hopes to remain in farming at a standard above the subsistence level, says Mr. Perries. A complete set of records are necessary prior to any attempt at an adequate and worthwhile analysis of the business. Some farmers have found it advantageous to belong to a Farm Management Association where they can discuss the various aspects of farm business management. The business approach with sound long-term planning is rapidly taking the place of the old "way of life" outlook.

New 4-H Club Appointment

Appointment of Stuart David Fraser to the position of Assistant Supervisor of 4-H Clubs was announced recently by Honourable L. C. Halmrast, Minister of Agriculture.

Mr Fraser, who was born and raised in the Clyde district, obtained his senior matriculation in the Westlock High School and his B. A. degree in Agriculture from the University of Alberta. He was employed last summer as assistant district agriculturist at Ponoka and was previously engaged in crop ecology studies.

Mannville Auxiliary Entertain Girls From Frog Lake

MANNVILLE. — On Tuesday, May 10th the Mannville Girls' Auxiliary entertained Rev. Ray Clennett and six Indian girls from Frog Lake Mission at a supper meeting. The Frog Lake girls are planning to form a group, so particular care was taken to observe procedure of the meeting.

Following a hearty supper, the meeting began with a short service of worship. After this old and new business was brought before the chair. It was unanimously decided to make a donation of $5, through the channels of the Happy Hour W. A., of which G.A. is the Auxiliary, to Christ Church vestry for their 'slave donation'. Gift to missionaries was brought before the meeting, as the president, Janet Laidler reminded the girls this was necessary to complete requirements for the Dorcas badge. Following closing of the business meeting by Rev. Clennett, a 'stunt' was introduced by the leader, including Mannville and Frog Lake girls. Games were enjoyed to the utmost, and following serving of lunch, a tired but happy group decided entertaining was fun. The season's wind-up meeting will take the form of a picnic at a lake.

For Men's Wear

GREAT MOMENTS from Canadian history are being recreated for motion picture cameras at the National Film Board studios in Montreal. One of these, shown above, is a re-enactment of the scene when Lord Elgin, in 1849, faced a delegation headed by Sir Allan MacNab, protesting over the Rebellion Losses Bill. It was an event which led to responsible government in Canada. The National Film Board plans to produce a series of twelve half-hour films about the men who shaped Canada's history.

W. A. To Cater At Mannville School Graduation Banquet

MANNVILLE. Twelve members of Happy Hour W.A. met at the home of Nancy Coxford on Thursday, May 12. President Betty Forsyth led the devotional period with opening prayers, after which Nancy Coxford led the alternate verses of the Litany. The Educational secretary, Edith Johnstone, gave a most informative account of the chapter "Impact of Industry and City Life", taken from the study of Africa, where there is great need for trained labor in small towns as well as cities.

Overture Association Starts Membership Drive

A membership campaign for the 1960-61 season is being conducted by the Lloydminster Overture Concert Association which will continue to May 23.

This will be the fourth season for the Association. Already two outstanding attractions have been booked for the concert programs of next winter. One is the Canadian Opera Company, to bring the production "The Merry Wives of Windsor", a comic opera by Nicolai, to be given in English. The other will be the famous Hart House orchestra with Boyd Neel as conductor. Both of these have been subsidized by the Canadian Arts Council.

Last winter the Association gave four concerts for members and it is hoped that next season will have an equal number. For Vermilion the membership campaign headquarters will be in the Checker Transport office, and all former members and those wishing to join the Association for the first time may place their subscriptions there, or may contact any one of the following canvassers: Mrs. Ross Boake, W Fred Stewart, H. A. Brown, Tom Watts, Miss Eleanor Evans, Miss K. Fulcher.

There was a total of some 700 members in the Association last year and an even larger enrolment is expected for this season.

Many of the artists performing for the Association are on world-wide tours. It is fortunate for residents of this area to have the opportunity to attend concerts of such a high calibre.

A meeting will be held at the home of James McGaughey, Vermilion, at 8 p.m., May 20 to make transportation arrangements. All members who intend to drive to the Lloydminster concerts and who have room for extra passengers, and those members who do not have transportation, are invited to attend.

Scene from "The Merry Wives of Windsor", one of the programs booked by the Lloydminster Overture Concert Association for the coming season.

Forsaking Africa

Africa's troubles are driving frightened mining profits into Canada, says Frank Kaplan in the Financial Post.

Underneath the calm of a dormant Bay St.—the Toronto centre of Canadian mining finance—emissaries of Africa's riches in diamonds, gold, copper, uranium and many other investments are looking for investment bets. The latest to catch their eye: The giant [illegible] Mines organization, [illegible] powerhouse in copper [illegible].

Girls Group Completes Eight Months of Activity

As a happy ending to eight months of activity, the Explorer Group held a party in the United Church hall on May 9th. Originally planned as a hike, the affair had to be held indoors due to the weather. Nevertheless, the girls had fun with games, singing, and a bountiful lunch.

On May 2nd the Explorers held their affiliation service with the W.M.S. and to which the mothers were invited. The girls as usual started with Explorer purpose and hymn. The worship service was led by Anne Duncan, Chief Explorer, with Janie Heckbert and Helen taking part. Mrs. H. J. Clarke, Youth Representative, took part in the affiliation service, and received the money gift for which the W. M. S. president, Mrs. A. M. West, thanked the Explorers.

This completed the Missionary Exploration. The girls enjoyed stories from the book, "New Magic." Through it and the talks by Mrs. Clarke they have learned more about boys and girls in Africa.

The girls presented a brief program of songs and games. Mrs. Charles Heckbert presented the stars earned. A display of handicraft, accomplished during the year, was placed on a table for the mothers to see. Each mother was presented with a planted bulb. Mrs. Mervyn Hill thanked Mrs. Heckbert and Mrs. Ashley Cooper for their able leadership.

The leaders and the girls in turn thanked Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Muir for supplying and serving the lunch.

The girls held many Explorations during the year. These included a Thanksgiving one, in which the Explorers made place cards for the Thanksgiving dinner trays at the hospital. They also decorated the church for the Thanksgiving services.

Talks were given by the leaders on Being an Explorer and the attainment of the Star to wear on their blouses. During this Exploration a booklet, "My Explorer Diary" was made.

The Christmas project ended with a special meeting to which the mothers and the W. M. S. representative were invited. A special service of worship was given followed by games and lunch. The girls presented their mothers with Christmas corsages which they had made. They also had a gift for their dads. In January an enjoyable skating party was held, with members going back to Mrs. Cooper's for games and lunch.

The girls continued their missionary exploration with talks enjoyed from Mrs. MacKay and Mrs. Clarke. The members made the posters for the W. M. S. Valentine tea. They also made hospital bags, Easter place cards and spool toys for the Retarded school children.

All in all, during the year just passed, the members of the Explorers have benefitted by a program which combines education, recreation, inspiration and showed fine interest and co-operation and so have derived the maximum enjoyment and benefit from the Explorer program.

Diplomacy is the art of keeping cool.

Fresh For A Year

Lightweight, fresh tasting meats that will keep for a year without refrigeration, are reported by David Francis in The Financial Post.

They look like the original food, and taste like the original food, and scientists say, the process is revolutionary.

The method, known as vacuum freeze-drying, has been developed by the Defence Research Medical Laboratories, Toronto.

"KNOWLEDGE IS POWER"
—Author's name below—

Nowadays physicians have the power to perform seeming miracles. They prescribe medicines that can be depended upon to accomplish a definite result. This ability to cure has been gained by years of studying to learn the knowledge required to properly diagnose and treat sickness.

Yet, some door-to-door peddlers often presume to tell people the food supplements they sell will cure. Without medical knowledge such advice is worthless and even harmful. Don't be misled. Depend on your physician's advice and the really potent vitamins and medicines he will prescribe.

A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

ALLERGY

Allergy is a term which is becoming more and more a part of our everyday conversation. It simply means that some people are sensitive or react in a peculiar way to some common substance that doesn't affect the majority of us. We speak of these people as having an allergy or being allergic.

An allergy may exist to something that is eaten, or touched, or breathed in. In some a certain food will make the skin erupt in welts or hives. In others, unseen plant pollen or particles in the air will cause a stuffy running nose and red watery eyes. And in still others, contact with a particular cosmetic a piece of fur or other substance will bring on a skin rash.

In short, this special sensitivity or allergy may show up in a number of ways and while these conditions are seldom fatal, they can have serious effects. The victim often finds the reactions very distressing and uncomfortable, and in severe cases will be so disturbed that he can't work or play sleep or eat normally. As a result his general health suffers.

IT'S QUITE COMMON

Allergy is a fairly common occurrence, about ten per cent of the population is said to be subject to an allergy of one type or another. Fortunately, however modern medical science has made great progress both from the point of view of better understanding of these conditions and the development of new drugs and procedures for their treatment and control.

Heredity is believed to be an important factor in determining whether you have or will develop an allergy. Many sufferers come from families where the parents or other close relatives have been similarly afflicted. However, members of the same family who have inherited an allergic tendency may develop altogether different kinds of allergy or they may go through life without ever becoming victims. There are several types of allergy which may be encountered.

HAY FEVER

Where the nasal passages are affected, there is sneezing, a running nose and a feeling of stuffiness in the head. The eyes tend to water profusely and the nose and throat feel congested. This kind of allergy is called hay fever and is usually caused by the pollen of certain flowers, weeds or grasses. On inhalation, the membranes in the nose, tear ducts and eyes react to the pollen and an attack follows. This is characterized by repeated sneezing and an intense itching and watering of the eyes and nose. When pollen is the cause the hay fever is seasonal. Other [illegible] substance responsible.

[illegible]

The same [illegible] that cause hay fever may also bring on an allergic [illegible] the chest. When this part of the body is affected, the symptom is that of asthma, laboured breathing. With each breath there is a wheezing sound in the chest, the difficulty being not in getting air into the lungs but in breathing it out. Some foods such as eggs, fish or seafood may be responsible or it may be caused by the breathing in of fine particles of some sensitized substance such as feather particles, cosmetics, animal hair, house or barnyard dust or dust from freshly stuccoed walls. Again, some suffer from it when they develop head colds or bronchitis.

In some, the attack is very mild and only with increased activity does it become bothersome. In others, breathing is so distressing that they have to be propped up in bed or in a chair. The asthmatic type of attack is most common during the night, especially in cooler weather.

SKIN ALLERGY

Skin contact with a sensitizing agent may show reaction by way of an uncomfortable and unsightly rash. Blisters, scaliness, excessive dryness, cold sores, and so on, are all signs of the skin type of allergy and may be caused by contact with cosmetics, certain chemicals such as [illegible] dyes, fabrics, some plants and even dust and vapors.

Hives are itchy, raised spots on the skin, looking very much like large mosquito bites. They occur on the body, extremities and face usually as well-defined small lumps. Occasionally they group together each clump forming a giant hive. An intense itching is characteristic of hives. Ordinarily they do not last long, often disappearing just as rapidly as they appeared. Usually they are caused by some food, and like other causative agents, such foods should be avoided. A baking soda bath or local application of calamine lotion usually relieves the itching.

Another sign of skin allergy is eczema, an itchy eruption which may occur anywhere on the body but most commonly on the [illegible] cheeks, in the folds of the neck, in front of the elbows and behind the knees. It is one of the earliest forms of allergy to appear in a child and is frequently caused by woollen fabrics, especially angora, coming in contact with the skin. Other items frequently to blame are eggs, certain fruit juices and some cereals, oatmeal particularly.

When an allergy affects the intestinal tract, there is often constipation, flatulence, cramps, headache and sores around the mouth. Many varieties of food can be blamed, ranging through cereals, vegetables, fruits and nuts.

RCAF Rocket Meet Planned For Cold Lake

The fourth annual RCAF Air Defence Command rocket meet will be held at this northeastern Alberta airbase from May 28 to June 4. Teams from all nine Canadian-based CF 100 jet interceptor squadrons will be competing for the W.R. MacBrien Trophy, emblematic of aerial weapons supremacy in Air Defence Command.

The annual rocket meet is designed to increase the efficiency of air defence personnel by fostering inter-squadron competition.

In 1959, 433 Porcupine Squadron, based at RCAF Station North Bay, Ont., won three of the four awards in what is probably Canada's toughest shooting competition. They won the Vincent trophy for the highest scoring team of pilot and observer, the Eastern Air Defence Force for the most efficient groundcrew technical team as well as the all-embracing MacBrien Trophy. The Tyndell trophy, awarded to the best radar controller, was won by Flying Officer Douglas Law of RCAF Station Foymount, Ont.

Competing for these efficiency awards this year will be teams from 409 Night Hawk Squadron, Comox, B.C.; 414 Black Knight and 433 Porcupine Sqns., North Bay, Ont.; 410 Cougard and 428 Ghost Sqns., Ottawa, Ont.; 416 Lynx and 425 Alouette Sqns., St. Hubert, P.Q.; 413 Tusker and 432 Panther Sqns., Bagotville, P.Q. Each competing air defence team will consist of two all-weather CF-100 jet fighters with aircrews of pilots and observers, one radar controller from a radar site near home station and a technical support team that will be shared by the two squadrons from the same base.

LET IT BURN

A new compound prevents food and grease from sticking to kitchen utensils even when burned dry, reports The Financial Post. A frypan treated with the compound can be turned black yet can be wiped clean with warm soapy water immediately without the chore of soaking and scouring, maker says. It comes in a 5-ounce aerosol can and is simply sprayed on. Baked on at 400 degrees F. for about a hour, the coating will last from three to six months, the maker says.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Alberta Hopes For Decade Of Small Industry Development

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — After more than two decades marked by phenomenal development of primary industry, Alberta is going out after secondary industry.

Provincial Secretary A. R. Patrick, who also heads the department of industry and development, told a service club meeting in Edmonton last week that the government hopes to see "a decade of small industry."

Accordingly, the government's industrial development promotion campaign will be aimed at attracting the type of industry which can produce consumer goods from the raw materials available in the province.

At stake is a share of a multi-million-dollar western Canada market which is currently served by imported goods. Mr. Patrick said approximately $[illegible] worth of goods are shipped into western Canada annually from foreign countries alone. About $[illegible] worth comes into Alberta.

"We've got to do everything possible to get a good share of the western market," said the minister.

As for primary industry, major development still lies ahead in the natural gas field. But aside from that, said the minister, the biggest development in the future will be of secondary industries with which to take "a good bite" of the growing western market.

If things work out as the government hopes over the next decade, Alberta will be that much closer to a soundly diversified economy. As Mr. Patrick pointed out, Alberta will never have to face the conditions it did when agriculture was the only industry available to bear the brunt of the depression.

INTEREST HIGH IN OIL SANDS DEVELOPMENT

Uncertainty clouds the future of Alberta's fabulous Athabasca oil sands. Last week Great Canadian Oil Sands Ltd. applied to the oil and gas conservation board for a sands development permit, and unveiled plans for a $100,000,000 program.

Also in the running is a four-company group headed by the mammoth Cities Service Co., which has built a $3,500,000 pilot plant at Mildred Lake in the oil sands area.

The oil and gas conservation board must decide who will be permitted to develop the sands commercially, and indications are that only one company or group will be given the right.

Premier Manning told the last session of the Legislature that the government is anxious to have one company exploit the sands commercially to prove that it can be done. But at this point the government doesn't want any wholesale development of the sands because it might have a harmful effect on the oil industry as a whole.

With a glut of oil in the world market, the industry in Alberta is having it tough enough without the billions of barrels of crude oil in the oil sands suddenly becoming available.

At the same time, though, it is in everyone's interest to know that the oil sands can be developed when the need arises. In effect, the sands could be the oil industry's big ace in the hole. How long the ace will stay in the hole is anyone's guess.

[illegible]

Reports reaching the capital city indicate harvesting of last year's grain crop is practically completed and farmers will have to hustle to get this year's crop in. Rainfall late last week put a stop to operations in many areas, but at the time of writing the extent of the rainfall was not known. Agriculture department officials are sticking to their estimate that between 75 and 80 per cent of last year's crop was salvaged this spring.

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

TRACK MEET MAY 21

The Paradise Valley A.T.A. sub-local track meet will be held on Saturday, May 21 at Paradise Valley sports ground. The track events begin at 10 a.m. and ball games in the afternoon. The teachers and students would appreciate everyone coming and taking an interest in this school activity.

The Paradise Valley United Church W.A. met at the home of Mrs. W. A. Gunn on May 3rd at 8 p.m. with a good attendance. Mrs. F. Sirett was co-hostess. Mrs. Sirett the president was in the chair and Mrs. C. Ball led the devotional. Mrs. Deaville read the study on "Our Faith". Final plans were made for the annual strawberry tea and the bazaar which will be held in the church basement Thursday, May 19. A motion was passed that silk stockings be collected and left in the church basement to be sent to Korea as a missionary project. Next meeting will be held on June 7 at Mrs. R. Thibodeau's with Mrs. H. Deaville and Mrs. L. Knutson as hostesses. This will be at [illegible].

ATTEND 4-H RALLY

The leaders and members of the 4-H Clothing and Garden clubs attended the 4-H Rally at Wainwright on Saturday, May 7. This proved both educational and interesting.

The United Church local board met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon for the regular monthly meeting in the evening of May 12.

[illegible] who attended university this past [illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. M. Hoskins left by train from Wainwright for Ottawa on Thursday to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Forwell and family.

Mrs. Henrietta Smith spent a few days last week with her granddaughter Mrs. Jim Rogers and little great granddaughter in Lloydminster.

PLEASE TAKE NOTE

The drive for collection of used clothing for the Salvation Army in Lloydminster and sponsored by the P.V.W.A. will close on May 21.

FAMILY DAY SERVICE

The family day service at the United church on Sunday evening was well attended in spite of bad road conditions. Rev. W. I. MacDonald was missed on the program, bad roads preventing his appearance. Mrs. E. Kragness was the leader for the entire program. Mrs. J. Gordon read the scripture, Mrs. Gunn led in prayer and Mrs. C. Ball gave the story. All Sunday school classes had some part in the program.

In the 37 months of the Korean War, more than one million civilian people, men, women and children, were killed in South Korea. World Book Encyclopedia says the war caused more than one billion dollars' worth of damage throughout the Peninsula.

Forbes Forbe had bad luck with the tractor purchased just last week for $1200. Robert John was unloading rocks from a wagon when the tractor rolled unattended down a hill, damaging the machine extensively as it turned upside down in a deep ditch at the bottom.

Car Sales Up

Canada's automobile dealers sold more passenger cars January to March this year than in any previous first quarter in history, says Ralph Young in The Financial Post.

But sales of Canadian-produced cars were down slightly from same period of 1959 because British and European imports took 23.3 per cent of the total market compared to 19.6 per cent in the first quarter last year.

The domestic cars sold much more heavily, however, than in the first quarter of 1958 and about on a par with the same period in 1957.

Newspapers Said Top Advertising Media

PENTICTON B.C. (CP) — A panel discussion of arena managers agreed here that newspapers are the best media for advertising.

The majority of delegates from 16 communities to the annual convention of the British Columbia Arena Association agreed with the panel during discussion.

[illegible], manager of the Kelowna memorial arena, said a questionnaire was submitted to all customers at an ice show asking them where they learned of the event.

"The result was quite definite. Newspapers were way out front, radio was second and handbills and poster displays a poor third."

Uncontrolled Stubble Fire Destroys Rural Church

Fire losses in the province as a result of grass and stubble fires burning out of control have totalled several thousand dollars in recent weeks, according to A. E. Bridges, Alberta Fire Commissioner.

A rural church valued at $30,000 was destroyed by a stubble blaze at Linaria. The noon fire became uncontrollable and raged a quarter mile in one hour, to consume the building.

The day previous, a grass fire burned the Grace Children's Home at Dimsdale, near Grande Prairie.

In 1959 a grass fire touched off by sparks from a shaving burner threatened a large lumber yard and mill at Rocky Mountain House and resulted in loss of $82,000.

Mr Bridges commends the fire departments throughout the province who have developed a safe and sane program of zoning and trash disposal. The cooperation of the public, however, is the greatest deterrent to the annual loss. The grass fire started on a calm day may suddenly become a threat if the wind should change, or if a proper fire break and extinguishing equipment is not available.

Commissioner Bridges recommends that all persons intending to burn grass or stubble check with the local fire authorities before starting, keep plenty of water and wet sacks handy, and provide an adequate fire break. The evening is the best time for burning grass as there is less chance of a wind. The Fire Commissioner's Office cautions citizens from leaving grass or stubble fires which are not properly extinguished.

SPRAY WEEDS EARLY

Weeds, even when quite young, compete with the growing crop for plant food, moisture and light. Early treatment of weeds with chemicals is, therefore, recommended if maximum yields are to be obtained.

Plan to spray early using the type of chemical that is recommended.

Galaxy of Stars at Sportmen's Dinner Sponsored by Vermilion Kinsmen

A great galaxy of stars in the world of sport and sportsmen gathered at Vermilion on Tuesday evening at at the annual sportsmen's dinner sponsored by the Vermilion Kinsmen. The seven men featured here were the guest speakers for the occasion. They are, from left to right: Ezra NeWana from Johannesburg, South Africa, student at Notre Dame College, Wilcox, Sask.; Bud Poile, manager of the Edmonton Flyers; Rollie Miles of the Edmonton Eskimos football team; Father Athol Murray, a wonderful Canadian and a great sportsman, whose talk on Religion, Education and Sports proved an inspiration to the 160 in attendance, so much so that he was given a standing ovation at the conclusion of his address. Father Murray founded the Notre Dame college for boys at Wilcox, Sask. in the depth of the great depression of the '30s. Next in line is Hal Pawson, sports editor of the Edmonton Journal; Brent Macnab, Vermilion's gift to the Vancouver Canucks hockey team; and Don Chevrier, sports director for radio station CJCA.

Chairman for the occasion was Art Morgan, president of the Vermilion Kinsmen, the service club which has taken the initiative in raising funds for the proposed new civic centre. Other speakers were His Worship Mayor Hill, and Ashley Cooper, M.L.A. —Standard Staff Photo

23 Teams See Action In Ball Tournaments

Twenty-three fastball and baseball teams saw action a-plenty at the four tournaments played at the Vermilion ball park on Monday, May 23rd. The well-run event was sponsored by the Vermilion Ghosts fastball club. Attendance was well over the 600 mark, with another 200 players on the grounds as well.

HILLAS ELECTRIC WIN FEATURE

The feature tourney of the day, the men's fastball, was captured by the Hillas Electric team of Edmonton, who won the extra inning final from another Edmonton entry, Central Car Sales. The final score was 6 runs to 5. Third place went to Vermilion Ghosts and fourth to Cold Lake.

Other entries were Mundare, Irma, Sedgewick, Vermilion Ms. and Innisfree.

Vermilion Ghosts almost eliminated the eventual winners in the semi-finals only to suffer one disastrous inning when the Hillas Electric ran in 6 runs, winning the game 6-3.

EDMONTON TEAM WINS LADIES EVENT

An Edmonton team also swept through the ladies event winning the final from the Vermilion Cardinals.

Five teams competed with the Cardinals eliminating Dewberry, and Edmonton Diamond T's ousting Kitscoty. Diamond T's went on to defeat Lloydminster and this brought them against the Cardinals in the final which they won 14 to 4.

MANNVILLE BEST OF PONY LEAGUERS

Five teams of Pony Leaguers started out in quest of the prize money in this tournament, with the strong Mannville outfit, cutting a swath in their league, turning in four consecutive victories to cop the top prize. Buffalo Coulee were the runners up. Other teams playing were Vermilion Elks, Vermilion Foresters and Preston.

KINSMEN SPONSORED LITTLE LEAGUERS WIN

The Kinsmen annexed first prize in the Little League division, Rotary were second. Knights of Columbus and Preston lost the [illegible].

Addition of the Pony and Little League baseball added interest to the day, the competition was good in all divisions, and the weatherman co-operated wonderfully. It was a nice holiday feature and the Checker Ghosts are to be highly commended for sponsoring the event.

A PROUD MOMENT

It was a proud moment at the Kinsmen Sportsmen's banquet on Tuesday last for these two hockey players who were chosen as the most valuable players on their respective teams for the past season. Presenting the awards is Albert M. West of Craig Brothers. Shown from left to right are Mr. West, who presented Ken Brown with the Craig Bros. trophy. This trophy is presented annually to the most valuable player of the Vermilion Tigers. Ken, a goalie converted to a forward, had a banner year, climaxed in one game by scoring four goals and getting one assist.

On the right is Peter Link, burly defenceman of the Vermilion juvenile Bobcats who received the A. M. West individual trophy for his consistently brilliant play. Also seen in the picture is Bob Rowe, hard working secretary of the Kinsmen, who did a great amount of work in helping to organize the Sportsmen's dinner and program. It is quite obvious that Bob is pleased over the success of the event. —Standard Staff Photo

Taken by Surprise

REG IRELAND

The old adage that a man is never a hero in his own town was completely dispelled on Tuesday evening at the Sportsmen's banquet when tribute was paid to Reg Ireland, manager of the Vermilion Tigers, by the executive and members of the team. Bruce Anderson, captain of the Tigers, presented Reg with a beautiful silver tray in recognition of his winter long work as the Tiger manager. As Captain Anderson said, Reg was on the job all the time and certainly held the executive end of the team together. It was a nice gesture by the Tigers and really merited by Mr. Ireland.

Board Members Favor Name Change

After being known as Vermilion Board of Trade since 1906, members voted for a change of name to Chamber of Commerce. The ballot followed discussion, notice of motion—then on Wednesday a secret ballot was taken at the regular weekly dinner meeting. The result was 17 in favor of the change with 9 registering a desire to continue as a Board of Trade.

Some felt that under the name Board of Trade a very desirable and worth-while reputation had been achieved, while others thought that Board of Trade pertained to small centres, with Chamber of Commerce having an added prestige.

Considerable opposition was voiced regarding the change of the Greyhound Bus Depot away from the business section of the town. It was decided to approach the Greyhound officials and have them make an added effort to locate a suitable depot toward the town's centre. The committee has since obtained a central location for a bus depot which is being suggested to Greyhound for their consideration.

Following the decision members taking part in discussions on Wednesday were using Board of Trade and then correcting this to Chamber of Commerce. The official name is now Vermilion Chamber of Commerce.

FARM PURCHASE CREDIT ACT PROVES OF VALUE

An amendment to the Farm Purchase Credit Act at the recent session of the Legislative Assembly of Alberta provides for increase of the sum available from three million to six million dollars.

Assistance under the Act has proved of value towards establishment of Alberta young farmers and with the amount approved help can now be extended to a greater number of eligible applicants.

Under the original Act a purchaser's first payment was to be paid one year after the date of the execution of the Agreement and all subsequent payments on the same date in each following year. The amendment allows for the initial payment to be made at any time within the first year that is most convenient to the purchaser. Subsequent payments are then made annually on the same date as the first payment.

MECHANICAL DEFECTS DANGEROUS IN TRAFFIC

"The motorist," warns the Canadian Highway Safety Council, "is responsible for keeping his car in top condition." At least eight out of every 100 accidents can be directly charged to vehicle failure. Other accidents are indirectly caused by vehicle inefficiency. The Council urges all vehicle drivers to always be certain their cars or trucks are in safe operating condition.

To stress this, particularly in the spring when vehicles are emerging from a car-shaking winter, the Council sponsors a "Check Your Car Check Accidents" campaign from coast to coast in Canada. The drive will continue through May with active participation by provincial and community safety groups and industries. Police will assist in many areas.

W. Arch. Bryce, executive director of CHSC, points out that emphasis will be on a 10-point check-up: brakes, front and rear lights, steering, tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wiper, rear-view mirrors and horn.

The campaign coincides with a similar drive in the United States and receives wide and valuable co-operation from all public information media.

AN EXAMPLE TO ALL OF US

There's much wisdom in the thought that we can hardly appreciate anything unless we've experienced it ourselves. A good illustration of this is that every generation generally repeats many of the mistakes of the generation before. Experience is still the best teacher.

Consequently, it has taken the Eskimos of Frobisher Bay, on remote Baffin Island, to fully appreciate the plight of the world's refugees.

In presenting some of their finest handicrafts recently to the United Nations special representative in Canada for World Refugee Year (which later realized about $6,000 at auction in "the south") the Eskimos' spokesman said, "we know that the refugees are in need of food, shelter and warmth. In the past we have lived this way ourselves. This is why we wish to join many of our fellow-Canadians in helping the world's refugees."

It is in the same spirit of compassion for their fellowman that many folk who can afford the least often do the most for the many worthy causes which we are called upon to support. World Refugee Year is one of them.

A great deal is going on in our land to help. Many of us have "done our bit," and many are continuing to do so. But we also know that a good many haven't honestly put their best efforts in doing their part to help refugees through the World Refugee Year.

This is the first world-wide humanitarian year the world has ever known. There are only a few weeks left — it ends on June 30th.

We strongly urge all of our readers who have yet to lend their support to this humanitarian endeavor to take the Eskimo World Refugee Year contribution as their example and "join the movement" in the free world to give the refugees a chance.

You can support the World Refugee Year through your local WRY committee, your place of worship, or any of the 48-odd national sponsoring organizations of the Canadian Committee for World Refugee Year. The address of the national committee is: World Refugee Year, Box 590, Toronto 5, Ontario.

If the Eskimos, who live in a region devoid of any comforts as we know them, can take of their potential income to help the refugees, surely ALL Canadians in the south cannot afford to do less!

IT'S A FACT

The codfish lays a million eggs,
The little hen but one;
But the codfish doesn't cackle
When her little stunt is done.
And so we praise the artful hen,
The codfish we despise;
Which makes it plain to thoughtful men
It pays to advertise!

TOLLAND TOPICS

People may recall the story of the big fish caught by a Tolland fisherman in the Battle River, and how contrary to most fish stories the fisherman did not wish his name disclosed. The fisherman himself was on a recent trip to the north and stopped in at the Marshall Sharek store at [illegible] Edward. In the little store [illegible] two men who were admiring a picture of a big fish on a calendar. "Boy, how I would like to catch a big one like that" remarked one. The other answered by saying "Did you see the story of the big fish in the Standard that was caught by a fisherman who did not want his name revealed?" Lo and behold, the very fisherman was standing right there, exposed to the conversation.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ichea, Calgary, the former Kay Van Wageningen, on the birth of a daughter.

The April 27th meeting of Gentre-Watson Red Cross auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Thelma Sweeney with twelve members present along with six visitors. A large quilt and a crib quilt were quickly quilted, keeping pace with lively conversation and fun. Next meeting will be held on Thursday, June 2nd, skipping the busy month of May.

While riding in the [illegible] checking on their cattle earlier this spring, Keith and Leo Ly[illegible] came across a flat with several hundred rabbits altogether on the ground. It was quite a sight.

Quite welcome sights now also are the beautiful green foliage on trees, and the grass, almost as green as the Emerald Isle.

The student minister for the field this year is Mr. Russell Cristie who comes from Montreal. Mr. Cristie would be very pleased to meet you at church. Times for the services will be included in "With The Churches" column from now on.

A pear tree at the home of the writer has been blooming for a week now.

Former Vermilion Citizen Marks 95th Birthday

A pioneer of the Kitscoty district, James Steenson, of 12814 90 St., celebrated his 95th birthday Monday with a quiet family gathering at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Steenson first came to Alberta more than 50 years ago and settled in the Earlie district. Later they lived in Lloydminster and Vermilion before moving to Edmonton 11 years ago. A farmer Mr. Steenson was well-known in the surrounding district as a lay preacher in the early days.

The Steensons have two sons and one daughter in Edmonton and another daughter in Saskatoon.

Letters to the Editor

The Standard does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents

Dear Editor:

Re the plebiscite advertised in the Standard last week to be decided June 10, 1960 for a recreation centre at the Vermilion fair grounds.

We are informed that the town council through careful management has saved, or overcharged $60,000 in taxes and so can give this amount to the building of a recreation centre. In the same issue of the paper on page 6, section 1 advertising appears giving a synopsis of by-law 3-60 asking to be allowed to borrow $80,000 at 6% for additions to the water and sewer system, which should come first. There would be no need to borrow if our council spent this money for which it was intended when taxed.

We were informed by some of the promoters of this scheme at the senior citizens' meeting that $60,000 would not be more than six mills on the dollar added to our taxes which seems to be about the raise already on our tax notice this year. There is already a good arena which will last for years. Prosperity [illegible] not always last and the younger generation should not be burdened by having a heavy load hung on their necks by careless spending when building prices are at their peak, and the surrounding district is struggling with poor crops and low prices, from which the town draws its business.

While farm loans are being recommended through government agreements many are forced to accept this way of financing.

Is this way of financing what the ratepayers want? Do the ratepayers call this careful management of our affairs? Let the ratepayers speak with authority on June 10, 1960.

Ratepayer.

EDITOR'S NOTE
JUST TO CLEAR UP AN APPARENT MISUNDERSTANDING . . .

The $60,000 to be taken from surplus funds of the town has NOT been raised by taxes, but is from the sale of the publicly-owned electric light and power plant. Funds which have been kept in reserve since that time.

Whoever stated that the building of the civic centre would raise the taxes 6 mills was entirely in error because the building would not be a charge on the taxpayer — there are no debenture payments to meet, no interest to pay — the town makes the donation if the proprietary electors see fit, and that ends the financial obligation. The proposed civic centre will not raise our taxes. It just does not affect our [illegible] into the [illegible] picture in any shape or form.

SORGHUM ALMUM

An amendment to the Alberta Seed Dealers Act, now in effect, makes it illegal to sell Sorghum Almum grass in Alberta by direct selling methods without first obtaining a Seed dealers' license. Sorghum [illegible] was tested at most experimental farms in the prairies [illegible] and all reports showed [illegible] and millet [illegible] better results, yielding a [illegible] tonnage of forage than the Sorghum. In many [illegible] the growth of Sorghum [illegible] was so poor that weed encroachment [illegible].

PERFORMANCE TESTING

Breeders who would like to enter the Federal-Provincial Beef Cattle Performance Testing program this fall will have to fill out and return the applications to the Live Stock Branch by July 1, 1960. The brochures and the application forms are available from the D.A. office.

Both desirable and undesirable factors which affect beef production are highly heritable. Consequently the only sure way of selecting for these desirable features is through recordings of their performance during a test period. Performance testing does not disregard visual evaluation of cattle in the show ring, instead it is channelled to work hand in with record evaluation.

SPRUCE SPIDER MITE

Good control of the spruce spider mite can be obtained by spraying [illegible] the third week in May and again late in June or early July. Although any one of several spray materials is suitable, [illegible]

The latest recommendations on chemical weed control are now available from the Alberta Department of Agriculture. The publication entitled "Weed Control with Chemicals" deals with the uses of selective herbicides in controlling weeds in cereals, [illegible] and horticultural crops. [illegible] of this publication are available at the D.A. office.

DAIRY FIELD DAY

A Dairy Field Day is planned to be held at Vermilion School of Agriculture on June 22. The following topics will be dealt with: Artificial Insemination; Dairy Type; [illegible], and More Money from Cream.

Friendship Club Entertains Many Visitors at May Social

The May social of the Golden Age Friendship club, held in the Legion hall on the evening of May 18, was a tremendous success. Seventy-five members of the Vermilion club attended plus twenty-three visitors from the Marwayne Friendship club.

It was a memorable evening and could readily be termed a reunion, as so many of the Vermilion club met up with old friends, some of whom had not seen each other for over 32 years.

After the introductions and initial visiting, members played whist and cribbage. There were twenty-one tables of whist, 2 of cribbage and 6 members just wanted to visit. Winners of the whist were: Ladies' 1st, Mrs. Osterberg; 2nd, Miss H. Milburn; consolation, Mrs. W. Muir. Winners of the men's prizes were: 1st, Miss Alma Cameron; 2, Mr. O. H. Simpson; consolation, Mrs. Tuey. Crib winners were: Ladies' 1st, Mrs. J. Shaw; 2, Mrs. Skinner. Men: 1, Mr. Skinner; 2, Mr. Dudlyke.

The ladies' prizes for whist were generously donated by Mrs. Jim McLaughlin, and cribbage prizes were donated by Mr. and Mrs. W. Waldenberger.

The Golden Age Friendship club extends many thanks to the Vermilion Standard for the generous support and co-operation in bringing the club to the attention of all the senior citizens of this district.

After cribbage and whist, the ladies of the kitchen committee took over the task of lunch.

Mrs. W. Waldenberger and Mrs. W. Urquhart made the birthday cakes which were delicious and enjoyed by all — especially by the four members whose birthdays are in May, and who could only total 270 years.

WELCOME VISITORS

Following lunch, President W. Waldenberger spoke of this social as a great reunion, and remarked on the pleasure it had given everyone present to renew old acquaintances. He wished the Marwayne club every success for the future and invited members of their club to come again in September when the Vermilion club reopens activities with a pot luck supper.

In reply, Mr. J. Swan, secretary of the Marwayne Friendship club, thanked Mr. Waldenberger on behalf of his club for a most wonderful evening, and extended an invitation to the Vermilion club to attend their next social in Marwayne on Monday, June 13. This invitation was received with great enthusiasm. Mr. Swan went on to say what a great thing these friendship clubs are, and to emphasize this point read a short poem "How To Stay Young".

Any member of the Vermilion Golden Age club who would like to go to the Marwayne social in June is asked to please contact any one of the following: W. Waldenberger, phone 115; Carl Johnson, phone 170; Secretary P. Cross, phone 608, for information regarding the trip.

Not bread alone . . .

For those in trouble, The Salvation Army keeps an open door. In its hostels, havens, homes and hospitals, workers who understand the human heart know that bread alone is not enough.

While the body is cared for, the spirit is healed and uplifted by the message of hope. Men, women and children are "made whole", and shown the way to loving service of God and man.

In this work of mercy you can share. Your contribution will bring the glow of happiness to your heart.

The Bible Today

The Chuana [illegible] Bible was first published [illegible]. [illegible] years earlier the first [illegible] of Chuana New Testaments had been delivered to the Congo with the new missionary, David Livingstone, who had chosen to serve in Africa [illegible] the influence of Robert Moffat.

One day Robert Moffat was approached by a very worried native. Moffat asked him his trouble and the man said, "My dog has eaten one of the leaves out of my Bible". Moffat replied, "That is easy to repair. I will give you a new leaf to replace the other one." This failed to relieve the man's worry for he said, "No, that is not the worst thing. My dog will be of no use, as he will become as tame and kind as all the warriors have become since they read that book."

Over one hundred years have passed since this conversation and the Chuana Bible is still taming man's wild spirit.

Above is an artist's sketch of the new Recreational Centre proposed for Vermilion. Free grants totalling $122,400.00 are available from Dominion and Provincial governments toward the total cost of $224,000.00 for this civic centre. It would long remain a source of usefulness and pride to Vermilion and district people.

Decision for New Civic Centre Rests on Citizens

The Vermilion Agricultural Society has recently received word from Ottawa that their application for a major grant towards a fine new agricultural building has been accepted by the federal government. It is understood that the Town of Vermilion is soon to give the ratepayers an opportunity to say whether they are in agreement with the proposed building which will have the advantage of being a virtually all-purpose structure, suited to the needs of a growing community, and available throughout the year for many purposes other than those of our aggressive agricultural society programme.

TO SERVE WIDE AREA

There can be little doubt but that the town of Vermilion will, under ordinary circumstances, soon face the necessity of replacing the arena rink, built thirty-three years ago by community effort, and it is most unlikely that there will ever be a time in the future when major grants will again be available for a community centre which will serve not only the town of Vermilion but the entire Vermilion district.

GENEROUS GRANTS

The Government of Alberta has generously made provision for a recreation grant to be payable to Alberta communities under the five - year plan and Vermilion, with its present population will, it is understood, be entitled to about $62,400 from this source. The Council of the town, being farseeing and intensely interested in the development of activities among young and old, has equally as generously agreed to the provision of a very substantial sum of money towards the projected building. It is essential that the property owners of Vermilion express their agreement with this major project in a vote on June 10, when a plebiscite will be placed before them for their approval.

At the same time a by-law will require the approval of those owning property to provide for an essential extension of sewer services for the town and both plebiscite and by-law will indicate to the province and to the country at large the desire of the people of Vermilion to provide for a future that will mean so much to our people as time goes on.

NO ADDITIONAL TAXATION FOR CIVIC CENTRE

Funds which have been accumulated by the town over the years are available for the financing of the proposed Community Centre and Agricultural Extension building in company with the grant from the Dominion Government and the Provincial Recreation grant and every citizen is urged at this time to become familiar with the tremendous advantages which will come from the imaginative structure which is now envisioned. A magnificent impetus will be given to the future development of the agricultural exhibition with all its ramifications, the youth of the future will most definitely be served by having such a fine building in the town, cultural activities will be extended and there are very few citizens who will not be extremely well served by the addition to the community of this wonderful building.

NEVER AGAIN AVAILABLE

It should be impressed upon all citizens that the present opportunity with the major outside capital assistance will probably never again be available and it is hoped that all who are entitled to vote on June 10, when the money by-law for sewer extension and the plebiscite for the new building are presented for the decision of the people of the town, will inform themselves of the advantages which will be available to future generations in Vermilion.

SERVICE CLUBS TO HELP

A number of organizations in town have already signified their intention and desire of pressing forward in this vital matter and there is now only one thing to do and that is for EVERY ONE to get behind this worthwhile project and make sure that WE DON'T MISS THE BOAT for many far-reaching advantages.

Difference between men and boys? Just the cost of their toys.

"Y" for Youth — "Y" for YES

These prominent sports figures had one main theme for their after-dinner talks at the recent sportsmen's banquet. The theme was one close to all, namely "Assist our youth to assist themselves by providing a recreation centre in Vermilion. Vote Y for Yes on June 10th. In case you do not recognize them, the above personalities are, bottom to top left: Fr. Murray, Hal Pawson, Bud Polle and Don Chevrier. On top right we have Rollie Miles, and Vermilion's own gift to Vancouver Canucks, Brent Macnab.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Plan your vacation trip now — and it will be easier, more fun and less expensive.

Maybe you are puzzled about the kind of vacation you want — or where you want it. Read newspaper and magazine travel sections. Clip out the information you need. Send for the brochures advertised. Check your public library or local book store for publications on "where to go."

Would you like to try boating, fishing or camping? Visit a sportsman's show for ideas and free folders about where to go, what to take, and how [illegible] will cost.

Need help in planning your route? Automobile clubs and some oil companies such as my own company Shell — are glad to help. And don't forget your travel agent. You don't have to be going to Europe or South America to seek his advice.

Is the family divided on vacation goal? Have a conference. Chances are you can work out a compromise — a trip with something to please everyone. If you choose a spot near home, take off one week-end to "scout" the area. This can save precious [illegible] on.

And finally, make sure right now that your car has come through the winter O.K. and is in topnotch condition for vacation motoring. Your service station can give the go-ahead.

LIVESTOCK REPORT

Livestock receipts at the Vermilion Auction Mart Ltd. for Tuesday, May 24th were somewhat lower than previous weeks. This was due, no doubt, to the farmers being busy on the land. Next week however, listings to date are showing considerably more interest.

On offering were 120 hogs, 40 cattle plus some miscellaneous items.

Hog prices were generally somewhat stronger than previous weeks. Weaner hogs found a ready outlet with an average of $9.50 each. Feeder hogs, selling by the pound, went as high as $15.30 per cwt. Sows due to farrow within one month topped at $72.50 each.

Cattle prices were good. Not enough fat cattle on hand to test the market as a whole. Cows ranged from 14.50 to 15.80 cwt. Feeder steers $18.50 to $20.00. Veal sold as high as $28.00 cwt.

We anticipate a good sale this coming Tuesday with ready buyers on hand. Please contact us if you have any livestock for sale.

REGULAR SALES EVERY TUESDAY
Commencing at 1:00 p.m.

NEWS from ISLAY

Mr. Jim Allan celebrated his 80th birthday when a few of the neighbors called to bid him many more happy years and enjoyed tea with a lovely chiffon cake and ice cream, presented by Mrs. Sweet.

4-H ACHIEVEMENT DAY

The 4-H Food club held their Achievement Day program last Wednesday, May 18 in the evening. Miss Hooper [illegible] the work and after a program given by the girls, addressed the club, giving them constructive criticism regarding the work. The club presented the leaders, Mrs. Moncrieff and Mrs. Redmond, with gifts showing their appreciation of their leadership. Sandra Bell had made a very lovely cake as a door prize which was won by Mrs. Betty Shaw. Her number was drawn by Mr. Fleming of the Alberta Wheat Pool. He was noticed darting here and there with his flash camera taking shots. Some of these pictures may be used in his next winter's program. Last winter we recall his posters gave the audience much information re Wheat Pool workings.

When Mr. Bob Barvah and Mr. Jack Miller of Edmonton make a visit to Islay they will see a vast change on the corner property, once occupied first by Mr. Barvah and then by Mr. Miller. Better come down boys, this summer.

Don and Betty Martin and a friend were home for the week-end.

Mrs. Goodie of Victoria who has been visiting her daughter Mrs. Lyddon Buchanan, has returned home. On Sunday there was a family gathering at the Buchanan home, all the grandchildren with their children were there — five grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren, to see Mrs. Goodie. Pictures of four generations were taken.

Gideons Hold Northern Alberta Zone Rally in Edmonton

Northern Alberta zone Gideons met to elect a new leader during their two-day rally in Edmonton last week-end. They chose Hartley Sorenson of Vermilion. He is shown receiving congratulations from Ernie Wickens of Edmonton, retiring leader, and Bob Woodman (centre), of Calgary, a member of the Dominion cabinet of Gideons International.

There is a growing spirit of "religious bitterness" in the world today, Premier E. C. Manning said during an address at the windup service for the Gideons International, Northern Alberta zone two-day convention. He was speaking in Beulah Alliance Church, Edmonton, where the Gideons were able to explain their work of distributing 25,000 youth testaments each year in Alberta schools.

Mr. Manning, who himself is a Gideon, said many of the people who see the conditions of the world today often say "if there is a loving God, why does he permit this?" If Christianity is what you claim it to be why hasn't it long since removed these things causing distress, heartaches and fear?"

Even Christians become confused about these things," said the speaker. "Neither God nor Christ is to blame for man's trouble, in fact, it's the very opposite; the Bible says "every good and perfect gift comes from our Heavenly Father."

"There was no distress in the garden of Eden, but since sin entered the world, God has seen to it there is an open door of deliverance to the troubles man has brought upon himself. God provided the ark in time of the flood."

"And God provides a way out now," said Mr. Manning, and quoting John 3:16 explained that "he gave his only begotten son, [illegible] should not perish, but have everlasting life."

There is no question about God's ability or willingness to provide a solution to the world's problems. The reason they continue to exist is because of the reluctance of men and women to believe God will solve the problem if we turn it over to him.

Special speaker Sunday morning was Bob Woodman, Calgary, Southern Alberta zone leader, and member of Dominion cabinet. Addressing 150 persons at the supper banquet was Rev. Cyril Hutchison, principal of the Berean Bible College in Calgary.

Hartley Sorenson of Vermilion was elected Northern Alberta zone leader replacing Ernie Wickens, Edmonton. Chairman of all meetings was Ev Wickens, president of the Edmonton camp.

Gideon members attending came from Westlock, Leduc, Lacombe, Camrose, Stettler and Vermilion. Members' wives met for afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. Norman Spratt of Jasper Place.

In 1958 one-quarter of provincial governments' revenues came from gasoline taxes, vehicle registration and license fees and fines for traffic infractions. average taxation was $107 per vehicle.

Graduation Marked By Banquet At Marwayne

Nine grade 12 graduands from the Marwayne High school were honored by a banquet and dance on Friday, May 20. They were Jim Boothman, Gary Gardiner, Grace Hale, Peggy Hancock, Frank Mathison, Marjorie Mathison, Ronald McAfee, Jack Milne and Beverly Porter.

The hot turkey banquet was prepared by ladies of the Home and School Association and was served by the grade 11 girls in the Elks hall. Seventy-six guests were present including graduands, their parents, grandparents, school staff and honored guests.

The Invocation was delivered by Rev. Morris of the Alliance Tabernacle. The toast to the Queen was given by Mr. R. Peck, President of the Home and School Association, and chairman for the evening. Mayor W. Curts was then called on. He wished the graduands well on behalf of the village of Marwayne. Mr. Gardiner, principal, said he was doubly proud to have taught these students, and of having a son in the class. He gave a few words of advice and then introduced each one, telling what career they had chosen to follow. He also introduced the parents and grandparents present.

Greetings and good wishes from the Divisional board were brought by Mr. Jos Hale, who also has a daughter in the class.

Gary Gardiner, Valedictorian

Gary Gardiner very ably delivered the Valedictory address to which Mr. A. Hancock, the chairman of the local board, replied.

Mr. Blocksidge, superintendent of Vermilion School Division, was then called on for some remarks after which he introduced the speaker for the evening, Mr. Gordon Ross of Vermilion. Mr. Ross entitled his talk "Retrospect" in which he looked back in his life in the air force. He told several humorous stories, then went on to give everyone some very serious things to think about.

A large crowd of invited guests attended the dance in the beautifully decorated auditorium. The stage and walls were flowing with streamers and a flower bedecked "Wishing Well" centred the dance floor. Lunch was served at midnight by the Home and School Association. Music for the enjoyable affair was supplied by the Shags of Lloydminster.

1960 Crop Acreages Are Down

Alberta farmers are planning to reduce wheat acreages in 1960 by 4 per cent. If these intentions are carried out, 4,938,000 acres will be seeded to wheat this year as against 5,160,000 in 1959. Indications are that oat acreages will be down from 2,850,000 to 2,790,000 but that barley at 3,610,000 will remain unchanged.

According to estimates the amount of land fallowed in 1960 will remain the same as it was in 1959 (6,738,000).

Mr. R. E. English, Statistician for the Alberta Department of Agriculture reports that the estimates were obtained by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics from a farm survey conducted in March. During the survey farmers were asked to indicate the amount of land they intended to seed to principal crops and also the amount they intended to leave fallow in 1960.

He was elected for a period of three years and replaces Rev. H. L. Turner, also a Canadian, who retired to become a professor in the Simpson Bible College, of the C. and M.A. at San Francisco. The Society now ministers on 22 Foreign Fields, with 824 missionaries and with 49 new missionaries under appointment this year. A goal has been set of 1,000 foreign missionaries by 1962, the 75th anniversary of the Alliance. It was also reported that there are many more members of the Alliance Church in the foreign field than in the home Church.

An instrumental duet was played by Mrs. Albert Towell on the accordion with piano accompaniment by her sister Mrs. Lloyd Anderson, visiting from Red Deer "He Keeps on Loving us Still".

In the evening service the pastor spoke on the subject, "Reasons why I am a Christian". Mrs. Robert Tidsbury sang "He Stayed on the Cross for me" accompanied on the piano by Margwynne Clendenning.

Eucharistic Congress Committees Meet In St. Paul To Discuss Plans

ST. PAUL, May 19—Chairmen and members of seventeen committees planning the Eucharistic Congress for the Diocese of St. Paul on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 8, 9 and 10, met in the school auditorium to report to the central committee of Direcors.

The plan for the large outdoor repository to be erected in St. Laurent Park presented by the architects was accepted. It will take thousands of flowers for the proposed decorations.

Many of these plants are now being grown individually by parishioners and will be pooled and arranged by the decoration committee around the repository for the three days of the Congress.

Bunting and flags have been distributed for sale in the 40 parishes of the diocese and their demand has been beyond expectations, indicating good interest and participation in the Congress.

The Congress is being prepared by a spiritual crusade of prayers. School children are participating and Congress Prayers distributed to all the Prayers are being recited at Sunday services. Besides, there will be special retreats and Eucharistic "Triduums" for every parish to be held under the form of Parochial Eucharistic Congresses with the same spiritual privileges.

MASS MARRIAGE

Couples planning to be married around Congress time have been invited to participate in a mass marriage ceremony. A minimum of six couples is required [illegible] many more who will avail themselves of the unique circumstances to receive the Sacrament of Matrimony.

ORDINATION

On Sunday morning, at the Repository, the faithful will witness the moving ceremony of the ordination of the priesthood of two young men.

The imposing ceremony will take place amidst the liturgical splendors of a Pontifical High Mass.

On both Saturday and Sunday evening, the Pageant of "Fishers of Men" will be played, once in English and once in French.

When Marconi, in Newfoundland in 1901 received a radio signal broadcast from England, it disproved the experts' theory that radio waves could not get around the curvature of the earth.

The Canadian National Institute For the Blind . . .

Several Alberta communities have recently been canvassed by persons purportedly raising funds to aid the blind. Unfortunately, many citizens have contributed to this appeal, thinking that they were donating to The Canadian National Institute for the Blind. CNIB conducts one campaign for funds annually in each community. This campaign is always conducted by well known residents of the community. The CNIB appeal is organized and conducted in Vermilion by Frog Lake Chapter I.O.D.E. CNIB is the only service agency having a general registry of sightless persons and providing a programme of services designed to assist them in overcoming all of the problems which confront them as a result of their blindness. Other agencies soliciting funds, allegedly for the welfare of the blind, are, at best, only duplicating a service which is already available through CNIB. The I.O.D.E. strongly urges the citizens of this community to carefully check the credentials of any person approaching them for a donation in aid of the Blind. Service records and financial statements should be carefully studied before any donation is made.

Dr. A. Ben King Offers Scholarship in Journalism

A memorial scholarship in journalism is being offered for the first time at the U. of A. in memory of a distinguished member of the journalistic profession in Alberta.

The scholarship, to the value of $300 annually, has been donated by Dr. Ben King, Vermilion, in memory of his father, former editor of The Camrose Canadian.

The scholarship will be placed with an undergraduate entering the 3rd year of a general course in Arts and Science who is interested in a career of journalism. The schoarship will be renewable for a second year if the holder is registered in a course at a recognized university school of journalism. The terms of the award hinge on the applicant's academic standing, general interest and journalistic experience, if any.

Rae King, born in Ontario, migrated to Lomond, Alberta, where he edited a small newspaper in one of the marginal farming areas of the province. In the mid 1920's, he and his family of three boys moved to Claresholm where he became editor and publisher of the The Claresholm Local Press and one of the most civic-minded of the citizens of the community, working tirelessly for the educational, civic and recreational development of the town and its surrounding area. Later he moved to Camrose where he became editor of The Camrose Canadian until he passed away last August.

Mr. King's interest in community, provincial and international life was reflected in his editorials. He was always interested in young people and in providing them with opportunities to develop their talent. In Claresholm and later in Camrose he followed the practice, once a year, of letting students in high school edit his paper, in this way giving them experience in the field of weekly newspaper work.

Leading fruit-growing province is Ontario, which has not only a favorable climate in its southern sections but also a large population to provide a large market for the growers' products.

The Cub and Scout Mothers and the Guide and Brownie Mothers together prepared and served a hot meal to the Cub and Scout Leaders at their Leadership Course held on April 30th here in Vermilion.

Approximately 86 May Baskets were made up ready for the Cubs to distribute.

Dues for the year per mother are 50 cents with an a additional fifty cents contributed by each mother toward the cleaning of the hall floor.

The executive feel that mothers are to be commended for their co-operation on all projects and for supplying the sandwiches and cookies for the many lunches that were served. They thank them for their support during this past year and ask that they continue to support the incoming executive for the next season, starting in the fall.

1½ Million Trees Free for Farmers

Approximately [illegible] farmers received more than 1½ million free trees from the Alberta Department of Agriculture this spring. The trees for use as farmstead shelterbelts and windbreaks were supplied by the provincial nurseries at Brooks and Oliver.

An increase of 600 applications was recorded by the Department this year. According to P. D. McCalla, supervisor of Horticulture, indications point to an increasing awareness of Alberta farmers concerning the value of trees for soil erosion control, farmstead shelter and beautification. Among the more popular species were spruce, caragana, poplar, willow, lilac, honeysuckle, maple, ash and elm.

"JUST DOG" LOSING OUT

Does the plain mutt qualify still as man's best friend?, asks Ray Magladry in the Financial Post.

There's growing evidence that he's losing out to the proud canine with a pedigree.

Registered purebred dog population has grown nearly 100 per cent since 1950 when there were just under 11,000 in the blue book.

Shows and trials for these elite are growing — a 20 per cent increase in number from 1958 to 1959.

Nobody bothers counting mongrel heads on a national basis, but some large municipalities report that dogs of unknown lineage are not keeping pace with the purebreds.

The easiest way to keep up with the Joneses is to listen while their children talk.

Mannville W. A. Entertains Visitors

MANNVILLE. — Meeting in the United Church social room on Thursday, May 12, Mannville United Church W.A. entertained members of the Minburn and Innisfree charges as well as ladies from Viking.

The devotional period centred around planning and planting the garden theme, and was most applicable at this time of the year. Two of the Minburn ladies rendered a suitable vocal duet, which was most pleasing. An interesting feature of the meeting was the history of a recently adopted orphan from Viet-Nam. The gathering was pleased to have present also Mrs Roddick, president of the St. Paul Presbytery, who gave an excellent talk to the ladies.

Members of the Visiting and the Manse committees presented their report, after which an interesting meeting concluded with prayers. Hostesses were, Mrs. W. Gerhart, Mrs. M. Smith, Miss A. Cain, Mrs. R. Rudd. The next meeting will take place the first Thursday in June — please observe that the date is changed.

Brilliant Function Marks Kitscoty High School Graduation

The Kitscoty High School graduation banquet and dance took place on Friday, May 13th. In spite of the weather there was almost 100 per cent attendance. Among the many distinguished guests present were Mr. Donald Cameron, Co-ordinator of Teacher Education, Government of Alberta (the guest speaker for the evening) and Mrs. Cameron, Mr B. Miller, member of the Divisional Board and Mrs. Miller; Mr J. Robson, secretary-treasurer, Divisional School Board, Mr. J. Blocksidge, Superintendent of Schools, Vermilion School Division, and Mrs. Blocksidge, Mr W. Clifford, Mayor of Kitscoty and Mrs. Clifford; Mr J McCorry, chairman of the local school board and Mrs. McCorry; and Mr. C N Brennan of Vermilion, Divisional Trustee.

Mr C Richardson the principal in his address of welcome thanked the guests for their support of the school by their full attendance on this important occasion. He pointed out that the real guests of honour on this occasion were the fourteen young students who would be graduating this year. He was glad to note that nearly all of them were contemplating further education. In this respect they were but maintaining the proud record and splendid traditions of Kitscoty High school. Last year out of the twenty four students that graduated twenty-two proceeded for further study. Mr Richardson remarked that he was looking forward to next year's graduation celebrations with more than usual enthusiasm as it would be a double silver jubilee for him twenty five years of happy married life and twenty five years of principalship in the Vermilion School Division. There is no doubt that that graduation occasion will be a great success as everyone will go all out to show their appreciation of Mr Richardson who has served zealously and successfuly in so many capacities in this area.

The graduates and their parents were next introduced by the principal. Each graduate was presented with a scroll of honour.

Margaret Miles, Valedictorian

The Valedictory was given by Miss Margaret Miles who has had her entire education at Kitscoty school. Miss Miles, in her address thanked the staff in touching terms for all that they had done for the students under their care through the years. For them it was an occasion of joy and sorrow — of joy as it marked the consummation of their teachers efforts, of sorrow as it meant bidding farewell to a school and life they had learned to love. They were however fortified with the thought that they took with them the high ideals and inspiring example of their teachers to enable them, the young citizens of Canada to uphold the democratic ideals of their country and play their part in the social uplift and economic development of this dear land.

On behalf of the staff Mr Richardson thanked Miss Miles for her kind words which he [illegible] were uttered in sincerity [illegible] no doubt, were deeply appreciated by the staff.

MUSICAL INTERLUDE

Two vocal solos by Mrs Cameron were a pleasant interlude in the formalities of the graduation ceremonial.

The humorous element was provided by the class history as recorded by Miss Donna Barrett, who described herself as the class chatterbox.

DONALD CAMERON, GUEST SPEAKER

The guest speaker Mr Cameron, was introduced by Mr Blocksidge. Mr Blocksidge referred to Mr Cameron's varied career as an Educationist and to the solid contribution made by him in his chosen field. He mentioned in particular the considerable help given by Mr Cameron in getting cleared by the Department the papers of emigrant teachers, a fact which enabled this school division to secure in these days of acute teacher-shortage, the services of a qualified staff.

Mr Cameron in his address said that he brought with him the congratulations, good wishes and greetings of the Minister of Education, who regretted very much his inability to attend. His theme for the evening was "Continue your Schooling". Further education would not only pay off in terms of dollars and cents and offer greater security in employment, but above all it would make life more worthwhile. One must, however, not seek this education in a meaningless fashion, but with a definite objective in view. Students must learn to resist the temptation to become wage earners and spenders at an early age. He was glad to say that it was the policy of the Alberta Government to [illegible] that no student who had the ability and the desire for further education would be denied this opportunity due to lack of finance. The Government was prepared to help by way of scholarships, grants and loans. But no government policy in the field of education could be a success without the co-operation of parents and students. If the students and parents did their part, they may rest assured that the government would do its part.

The banquet was concluded with the presentation of pins to the graduates by Miss G Dunsmore who has been on the staff of Kitscoty High school for over fifteen years.

On behalf of all present, Mr C Venance the vice-principal thanked the ladies of the Kitscoty Branch of the British Empire Service League for their excellent catering arrangements.

The graduation dance followed at which certificates of merit were presented to Anthony Organ and his editorial staff for their splendid work in connection with the school year book. The hall decorations drew comments of appreciation for blending originality, color and gaiety in so tasteful a manner. The dance was well attended in spite of the inclement wether and was a decided success.

The names of the graduates and their contemplated careers follow:

Donna Barrett, will train at the University of Alberta, vocation — Advertising; Vera Budzilka, U of A — Teaching; Betty Anne Davies, Miller's Business College — Stenographer; Albert Hardstaff, the Calgary Technical School — Mechanic; Bob Hiltz, direct to Agriculture; Donna Franks, U of A — Teaching; Donna Lovell, Miller's Business College — Commercial; Ruby Lypowy, U of A — Teaching; David McCourt, Galt — Veterinarian; Margaret Plumb, U of A — Teaching; Margaret Miles, U of A — Teaching; Ronald Sands, U of Sask — Engineering; Marian Tusky, U of A — Teaching; Lyle Swanson, Calgary Tech — [illegible] Technology.

Take Wife Along

That's the advice of a merchant tailor, whose business is to see that men dress their best.

"Men who bring wives intend to buy better", he explains.

Wives, on the other hand, are usually much more familiar [illegible] cloth and color and, strangely enough, with men's styles.

Next to wives, Canadian men's occupations most often dictate their choice of style and color.

Marwayne Friendship Club Is Entertained by Explorers

MARWAYNE. — When the Explorers entertained the Friendship club on May 9 there were thirty-one members and seven mothers of Explorers present. A program of songs, recitations, choral speaking, accordion numbers, a play and dance was enjoyed by everyone. Lunch was served by the girls followed by a short business meeting. Mrs. Bobrusko was welcomed as a member. The next meeting will be held on June 13 at 8 p.m.

An invitation from the Golden Age club of Vermilion to attend their May 18th meeting resulted in an enjoyable trip by bus for 26 of our members. Old acquaintances were renewed and [illegible] friendships made. A return [illegible] by the Vermilion club is expected soon.

FACTS ABOUT POLIO

Type of Infection. Poliomyelitis is a virus disease which means that the germ causing this infection is much smaller than the usual form of bacteria or germ. In fact it is so small that it cannot be seen with an ordinary microscope. It is recognized, however, by its particular characteristic behaviour to certain laboratory tests, and can be seen with the aid of a special microscope.

The Incubation or Penetration Period. This is the time which elapses between the entrance of the virus into the body and the appearance of the first symptoms. It varies with different epidemics, but is usually between 4 to ten days.

How Polio Enters the Body. The polio virus makes its entrance into the body at three different levels —

1 The naso pharynx (the nose and back of throat)

2 The larynx, trachea and upper bronchi (voice box, wind pipe and bronchial tubes)

3 The digestive tract (the food passage from the back of the throat to the lower bowel).

Personal contact is a likely means of transmitting the infection. Such means are the spraying of droplets when sneezing, coughing and even talking by a polio infected person or carrier. It is a recognized fact that the polio virus can be found in the stool of polio infected persons and others who are probably carriers.

Parts of the Body Infected. The intestinal tract, muscles and nervous system may be involved. Headache, moderate fever, [illegible] stools, stomach upset, [illegible] constipation in a normally regular patient are symptoms that must be viewed with suspicion during an epidemic period. Weakness of a particular group of muscles demands immediate medical care to avoid or limit crippling.

WE DO KNOW —

That flies carry the polio virus.

That the virus is found in infected sewage.

That such sewage can contaminate drinking [illegible].

That pollution is quite possible under such circumstances of summer camps.

That spraying of the nose is an objectionable procedure and is not effective in preventing polio, and therefore is not recommended.

That extreme fatigue, uncleanliness (dirty hands at meals and not washing after bowel functions), chilling from staying in cold water all predispose to making an individual more susceptible to a polio infection.

The active child is more prone to extreme fatigue than the quiet child, therefore the active child should be watched carefully and fatigue avoided.

WE DO NOT KNOW —

How the polio virus is transmitted (we surmise that it is by direct contact, carriers, droplet borne infection, and possibly by [illegible] fresh [illegible] vegetables and foods contaminated with the polio virus).

Why so many cases make a complete recovery without any specific treatment. (The natural tendency is for the body to build up protective factors which vary with each individual.)

Why more boys are affected than girls. (Possibly it is that boys are more active and hence more prone to fatigue.)

Why most cases occur in the five to 14 age group. (Possibly immunity has not built up sufficiently, further, these are the years of greatest activity).

SUGGESTIONS

1 Get immunized against polio if you have not already done so.

2 Avoid contact with known cases of polio.

3 Keep out of crowds during an epidemic.

4 Remember that the active child is most susceptible, if allowed to play to the point of fatigue.

5 Avoid physical fatigue and exhaustion.

6 Do not swim in polluted water.

7 Avoid chilling by staying too long in cold water.

8 Keep hands clean by washing before meals and after going to the toilet.

9 Keep garbage and waste covered so as not to attract the flies.

10 Insure proper disposal of human excreta.

11 Protect food from exposure to flies and insects.

12 Wash fresh fruits and raw vegetables before eating.

13 Stay away from persons with nose and throat infections, and avoid operations for the removal of tonsils and adenoids during a polio epidemic season.

14 Remember that stomach flu, summer complaint, [illegible] or any infection of the bowels may predispose to a polio infection.

15 Be on the alert for symptoms. Any infection during a polio epidemic season should be viewed suspiciously until proven not polio.

16 Call your doctor if [illegible] symptoms do occur, or [illegible] in doubt.

17 Notify [illegible] Health Unit office if a case of polio is diagnosed.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Liberal Leader's Career in Prov. Politics To Come To Official End

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Grant MacEwan's career in provincial politics seems likely to come to its official end in Calgary on June 11th when executives of the Alberta Liberal party gather for their regular quarterly meeting.

The lean, scholarly one-time dean of agriculture at the University of Manitoba will formally submit his resignation at that meeting and will step down from the provincial leadership of the party. He said in Calgary last week there is little doubt his resignation will be accepted.

Mr. MacEwan's intended resignation is no surprise. He said when he took the job in 1958 he would step down if he could not lead the party to victory. After a year in the Legislature as official leader of the Opposition, he led the party into last summer's general election and saw it lose all but one of 15 seats it held. The leader was defeated in his own riding of Calgary North.

As Opposition leader Mr MacEwan lacked the fire of his predecessor, J Harper Prowse, yet he was an able debater and had the respect of members on both sides of the House.

Mr. MacEwan couldn't have picked a worse time for his maiden effort as a party leader. The mood of the votes was for a Social Credit landslide last June and no one could have stopped it.

Though he's out of provincial politics, Mr. MacEwan continues to be active in civic affairs. He resigned his seat on Calgary city council to become leader of the Opposition in the House. But following his defeat in the provincial election he ran for alderman again and won a seat on council.

Mr MacEwan's resignation leaves the Liberal party without an official leader, and at the moment the party has no definite plans for naming a new one.

The consensus among Liberal officials seems to be that there's no hurry to name a leader. The next provincial election is nearly four years away and in the meantime Michael Maccagno of Lac La Biche — the only Liberal who made it last June — can continue as the House leader.

One Liberal official said last week that the party's best bet will be to wait until after the next federal election. He said the Liberals are certain to make some gains in the next federal vote and this should result in an upsurge in enthusiasm provincially, hence more interest in the naming of a provincial leader.

So far there is no one who emerges as a logical choice for the Liberal leadership. But if the next federal election does result in renewed interest there's little doubt that the leadership convention will have plenty of [illegible] from which to choose.

EXPORT OF NATURAL GAS MEANS MUCH TO ALBERTA

How much does large-scale export of natural gas mean to Alberta? Plenty, says the provincial bureau of statistics in its quarterly review of business conditions released last week.

The bureau says national energy board approval of gas "has [illegible] cleared many of the clouds of business uncertainty" in the province.

As a result of the gas export approval, says the bureau public and private investment in Alberta is expected to hit a record $1,200,700,000 in the coming year. Consequently, hundreds of Albertans will be given employment on natural gas pipelines and processing plants which must be built before gas can begin moving out of the province.

LIQUOR CONSUMPTION

Alberta liquor board chairman George Clash last week dealt a blow to the bluenoses who predicted the moral downfall of Alberta as dining and cocktail lounges were licensed.

Speaking to the 40th annual convention of the Alberta Hotel Association here, Mr Clash said the new liquor outlets have not increased the consumption of liquor to any great extent. Their main effect he said has been an increase in food sales.

During the past year 49 licensed outlets chalked up liquor sales of $3,220,000. Food sales, by comparison amounted to slightly less than $7,500,000. Food sales for the lounges increased from 20 to 25 per cent during the year, and there is a definite trend on the past of the public to patronize the lounges because of the high standard provided. Furthermore said Mr Clash, unlicensed restaurants are being forced to improve also in order to meet the competition.

The Tourist Industry is vitally important to everyone.

It does not compete with our labor or deplete our natural resources. The tourist dollar is earned elsewhere and brought to Alberta improving our economy immeasurably, benefiting food producers, farmers and processors, manufacturers and retailers, transportation companies, and dispensers of goods and services of all kinds.

LET'S CLEAN UP!

We can help ourselves to more tourist business by:

- Keeping our homes, business and public places attractive.
- Being friendly and obliging. Encourage tourists to stay a day or two longer. Every community has something of interest to tourists.
- Be an information bureau. Suggest things to see and do, and make it your business to see that tourists enjoy themselves thoroughly.

Miss Irene Adam Married in Edmonton

Miss Eva Irene Adam, daughter of Mr and Mrs J D Adam, formerly of Vermilion, now living in Edmonton, became the bride of Mr Craighton Twa, son of Mr and Mrs J. P Twa of Calgary on Saturday, May 7.

The double-ring ceremony took place in First Baptist Church in Edmonton with Rev Robert Arnott officiating. Spring bouquets of roses, carnations, lily of the valley, iris and gladioli were arranged on the altar for the mid-afternoon service.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother Mr James F Adam, chose a floor-length gown of white chantilly lace over taffeta, the bodice dipping to a point at the waistline and the neckline in bateau style. The sleeves tapered to lily points at the wrists and hand-made lace roses trimmed the gown. A coronet of pearls held in place the bride's chapel veil and she carried a cascade of sweetheart roses and lily of the valley.

Mrs H Chesterman, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara West and Miss Charlene Erickson. Lester McElwain of Calgary was ring bearer and the flower girl was Cathy McElwain, of Calgary.

The attendants were gowned in seafoam green silk organza over taffeta. The gowns designed with full bouffant skirts and crossties at the back, featured short sleeves. Each attendant wore a floral bandeau in her hair. The senior attendants carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations, and the flower girl carried a basket of carnations and daisies.

Mr John Rowe was best man. Ushers were Mr Wayne Nelson, Mr Brian Peters and Mr Eric Thruen. Mrs. G McCallum played the wedding music and soloist was Mr. Norman Barth, brother-in-law of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception for 200 guests was held in the church Jubilee Hall. Mr Wilfred Souther of Vancouver, great-uncle of the bride, proposed the bridal toast. Pouring tea were the bride's aunt, Mrs. E. Corley of Vermilion and Mrs. S. Gunn.

After a wedding trip to Glacier National Park, Mr and Mrs. Twa will make their home in Edmonton.

For travelling the bride wore a tailored suit of powder blue wool crepe with matching picture hat. Her accessories were white, and her corsage was a white orchid.

CHRIST CHURCH GIRLS CONDUCT FIRESIDE HOUR

MANNVILLE. — Following the evening service on Sunday, May 22, Christ Church Girls' Auxiliary conducted the fireside hour in the church basement. Taking their audience through the various chapters of the study book "As Large as Life", the girls illustrated their impressions of the study with the aid of flannel graphs, and showed much effort had been put into their work. Skits were also given depicting points emphasized in Christian vocations. These were all greatly enjoyed by those gathered for this hour.

Badges were explained by the group's president, Janet Laidler. The girls answered questions on their missionary work, posed by the leader, Joan Lugg. Rev H. Shell congratulated the girls and their leader on winning honors for this parish, having recently been awarded the Violet Chamberlain Missionary cup in the Diocese of Edmonton.

Katherine Chrisp, I.O.D.E. Award Winner

Blending shades of blue streamers in the form of a woven star covered the ceiling of the Vermilion high school auditorium Friday evening at the graduation exercises and dance. The theme of "Some Enchanted Evening" was well developed with a moonlight scene done in silhouettes on one wall and glittering stars on another. One wall was appropriately decorated with silhouettes of this year's 26 graduates, and those of the teaching staff.

COUNCIL OUTLINES BY-LAWS

On June 10th, 1960 the ratepayers of Vermilion are being asked to vote on TWO money by-laws; $60,000.00 for a civic centre and $60,000.00 to enlarge the present sewage disposal system by the construction of a sewage lagoon. The Council, after considerable study on the ways to enlarge the present sewer system (which is recommended for a population of only 1,000) find the lagoon system to be the most economical and satisfactory method of enlarging the system. The lagoon proposed will handle considerably more than the present population, and at a future date the entire sewage disposal system will be by means of this lagoon, thus eliminating the present plant, although for the time being it is planned to continue to use the existing disposal plant in addition to the new lagoon.

The new lagoon will be located in the river flat north of the nuisance grounds, and will be designed to serve the east portion of the Town, connecting into the present system at the lift station now located in the north-east corner of town, and adding service to a small area not previously served by the sewer system.

The need for this additional disposal facility has been pointed out to the Town by health authorities. Our present plant is overloaded and is presenting a health problem. The risk of an epidemic increases steadily with the growth of the Town, and it is the intention of the Council to provide adequate facilities as quickly as possible to avoid this risk.

CIVIC CENTRE MEANS NO CHANGE IN TAX STRUCTURE

The two proposed undertakings, this lagoon and the civic centre are to be handled by two entirely different financial arrangements. The Civic Centre is by outright grant by the Town to the Centre, the money thus allocated coming from accumulated reserves of the Town. This reserve has been created by a combination of the sale of the old power plant property some years ago, and by a surplus created by careful management of town affairs in past years. This grant need not be repaid to the Town, and accordingly there will be no change in the tax structure because of the grant.

25-YEAR DEBENTURE FOR SEWAGE EXTENSION

The money for the construction of the sewage lagoon will be raised by the sale of debentures, repayable over a period of 25 years, and as such will be a direct charge against the ratepayers of the Town and will be covered in the taxes. (An allowance has been made in this year's taxes for this). It is generally agreed that the construction of utilities in a town should be paid for over the lifetime of the utility, and not paid out of town reserves. By borrowing money to do this type of work, the ratepayers who are using the utility are then paying for it while it is in use.

It will be apparent that the construction of the proposed civic centre is not considered as a utility. It is the feeling of the Council that if the ratepayers request the construction of this civic centre, then it should be paid for out of accumulated reserves and not carried as a debenture debt of the Town. Thus it will not have any effect on the tax structure of the Town.

Feature Baseball Attraction at Park This Sunday

On June 5th a baseball game of considerable interest will be played at the ball diamond in Vermilion Provincial Park commencing at 4 p.m. and featuring the Edmonton Foresters Little League baseball team in a game against the Legion Little Leaguers from Vermilion.

Interest has been high this year in games played in both Little League and the Pony League schedules and some very fine baseball has been displayed. This game that is planned for Sunday will give the team and spectators an opportunity to see how a local team can stack up against the Edmonton team. Some excellent entertainment is planned and you are urged to take advantage of the opportunity to see this class of baseball from two young teams.

Adult Polio Vaccination Clinic

There will be two special ADULT Poliomyelitis Clinics held at the Vermilion Health Unit office on Tuesday, June 7. The afternoon clinic will be held from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and the evening clinic will be held from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Anyone who has not had three injections of poliomyelitis vaccine is requested to attend. Anyone who has had his or her third poliomyelitis injection more than four years ago is requested to attend for a booster injection. This year a lot of polio has occurred in Canada. We hope that this area will not contribute to the statistics.

Construction Starts On Two Commercial Projects

Store and Restaurant, Five New Homes Being Erected

Construction has started on buildings which will house two new commercial projects in Vermilion. Besides this the home building season is opening up, and a start has been made on five new homes by private owners.

New Store

Largest enterprise to date is the new store being constructed by Neilson Construction of Edmonton for John P. Berezon of Vegreville. The store will measure 120ft. with a full 40ft. glass front on 50th avenue. Construction is of cement blocks. The new retail outlet will handle clothing and dry goods. The store is expected to be finished by July 1st.

New Restaurant

An additional restaurant will soon be open to cater to the needs of the people of Vermilion and district and the travelling public. George Caron has purchased the premises formerly occupied by Krause Flowers and Dixon's Ladies' Wear and is rapidly converting the main floor into accommodation for a restaurant. This includes a large addition size 28ft by 36ft.

New Homes

Home construction is rapidly picking up with a start on five privately owned residences.

Cliff Isley is erecting a home in the hospital subdivision. Archie Husby is building near the high school. Hiram Astley is in the new Moses subdivision, while Bill Hunter is located in the west end. Roel Feenstra has decided to retire from farming and has purchased a lot north of the Alexandra school, and construction there is well under way.

Chatsworth Club Sponsors Appeal for Refugee Family

Do you have a guilty and puzzled feeling whenever you hear talk of World Refugee Year, and realize that it will soon be over? Guilty — because you realize how little the folk living in refugee camps have, compared with even the poorest of us; and puzzled — because you wonder just what one person can do.

That is the way the members of the Chatsworth Country club felt. Then someone read about the family being helped by the Western Producer, a farm paper published in Saskatoon. It will cost $1500 to buy this family's freedom and the Western Producer is taking donations for that purpose.

The $1500 will enable the family of three, man, woman and a boy of 12, to move from the camp and to get a few tools to start up in business.

The Chatsworth Country Club ladies did a little figuring. There are 2300 people in Vermilion and there must be about as many in the surrounding district. For the small sum of from 25 to 30 cents from each man, woman and child in Vermilion and district some family could be given a chance to live a happy and normal life.

The Chatsworth club decided they would try to raise enough money to get some family out of a refugee camp.

The proprietors of all the grocery stores in Vermilion have offered to help and plainly marked jars are being placed in each of the stores for the receiving of donations.

Please do your bit to insure that the fund for Vermilion's refugee family goes over the top.

"Carl" as he is familiarly known here has taken an active part in all phases of community activity including campaign manager for the Cancer Society Vermilion branch, treasurer for the [illegible] years, secretary treasurer of the Vermilion and District Civic Centre Association. He is an active member of the Board of Trade and Rotary club, an ardent curler and golfer.

Mrs. Alfke too has been prominent in community affairs as well as teaching a branch of the Home Economics course at the V.S.A. during the winter term. She has been very active as the secretary treasurer of the Vermilion Boy Scout Association.

A new bank building has recently been completed at Dawson Creek and the Alfkes will have a new residence to move into as well.

Mrs. Alfke and the children will remain in Vermilion until some time after the school term ends.

AN INFORMED VOTER IS AN INTELLIGENT VOTER

Citizens are urged to be sure of their information before casting their ballots in the plebiscite for the Civic Recreation Centre on June 10th. Don't take casual remarks or some uninformed person's opinion as gospel truth ... secure your information from reliable sources. Inquire from people who have made a study of the question — from the mayor, your councillors, the town secretary, or any one of a score of business men about any point which you do not understand.

Do not vote against a public issue just for the sake of opposition; you could be defeating an opportunity which might never occur again. An informed voter is an intelligent voter.

Ideal Moisture Conditions Prevail

This spring could go down into the records as one in which the most ideal moisture conditions prevail in the history of the area. There is little doubt that this statement can and will be disputed, but it suffices to emphasize that conditions are now ideal for rapid growth of crops providing that the weatherman dishes up a little more heat than has been enjoyed to date.

Agriculturists report that wheat seeding is now completed, with the largest percentage of coarse grains also under the soil. Weed growth has also been slow this spring, occasioned, no doubt, by the cool damp weather. But given some warm weather with the moisture content of the soil, look for some phenomenal growth.

Hopes prevail that this will be the year of good crops, crops with a nice-sized yield of high grade grain . . . a year that will see no necessity of "snowball" bonuses or P.F.A. payments . . . a year which will do much more to restore confidence and prosperity in agriculture.

Shut-Ins' Day, Sunday, June 5th

Age, disability and illness have confined many of our fellow citizens to their homes for prolonged periods of time. Shut-Ins' Day is our opportunity to remember these people and start bringing them closer to the life in their communities.

Shut-Ins' Day is an international event. In communities throughout the world various groups, working independently, are striving to create a fuller life for their home-bound citizens. It is interesting to note that the movement was founded in 1942 by a Canadian, Ernest Barker of Goderich, Ontario, and it is through his efforts that the present success has been achieved.

Canadian Legion Sponsor Blood Donor Clinic July 5

At a meeting of the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion, held Monday evening, it was decided to co-operate with the local Red Cross in listing donors who wish to donate blood at the next clinic which will be held in Vermilion on Tuesday, July 5th.

The Legion meeting selected the following committee to head up the canvass for blood donors in Vermilion and district: Thos. Thompson, chairman, Don Keen and E. H. Buckingham. Mr. Thompson is president of Vermilion Branch, Don Keen is 1st vice-president and E. H. Buckingham is secretary of Vermilion Branch.

A meeting has been called for Thursday evening, June 9, at 8 p.m. in the Legion hall. Each service club, lodge and church organization in town is asked to send one or two representatives to this meeting in order that every group will know how they can take part if they so wish.

The Legion [illegible] of organizations in Vermilion [illegible] that the whole community co-operate in this united effort to get more people to donate blood.

It is only a few years ago that the clinic here had over 300 donors. Last year it was about half that many. Other towns of similar size have increased the number of blood donors in recent years.

The Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service at Edmonton report that they are barely able to meet the demands for blood. Supplies get so low on certain types of blood that they have to call on people who come in when there is an emergency. To have blood on hand when there is [illegible] need of it saves lives. None of us know [illegible] we will be in need of [illegible] ourselves. Many regular donors in Vermilion district have given blood ten or more times. How many times have you given?

POWER LINE SNAPS

A power failure on Thursday affected customers on the line from the Behrens' hill westward from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. Customers to the east were without service from 4 p.m. until 11 the next morning as a leaning pole in Cecil Trimble's slough caused the wire to break. Charles Gulleckson's boat was obtained and with the help of some willing neighbors the lineman worked until the early morning hours in the rain to repair the break.

A family reunion at the Henry Benson home lasted for a week with the arrival of Mrs. Benson's son and family Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bulduc from Smith, Alberta and her daughter Cora and family Mr. and Mrs. Leslie LeTourneau, also from Smith.

Maxine and Joan Belsheim were home for the Victoria Day week-end from their classes at the Camrose Lutheran college.

Excitement ran supreme at the Behrens layout when Mallie and Juvenile had to call in the neighbors to help attend a very small year old heifer which had been endeavoring to calf for two days. The trouble was a rare one, with the calf coming backwards as well as being upside down. The calf of course was dead but the heifer is coming along nicely.

Keith Parke was a surprised boy when he received a message in the mail the other day from the Queen. He had written Her Majesty last winter telling all about himself, his family and the district environment. The acknowledgment came as very pleasant surprise for the Parke family.

Common knowledge is the fact that this district does not need to take a backseat to any when it comes to the business of ranching. Back in the days of the late Harry Ferris a number of interested cattle raisers organized the Tulliby Lake Stockmen's Association, securing a large area for grazing purposes surrounding Prairie Lake. There is now an extensive trek of cattle proceeding north for the summer months, chucktrucks (taking the place of the old chuck wagons) and cowboys being the order of the day.

In Friday's mail along came a tape recording all the way from the Bahrain Island (just off the Persian Gulf) with music of Arabs and Persians on it. SILAGE

Some say April showers bring May flowers but in these parts of north eastern Alberta May showers are going to bring on the biggest crop of hay in years. It would certainly be nice if there was a means to preserve this feed for those dry years to come. To date there seem to be only two possibilities — 1. put dry hay in covered storage, which has limitations, 2. put the entire forage rain or shine, into a pit silo and cover it up carefully. Silage has been used in Arizona nine years after it was stored, with very little spoilage. Before making silage make certain the air is eliminated and the [illegible] is sealed. Many farmers [illegible] that a plastic cover saves so much feed it more than pays for itself.

[illegible] TREE PLANTING [illegible] IN VERMILION [illegible]

This spring [illegible] Alberta farmers planted 1½ million trees supplied by the Alberta Department of Agriculture. Mr. F. D. McCalla, Supervisor of Horticulture, reports this is an increase of 600 applicants over 1959. However, in 1959 one hundred farmers planted 20,397 trees supplied through the Vermilion District Agriculturist's office, and in 1960 the same office supplied only 38 farmers with 17,[illegible] trees. These trees were made up of: ever greens, (1959) [illegible] (1960) [illegible]; broadleaved trees, (1959) [illegible] and (1960) [illegible]; shrubs (1959) [illegible] (1960) 1,[illegible]; caragana for field shelterbelts (1959) 12,[illegible] (1960) [illegible]. Obviously 1960 has not been a big tree planting year in the M.D.s of Vermilion River and Minburn.

PERFORMANCE TESTING

Did you ever wonder why so many Alberta ranchers are buying [illegible] bulls from the [illegible] Ranch at [illegible], Montana? Perhaps part of the reason is because this herd has been performance testing since 19[illegible] and at least one-third of the bull calf crop is castrated each year. Performance testing is only as good as the breeder wants to make it but it is available to Alberta breeders. Applications for [illegible] must be made to the [illegible], Alberta Department of Agriculture, [illegible] July 1, 1960.

Vermilion Man Bereaved by Death of Mother

IRMA — A long-time resident died here recently, Mrs. Sanna Lovig, 74, was born in Maalde, Norway, and moved with her parents to South Dakota.

She is survived by nine sons and [illegible] daughters, Albert, Martin, Clarence, Stanley, Walter, Henry, Adolph, Emet, Gilbert, Annie, Sophia, Burgee, Alma and Ida, 46 grandchildren and 24 great grandchildren.

Burial took place in the Sharon Church Cemetery.

The Standard does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents

Dear Editor:

I am afraid Mr. Editor I will have to take issue with you when you claim this grant won't affect the taxes.

A notice in the paper asks the ratepayers to vote on a by-law to give the council power to give a grant of $60,000 to this recreational centre and in the same column the ratepayers are asked to vote on a by-law to give the council authority to borrow $60,000 for sewer purposes. This can't help but affect the taxes.

I understand the council has an amount of $60,000 or $70,000 which has accumulated through the years and was earmarked for sewer purposes. Why is it not used for this purpose now in place of giving it away?

If the government has such an amount to give away I think it would be more to the point to increase the school grant as the school taxes are almost half the total taxes. This school business is getting out of hand and there seems to be no end to the increase in expenses.

One wonders whether it pays to own property anymore as the ones that haven't any are better off.

Ratepayer.

The Canadian Army held its fourth "Army Day" on May 28th, and at Army centres across the country the general public attended displays, ceremonial parades and "at homes" designed to show the Army's degree of preparedness.

In speaking of Army Day, the Honourable George R. Pearkes, VC, Minister of National Defence, said "The Canadian Army continues to keep abreast of the [illegible] concepts of war. Not the least of these is the vital role of training and planning for national survival. This is a most important aspect of modern defence."

Lillian Thompson, Brian Calvert Wed

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the First United church, Vermilion, on May 7th, when Lillian Margaret Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson of Vermilion, and Bryan Wilfred Calvert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rand Calvert of Beaverlodge, were united in marriage. The Rev. C. W. MacKay officiated before an altar decorated with spring flowers and pussy willows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a waltz-length gown of white embroidered lace and net with small jacket and with lily point sleeves. Her headpiece of daisies was held in place by a fingertip veil of rayon net with daisy trim. Her only jewelry, a pearl necklace and earrings, was a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses with fern and white satin ribbon.

Attending the bride were her sister Lucille and Ruth Frederick who were dressed in identical waltz-length gowns of blue nylon sheer over net and taffeta with matching headpieces and elbow-length gloves. The bride's gifts to her bridesmaids were costume jewelry, necklace and pin sets. They each carried Colonial bouquets of pink apple blossoms and white carnations.

Mr. Cliff Calvert, cousin of the groom and Mr. Tony Dixon attended the groom.

The Wedding March was played by Mrs. John Hillox and during the signing of the register Mrs. Shirley Harris sang a solo "Oh Pefect Love". Ushers were Tommy Thompson, brother of the bride, and Donald Calvert, brother of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Thompson chose a two-piece dress of rosewood colored lace with beige accessories. Her corsage was white and red carnations. Mrs. Calvert, mother of the groom, wore a blue silk dress with white accessories. Her corsage was also white and red carnations.

A reception for around ninety guests followed in the Legion hall where the bride's table was covered with a white cloth with blue cutwork centred by a three-tiered wedding cake topped with white doves and a bride and groom and surrounded by white tulle. Miss Marion Mead was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Joe Vert, the bride's sister, the wedding gifts.

Dr. Ron Payment was master of ceremonies and Mr. Joe Vert asked the blessing. During the reception Mrs. Shirley Harris sang "I'll Walk Beside You". She was accompanied by Mrs. Hillox. Mr. Neil Gannon proposed the toast to the bride which was fittingly responded to by the groom, after which the bride also spoke a few words of thanks. The wedding cake was then served to the guests by the bride and groom.

The Bible Today

To most people the names of far away places and countries call to mind romantic pictures and thoughts of exciting adventure. The names of the languages into which some part of the Bible has been translated recently are as exotic as anything to be found anywhere.

Among the fifteen new languages added to the Bible Societies list are Lushai for N.E. India, Gurmukhi Panjabi for India, Aguacateco for Guatamala, Guerro Mixteco, Tenango Otomi, Tepeuxila Cuicatec and Bachajon Tzeltal for Mexico, Riang for [illegible] Ilaga for Manipur and Bilaan for Philippines.

The United Bible Societies report that some part (at least a whole Gospel) of the Bible has been published in 1151 languages and of this number 219 were whole Bibles, 271 whole New Testaments and 661 comprised at least one whole Book of the Bible.

Rotarians Celebrate 5th Birthday; Rotagaieties Make Event A Memorable One

The fifth anniversary of the Vermilion Rotary club was suitably and memorably celebrated on Wednesday evening with a program which will live long in the minds of club members and visiting Rotarians.

The event took place in the Elks hall commencing with a sumptuous banquet, followed by a program of toasts and replies, a truly amazing musical show, the "Rotagaieties", and finally dancing.

President Ross Boake was emcee for the evening. Toast to the ladies was proposed by Alex Palin with reply by Jennie Alfke. Gil Rampling proposed the toast to Rotary. Mark Norton gave the toast to the visitors with Art Shortell replying.

The show was wonderful, with never a dull moment and full of surprises. It was directed by Gus Mireault and the cast were all members of the club or Rotaryannes. It proved a real musical comedy. In order that talent scouts from Hollywood can make contact, names of the performers are: Gus Mireault, Walter and Dorothy Duncan, Elmore and Kay Stewart, Jack and Edith Kneale, Muriel Boake, Dr Ben King, Mary Mitchell, Aldous Kent, Bill Sutherland and Ken Greenwood.

Lieut. Doug Moore of the Salvation Army led in a sing-song.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE

At the close of the banquet President Ross Boake called on visiting Rotarian Dr. Jim Hemstock to present attendance awards. Three charter members, Ross Boake, Reg Mitchell and Ernie Buckingham, have not missed a single meeting since the club was organized five years ago. The following members had four years perfect attendance: Newcombe Bentley, Ken Greenwood, Alex Palin and Bill Sutherland; three years, Ashley Cooper, Wally Duncan; two years, Curt Alfke, Ed Corley, Carl Heckbert, Charlie Heckbert, Gordon Park, Jim Robson, Elmore Stewart and Fred Stewart.

RAYMOND KOWALSKI

Ottawa Trip Is Described By Winner

Raymond Kowalski of Islay who attends high school in Vermilion stated in his address to the Rotary club last Wednesday that the "Adventure in Citizenship" was a wonderful experience in his life. Raymond thanked the Rotary Club of Vermilion for making it possible for him to enjoy and participate in such a Canada wide project.

Raymond then gave his intent audience a detailed story of the four concentrated days he spent in Canada's capital. On arrival at Ottawa the assembly was made up of 196 girls and boys, all sponsored by Rotary Clubs and from every province in Canada.

At the first assembly they were addressed by Don Chutter, chairman of the 1960 welcoming committee, A. G. Grier, president of the Ottawa Rotary Club and by Mayor G. H. Nelms of Ottawa. All of the speakers referred to the program as an adventure in citizenship.

One of the highlights was a [illegible] speech by the Hon. Donald Fleming, Minister of Finance in the Federal cabinet.

In his address, Raymond referred to the great beauty of our capital city. Queen Victoria had used good judgment in her selection in 1857 of this site where three rivers, the Ottawa, the Rideau and the Gatineau meet, for the capital of Canada. The parliament buildings which include the House of Commons, the Senate Chamber, the famous library and all surmounted by the Peace tower which is 291 feet in height [illegible].

The Vermilion student stated that he was greatly impressed with the memorial chamber which contains the altar of sacrifice and the Book of Remembrance. In this book are recorded the names of [illegible] Canadians who made the supreme sacrifice in the first great war. Near the top of the tower is the great clock which is 17 feet 9 inches [illegible].

The whole party visited one of Ottawa's high schools. There was a dinner [illegible] the students of this school presented a wonderful entertainment for them. It would appear that in this line of training Ottawa students [illegible] schools in Ottawa too have model parliaments instead of Students' Unions as we have in Alberta.

One of the thrills of the whole trip was sitting in the gallery of the House of Commons and listening to the elected members of parliament discuss the affairs of Canada. Each student met the member of parliament from his constituency and Raymond had the pleasure of dining with Mr. [illegible] of Battle River [illegible].

Dr. Ben King introduced Raymond at the Rotary meeting and Chauncey MacKay thanked him for the address which was excellent as to both material and delivery. President Ross Boake presided at the dinner meeting.

Pleasant Valley

It really looks like early summer now with all the lovely [illegible]. The fresh green bluffs are a beautiful sight.

The Inman family spent Sunday on the farm.

The Sherwood family leaves holiday trip. They will be in time to see the old country at its best and the loveliest roses in the world. Perhaps Isobel you could pinch off a plant slip here and there.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Sperberg, always such a pleasant little soul to meet on the street. She will be greatly missed. Sympathy is extended to the family.

A bulldozer pulled in and dug Christie Clarke's basement, and while in the district fixed up a couple of dams for the neighbors.

Bad Debts Worry Credit Men

A general lengthening out in repayments and a sharp rise in bankruptcies have some of Canada's credit and collection men worried, says Vincent Egan in The Financial Post.

The weak spots: Construction, real estate, cars. A bright spot: Small loans to consumers.

A slump in sales of houses is reflected in the collapse of a [illegible] number of small-to-medium [illegible] and real estate firms.

Also [illegible] are furniture retailers and others dependent on plans from Boston, says The sales to homeowners.

'Water from Sun'

A $2 million legacy left to McGill University by a Canadian engineer may bring fertility to the world's arid lands, reports John Irwin in The Financial Post.

The engineer, James H Brace partner in the construction firm of Fraser-Brace Engineering Co. Montreal, who died in 1956, aged 85.

The legacy will help develop a fool-proof, economical power plant using sun or wind energy alone or both, which will purify salt or brackish water for farm irrigation.

The grade IV's are appreciative of the co-operation of their mothers who supplied the candy and popcorn, and grateful to their customers as well. The tidy sum of $20 was raised which will be donated to the Junior Red Cross.

Indian Medicine Ball Causes Wonder

While the uncovering of Indian relics is not uncommon south of Vermilion, Arnot Brown recently plowed up what appears to be an Indian medicine ball which causes a person to wonder.

The perfectly round stone is divided into segments by means of divisions based on 60-degree angles. The segments are perfectly co-ordinated on four centers. Indians, so far as known, did not study geometry nor engineering of any kind — thus this achievement is quite remarkable. Medicine balls were as a rule divided into sections and each section was brightly painted. No signs of paint are left on this stone but the sections are clearly defined by lines cut into its surface.

Women in slacks should always come forward.

C.W.L. Members in Closed Retreat at Clandonald

Thirty-one C.W.L. members from Clandonald and surrounding parishes, spent the week-end in closed retreat at St. Joseph's Academy, Clandonald. The retreat, sponsored by the Clandonald Catholic Women's League, was preached by Rev. N. Corbett, C.Ss.R. and was thoroughly endorsed by all the ladies as a most heart warming experience. Several applicants had to be rejected because of lack of accommodation, a fact which indicates the growing interest being taken in closed retreats.

The following is a list of the retreatants who attended: From Clandonald: Mrs. Leon Roberge, Mrs. Ike Huxley, Mrs. Pat Convey, Mrs. Tony Renneberg, Mrs. Henry Schneider, Mrs. J. J. MacGillivray, Mrs. John Nowakowski, Mrs. Robert Michael, Mrs. Jim Martin Sr., Mrs. Pat McGuckin and the Misses Winnifred Lawrence and Sarah Martin. From Dewberry: Mrs. Mike Philbin, Mrs. E. Romanchuk, Mrs. Mary Ellen Witzansy, Mrs. Ellie Allen. From Marwayne: Mrs. J. M. Walsh, Mrs. Carl Golinowski. From Lloydminster: Mrs. Art Roberge, Mrs. Grace Ross. From Derwent: Mrs. Carl Noster, Mrs. Marvin Little. From Vermilion: Mrs. Jim McLaughlin, Mrs. Jack McLaughlin, Mrs. Emma Howgate, Mrs. Marie Edwards. From Rusylvia: Mrs. Pat O'Neill, Mrs. John MacMillan. From St. Andrew's: Mrs. Allan MacDonald.

Mrs. Matt Leslie, chairman of the C.W.L. Religious committee responsible for contacting prospective retreatants, also supervised the preparation and serving of the meals, assisting the sisters of St. Joseph who catered to the women.

Misses Joan Leslie, Agnes Nowakowski and Eileen Logan also assisted in the serving of the meals.

Another such retreat will be held, most likely in October, for C.W.L. ladies who were unable to attend this retreat.

Tractor accidents are no longer confined to the farm. About 20% of them now occur on highways.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Maggs have something a bit different on their Broken Arrow Ranch, in the horseflesh of "Indiana Shine," pictured above. An American shetland, "Shine" stands 43 inches high, is a dapple chestnut, with white mane and tail. He is 10 years old and is classed as a fine harness pony, being a champion in his class, winning many championships on the American "A" show circuit since a yearling. He was born in Arkland, Indiana in 1950.

Mr. Maggs purchased "The Shine" this spring from the Lowland Pony Farm, Barry, Ontario for $1000 and has the pony standing for service at the ranch. A second cousin to this pony, on the stallion side, "Supreme Bit of Gold" sold recently for $85,000.

Mrs. Kruger Shows Films At Explorer Banquet

KITSCOTY — Kitscoty Explorers held their annual Mother and Daughter banquet on Friday evening May 20, at 5:30. Twenty-one girls and several guests enjoyed a lovely supper, served by five C.G.I.T.

Seated at head table were the Chief Explorer Joan Walton and her mother Mrs W Walton, Mrs Kruger of Dewberry, Mr Eric Snider Rev J Shortt and the two leaders Mrs J Shortt and Mrs H Walton.

After introducing those at the head table the Chief Explorer proposed a toast to the Queen, then called on Grace Parker to propose a toast to the Church, to which Mr Snider replied. Patti Shephard proposed a toast to the Mothers and her mother Mrs C Shephard replied.

The girls presented the leaders with gifts after which everyone went upstairs into the church for the program that followed.

Mrs H Walton took the Initiation service which saw two girls, Myrna Robertson [illegible] Mary Stensrud join the group and each were presented with a certificate and first red star.

Several Sr Explorers joined in the Affiliation service when the Keeper of the Treasure, Betty Walton presented a gift of money to be sent to support Miss Shirley Johnson. Mrs W Murray received the gift for the W.M.S.

Health Unit Notes

A SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM

Three types of consideration govern the disposal of sewage.

1. Hygienic — Hygienic considerations are mainly concerned with the fate of disease producing organisms that are present in sewage. The organisms of typhoid fever, the dysentries, hook worm and other worm diseases, cholera, poliomyelitis, infectious hepatitis and other intestinal viruses are transmitted from person to person in many ways, e.g., water, food, soil or contact, often by flies, sometimes by human agencies and sometimes by animals. As human excreta must eventually be disposed of in water or on land the method selected must eliminate or minimize the dangers to the following:

(a) Public and private water supplies.

(b) Bathing beaches.

(c) The soil.

(d) Food that is to be consumed raw.

(e) Water supplies for animals.

2. Esthetic — The esthetic considerations are mainly concerned with the breakdown of the sewage and the elimination of offensive conditions. This calls for treatment so that they will become neither objectionable to the sense of smell or unsightly.

3. Economic — The economic considerations are mainly concerned with the cost of meeting the requirements of hygiene and esthetics and with the possible damage to fish and livestock.

THE LAGOON SYSTEM OF SEWAGE DISPOSAL

One of the best systems of sewage disposal for a small town provided there is low lying land that can be bought at a reasonable cost, is the lagoon system. The lagoon system has been in operation for a number of years in America and Canada and has proved a success.

Cost

Lagoons have been developed chiefly because of high cost of construction of some of the other methods. Small communities have selected this means of disposal since land is cheap compared to the construction costs involved in building of treatment plants. The cost of constructing a lagoon is a small figure comparatively speaking.

Efficiency

The lagoon system fills all the requirements for a satisfactory sewage disposal system. The sewage is so disposed of that nuisance conditions do not develop, surface and underground waters are not polluted and there is no health hazard. North Dakota has thirteen lagoon systems at present and some of these are over 24 years in operation and still functioning satisfactorily. Alberta, too, has many lagoons, in fact there are some now in operation in our Health Unit area.

Location

A lagoon should be located not less than one-half mile from a town and preferably one mile, but lagoons have been situated, due to peculiar circumstances, within 300 yards of towns they served and have caused no nuisance conditions.

Wildlife Habitat

When a lagoon has been in operation for some years it becomes rich in plant and animal life of all types. Waterfowl are attracted by the abundance of food and the lagoon becomes an excellent wildlife habitat. In a ten-acre lagoon one will often see 1,000 birds or more.

Appearance of Lagoon

A properly planned and well-kept lagoon looks like a very pleasant body of water. One can walk around the dyke without seeing a nuisance condition and would not realize that raw sewage was flowing into the lagoon.

Conclusion

In conclusion your Medical Officer of Health believes the lagoon system of sewage disposal is ideal for a rural town in Alberta where there is low lying land that can be bought cheap. where this land is available it is an economical and satisfactory method of sewage disposal. If a disposal plant is overloaded it cannot be expected to work satisfactorily. As the population of a town grows over the years, larger systems have to be installed, otherwise there is a danger to health and the possibility of an epidemic occurring at any time.

Survey Satisfies Employee Group

In a statement issued today by the executive officers of the Civil Service Association general satisfaction was expressed with the recently announced classification and pay plan.

Initiated at the request of the Association some years ago, the survey was intended to bring uniformity of working conditions, application of regulations, pay, etc. throughout government service. During the course of the survey the Association representatives [illegible] consulted on progress of the study. Many of the Association's recommendations in regard to regulations and pay rates have been incorporated in the final plan. Throughout there has been close co-operation between the Association, the Government, and the staff of the Public Service Commissioner.

A clear-cut, well-defined appeal procedure has been set up, which will give all employees the opportunity of appealing classifications, or pay rates if supporting data can be supplied.

As a result of close studies of job classification systems in other jurisdictions, Association members [illegible] the survey technicians and at the same time, hold a watching brief on the results. The Association is playing an active part in personnel management in the government service.

[illegible] the classification and pay plan, although it is realized that inequities exist in certain areas. The appeal procedure should permit correction of these without difficulty.

The Association [illegible] that completion of the classification and pay plan will result in a more efficient public service.

Record 2,857 4-H Beef Club Members This Year

A record 2,857 4-H club members have been carrying beef projects in Alberta this year, reports Alberta's Supervisor of 4-H Clubs C. L. Usher. These club members will be exhibiting and selling nearly 3,200 beef animals at some 86 shows and 38 sales scattered throughout the province. The majority of these events will place in the first two weeks of June and the first week of July.

All members have been feeding and looking after their animals since November. The majority have been carrying the single animal project but some of the older members have been working with a pen of five. Through this senior project members are able to get a better grasp of what is involved in the commercial feeding of beef, says Mr. Usher.

A complete list of shows and sales is available from all district agriculturist offices.

Late Samuel Butz Honored By Dewberry Home and School

Dewberry Home and School held the monthly meeting in the school auditorium May 12. Following singing of O Canada, the president, Mr Bob Gray called on Mr Noel Jones, who in turn presented to Mr Kruger principal of the school, a set of 24 volumes of Encyclopedia Brittanica for the use of his high school students. Mr Jones said that Mr Kruger had not a full high school this year but had written and asked for a set of the encyclopedias. He was given the 24 books and asked to give the name of someone who had made a major contribution to the community. This was no easy task as many names had been submitted.

After a very careful study the committee selected the name of Mr. Samuel Butz as being the one worthy of the honor of commemoration.

Mr Butz had served four years on the [illegible] hospital board, was a member of the Brick school board for a number of years and had also served as a member of the Community [illegible] and the Dewberry sports association. He helped to build the hockey rink and had also been a member of the curling club and had taken part in the big car spiel at Nipawin. Mr Butz was always ready with a helping hand to the needy and no deserving project of the community ever sought his help in vain. All who knew him in life remember Mr Butz with affection and respect.

Mr. Jones said it was indeed a pleasure for him to present to Mr. Kruger, on behalf of the local school the set of Encyclopedia Brittannica in memory of the late Mr. Samuel Butz.

Mr Kruger thanked Mr Jones saying it was a pleasure to receive the valuable reference books for the school. The chairman thanked both Mr Jones and Mr Kruger.

Mrs S Butz widow of the late Mr Butz and the family were present and must have felt both happy and proud of this token of respect and love offered to the memory of their husband and father.

[illegible] called on Mr A A Aldridge, Supervisor [illegible] who in his remarks said it was a pleasure to be back [illegible]. He was here he said to discuss the problems of teenagers who he pointed out are so different individually. Each has their own problems which have to be solved according to their circumstances. He kept the audience in a good mood with his stories and his own remarkable sense of humor.

A film "Mike Makes His Mark" was shown. After the film Mr Aldridge conducted a lengthy question period. Each person was given a "Questions for Discussion" sheet. It was pointed out that lack of affection was often the cause of maladjustment. No feeling of love in the home causes the child to have a feeling of not belonging in the home and society and so causes quite a number of problems for the teen-ager. Mr Aldridge also pointed out that children should be encouraged to take part in all games and activities and mentioned the part the late Mr Butz had taken in this respect in the community.

Mrs J Filipkowski also spoke and both she and Mr Aldridge were sincerely thanked by the chairman and heartily applauded by the audience.

All then proceeded to a class room where lunch was served and the business part of the meeting took place.

It was decided that the Home and School cater for the track meet. Several members volunteered for the different booths.

It was decided that Mrs. D Brown be sent as a delegate to the convention at Lethbridge.

The Home and School is sponsoring a dance to be held in the auditorium on June 9.

Next meeting of the Home and School will be held Tuesday June 7th.

$300 Scholarship For Some Alberta Boy or Girl

A weed essay contest, which might prove the key to the future for some Alberta boy or girl is again being sponsored by the North-Central Control Conference, states W Lobay, Supervisor of Soils and Weed Control. The prize for the winning essay will be a $300 scholarship.

The contest is open to all boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 years of age whose families are actively engaged in farming and living in any of the three prairie provinces or the 14 north-central states. The essay entitled "How We Control Weeds on our Farm" should contain about 1000 words. The winner in each province and state will receive a cash prize of $25 and his or her essay will be entered in the contest for the scholarship.

In Alberta the contest will be conducted by the Soils and Weed Division of Field Crops Branch of the Department of Agriculture. Mr Lobay, who is in charge of the Division, urges all eligible farm boys and girls including 4-H groups to participate in the contest. In some municipalities the same essay could be entered in similar contests for which attractive prizes will be offered by the municipality concerned.

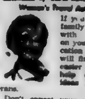
For further information contact your district agriculturist, field supervisor or the Field Crops Branch, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

No wonder our grocery bills are high. Dieticians claim that we average about 3,000 calories of food a day, while people in the tropics use only about 3,000 calories. Of course the latter likely do more laying in shade.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority



If you and your family drive with a trailer on your next vacation trip, you will find driving easier with the help of these ideas from veterans.

Don't expect your usual fast pick-up or instant response in traffic. You'll have to shift more often, automatic transmissions will take longer to shift, too.

Drive slower than usual. Be extra careful to anticipate stops. The extra weight needs a longer stopping distance. Always use low gear in going downhill.

When passing or turning corners, remember the extra length behind you. When backing up, aim the rear of the trailer, not the rear of the car.

Watch sharp curves. A trailer has a tendency to "whip". Keep to your lane.

Attach a heavy trailer to the car frame - not just the bumper. Many provinces require a safety chain. Better check.

Is the view from your side-view mirror obstructed? Get a "western" or long-armed job.

Also check whether your tail lights, turning blinker and stop light can be seen. Use hand signals. As an extra precaution, put reflecting tape on the back of the trailer.

Origin of Name Of Wetaskiwin

Stand by for a new crackdown on the high cost of crime in Canada.

Crime takes $54 a year directly out of every Canadian taxpayer's pocket, according to a federal estimate made for The Financial Post.

And the direct cost is rising. It's expected to exceed $270 million total in Canada this year.

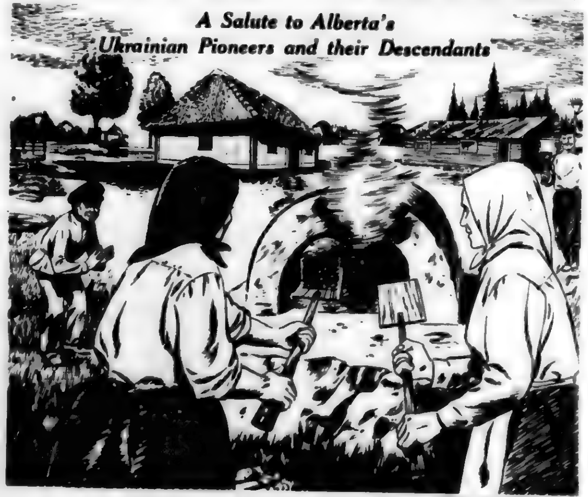
A Salute to Alberta's Ukrainian Pioneers and their Descendants



From a photograph of Ukrainian women tending an outdoor bake oven in the Vegreville area about 1905.

Historical data by courtesy of The Glenbow Foundation.

These are the now-famed "men and women in sheepskin coats"—pitifully poor Ukrainian peasants who, under the Sifton immigration scheme of the late 19th and early 20th centuries, came by the trainload to homestead the broad sweeps of the Canadian prairies.

Their costumes—embroidered sheepskin coats, straw-stuffed sandals, the long scarlet hemp skirts of the women—were virtually a uniform. But the vigor and enthusiasm with which they launched themselves on their new tasks, and the inborn knowledge which they brought to the grain-growing industry soon brought honor to that uniform. Today, with Ukrainian-Canadian agricultural settlements among the most prosperous in the province, and with Canadian-born second and third generation Ukrainians prominent in governmental, business and professional fields, there is no prouder heritage than that of "Sifton's Sheepskins."

Another proud westerner, the Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. Ltd., acknowledges—together with all Albertans—the contribution of the Ukrainian ethnic group.

Vote On Two Plebiscites June 10

Poll At Elks Hall Open From 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Ratepayers of Vermilion are being asked to decide two plebiscites this Friday, June 10th. The poll is in the Elks hall, and the hours of voting are from 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Ballots are to be marked with an X.

The first of the plebiscites is one which calls for the extension of the sewerage system by the addition of a lagoon. This will be located in the river valley north of the present nuisance grounds. The extension will thus provide sewerage services for a large number of homes in the east end of town now unable to enjoy that convenience and will relieve the overburdening of the present disposal system.

This is a money borrowing by-law calling for the expenditure of $40,000. As such it requires that 66⅔% of those voting must be in favor of the project. There is no room for argument on this question, the extension is badly needed due to the steady growth of the town since the installation of the system. This project is classed as "self-liquidating" that is, it pays for itself by bringing in monthly remuneration for services rendered. The debenture payments are actually met by profits from the water and sewer system of the town. The water and sewer department shows profits each month varying from $2,000 to $3,000.

RECREATION CIVIC CENTRE

The second plebiscite is of a different nature and requires but a straight majority to carry. The town council is asking permission of the ratepayers to contribute $80,000 from reserve funds on hand towards the construction of a steel and concrete civic recreation centre.

Cost of this structure will be an estimated $234,000, but approximately $122,000 is available at this time from the Dominion and Provincial governments in the form of free grants, an opportunity which may never occur again.

The civic centre is to be of steel and concrete block construction, and would be the finest structure of its kind in any town in the west. It will provide excellent skating and hockey facilities, increased accommodation for the annual fair, 4-H Club projects, extension of cultural and agricultural activities, would attract major sports and entertainment events not now possible. This is an ambitious progressive move which Vermilion should not miss.

RESERVE FUNDS

The $80,000 to be contributed by the town is from reserve funds which Vermilion is fortunate in having, and thus calls for no borrowing and no additional taxation.

VOTE AT ELKS HALL

Ratepayers are urged to vote on Friday, June 10 at the Elks hall between the hours of 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. Mark your ballot with an X. A progressive town requires progressive thinking on the part of its citizens . . . support both plebiscites.

BORIS ROUBAKINE

Music Exams. For Vermilion, Dewberry, Kitscoty

A distinguished member of the piano faculty of the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto, Mr Roubakine arrived in Toronto in 1949 after ten years of concertizing and teaching in New York City. Swiss-born, he completed his piano studies in Paris, where he also studied composition with Paul Dukas.

Mr Roubakine was for 12 years a leading faculty member of the Ecole Normale de Musique de Lausanne, Switzerland, and during this time made extensive European concert tours, latterly with the famous violinist, Bronislaw Huberman. A world tour brought both artists to New York, and Mr. Roubakine now makes this side of the Atlantic his home, except for European concert tours in 1947, '49, '51, '52 and '53. Mr Roubakine also was featured in an eight-months tour of South America in 1948.

Since coming to Toronto, Mr Roubakine has become familiar to Canadian audiences from coast to coast as he has made several recital tours and has given joint recitals with the French violinist Andre de Ribaupierre and the Canadian violinist Betty Jean Hagen.

Current examinations for The Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto will be conducted in Vermilion by Mr Boris Roubakine June 24, 25. Mr Roubakine will also conduct examinations in Dewberry June 23rd and in Kitscoty June 24th.

BIRD LAYS EGG ON CLOTHESLINE WIRE

Upon returning to his home from school Tuesday at noon, Pete Cooper, son of Mr and Mrs Doug Cooper, checked his Martin house to see if everything was in order, as is his usual practice, and to his utter amazement saw an egg perfectly balanced on the clothesline wire which attaches to the pole the bird house is situated on.

Apparently Mama Martin just couldn't wait for Papa Martin to get out of the house and while sitting on the wire laid her egg which [illegible] when hitting the line [illegible]. You see the male Martin [illegible] over the household duties when his wife decides to take a trip into the blue.

New Defence Man For Hockey Tigers

Constable Andy Legame, star ry defence player of the league champion Bonnyville Pontiacs, has been transferred to the local detachment of the R.C.M.P. and has already taken up residence in Vermilion. The new constable will receive a right royal welcome from all the myriad of hockey fans in town and district.

Constable Procyk has been transferred to Edmonton.

Non-operating Clubs Donate To Retarded School

Two most generous donations were given to the Vermilion Retarded Children's Assoc. by Miss Edna Martin on behalf of the Vermilion Teen-Ager Club and the Vermilion Stagettes.

Both these organizations have been non-operative for some time and the amounts given, Teenagers $104.12, and Stagettes $72.40, were the sums left in the treasuries.

The chairman and executive of the V.R.C.A. express their most sincere thanks for these donations.

Collections Start For Refugee Fund

The Chatsworth Country Club has placed contribution jars in the Vermilion stores. Donations are solicited in this manner to raise $1500 to buy freedom for a refugee family.

When the contents of the jars were counted last Tuesday there was a total of $29.[illegible] to aid in freeing a refugee family. This is a very small installment, but a beginning in the right direction. The jars will be in evidence until June 30, the official termination of the refugee year.

Your help is earnestly requested. Freedom is so familiar to Canadians that it is taken for granted. But think about it conscientiously and you will marvel that such a bargain as freedom for a whole family can be bought through the efforts of citizens of Vermilion and district.

There are approximately 30 million refugees in the world today. About [illegible] thousand of them live in one of the 200 camps [illegible] Austria, Greece, Germany and Russia. In addition there are 13 thousand in China, and thousands in Egypt, Iran and Turkey. There are thousands more who barely exist in old packing cases, cellars, boarded up prisons, in fact anything that will provide four walls and roof. They subsist on [illegible] rations.

Help one refugee family to become free to live a normal life.

Further Plans Announced For Blood Donor Clinic

Last week mention was made in The Standard that the local branch of the Canadian Legion had offered to co-operate with the Vermilion Branch of the Red Cross in listing residents in this town and district who would offer to donate blood at the Clinic to be held here on July 5th. It was asked also that other organizations co-operate in this most important work.

President Thompson, head of the Legion committee states that several groups in town have already offered to help. This is very gratifying and it is hoped that more organized groups will come forward with offers of assistance. It is planned to hold a house to house canvass, hence the need for lots of volunteers.

A meeting has been called for 8:00 p.m. on Thursday of this week in the Legion. It is hoped that every group in town will have some representatives there. Committees will be set up to handle various activities involved in the canvass for donors.

Should any individuals or groups wish to help they should contact the Legion committee which consists of Thos. Thompson, Alex Cullen and E R Buckingham.

RE-PRINTS

Photographic prints of any picture appearing in The Standard bearing the staff photographer's signature, are available for a nominal sum, payable at time of ordering. Please inquire at The Standard Office, Phone 45.

Pony, Little League Finals Get Underway

The [illegible] have been [illegible] in both the Vermilion Little League and Pony League [illegible]. [illegible] was last week the Elks Pony League team defeated the [illegible] [illegible] game series by two games [illegible] after three excellent games played in the Recreation Commission grounds. The Elks now go on to play the team from Mannville for the league championship. It is hoped that a complete new schedule of games can be arranged commencing early in July.

The semi-finals of the Little League will start this coming week with the first place team playing third and second place playing against fourth. On the basis of present standings the schedule will be Tuesday, June 14th, Legion vs Knights of Columbus; Thursday, June 16th, [illegible] vs Rotary.

This schedule could be changged somewhat as there is still some regular league baseball to be played and some changes could result. These semi-finals are sudden death games. The two winners then play off against each other in a two out of three series.

Everyone is urged to take in these games . . . there is a world of free entertainment for everyone who takes a part and your support is needed to encourage our young ball players in their efforts. Plan now to attend one or all of the games scheduled.

Ghosts Walk, But Don't Run In Saskatchewan Games

On Monday, June 6, the Vermilion Checker Ghosts journeyed to St Walburg, Sask. with the hopes of bringing back the first prize in a $300 fastball tournament . . . but this was not to be.

The boys won the first game by default and then were drawn against Ollie Fiddler and his West Side Merchants from Saskatoon. Fiddler is reputed to be the best pitcher in Saskatoon, and the locals soon found out why. The first eleven Ghosts went down via the strikeout route. And Fiddler continued to show his mastery as he finally wound up with a no-hitter allowing only two Ghosts to walk.

The Ghosts, however showed why they are one of the best teams in the country as they allowed Saskatoon only three runs, with Andy Redford once again coming through with a fine pitching performance, allowing only three hits.

They now have a record of three wins and two losses and they will be out to better that record when they travel to Cold Lake to take on the air base team on Sunday. Cold Lake will be here for a return game in two or three weeks time. This should prove to be a good game and will give the Vermilion fans a chance to enjoy top fastball entertainment.

TOURING TEAM HERE 21st

The Iowa Colored Cowboys' fastball team will play the Vermilion Checker Ghosts on Tuesday, June 21. This is an all colored team from Sioux City, Iowa, are scheduled to play in only three other Alberta centres, Calgary, Red Deer and Edmonton. The Cowboys are one of the top touring teams from south of the line.

Watch the Standard for further announcements and details of this specially arranged fastball treat.

First Concert At Park June 19th

The first band concert at the band shell in the park will be played on Sunday June 19th by the Kitscoty boys' band. The band will be at full strength at that time and under the baton of Milton Christoffersen, an excellent entertainment can be fully expected.

Visitor to Vermilion Flies Over The North Pole

Mrs Victor Hales of Christ Church, Hampshire, England arrived recently to spend three months visiting her brother Mr. Harry Scott and Mrs Scott in Vermilion. The trip from the Old Country was over the north pole. She boarded the plane at London, landed at Denmark where a change of planes was made, and the next landing was in Edmonton with the route being over the north pole. No Fun To Be Frantic

"The day has gone," claims the Canadian Highway Safety Council, "when the motorist on vacation must scurry like a hounded hare over the highway."

"Relax" is the holiday highway slogan today and the Council has issued a plea to all vacationing motorists to drive for pleasure, allot plenty of time for a trip, stop often and, most important, forget about jockeying for position in traffic. "Motoring can be fun," the Council claims, "but not if it's frantic."

The Council issued this plea for relaxed driving in connection with the continent-wide "Slow Down and Live" campaign, scheduled to run through June, July and August in Canada, the United States and Puerto Rico. Sponsored nationally in Canada by C.H.S.C., the campaign operates internationally under the guidance of the Association of State and Provincial Safety Co-ordinators. Its 1960 theme is "Highway Safety Makes Driving Fun."

"Slow Down and Live" promotion will include urgent requests that motorists obey the rules of the road no matter where or in what country they drive. Relaxed and resourceful driving, CHSC said, can bring back some of the enjoyment in motoring that existed before the highways became over-populated with vehicles.

Seek One Day in Seven

The annual report of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada has just appeared, and in its title, "What's Happening to Sunday?" raises a question on which it makes some pertinent and interesting observations.

The report deals with at least two new intrusions on the kind of Sunday that the Alliance seeks, within the law, to preserve. One is the problem of Sunday trucking. The report says that an Alberta magistrate in dismissing charges declared he could see no difference between a train carrying goods on Sunday and trucks doing the same thing on a parallel highway. The Lord's Day Alliance believes that any safety organization would have an immediate and convincing answer — Sunday trucking is a special danger to the additional thousands who use the highways for pleasure driving.

Another new incursion is that of automatic coin-operated laundries all across Canada. Cleanliness has always been regarded as being close to godliness, but within the terms of the Lord's Day Act, as far as laundromats are concerned, there is room for doubt. It appears that the laundering of father's shirts on Sunday creates a problem that several courts have been attempting to iron out.

Proposals for sports in Manitoba, cultural concepts in Ontario, and other aspects of a thorny problem are noted in the annual report of the Alliance. Readers of the report might find themselves better informed not only about some legal aspects of Sunday observance, but also about efforts of the Lord's Day Alliance, an often misunderstood institution which, in reality, is serving the best interests of Canadians by seeking that one day in seven shall be preserved from the tidal wave of business, and kept free for rest, recreation and worship.

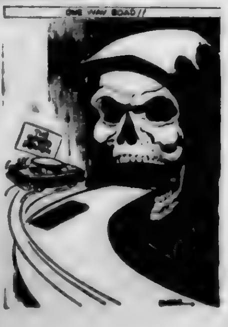
NEW YORK RUNS THIRD

The U. S. is having enough trouble, without bringing this up; but the neighbors are tough and likely can take it, after a gulp or so. New York is not the centre of the universe; even on this planet it ranks only third, according to the Canadian Almanac, the order by population being London, Tokyo, New York.



ONE WAY ROAD!!

Canadian Legion Notes

At the last Legion meeting held on May 30 it was agreed to invite tenders for painting the stucco and woodwork of the Legion hall. This will complete a program commenced three years ago. The whole of the Legion property has been repainted piece by piece, inside and out, during this time.

LEGION PICNIC

Arrangements are now being made to hold the annual Legion picnic at the ball park, Vermilion Lake, on the afternoon of July 10.

It was decided that a decoration day service be held at the Legion plot, Vermilion cemetery, on Aug. 21 at 1:30 p.m. It is asked that sports groups would kindly keep this time in mind when setting dates and times for ball games, etc. The service will be over by 2:30 so games could be called for 3 or 3:30 p.m.

On June 6th a funeral service was held in St. Saviour's church for Comrade George Scarborough. George was a life member of Vermilion branch, a regular attendant and very popular around the Legion club room.

NEWS from ISLAY

A terrific south-east wind on Monday buffeted garden plants and trees mercilessly. They look as if frost had damaged them.

The Strawberry Short Cake social has been put two days ahead, to June 15, in the evening. It is expected there will be a ball game too.

A crew is working on the road going north from the railroad, widening the grade and building it up.

Miss Queenie Hutton has arrived from Vancouver to spend some time at the home of her mother in Islay.

The church camp at Lake Whitney will open the beginning of July, for boys and girls. Plan now for your children to attend camp.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Having just received last week's issue of The Standard, I feel I must reply to the letters of "Ratepayer".

First of all, I don't think he is worried about a tax burden on anybody's shoulders but his own. To state that the old arena is still good enough after 33 years and is sufficient recreation is an example of an ostrich hiding his head in the sand.

It's about time Vermilion started getting a few things for young people. Not only for recreation but in the line of employment also. There is at present no industry for a young man or woman to be employed by and not much chance of there ever being one as long as people like "Ratepayer" are content to live in a rut.

The town of Drayton Valley is tentatively planning a swimming pool with their recreation grant. If a town only five years old can undertake a project of this size there is no reason for Vermilion not to be able to support a recreation centre. Please don't point out the park and lake, as this is not a year round facility.

My husband and I would like to move with our family back to Vermilion in the future, but since there are few employment opportunities for young men, this will probably be in the far distant future. We know of many other young couples who share this view.

Vermilion should stop ignoring opportunity when it knocks and live up to its title of a "Progressive Town".

Sincerely
Mrs. Allan Gannon.
Calgary, Alberta.

P.S. If Ratepayer has not enough courage to sign his name in public, let him reply to me personally at Box [illegible], Drayton Valley, Alberta.

Dear Editor:

The other day I received a bill from my doctor and attached was this enquiry "Have you forgotten or is there a reason?" Well there IS a reason, simply this . . . that I am going steadily broke and from what I read in the papers this is a condition shared by a vast number of farmers and others in this country.

Most of the factors contributing to our financial state have been dealt with repeatedly by other writers better qualified than I but since the good doctor asked I would just like to say here that in my opinion a good portion of the pressure is caused at the local level. Just look around and see who are building the luxury houses . . . have two cars in the family . . . take long holidays trips and work the short hours. Since every cent of income in these prairie towns must originate in the surrounding farming area, it must follow that some business and professional men are taking too big a cut for their services and these services, by the way, are sometimes pretty inefficient . . . but no matter how expensive and useless, we are not allowed to "forget" them.

Now I know of course, that the exploitation of the peasant class is a time honored privilege of those on a higher intellectual plain, but since their future prosperity and indeed the very existence of all country towns depends upon the survival of the small or family farm, I think the least they can do is kind of go along with us, be a bit patient, I am sure they will get their accounts in and could maybe even shave their profits a bit, and above all . . . lay off the sarcasm.

Thank you Mr. Editor for your always generous use of free space in the cause of others.

A Forgotten Farmer.

GREEN ACRES

By: H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist, and
EDWARD DOMKO, Assistant D.A.

CUTWORMS

Now is the time for watching! Cutworms can be expected any time from now until the end of June. As soon as damage is observed in the field or garden action must be taken to save the crop. The cutworm damage can be stopped with the insecticide "Endrin". For best results apply 2 oz. of Endrin and as close to 10 gallons of water to the acre as possible.

WATER HEMLOCK

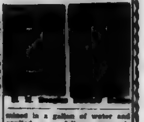
In Alberta this plant is sometimes known as wild parsnip, poison parsnip, cowbane or beaver poison. The upper parts of the plant are not poisonous but the root is quite poisonous to livestock. The root consists of a bunch of fleshy tapering [illegible] resembling small parsnips, growing quite close to the top of the ground. The plant is located in low wet marshy land and usually is more prevalent during wet springs. If this plant is suspected spray it with 2,4-D or grub out the roots. It has also been found quite practical to fence off the infested areas.

CARAGANA BLISTER BEETLE

H. A. Warden of the [illegible] Head Forest Nursery warns that infestations of the caragana blister beetle may be fairly heavy on the prairies this year.

The caragana blister beetle is an active, metallic bronze colored insect, about one inch in length. It feeds voraciously on caragana hedges and also appears on garden vegetables and other vegetation.

Any one of these chemicals



H. M. Douglas [illegible]

mixed in a gallon of water and applied as a foliage spray, is recommended as a control for this pest. They are: Malathion, emulsion (5 tsp.); sevin, 50 per half tsp.; dieldrin 25 per cent emulsion (3 tsp.); sevin, 50 per cent wettable powder (4 tsp.). A PYRETHRUM extract should be used on vegetables where the tops are to be used as food.

FEEDING SILAGE

Since silage is made from forage crops it should be regarded as a roughage and as a substitute for hay rather than grain. Therefore, the extent to which silage will be used in the feeding program depends upon the relative abundance of hay and silage on the farm.

DAIRY FIELD DAY

A Dairy Field Day will be held at the Vermilion School of Agriculture, June 17, starting at 1:30 p.m. The program will include the following: Dairy Situation and Outlook; Dairy Cattle Improvement, and Livestock Judging Demonstration and Competition; Awarding of Prizes. Mark the date on your calendar now and plan to attend.

WASH AND WEAR CLOTHES:

"Any article which is washable in the home and neat enough to be worn with little or no ironing" can be labelled a wash and wear item. There are three different types of fabrics involved with these features.

1. Fabrics so constructed as not to require ironing, like knitted goods, and terry cloth.
2. Fabrics with wash and wear characteristics imported by such fibres as dacron and acrilan, "built-in", so to speak.
3. Fabrics that derive their wash and wear performance from chemical treatments after the cloth is woven.

KNOW THE FABRIC

To be certain the garment will give the performance you expect, it is well to examine the fibre content of the fabric. Clothes which can be washed by machine and worn with little or no ironing should have a high percentage of dacron, orlon, or acrilan. These synthetics are very often blended with cotton. On the label, the fiber representing the greater percentage will be listed first.

Construction Details to Look For in Wash and Wear Clothing—

Seams should be sewn securely with mercerized cotton, nylon or dacron. There should be no puckering since it will not iron out.

Flat seams should be loosely overcast in fabrics that fray readily.

There should be a minimum of lining in jackets when used. It should be a synthetic fabric and stitched under to prevent fraying.

If the buttonholes are smoothly stitched, they should not cause the fabric to draw.

There should be a minimum of trim and frills.

Trimmings and findings such should be of synthetic fibers should be of synthetic fibers to reduce puckering and to reduce pressing time.

Hems should have evenly distributed fullness.

WASHDAY NIGHTMARES
(Or Why Women Desire Dryers)

The wind was brisk, the sun shone bright
I hung my clothes with great delight
But as I finished with a sigh
Some big dark clouds came drifting by
The sun was gone - I felt a drop,
I picked the clothes, took down the prop.
I limply sagged into a chair,
And then I saw the day was fair

Water Safety Around the Home

1. Because children love to play in water they must be watched constantly if there are creeks, rivers or ponds, no matter how small, near the home. A ditch, flooded after a storm, can be a death trap.

2. Cover open wells. Attention to this constant danger will prevent tragedy.

3. Make sure deep excavations in your neighborhood are fenced, and small children supervised at play. Anticipate and prevent that one fatal slip.

4. Garden ponds and plastic wading pools should be supervised while children are at play. . . and closed off when supervision is absent. Remember . . . children have drowned in as little as two or three inches of water.

5. Around the home teach your children to avoid these dangers. 47-50

CHATSWORTH CHATTER

We've had very little pleasant spring weather, and here it is June. The winds, especially this week's, have caused [illegible] soil drifting and hard on man and machine, the air being full of sand and gritty particles. Most farmers have completed seeding, excepting for coarse grains and greenfeed, this work being now under way.

Visiting at the Henningsen home for the Victoria Day week end were June and George Honey, Bobby and Brenda.

Noticed around, home for holiday also, was Donnie Klashinsky.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Good, of Edmonton, were visiting relatives in Vermilion and district two weeks ago.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kochan on the birth of a new son recently.

The deepest sympathy of the community goes out to Mrs. J. Farkash and family on the passing of Mr. Farkash. Also to the Kochan family on the loss of Mike's mother Mrs. Kochan, of town. Neighbors and friends extend regrets and sympathy.

Mr. Neil East is a visitor in town, at the home of his brother Mr. E. East and Mrs. East.

Mr. R. Good was a recent patient in the local hospital.

The May meeting of the Chatsworth Country Club was held on the 20th at the home of the president, Evelyn Henningsen, with nine members and one visitor, Mrs. O. Burns, present. The sick committee reported two cards sent. The new committee is Mrs. Alice Davis, and Mrs. Clayton Davis.

The president informed the meeting of the report forwarded to "Chatelaine" in competition for the Club Award. It was arranged that the club sponsor an appeal for "World Refugee Year", in this locality. (With the co-operation of the grocery stores in Vermilion there are now glass jars placed in the stores to receive donations, and the club will be most grateful to the public for any and all donations). At the end of the month there will be a report as to the amount collected.

The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. Bert Moses' on June 16th. The lunch committee is Mrs. M. Farkash, Mrs. S. Jarula, Mrs. Arthur Tovell, Evelyn Henningsen.

Although still on crutches Mr. Paul Dahoy is feeling somewhat better and is now able to drive his truck. Further improvement is wished him, as this is a very busy time of the year to be ill.

NO TROUBLE HEARING HER

Eileen Gosling, 12, has a big role in the increasing interest in public school bands now sweeping Scarboro, Ont. The Meadowvale school student plays an euphonium almost as big as herself. Nine Scarboro schools have bands and 13 have string orchestras.

Marwayne Clothing Club Holds Achievement Day

MARWAYNE — On Tuesday, May 17th, the Marwayne Clothing club held their Achievement Day in the community hall.

The five first year girls displayed project books, tea towel, sewing kit, cosmetic cape, laundry bag, dickey and apron.

The second year girl displayed a press mitt, dress, skirt and blouse and project book.

The three third year girls displayed project book, wardrobe plan and clothing of their own choice, made by them.

A large number of red cards were received by the girls for their sewing. After the parents and visitors viewed the displayed articles the program opened by singing O Canada, and the girls repeating the 4-H Pledge and Motto. Introductions were made by the chairman, Isabel Gray. A demonstration entitled "Learning to Sew the 4-H Way" was given by Molly Stafford, Ann Hansen and Theresa Froshill. Another demonstration on "Necklines" by Gladys Pashniak and one on "Tips for Storing" by Isabel Gray and Jackie Crichton were given. There was a skit on "Care of the Hair" by Marie Wheat and Norma Gray.

Molly Stafford reported on the trip to Edmonton by the club in January. Jean Kvill reported on the Father and Daughter party at Christmas time. Jackie Crichton gave a summary for the year. A monologue "Fat Fannie buys a pair of shoes" by Norma Gray, two songs by Gladys Pashniak and a sing-song were enjoyed by all.

To complete the program there was a dress review by the second and third year girls wearing garments they had made. Miss Hooper, D.H.E., and Mrs. J. Johnson from the Vermilion School of Agriculture, were the judges. After the program they gave their comments on the sewing and the program. Most of these comments were very favorable.

Mrs. Ollie Midgley, vice-president of the Marwayne F.W.U.A., sponsor of the club, presented pinking shears to the girls having the best project books. The first went to Marie Wheat for the first year girls and to Jackie Crichton for the second and third year. Miss Hooper took these books with her for district competition. Lunch was served by the girls.

Word has just been received that Jackie Crichton is the efficiency winner with Jean Kvill second for the club this year. Jackie has already attended 4-H week at Vermilion as the honor of attending goes to Jean this year.

Jackie Crichton and Isabel Gray were district winners at the 4-H rally at Wainwright. The two girls, with expenses paid by the club, will attend and compete in 4-H week at Olds in August.

Special Sewing Courses Offered At The V. S. A.

In response to a number of requests from interested ladies, a special short course in sewing is being offered at the Vermilion School of Agriculture June 21st to 24th.

This course is designed to serve the needs of those at the beginner level. It will include instruction on the operation and adjustment of sewing machines, choice, use and alteration of patterns, selection of materials.

The ladies will be given ample opportunity to practice basic exercises in sewing and each will undertake an elementary sewing project. Instructress in charge will be Mrs. L. Johnson and the classes will be conducted through 10 to 12 noon each morning and from 1:30 to 4:30 each afternoon for the four-day period.

Because the number who can be accommodated is definitely limited, ladies wishing to enroll for this short course should phone or write to the School of Agriculture immediately.

A preliminary meeting to discuss details and to provide direction regarding materials to be selected for the practical project will be held in the sewing room at the V.S.A. next Tuesday, June 14th, at 2 p.m.

BELATED MEMORIAL DONATIONS

The following donations to the Cancer Society were received in memory of Mr. J. Farkash, Sr.: Morton and David; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tovell and family; Mr. J. H. Tovell; Mavis and Arthur.

The Bible Today

The Bible translators endeavouring to put the words and thoughts of the Scripture into another language find many pitfalls especially when there is no written language to begin with from which to make comparisons. There are also unsuspected distinctions in words that are a pitfall to the uninitiated and the unwary. In more advanced languages this difficulty may be magnified.

For instance in the Dutch language word for leg which is been pronounced "bane" also means bone. But the plural of "been" leg is "benen" whereas the plural of been (bone) is "Beenderen". And if you refer to the legs of a table as "benen" you will be laughed at for to the Dutch that raises a picture of human legs. Inanimate objects, insects and animals do not have benen, but poten.

Your difficulties are not yet over because evidently the Dutch have such a high regard for a horse that its legs are called benen like human beings not poten like other animals.

In the realm of abstract words [illegible] the difficulty of selecting a suitable word [illegible] primitive languages [illegible]. In the [illegible] Phil[illegible] [illegible] among many [illegible] the word [illegible] "[illegible]" in Hanpango[illegible] [illegible] are [illegible] of expressing religious love [illegible] may also be used [illegible] people [illegible].

Bible translators sometimes seek for weeks to find the right word.

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

Now that crops and gardens are in and coming along, it is time to get caught up on a little of the other doings of the community.

BOY SCOUT INVESTITURE

A very impressive Boy Scout investiture was held one evening recently on the top of [illegible] hill when six boys were invested with their scarves, woggles and badges by [illegible] Havershaw. Those receiving the badges were: Brian Stadon, [illegible] Pheasey, Robert and Terry [illegible], Orest [illegible] and Gordon Fletcher.

With the Scouts, their parents and [illegible] surrounding the campfire, Mrs. [illegible] held the interest of her audience by a reading of a thrilling [illegible] story. Following this, each patrol put on a short skit and then Mrs. Cunningham led in a sing-song. The ceremony was closed with a short prayer by Mr. Pague and the Scouts [illegible] closing. Coffee and lunch was served by the older Scouts.

Early the following Saturday morning May 28, Henning Havershaw, Arthur Pheasey and Cecil Kennedy took all the boys up to the Camporee at Lake Whitney. A very good time was reported by the boys who arrived back Sunday evening.

C.G.I.T. ENTERTAIN AT TEA

The C.G.I.T. held a tea in the school gym on May 25 in the evening. There was a nice crowd and the girls would like to thank all the ladies who patronized their effort. Piano numbers were given by Colleen Kennedy, [illegible] Pheasey and Alayne Stone. A sing-song with Mrs. Pheasey at the piano concluded the evening.

The young people are keeping busy with their baseball leagues, both during school hours and after. Sorry not to have the standings at present but will try to have them for our next news. The Pony league team was forced to drop out of their play-off due to a shortage of players, pressure of school work and inter-school games.

BAZAAR ON FARMERS' DAY

The annual W.A. bazaar is being held this coming Friday afternoon, Farmers' Day, with the usual sale of work, supper and ice cream booths and a program of sports. Everyone welcome.

On Wednesday, June 15 the Central W.A. meeting will be held at the church at 2 p.m. and it is hoped all ladies of the W.A. groups will make a point of attending as this is the meeting where the main financial business, etc., is discussed, something in which all should be interested.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Wear and Mrs. Elward and Jerrold plan on leaving from Wainwright Friday via CNR on an excursion trip to eastern Canada for three weeks. It will be the first trip back to old home scenes in Ontario for Mrs. Elward since she settled here in 1909. Everyone wishes her and the others a very pleasant holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Everett, Frances and Lorene plan to leave next week by car for the west coast and points en route.

Trip Through United Kingdom Taken At Meeting At Vermilion

Members of the Vermilion Chamber of Commerce and a number of guests from nearby towns were taken on a pleasant tour of the British Isles by I. L. Davies, United Kingdom trade commissioner, who was guest speaker at the chamber's annual dinner meeting.

Approximately 120 persons enjoyed a dinner served in the Legion hall by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Vermilion branch and heard the speaker, with wit and complete knowledge of his talk, describe Great Britain of today.

Angus MacMillan, president of the Vermilion chamber was master of ceremonies and shared duties with W. G. Sutherland in introducing a large number of guests who came from centres all over the eastern part of the province.

AMONG GUESTS

Besides the speaker, guests included: Bert Williams and R. G. Rudd, of Mannville, Chester Gamble M.D. of Minburn, D. E. Wilson, M.D. of Vermilion River, Mayor Hill of Vermilion, Wm McLean and Wm. Axley, Islay Community Association, Ron Barwick and Joseph Thygeson, Elk Point chamber, Geo. Baynton, Lloydminster chamber; Jno. Spence and A. Sholten, Vegreville chamber, E. W. Cuthbertson and Sidney Tedarenko, Wainwright chamber, M. J. Christofferson and C. A. [illegible] Kitscoty Board of Trade, John Whiteside and Al Hatelid, Dewberry Board of Trade, William Zenuk and Charles Gordon, Derwent Board of Trade; Mike Misanchuk and R. J. Venables, Myrnam Board of Trade, Clifford Bruce and Wm. Specht, Clandonald Board of Trade, and Marcel Chevrette and Maurice Mailloux, St. Paul Chamber of Commerce.

Also attending and bringing greetings from the Alberta Chamber of Commerce was A. F. Shortell, of Lloydminster. Mr. Shortell congratulated the Vermilion chamber on its change of name from that of board of trade. He stated that while the organization has turned in a wonderful job as a board, the change of name, in his opinion, adds appreciable dignity.

PROVINCIAL GROUP

The Alberta vice-president outlined the duties and aims of the provincial organization. He stressed the importance of the group as a sounding board of public opinion for the government. He emphasized the excellent hearing the Alberta chamber receives from the Alberta government each year.

Mayor Hill brought greetings from the Vermilion Town council and also lauded the efforts of the businessmen of Vermilion in their community work.

Mr. Davies was introduced by John Kneale, immediate past-president of the Vermilion chamber. Mr. Davies paid tribute to the many natural, scenic beauties of western Canada and especially Alberta.

He added that Canadians are a pleasant trip through the British Isles. His wit brought many a cheerful smile from members of the audience. He spoke of the improved economy of Wales. This, he stated, has been accomplished by newcomers to the country bringing with them their [illegible].

Mr. Davies stated that in Wales many new small industries have been started and that these have helped appreciably to the improved economy of the country. He stated that in many ways these same small, secondary industries could be applied in smaller centres in Alberta.

He added that Canadians are fortunate in having many opportunities, and he urged all to take the fullest advantage of these potentialities and in so doing add to the economy of Canada.

Immediately following the dinner a sing-song was led by Thomas Watts with Mrs. Albert West at the piano. All joined in the singing to complete an evening of good fellowship among town businessmen and the hand of friendship between neighbors.

OBITUARY

MRS. MYRTLE EVELYNE DAVIES

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Myrtle Evelyne Davies were held at the First United Church of Vermilion on Wednesday, May 18th, at three o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. C. W. MacKay officiated. Interment was in the cemetery at the old home of the deceased at Kenaston Sask. The pallbearers were Messrs. O. Omness, T. Watts, F. Dibben, L. Mayhew, C. Upshall and C. Thompson.

Mrs. Davies passed away at the Vermilion municipal hospital on Monday, May 16th, at the age of 73 years. She was born at Attwood in Perth Country, Ontario. Married in 1906 to Robert P. Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

You're the lady of the house driving the family car into a service station for gasoline, and the attendant asks, "Regular or premium?"

What do you answer — and why?

If you've never given it a thought, here are some things you should know.

Don't confuse high octane with "high test" — an old-fashioned term. Today, all brand name gasolines are "high test"—meaning volatile enough to start a car on a cold morning. Octane rating measures anti-knock quality.

High octane gasoline burns at a slower rate, counteracting the tendency of the fuel-air mixture in the cylinder to explode too early. This is especially important under load, when accelerating or climbing a hill.

Premium gasoline costs more because it utilizes a smaller fraction of the crude oil, needs more refining, often contains special additives.

Car designers take advantage of improved premium gasoline by building high-compression engines. With such an engine you definitely gain in power and economy by using premium gasoline.

However, if the compression rate is set for regular gasoline, your car should run well on it. A Shell dealer will be glad to check this for you.

In an older car, premium gasoline can sometimes improve performance. Carbon deposits and engine maladjustments increase the need for high octane. Also, an engine with borderline octane needs may run well on regular in one part of the country, but need premium in another. It's a matter of experimenting.

The Junior Farmers' Union of Alberta has already collected $13,500 for its Gold Eye Lake Camp, west of Rocky Mountain House. A. F. McCalla, chairman of the Camp committee and president of the Junior F.U.A., hopes that the balance of the $50,000 objective can be raised this year.

Dewberry C.G.I.T. Banquet, Graduation

The Dewberry C.G.I.T. held their Mother and Daughter banquet in May.

The student minister, Mr. Snider, said grace. Following the banquet, the president, Cheryl Jones, proposed the toast to the Queen. Rev. Shortt brought a message from the church. Karen Farberg proposed the toast to the mothers to which Mrs. Farberg very aptly replied. Anne Collins proposed the toast to the leaders. Mrs. Jones thanked the girls on behalf of Mrs. Lowrie and herself.

The honorary guest for the evening was Mrs. S. Websdale, one of the pioneers of the district.

Mrs. Kruger, the guest speaker, brought a very inspiring and interesting talk, using as her theme "Faith of Our Fathers."

The girls then presented each mother and lady guest with a "wishing well."

Following this the intermediates presented a short program of skits and dialogues. The entire group sang some spirituals.

The seniors led the worship service during which Leatrice Anderson was presented with a lanyard. The climax of the evening was the graduation ceremony. Jean Holmen, the first graduate, received a pin and a diploma. Rev. Shortt and Mrs. [illegible] her good luck and hoped she would continue in her church work.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

Weather has been cool, windy and showery. To date, June 6, there haven't been any frosts and crops and gardens are coming nicely. From present indications early spraying for weeds will be necessary.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis McCormick Jr. of Rusylvia on the birth of a son.

The latter part of May the power line was extended west from the community centre corner to the homes of Tommy Rochford and Steve Gordey.

On May 26th Mrs. Hilda Cross left Edmonton by jet for San Francisco, a three-hour flight. She is nursing her brother-in-law Billie's sister's husband.

Mrs. Mabel Lee joined her daughter Isobel and Jimmy Ronaghan and family in the city and they all spent the week-end of the 29th at Banff and Jasper.

An attendance of 37 at our church on the 29th, around 65 at the Clandonald service. Miss Evans spoke on "Gossip" and "Harmful Truths", a very impressive service. On June 1st church school was held with the usual good attendance, 18. Ivan Olson from Clandonald is helping, taking a boys' class.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt and family from Lloydminster were visitors at the Idelore Nelson home the last week-end in May.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. G. Majeau and family of Mannville in their recent bereavement. The Majeau and Omness children attended school together when the two families lived at Fort Saskatchewan.

Sunday visitors during the long week-end at the Laird home in Clandonald were son Wayne and Mari from the city and their friends Max and Betty, from St. Johns, Nfld. They have been west about a year and will return home in June.

Pleased to hear that Mr. Pete Bykowich of Rusylvia is home and recuperating nicely after a [illegible] operation in the city.

It was nice to hear from Mrs. S. McGibney, mother of Mrs. W. C. Laird of Clandonald. She has returned to her home in Welwyn, Sask., after her extensive holiday in B.C., visiting her daughter Agnes, who is a supervisor of the Retarded Children's school, at Trail, and son Douglas, a U. of B.C. graduate and in Vancouver, with her nephew Dr. M. McNab.

An attendance of 43 was at church June 5. Miss Evans had as her theme "The Satanic Ifs", Temptations of our Lord in modern dress.

COUPLES' CLUB AT PARK

The Couples' Club in Vermilion spent the evening of June 3 at the park. Rev. MacKay was in charge of the devotional. The message for all — "Let Jesus come into your heart."

It had been some time since we visited the lake and noticed were many improvements. Vermilion can rightly be proud of "the Vermilion Lake Park".

The week-end of the 5th Mrs. Isobel Ronaghan and family from Edmonton were in town bringing her mother, Mrs. Lee, home. They had a wonderful trip to Banff and Jasper. They called at the Mayers' farm Saturday evening.

Mrs. Stella Mayers accompanied the Omnesses to Elk Point on June 5 where a delicious dinner was enjoyed at sister Gertie Swanson's. Following dinner all went to Whitney Lake.

HONOR MR. and MRS. KEPKE

Mr. and Mrs. Auburn Kepke of Greenwood, B.C., are holidaying at their old home, Spring Park. Relatives from Elk Point, Lindberg and Spring Park honored them one day recently. Present were the families of Charlie Keller, Bill Keller, Rufus Kepke, Vincent Laurence, Morgan Darling, Walter Saranchuk, Calvin Laughlin and Mrs. Edna Darling. The men enjoyed fishing at Laurier in a very cool atmosphere. It was grand renewing acquaintances with these folk and their hospitality was much appreciated.

This gathering took place at the provincial government camp site just south-east of Whitney lake. There is a large camp shelter, bathing and outhouses, and play equipment at the beach for the children. Truly an added attraction to the lake. Across on the other side can be seen the United Church camp, so well known to many.

On the afternoon of June 9 Miss Ann Evans and Mrs. Laird of Clandonald will be attending the W.A. and W.M.S. rally at Kitscoty. Miss Evans is to be the guest speaker. Mrs. Laird will also be speaking as she is this district's representative for Camp Whitney.

On the afternoon of June 6th we were pleased to meet Mr. Samuel Pagee, the south field minister, who called on us. Visitors also were Miss Evans and Ivan Olson of Clandonald.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

June 5th was a happy day for Ervin Strome, his 10th birthday. Fifteen neighboring boys were present, along with the girls and parents. Ervin was pleased and appreciated very much the gifts he received. A most thrilling one was the tent received from his parents, brothers and sister. There the boys enjoyed their birthday supper, out of the cool of the afternoon. All wished Ervin many more happy birthdays.

Closing Thought: "The mission of every Christian is to help others find fullness of life."

MARWAYNE

Belated greetings go to Mrs. Hancock for her 88th birthday on May 31st. Mrs. Hancock is at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. Midgley for the summer.

TRAIL RIDE DRAWS 123

A 'Trail Ride' was held at the home of Mr. Alvin Parker on Sunday, May 29, when 123 people came from Edmonton, Clandonald, Vermilion, Grand Centre and Lloydminster and surrounding districts. The horses were brought in by truck. The ride, with 52 horses and riders was led by Alvin Parker and started about 2 p.m. Following this a wiener roast was enjoyed by the trail riders and others. The day was wound up with a number of novelty races and Gymkhana events.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown of Edmonton spent a few days at the home of their parents Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Sonley.

Miss Edie Fairbairn is home on three weeks' holiday.

Mrs. V. Smith is a patient in Lloydminster hospital. Mrs. Fairbairn was there for a few days but is now back home again. Mrs. Ure is also back home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Protsch of Vancouver are back from the coast to complete the combining.

The Davidson home has been moved onto the lot next to the Alex Romanick home. Mr. Stanley Sayers is building an extension onto his house. The United church looks very nice with a new coat of stucco, also the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Manson.

The finishing coat has been applied to the cenotaph and the plaque is in place. Landscaping has now started with the hauling of black dirt.

North Eastern Alberta Dentists Meet in Two Hills

On Wednesday the 25th of May, the North-Eastern Alberta and Dental Society held its regular dinner meeting at the Two Hills Hotel dining room, in Two Hills.

Two scientific papers were presented at the meeting. The clinicians were Dr. C. J. Marriott of Bonnyville, and Dr. L. Shorvis of Lloydminster.

The presentation was followed by an animated discussion by all the members present. The president, Dr. L. G. Mandin of St. Paul reports that a resolution is being drawn up by the society, to be presented to the University of Alberta and the Legislative assembly, as a possible solution to use in enticing more dentists to practice in the rural areas.

Members present were Drs. Pat Holt, Sid Holt and Lloyd Shorvis of Lloydminster, Dr. Bob Lynn of Vermilion, Dr. Sam Hardin, Vegreville; Dr. Joseph Lukenchuk, Two Hills; Dr. Cecil Marriott, Bonnyville; Dr. Dave Hulen, Elk Point; Dr. L. G. Mandin, St. Paul.

The wives were entertained by Mrs. Joseph Lukenchuk at her home in Two Hills, and after the meeting, Dr. Didow entertained everyone with some very artistic color slides of Crater Lake and Disneyland.

Red Cross Sends Aid to Chile

Over half a ton of relief supplies left Red Cross provincial headquarters in Calgary on Friday by air for Vancouver. The shipment, which contained children's under and outer clothing and bedding, formed part of a 17-case shipment flown from Vancouver at the week-end by C.P.A. to the Chilean Red Cross for distribution to victims of the recent earthquake disasters.

The Alberta supplies, produced by volunteer women workers throughout the province, weighed 1,215 pounds and were valued at $1,926 for materials only. Included in the shipment were woollen mitts, sweaters and other items of warmer clothing sent on request of the Chilean Red Cross.

Ingenious Portable Dental Office To Serve Rural Albertans

An ingenious dental office featuring the latest equipment and capable of being carried in the trunk and back seat of an automobile, has been purchased by the Wetoka Health Unit at Wetaskiwin. The equipment manufactured by a Canadian firm, will be used by the Unit dentist for school dental inspection within the Unit.

The whole equipment is carried collapsed in threee duraluminum cabinets, each weighing approximately 40 pounds, and one case for the dental chair. In addition to enclosing the instruments and supplies for travel, the three cabinets are stacked to form a cupboard and sink shelf when the unit is assembled.

An electrically driven speed drill with foot control is attached to one edge of the stacked cabinets, while a set of two focused spot lights are fastened to the other edge. A circular working tray swings out from the front and a top case contains a set of small drawers to hold the dentist's instruments.

Below the drill is a stainless steel sink with a faucet arrangement. An electric cord and a water hose are part of the kit and when connected to outlets complete the working office.

The chair is assembled from tubular steel and is leather upholstered on the seat and back rest. The total time required for complete assembly of the equipment is 15 minutes. The cost of the equipment is $2,000, considerably less than a trailer office, and offers greater mobility.

Other Health Units are considering this equipment for their preventive dental program. In addition the Department of Public Health will provide two or three sets of similar equipment on a loan free basis to dentists in private practice who wish to visit an outlying area for a period of two weeks or more to provide dental service to the community at large on a private practice basis. This latter plan will be in operation this summer through the cooperation of the dental association and senior dental students.

The inspection and survey of school students is part of a program of dental health initiated during 1959 by the Alberta Department of Public Health. Wetoka Health Unit employs a full time dentist while some of the other units will be appointing a temporary dentist who will work as dental auxiliary.

A school student is not checked for dental trouble without the consent of the parents, who must sign a card giving permission for the inspection. Any serious dental disorders are noted on the record and a copy given to the parent who may have the matter corrected by the local dentist. At the end of the inspection the student's teeth are given a topical application of flouride to lessen the incidence of decay.

Death and Funeral of Duncan Bernard Baxter, Paradise Valley

In the death of Duncan Bernard Baxter, the Paradise Valley district has lost one who always played a prominent part in community affairs, one who will be greatly missed and whose place will be hard to fill.

Mr. Baxter passed away May 24th in the Lloydminster hospital after a long illness which became serious last fall. He underwent a heart operation and never regained his strength.

Mr. Baxter was born in Bridgeport, C.B., on Dec. 31, 1902. The Baxter family moved to Westville, N.S., in 1909 and Barney as he was familiarly known worked in the mines there until he came west. He worked in the Drumheller district for a short while before joining the U.G.G. as grain buyer and came to Paradise Valley in 1931 as grain buyer for that company.

Five years ago he gave up the elevator and purchased A. G. Lee's insurance business and Treasury Branch agency which he operated until his death. In his younger days he took a very active part in sports of all kinds, especially baseball, curling and hockey, but the first named was his strongpoint. He umpired in the Western Canada Baseball league for awhile.

Mr. Baxter leaves to mourn his passing his wife Gladys, two sons Bernard and James, three daughters Mary (Mrs. Safnuk), Gloria of Edmonton, and Sherrile at home; three brothers, John of Wainwright, Gus of Hinton and Ernest at Stellarton, N.S.; three sisters Mary (Mrs. McDonald), Margaret (Mrs. Livingston) of Westville and Bernadette (Mrs. Mako) of Taber. There are two grandchildren.

The funeral was held in the Paradise Valley hall on Friday, May 27 with Rev. Harvey Johnson of Carstairs, a particular friend of Barney's, conducting the service with W. J. Sirett at the organ. Interment was in the Paradise Valley cemetery.

Pallbearers were Messrs. Geo. Venner, George Moffatt, Charles Elliott, Fred Kerr, Floyd Henry and Clarke Richardson. The honorary pallbearers were Messrs. L. A. Mathieson, M. Moncrieff, W. Winson, L. Holgate, J. McAmmond and W. A. Gunn.

—Author's name below—

About fifty years after the birth of Christ, Pliny, the elder, warned of the danger of obtaining medicines from unreliable sources or people whose only interest in their sale was the profit to be made. He explained that physicians trust druggists who have a professional reputation to cherish and preserve.

There have always been some thoughtless or money-hungry people attempting to sell medicines, even though they have no knowledge of the problems involved. The simplest medicine requires proper cautions against possible dangerous misuse. We pharmacists have the knowledge to protect you.

CNR in Passenger Business To Say

REGINA. Despite any suggestions or rumors to the contrary Canadian National is in the passenger business to stay, C. A. Harris, CNR's director of public relations said here.

He pointed out in an interview that there are many areas across the country, especially in the 100 to 300 mile range, where the modern train offers real advantages over all other forms of travel. It is in these areas that Canadian National intends to compete vigorously for all the business it can get. The company's latest newspaper advertising campaign is a step in that direction, he added.

PROFESSIONAL IMMIGRANTS

Canada's attractions and opportunities appeal to the U. K. professional worker says The Financial Post. But U. K. contribution to our immigration of domestics, general laborers and industrial workers is relatively low.

Of the 24,777 immigrants from the U. K. to Canada in 1959, 11,128 or 45% were housewives, children and other independents.

Of the remainder, 3,674, or about 25 %, were described as professional people such as engineers, doctors, architects, chemists and teachers.

"A HURRICANE OF COMMON SENSE"

Caux, Switzerland, June — Dr. Frank N.D. Buchman [illegible] Moral Re-Armament "a hurricane of common sense sweeping through the heart of nations. It is smashing down the barriers between nations and races, dispersing the fogs of hate that threaten humanity, and bringing a mighty wind of hope to the millions of the earth."

The failure of the Paris Summit meeting points up the need for a serious reappraisal of national purposes and policies. It throws into sharp relief the opening of the Moral Re-Armament World Conferences in Caux, Switzerland, and Mackinac Island, Michigan, early in June. These conferences have been called to bring a cure to the crisis of nations.

[illegible] This is the normal work of true patriots of every country throughout the world. Without this essential patriotism, civilization must end in chaos. With the acceptance of this challenge, every man can be a force to bring an avalanche of the answer to his nation. Moral Re-Armament stands as the dynamic alternative for mankind. It is the way up and the way out for all humanity. We will win the world in time."

Dr Buchman has gone to Europe in response to repeated invitations from Chancellor Adenauer of Germany and Archbishop Makarios, President-elect of Cyprus. In the last months he has also received urgent invitations from President Tubman of Liberia [illegible]

Dr. Buchman concluded, [illegible] restoring the Communist and the Non-Communist [illegible] to sanity and unity before it is too late. That hurricane is [illegible] the still small [illegible] of the living God, an unseen but ever-present Guide, willing and able to speak to the men of the Kremlin, the men of [illegible], to the millions everywhere, leaders and led, who have lost their way and seek to find it."

"It is so normal. It is so practical. It is a hurricane. And it is common sense."

Health Unit Notes

HOW CAN YOU GUARD YOUR CHILD'S EYES?

Your child's sight is of such great importance that every consideration should be given to its care. If his eyes are injured or inflamed, get medical treatment at once. Do not delay with home remedies. However bathing the eyes copiously with good clean water is excellent emergency treatment if dirt or irritation gets into the eyes.

If your child has poor vision he is facing life with a difficult handicap. During his early years it limits his experience and lessens his abilities. Parents may not realize that the child's vision is defective. He will not complain of poor sight because he has known no better vision. He may act and play as if he can see all right and it may not be until long after he starts school that something is suspected, especially when an apparently intelligent child makes slow progress. He may seem hesitant, awkward and even stupid at school when the real trouble is poor eyesight. Many a child has been unjustly branded as backward for this reason.

HIS EYES SHOULD BE EXAMINED

Since a child does not know his vision is poor parents should have him properly examined by an eye specialist as soon as he is old enough to walk and again at the time he commences school.

COMMON VISUAL DEFECTS OF CHILDREN

Most children are born long sighted. By school age the vision has become normal in 80% of cases. Of the remaining 20% only a little more than half (12% of all children) need glasses. The others (8%) have some visual defect detectable by special tests. However since their eyes have great powers of accommodation, these children with slight visual defects are able to see quite well and do not need glasses. No child should be given glasses unnecessarily but every child who needs glasses should have them. School surveys show that less than half the children who need glasses actually have them.

Glasses are needed if excessive long sightedness persists (hyperopia); if the eyes are irregular in curvature (astigmatism) or if short sight develops (myopia). Glasses and other treatment are needed if cross eyes develop. Short-sightedness comes on between the ages of four and five years. It may continue to progress until about age sixteen. It usually then becomes stationary. A few cases may later deteriorate with great loss of vision in adult life. Children with glasses should wear them while reading or doing close work. Short-sighted children in particular should not try to read small print or hold their work close to their eyes. Glasses may be worn while at play, but shatterproof lenses are recommended. These will crack only if badly damaged and the eyes will not be cut by flying glass.

CROSS EYES

About 2% of children have cross eyes. Most cases appear between the ages of two and four, often associated with excessive long sight. This type of cross eye can be prevented provided an examination is done soon after the child learns to walk and proper glasses are prescribed. Small children rapidly accept glasses because they see so much better.

Cross eyes usually do not develop suddenly. They may be present to some extent for quite awhile before the parents are sure about it. If the eyes are crossed or there is doubt, the child should be taken at once to an eye specialist. No child is too young for treatment. If the case is neglected for six months or longer treatment will be more difficult, and if left too long one eye may become permanently blind. The cross eyes which develop in early childhood can be straightened and good vision restored in both eyes if treatment is commenced in time. In early or moderate cases, the eyes may straighten with the constant wearing of glasses. In more advanced cases muscle exercises are needed as well as glasses. When the squint is quite pronounced operation is essential to adjust the length and action of the eye muscle and glasses will be needed afterwards. About 25 per cent of cases need operation. This should not be a terrifying experience for a child. He will feel no pain and will only be in hospital one or two days. There are other less common types of cross eye, some of which respond to treatment.

Cross eyes are a decided handicap. The child tends to become shy and self-conscious when he learns his eyes are different from those of other children. Their taunts will trouble his peace of mind and may cause a feeling of inferiority. When he grows up, he will resent the fact that his eyes could have been straightened and blindness in one eye prevented. Every cross-eyed child should, therefore, have his chance of cure. No child will grow out of cross eyes and the treatment should not be delayed until he is older.

VISUAL HYGIENE

Poor lighting is the most common cause of eye strain. Even normal eyes tire rapidly when used continuously to do close work in poor light. Therefore, no matter how good your eyes or your child's eyes may be, make sure that good light is always available in your home so that your child may do his homework or reading without visual discomfort. There is no excuse for poor light these days. It is important that schools have properly situated windows and adequate artificial lighting for dull days. This will enable every child to see clearly both his work and what is written on the wall chalkboard. In conclusion, secure medical treatment for eye inflammations or injuries. Take your child to your doctor, the local health unit clinic or eye specialist.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Big Weather Research In Hail Belt of Central Alberta

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — More than 20,000 residents of central Alberta are being asked this year to take part in one of the biggest weather research projects being undertaken in North America.

The project, now in its fourth year, is aimed at finding out something about the summer hail storms which annually cause millions of dollars of damage to grain crops in the "hail belt" of central Alberta.

According to scientists of the Alberta Research Council working on the project, questionnaires will be mailed to residents in an area extending from Wetaskiwin south to High River and from Castor west to the Foothills. The residents will be asked to collect and report information on the time and location of storms, the size of hailstones, and whether storms are accompanied by lightning, high winds or rain.

Some of the residents will be asked to gather hailstones and turn them over to some 250 stations which have been set up to collect representative samples for laboratory analysis.

The hail research project is being carried out jointly by the Alberta Research Council, the Stormy Weather Group of McGill University and the federal government meteorological bureau.

The weather watchers hope that eventually they will learn enough about what causes hail storms to start looking for means of controlling or eliminating them.

In addition to the help they expect to get from farmers and townspeople, the scientists will be taking "high fidelity photographic recordings" of storms for future study of atmospheric disturbances which accompany them. 45 barographs will be set out for the hail area to measure atmospheric pressure changes which may be responsible for "triggering storms".

SENIOR LODGES TO OPEN [illegible]

J. E. O. Austin, the man in charge of the province's new homes for the aged, was back in Edmonton last week after a tour of homes under construction throughout Alberta, and reports that 31 of them are scheduled to be opened in July.

He said many of the homes now are being furnished, and in some cases all that remains to be done is hiring of staff. Local foundations which will operate the homes are receiving applications from pensioners and other senior citizens interested in moving into them.

The 31 homes now under construction are the first of 50 to be erected as last year's phase of the provincial government's "five-year development program."

111 STUDENTS PLAN Fairview

Northern residents of the province chalked up a major victory last week when the government announced that the Fairview School of Agriculture, closed since 1958, will be reopened this fall.

The Fairview school has been closed since fire destroyed one of the main buildings. The government wasn't overly anxious to reopen it, because enrollments were dropping during its final years of operations.

But northern residents applied pressure, and in the Legislature this year Peace River district MLAs mounted a concerted drive for reopening. The government said O.K., but only if Peace residents indicated there was sufficient interest to warrant it.

Questionnaires were sent to some 2,600 families in the district. Back came 111 replies from young people who said they would attend agricultural courses, and about 30 more from prospective students interested in academic courses.

Last week Agriculture Minister Hahnrast announced the school will reopen, basically as an agricultural institution but he added there is also serious consideration being given to offering other vocational courses and grade 11 and 12 academic subjects if there is sufficient interest.

Eventually, the minister said, Fairview School will be developed as a community college along the lines recommended by the Cameron Royal Commission on education. This makes the announcement even more significant, because Fairview will be the first of the community colleges and, as such, will be an experimental venture which could pave the way for a new approach to education in rural Alberta.

The Norway Valley circuit of the Marwayne Mutual Telephone Co. is under construction. A number of poles are up and the brush is mostly cut along the right-of-way. If everything goes according to plan the telephones should be in use this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Maas and family were down from Edmonton to spend Sunday with Roy and Christine Maas. Accompanying them was Mrs. Pat McDonald.

Mrs. Ken Deschovery is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs. Roy Morris.

A colored film, "That They May Live" produced by the University of Saskatchewan, was shown in the Central school on Wednesday morning. This depicted a method of artificial respiration first used way back in the days of Abraham Lincoln. The procedure consists of blowing air into the victim's lungs by way of the mouth. Though not made known to the public generally for all these years the medical authorities state that this method surpasses by far the conventional hand method. The principal, Mr. Emile Wynocki, granted permission for all the school children to see the film. Due to the busy season only a handful of adults attended.

Charles Gullickson, Leslie Purvis and Neil Forbes initiated the fishing season on Sunday by journeying to Stone Lake and caught only one after an effort of several hours. They continued on to Frog Lake in search of more fruitful waters and gathered in seven more jackfish there.

Mrs. 'Lucky' Good was up from Swift Current for a few days taking care of some business matters at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs. Roy Morris. She was accompanied by her brother George as he had a few days off from work in the oil industry near Kerrobert.

E. Morton Is New Mannville Constable

MANNVILLE. Coming to Mannville with experience in policing from Vancouver city police force, Brampton, Ontario town police and A. V. Rowe, Malton, Ontario, as well as serving in the armed forces, Ernie Morton sounds like a good choice for Mannville town constable. A married man, hailing from Edmonton, Mr. Morton has five in his family, all boys, who, with Mrs. Morton will take up residence here when school is out the end of June.

The former town policeman, genial Jim Allen has retired from police work and has consented to act as Mannville's village handyman, reading gas meters, etc., and doing numerous other jobs, for which Mannville is exceedingly grateful.

About one in every four farm families is involved each year in a farm accident and about one in every fifty of these is fatal. Over 30 percent of all farm accidents involved "under-30" age groups.

Funeral Rites Held at Mannville For Raymond D. Lynch

Funeral services for Raymond D. Lynch were held from McQueen Memorial United Church, Rev Frank G. Andrews officiating. Interment was in the Mannville Cemetery.

Sandy Hogan Guest At Mannville Graduation

MANNVILLE. On Friday May 20, the High school graduands, their parents, teachers and guests, were addressed by Mr Sandy Hogan the special speaker for the High school graduation exercises in the school auditorium. Mr Hogan, a graduate of Mannville High school himself was introduced by the school principal, Mr Angus Smith, who told the gathering that Mr. Hogan continued his studies after leaving Mannville, obtaining a degree in law, and is now employed by the Provincial government in the Department of the Attorney General.

Mr. Hogan informed his young listeners that the decisions they make at this time will affect their entire future. When they leave Mannville to continue studies in their chosen field, or to seek employment, their circumstances will be greatly changed. At home everyone is interested in their welfare, but strangers will not have the same concern. Their experiences gained thus far will be a help to them wherever they go. Now they are faced with the great decision of 'what to do'. He advised them to choose a vocation they can enjoy. Speaking warmly of Mannville he asked that they too may be proud of their home town.

MARIAN YACAK, C. V.

As class valedictorian, Marian Yacak spoke of the training the class had received during their Mannville school days, and said that they would go forth with a challenge into the future. They were saddened at leaving the familiar surroundings but looking forward to the future. She paid tribute to the teachers, and to their parents, for their help, also to the former classes of grade XII students who had blazed the trail for them.

Rev R. C. Nast asked the blessing and the toastmaster, Stanley Wychopen, introduced head table guests, welcomed the visitors, then called on John Calder to give the toast to 'Education' which was replied to by divisional board member Joe Kufeldt. Berna Cotter proposed the toast to the teachers, and Gerrit te Kampe replied. The toast to the parents was offered by Loretta Swain and Mrs. O. Willis spoke in response.

Albert Hinton, a member of the school board, advised the graduands to choose an occupation that they liked. Oswald Bauer, another board member, toasted the graduands, urging them to keep their standards and goals high, with Douglas Livingstone responding to the toast.

GRADUATION EXERCISES

At the conclusion of the banquet, the crowd re-assembled in the school auditorium for the graduation exercises, with George Whitson as master of ceremonies. The graduands marched onto the stage in a special drill formation, and were introduced in pairs. The Invocation was spoken by Rev. R. C. Nast of Vegreville. David McLaughlin gave the class history, speaking of the variety of vocations chosen by the class members, and he mentioned especially keen participation of the grade 12's in school sports.

The grade 11 class had decorated the hall in a Hawaiian motif, providing a fitting setting for the vocal solo "Blue Hawaii" by Miss Faye Ellen Peden.

Nita Jackson Wins 4-H Club Doll

MANNVILLE. Held at the home of leader Mrs. S. Jackson Mannville 4-H Clothing Club recorded 13 members present at a recent meeting. Little Miss Nita Jackson was the lucky ticket holder on the doll and clothes the 4-H girls had made. 4-H pins and crests have been ordered by several members. At the June meeting members will enjoy a Pot Luck supper and as an added treat Mrs. Johnson of Vermilion School of Agriculture will attend, giving a demonstration to 4-H girls and mothers, on how to make and re-model hats.

Mannville Shower Honors Bride-Elect

MANNVILLE. A large crowd was noted at the recent bridal shower held on Friday in honor of Miss Lynne Nicholson, a bride-elect of this month. Games were played, and contests held after which an attractively decorated box full to overflowing with many useful and beautiful gifts was presented to the bride-to-be. Lynne thanked all present in a few well chosen words. Lunch provided an opportunity to visit over the tea-cups.

FRUSTRATED FISHERMEN DEFEATED BY DAM

The fishermen shown in the top picture depict the frustration felt by many when attempting to emulate Isaac Walton and pull out the big ones. The main reason for this is the dam as shown in the lower view. Every spring countless numbers of fish swim up river to spawn, only to meet a dead end when encountering the dam on the Vermilion Provincial Park lake. As these fish are loaded with roe, they would ensure excellent fishing for years with a natural stocking each spring. However, as there are no provisions to permit free passage to the lake, in fact no passage at all, the spawning fish are destined to leave their eggs at the outlet of the town sewer below the dam. There is no problem of keeping the lake stocked; nature will do that if man-made barriers were modified.

Whooping Crane Sanctuary Urged

The last wild whooping cranes on earth may be threatened by northern development, according to the Audubon Society of Canada. The only known nesting place of Canada's rarest bird is in the northern portion of Wood Buffalo Park, in the Northwest Territories. One of the two recently announced proposals for new railroad routes between Edmonton and Great Slave Lake runs through this critical area, said the Society.

In an article in the current issue of its official publication, "Canadian Audubon" magazine the Society asks for a tight permanently restricted and completely inviolate sanctuary area so as to prevent for all time to come any further invasion of that portion of Wood Buffalo park that includes the whooping crane's breeding grounds.

Said Robert Porter Allen, author of the article and world authority on the whooping crane, "Already a portion of once inviolate Wood Buffalo park has been leased to a private concern that is cutting timber for the manufacture of of plywood, and while this operation is some distance to the south of the crane area, the precedent has been set."

The two proposed rail routes are still in the discussion stage, and no decision has yet been reached. Audubon officials have urged that a western alternative from Peace River to Great Slave Lake be adopted. A proposed eastern route from Waterways to Great Slave Lake runs through the vital portion of the park.

In a submission to Hon. Alvin Hamilton, Minister of Northern Affairs and National Resources, the Society has asked that a section of Wood Buffalo be set aside as a truly inviolate zone, a sanctuary in perpetuity for the world's last flock of whooping cranes in which no entry of any kind would be permitted save in time of national emergency.

At last count, there were exactly 33 wild whooping cranes left in the world. The Audubon submission to Mr. Hamilton said, "Their survival depends on the security of their breeding and of the wintering grounds. We in Canada have sole responsibility for the future, and when one considers the immensity of our northwest, the territorial needs of this handful of hard-pressed birds are very modest indeed."

Audubon president John A. Livingston said, "Surely with all the remaining wilderness in the north, this relatively [illegible] area can be spared. To the best of our knowledge whooping cranes have more than doubled their numbers since the lowest ebb, but they must have this precious special locale in which to continue their increase."

"There is more at stake here than what should be the essential principle of park security. We have the certain knowledge that our present [illegible] could easily dictate the existence or extinction of a magnificent and unique living thing. We would do well to carefully consider our responsibility," Mr. Livingston said.

New Regulations Issued To Motorists

Every Driver Should Know These Laws

Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, issued a statement drawing the attention of the public to the Amendments to the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act that were passed at the last session of the Legislature. He emphasized, particularly, the following points:

1. That a Magistrate will on and after June 1st be required to endorse the driver's license of any person convicted of any of the following offences

A. As was previously done for the following convictions:

(1) Wrongly going through [illegible].
(2) For speeding.
(3) For racing on a highway or road.
(4) For careless driving.
(5) For any moving offence under the Criminal Code of Canada including having the care and control of a motor vehicle while ability is impaired.
(6) For any city by-law fixing a speed limit.

B. The following offences have been added to the above [illegible]:

(1) Passing on a hill or curve or narrow bridge.
(2) Driving left of a centre line.
(3) Tailgating (following another vehicle too closely).
(4) Driving in the wrong traffic lane.
(5) Turning without signalling;
(6) Failing to give right of way at an intersection as required by law.
(7) Making a right turn illegally at an intersection.
(8) Making a left turn illegally at an intersection.
(9) For going through a red light on a street or road or through a flashing light at a railway crossing.
(10) For crossing from one side of the street to the side illegally between intersecting streets;
(11) For failing to stop before entering a highway or arterial street.
(12) For passing a school bus that is taking on or letting off boys and girls;
(13) For leaving the scene of an accident;
(14) For breaking any municipal speed limit or any moving offence on a municipal road providing a municipal by-law has been passed in connection with same.

The Minister advised that each endorsement on the operator's license will also be reported to the Motor Vehicle Branch and will be placed in the individual file of the person concerned. Persons whose record indicates difficulty in driving within the law will be called out by the Department and notified by letter and if improvement does not result the driver's license will be suspended. In addition, the courts will be suspending licenses for infractions as heretofore.

The Minister made reference to a second conviction for the following offences:

(a) Speeding.
(b) Driving to the left of the centre line;
(c) Failing to stop before entering a main highway or arterial street.

A second conviction for any of these offences will mean that the magistrate will suspend the driver's license immediately and return it to the Department.

All of this is being done in an attempt to reduce the terrible loss of human life that is taking place on our highways and streets.

2. Persons desiring to learn how to drive under the tutelage of a driver who holds a valid driver's license must secure a learner's permit from the driver examiners of the Department of Highways. There will be no charge made for this permit and it will be valid unless otherwise cancelled, up to a maximum period of twenty-four months.

3. The Minister stated that regulations were being prepared by the Department to deal particularly with the spinners composed of protruding silver spikes that are found on the wheels of a few of our vehicles.

The regulations will also outlaw any decorations that interfere with the vision of the driver in any way.

The above regulations are presently being prepared and persons with vehicles containing the silver spikes on the hubs of their vehicles should have them removed immediately. Prosecutions will take place after the regulation has been properly made. 49c

Wheat Varieties In Alberta

Thatcher remains, by a wide margin, the most popular variety of wheat sown in Alberta according to a survey conducted by the Alberta Wheat Pool. This variety occupies 68.5 per cent of the total area in Alberta sown to wheat. Thatcher is the most widely sown variety in every crop district in the province.

The sawfly resistant variety Chinook, sown mainly in southern Alberta, stands in second place and occupies 9.0 per cent of Alberta's wheat acreage. In third position is the early maturing variety Saunders. This variety is concentrated in the short growing season areas along western Alberta and the Peace River.

Other varieties and the percentage acreage each occupies are: Red Bobs 3.0, Rescue 2.3, Garnet 2.1, Winter Wheat 1.4, Marquis 1.3, Derwes 1.1, White Spring .3 and all others .4 per cent.

Mid-summer Holiday

A trend away from the bunching of holidays in mid-summer? Observers, according to Roy Maginley in The Financial Post, see a moderate shift by business and industry to avoid scheduling vacations during the travel and tourist jam-up of late July and early August.

A Metro Toronto Board of Trade showed:

A slight movement away from the peak period, as far as plant shutdowns are concerned.

Several firms planning to stagger vacations of office and sales staffs, even though plant is shut down.

Great Waterworks Display At Bridge Next Wednesday

Five New Fire Engines To Throw 34 Streams of Water; Demonstration for Alberta Firemen To Be Televised

Fire chiefs and fire officials from all villages, cities and towns in Alberta will convene at the Vermilion School of Agriculture from Monday, June 20th to Friday, 24th, for a five-day officers training school. On Wednesday evening, commencing at 7 o'clock, five large new fire engines will be demonstrated at the bridge, and 34 streams of water will be shot into the air simultaneously. The general public is invited to attend this demonstration.

AUXILIARY PUMPS FOR RURAL AREAS

Included in this display will be the use of auxiliary pumps as used in country fire fighting.

IDEAL LOCATION FOR TRAINING SCHOOL

The school next week is the first of three which will be held at the Vermilion school. The curriculum is of special import to all fire officers and firemen. It has been found that the only place offering living accommodation, lecturing rooms, outside areas for demonstrations, and water supply such as the lake close by, is Vermilion and the Vermilion School of Agriculture.

TO SET UP OFFICE HERE

Fire Commissioner for Alberta, Austin Bridges and his staff will arrive in Vermilion on Sunday and will set up offices in the school, from where they will direct the five-day course.

SOCIAL EVENING TUESDAY

On Tuesday evening will be held the one social event of the full five-day course, when the Vermilion firemen under brigade chief K. G. Urquhart, will be hosts to the visitors.

A perusal of the courses being offered reveals that they are very complete and of vital importance to every fire brigade and official, no matter where he resides, or what his position is.

The courses have been arranged by the Government of the Province as represented by the Department of the Provincial Secretary and Office of the Fire Commissioner.

Give freely in jars provided at any store in Vermilion.

Micro-Wave Circuit Being Installed

The Alberta Government Telephones have plans to instal a micro wave circuit for the Department of Transport's new Omni range station (high frequency). This will eliminate telephone control lines and is one of the first of its kind in western Canada.

The micro wave will be tied in with voice microphone of the local radio range station, and will carry the same weather report broadcasts, notam broadcasts and air-ground communications as the radio range station.

One 65-foot steel tower will be erected at the Vermilion telephone office with micro wave equipment and construction has already started.

Another 65-foot steel tower, complete with building, housing a three bay unit and emergency stand-by power plant, will be erected at the Department of Transport's Omni range site approximately 27 miles south-east [illegible].

Organize For Town Canvass For Blood Donors; Objective 500

Twenty representatives of the various organizations in Vermilion met at the Legion hall on Thursday evening to make plans for handling the blood donor clinic which will be held here on Tuesday, July 5.

It was decided to carry out a house to house canvass in order that everyone in town would be contacted and given the opportunity to become a blood donor. Several of the groups offered to supply canvassers. It is expected that their visits will commence early next week.

A GREAT NEED

Mr. J. H. Blocksidge, president of Vermilion Branch of the Red Cross Society, spoke to the meeting about the need and urgency of having supplies of blood available when required. During the past year there have been times when stores of blood were almost exhausted.

Mayor Melvin Hill, and Ashley Cooper, M.L.A., mentioned about successful clinics held here in the past. They expressed the hope that the clinic to be held here on July 5th would see a resurgence of interest, and be larger than ever before.

LEGION RESPONSIBLE

The Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion is responsible for general planning for the clinic. All organizations not represented at the meeting can still share in the project.

The Legion committee consists of President Tommy Thompson as chairman and two members, Alex Callas and E. H. Buckingham. Any groups interested should contact one of these men.

SHOWBOAT BUCKNER, King of Clowns, on the Sioux City Iowa Colored Cowboys' roster, ably follows in the footsteps of such outstanding fun-makers as "Popeye" Smith and L. J. 'Compound' Favors by offering a laugh a minute at the initial sack. Although the fans best remember the great Showboat for his showmanship and goofy antics at the plate, his team mates and the opposing clubs are well aware that he is one of the greatest defensive first basemen the game has ever seen and more than adequate with the bat. Buckner will be in the line-up when the clown princes of softball, the fabulous Iowa Colored Cowboys, meet the Vermilion Ghosts at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, June 21st, in a softball spectacular and giant funshow featuring the sensational shadowball game, a full inning of softball without a ball—with the last two putouts made during "slow motion" play.

Sioux City Iowa Colored Cowboys To Play Here Next Tuesday

A host of softball talent is headed for Vermilion, when the touring Sioux City Iowa Colored Cowboys bring their fabulous Razzle Dazzle Softball Spectacular to town on Tuesday, June 21st for a 7:00 p.m appearance against the Vermilion Ghosts.

The big attraction will be top-notch softball, the world's greatest shadowball exhibition and sideline and playing field stunts that are sure to keep the most serious sports spectator in hysterics.

Little wonder that many fans agree that the Cowboys are to softball what the Globetrotters are to the hardwood sport.

Aboard this season's softball spectacular are Bobby Green, 6ft. 2½ in. third baseman who hasn't been with a touring club since he last appeared with the Ghosts in 1954. Marland "Showboat" Buckner clowning at first base, Rip Collins with his row boat act, and the fabulous Red Strickland, conceded to be the top pitcher ever to appear with the Ghosts.

The Colored Cowboys are handled by Henry Fisher who originated the Colored Ghosts team in 1933 and acted as general manager of the barnstorming clowns until 1950. During that period, the Ghosts became the top softball attraction in both Canada and the U.S. Now the Cowboys look like a cinch to become even more popular.

Vermilion Ghosts Play Better In Cold Lake Games

Last Wednesday, June 8, the Ghosts travelled to [illegible] and went right to work to play their poorest game to date. The only bright spot once again was the pitching as Murray Millar fashioned a fine 3 hitter and also hit a home run. But his heroics were all in vain as his fielders proceeded to boot the ball all over the diamond and came out on the short end of a 4 to 3 score.

However last Sunday proved to be a different story when the locals took two from the RCAF team at Cold Lake by 6-2 and 5 to 4 scores. The [illegible] found the combination as the fielding, hitting and pitching got together in what were two of the most crowd-pleasing games seen in a long time.

Cold Lake returns here on Sunday June 26th and local fans would do well to keep this date in mind. And, don't forget the game next Tuesday when the Iowa Colored Cowboys are to appear here in a tilt with the Ghosts.

Seek Ways and Means to Increase Interest in Hog Producers

Directors of the Hog Producers Association met in the Legion Hall at Lloydminster on June 11th to discuss ways and means of expanding and co-operation with other organizations.

The directors from the Lloydminster and Vermilion branches were in attendance also Mr. Don Sinclair from North Battleford, fieldman for the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, District No. 16, Mr. Howard Greary, S.F.U. director from Landis, Sask., District 12 and Mr. Ted Strain, S.F.U. director of District No. 16.

The directors were gratified with the enthusiasm and interest these organizations are taking in the Hog Producers Association.

On behalf of Saskatchewan Wheat Pool Mr. Sinclair offered the hog producers the services of the Pool's fieldmen, publicity facilities and any other assistance financial or otherwise to help the cause of the hog producers.

The Saskatchewan Farmers' Union representatives offered their services and their organization as wholeheartedly supporting the H.P.A. A letter was also received from the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture offering their assistance.

The facilities and assistance of these organizations are available to the hog producers so it is very important that all hog raisers join their association and take the initiative in the effort to stabilize and control their own industry.

Two Plebiscites Given Overwhelming Support

75% Vote Cast; Sewer Extension Wins By 406 to 59; Agricultural & Recreation Centre Passes 363 to 102.

Overwhelming support was accorded both plebiscites by ratepayers on Friday last, with the result that the sewerage system will be extended by the addition of a lagoon, while the town will contribute $60,000.00 towards the construction of an agricultural and recreation centre.

It was generally conceded that the sewerage bylaw would be well supported. Citizens want to see every part of the town serviced in this respect. The vote of 406 in favor with only 59 against bore out this contention. There were six spoiled ballots.

The surprise was the wide spread support given the agricultural and recreation building plebiscite. Even ardent supporters of this project thought that the vote would be close. The final count showed a wide gap with 363 in favor and 102 voting against. There were seven spoiled ballots.

A total of 472 ratepayers voted. The assessment roll contains 721 names, including many absentee owners, companies and church properties. It is estimated that 75% of the possible vote was cast.

Satisfaction was felt that the mandates had been definite and emphatic ones so that the council can now carry out the wishes as expressed by the plebiscites knowing that the great majority of ratepayers are supporting both moves.

FATHER'S DAY

On Sunday, June 19th, Dad will again be master of his home — even if it is only for a day.

And, as one might expect, he'll owe his sudden ascendancy to a woman. For June 19 is Father's Day, a day inaugurated 50 years go through the efforts of a daughter of a Civil War veteran.

The woman, Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, of Spokane, Washington, wanted somehow to honor the memory of her father, William Jackson Smart, who reared his family of six children after the death of their mother, says William E. Coutts, chairman of Coutts Hallmark Cards, a firm currently compiling data on the origin of various nation-wide celebrations.

"In 1910, she planned a memorial service to honor her father who had died a year earlier, and petitioned the Spokane Ministers' association to set aside the third Sunday in June each year as a day for paying tribute to all fathers," said Mr. Coutts.

The petition was accepted, he said, and with the memorial service in June of that year, Father's Day was inaugurated. However, the day was not given official, national status in the U.S. until 1924, when President Calvin Coolidge recommended country-wide observance of the occasion.

"It didn't win public acceptance as rapidly as did Mother's Day which was inaugurated two years earlier," said Mr Coutts. "Even now Father's Day is only observed in five countries, the U.S., Canada, the U.K., Australia and New Zealand, as compared to several dozen countries in which Mother's Day is celebrated."

He said part of the blame for this may lay with Dads themselves since "in Canada and in the United States particularly fathers don't take themselves very seriously and are inclined to shrug off compliments."

1000 CANADIANS DROWN EVERY SUMMER

Every summer nearly a thousand people in this country drown. This is a fact — but frankly it's news we'd rather not have to print.

The news that we would like to print is that this month, this summer, this year, not a single man, woman or child lost their lives through drowning accidents in this community. And, if every newspaper throughout the country could report the same thing, that would be news!

Year after year the Canadian Red Cross has been urging all of us to be careful at all times when we are in, on or near the water. Year after year this newspaper has been passing on these lessons in water sense. But it takes more than educational programmes by your Red Cross and urgings from this newspaper to bring about the headline we're looking forward to printing . . . NO DROWNINGS HERE!

Unless everyone, and this does mean everyone, exercises water sense—which, after all, is common sense, then we're going to have drownings.

So, let's all keep our eyes and ears open this summer, and aim for that banner headline. We can all make a good start by making National Water Safety Week, June 19 to 25, a really safe week. Having done that, we can surely extend our efforts throughout the summer.

SUMMER FAIRS

During the next few months many of you will be exhibiting at summer fairs. If you are planning to enter sewing, knitting or some handicraft you might find some of the following suggestions helpful.

SEWING

All articles should be neat, clean and well pressed. Garments entered in the housedress class should be conservative in style. Sleeves must allow reach, be comfortable and easy to iron. Garments made from poor quality material seldom rank a first. Thread should be of matching color and stitches should be small and neat with no evidence of puckering. The average width for seams is five-eighths of an inch. Seams which are too narrow pull out with wear. Seams should be finished to withstand wear and laundering.

CROCHETING

Articles should be practical. Crocheted doilies which have frills and flowers in their borders create an ironing problem so are not practical. One color is preferred in most articles. Several colors add to your costs. If there is design it should be in proportion to the size of the article. Doilies with solid centres offer more protection for the table.

KNITTING

Knitted articles should be clean and blocked. A close even stitch [illegible] its shape more readily. Good proportion is important. Color combinations should be pleasing with not more than one bright color. For baby's sets white or pastel colors are suitable. Seam joinings should be strong (grafted toes for socks and needle weaving for baby's sets). Yarn ends should be well woven in and [illegible].

CUSHIONS

These are made for a purpose which is to add comfort when lying or sitting on a chesterfield or chair. The shape should be suited to the purpose. Any applied decorative design should not interfere with the usefulness of the cushion. It should not, therefore be too bumpy, rough [illegible]. [illegible] follow the shape of the cushion. Geometric or stylized border designs are suitable. Naturalistic designs are not so appropriate. It is seldom advisable to choose more than three colors and these should be subordinated one to another not all bright or all grayed. The color used in the least amount should be the brightest.

1960 WOOL SUPPORT PROGRAM

The Agricultural Stabilization Board has announced that the deficiency payment programme on wool will continue unchanged [illegible].

Payment will be calculated as the difference between the support price of 60c per pound and the combined average price (f.o.b. Toronto) for the basic grades Western Range Choice half staple and Eastern Domestic quarter blood staple.

REGISTERED SEED GROWERS

It seems like an appropriate time to remind seed growers that June 30th is the deadline for receipt of applications for crop inspection at the District Office of the Plant Products Division at Edmonton. Applications received after the deadline are stamped LATE and the inspections of these crops will be done only if time permits after those applied for on time are completed and at DOUBLE the inspection fee.

To ensure inspection and avoid penalties [illegible] crop inspection should be forwarded now to Canada Department of Agriculture, Plant Products Division, 873 Federal Public Building, Edmonton, Alberta.

Application forms are available at the District Agriculturist's office.

FEED SILAGE

In order to use silage most effectively it is important to recognize its advantages and disadvantages from the feeding standpoint. This week we'll consider the advantages of feeding silage.

1. Good quality silage is very palatable to livestock and its use in the ration will often improve feed consumption, production and gains. Increased consumption may mean a lower requirement for grain.

2. Good silage usually contains more protein and vitamin A (Carotene) than does the corresponding hay, thus the need for costly supplemental feeds may be reduced.

3. Silage tends to act as a laxative counteracting the constipating nature of many dry winter feeds.

4. Silage is a very useful supplemental feed during the summer when pastures are dry and sparse.

5. Some silage users claim that they have less work in the feeding operations when silage is self fed than was the case with dry hay. Smaller self feeders are needed since silage occupies less storage space than hay.

6. Bloating seldom, if ever, occurs on silage rations.

Now that the time for spraying weeds has arrived the pamphlet "Weed Control with Chemicals" is strongly recommended for the achievement of maximum returns from chemical weed control. This publication discusses in detail all selective herbicides and their proper use. It is available from the district agriculturist's office.

Gladys Hutchinson Speaks To F.W.U.A.

The Marwayne F. W. U. A. met at the home of Ruby Hale on May 23rd with 22 members and two visitors present. Ollie Midgley presided, due to the illness of the president, Mildred Sinclair.

Twenty dollars and two pairs of scissors were donated to the Marwayne 4-H Clothing Club, which is sponsored by the Marwayne branch of the F. W. U. A. Forty dollars was sent to the Goldeye Lake Camp project fund.

Pledge Vows in Elk Point United Church

The Elk Point United church was the setting for a lovely spring wedding performed by Rev. C. Miller on April 21st at one o'clock in the afternoon.

The ceremony united Miss Rosemarie Nettleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Nettleton of Clandonald and Mr. Arthur Axani, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Axani of Willingdon, Alberta.

For the occasion the church decorations consisted of Easter lilies and African violets. Mrs. F. G. Miller was pianist and Mrs. C. Laird soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of lace fashioned with a three-tiered skirt, fitted bodice, short sleeves and matching gloves. Her chapel veil was of matching lace and was held by a pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her jewelry consisted of a single strand of cultured pearls with matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. George Axani was matron of honor. She wore a gown of a deep coral shade with matching accessories.

Miss Florence Nettleton and Miss Dora MacNamara were the bridesmaids. They wore gowns of blue and pink respectively. The dresses were fashioned of chiffon over taffeta with full skirts featuring fly panels. Their jewelry was single strands of pearls and matching earrings, a gift of the bride.

Mr. Louis Makowski and Mr. John Kraus were best men.

For a reception at the King George hall the bride's mother received 250 guests. She wore a two-piece dress of bengaline accented with white polka dots, white collar and accessories. The groom's mother wore an afternoon dress of mauve lace.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered cake and baskets of roses. Dr. K. C. Miller of Elk Point proposed the toast to the bride.

On the evening of April 23, a reception and dance in honor of the newlyweds was held at the Tropicana in Grand Centre when some 175 guests gathered to extend their best wishes.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Vancouver, the bride wore a blue dress of silk bengaline with white accessories.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Axani will make their home in Grand Centre.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. Ted Axani of Elliott Lake, Ont., Wilfred and Lena Roberge, Lloydminster, Mr. and Mrs. H. Penetowsky, McLellan, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Axani, Mr. and Mrs. Metro Axani, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Axani, all of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Marsh of [illegible] Lake, Alberta and Mr. and Mrs. F. Rotary Club Delivers Spring Flowers

On Tuesday of this week fifty dozen peonies, addressed to the Vermilion Rotary club, arrived from Kelowna, B.C. They were soon hurried to the sick and shut-ins throughout the town and in the hospital. Rotarians Rev. Chauncey MacKay, Nick Kowalchuk and Ernie Buckingham had charge of deliveries.

The peonies were sent to Vermilion by J. W. Hughes, a member of the Kelowna, B.C. Rotary club. Mr Hughes has given flowers for many years for distribution on the prairies through Rotary clubs. It was only a few weeks ago that fifty dozen tulips came from Mr. Hughes' garden and very likely a similar number of gladioli will arrive in due season.

The elderly citizens who received the flowers expressed themselves as being very grateful to Mr. Hughes and the Rotarians for the kindly and thoughtful act.

Lost Weight, Looks 10 Years Younger

COBALT, ONT. "Seven weeks ago I started the Naran Plan and have lost an average of 4 lbs. a week since. I have lost 28 lbs. and it has not left me weakened or nervous. I can now work all day and still feel good. My friends say I look ten years younger and I feel that way too. I have taken off 6 inches around the waist.

I have recommended the Naran Plan to my friends and anyone who has had to give up on other reducing plans. With the Naran Plan you take the weight off where you want it to come off." F. A. Desjardins, Cobalt, Ont.

Don't let excessive weight tire you out, make you feel run down and older than you are. Your entire outlook on life will improve if you lose excess weight, you will look younger, feel younger and regain the enthusiasm that comes with good health. Why let anything so vitally important as your health and appearance be hurt by neglecting to lose excess weight. Try the Naran Plan today, it is sold on a money back guarantee. What can you lose? Nothing but weight.

WMS June Meeting Held At Home of Mrs. Repp

The June meeting of the United Church Women's Missionary Society, was held Thursday afternoon, June 9, at the home of Mrs. Otto Repp. The president, Mrs. A. M. West, was in the chair and opened the meeting with a scripture verse and hymn number [illegible].

Mrs. Andrew Kirkbright was in charge of the worship service. She gave a very inspiring message taking as her theme "My Church and what it means to me". In her closing remarks she said: "A church is not measured by its artistic decorations but by the [illegible] of the men and women of that church." The hymn, "The Church's One Foundation is Jesus Christ Her Lord", was sung and Mrs. Kirkbright closed the service with a prayer for the Church and its people.

Reports were then heard. Mrs. C. Barr, Corresponding secretary, reported "Thank You" notes from Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Astley, the ladies were pleased to hear that these ladies were improved in health and would soon be able to attend meetings again.

The treasurer, Mrs. Manson Barr, reported that the group was about half way in meeting its financial allocation for 1960.

Mrs. Roebuck, acting as Presbyterial Supply secretary, said there was a need for "vacation school packets" for young ministers in their fields. It was unanimously agreed to assist in this cause. A motion was made and carried that at the September meeting each lady bring a fifty cent article or articles — it can be food, sewing or any useful item — and that these articles be sold at the close of the meeting, this money to be used to pay for the vacation packets. The balance, if any, to go into the Sunshine fund.

Mrs. Robinson, secretary of Christian Stewardship, read an article from Missionary Monthly by Mrs. R. P. Lowery, Dominion Board Secretary of C.S. It encouraged people to attend church during the holidays. "God does not take a holiday apart from us, so may we not live apart from Him, in whatever environment we find ourselves during these glorious days."

The roll call showed 34 ladies in attendance. Mrs. Rooks reported 26 home calls and 22 hospital calls during the month.

Mrs. West reported that youth and adult church camps would be held at Lake Whitney during the months of July and August. Anyone interested is to get in touch with her or Rev. C. W. MacKay for further information and application forms.

Plans were made for a Baby Band tea to be held in June, but this tea has since been postponed to the early fall.

Mrs. Wm. Roebuck was in charge of the study book "Africa Undisturbed". For the benefit of those not present at the preceding meetings, she gave a brief but interesting and complete resume of the chapters already taken, the new chapter was entitled "The Drift". Her presentation was much appreciated.

Mrs. West, on behalf of the W.M.S., thanked the associate helpers for their contributions to the program and their willingness to help in many ways during the year; Mrs. Repp for the invitation to her home and the kindly and warm welcome extended. Mrs. E. Hart, secretary of associate helpers, for her help and cooperation in making arrangements, and those who had provided the transportation.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah. Lunch was served by Mrs. Repp and the associate helpers and the usual social period brought a pleasant afternoon to a close.

W.A. Group Hears From Aklavik

MANNVILLE. — On Wednesday, July 8, at the home of Mrs. Nellie Whitson, members of Christ Church W.A. opened the meeting with prayers, followed by the Litany which was led by Mrs W. Osborn. Reports were heard on the recent bazaar and bake sale and reports of the secretary and treasurer were adopted as read. Prayer partner Mrs Hamilton read a most interesting letter from the W.A.'s Prayer partner, Miss Masters, who is serving in Aklavik.

A letter was read from the secretary of the World Refugee fund, asking that all groups sponsor one project in aid of same, which request was accepted. A new chapter of the study book was read and discussed by Mrs. E. Lugg in the absence of Mrs. E. B. Allen. The vestry report was given by Mrs. Rutherford, the president, and a donation was made to that group. "Happy Birthday" was sung to five members, one a delayed greeting.

"WHEN PAIN GROWS SHARP AND SICKNESS RAGES"
—Author's name below—

Pain is an indication of sickness. Persistent recurring pain is nature's warning signal that something must be done soon to correct the condition or serious danger may result.

No one but a physician has the knowledge to determine if a pain is the result of a minor or serious condition. Pain is just one of many other symptoms to be studied if a cure is to result. Do not wait till pain grows sharp and sickness rages. Consult your physician immediately to prevent other pain-filled days and possible serious sickness.

Whitmore Visits

With all this wind we are having one never knows from one day to the other which way he'll end up.

Last Friday the wind hampered the track meet considerably at Kitscoty. The children tried hard but couldn't possibly do their best under such trying conditions.

Mrs. William G. Smith spent a few days in hospital having injections for an injured arm.

Mr. Jim Carey of Islay spent Sunday visiting at the home of Bill and Adam Smith.

Visiting at the same home is Mrs. Smith's niece Mrs. Pat MacRae and two children from Vancouver.

Sympathy of the district is extended to the Nichols family on the loss of a loving father. Another old timer gone to his well earned rest. Sympathy also goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wells of Tolland on the loss of their small son.

Red Cross National Water Safety Week this year is June 19 to 25. The most ideal area in which to swim is one supervised by qualified life guards. Otherwise use an area you know is safe but don't go alone.

Health Unit Notes

WHAT CAN BE DONE ABOUT DESTRUCTIVENESS?

Because it's wasteful, unnecessary and often costly, destructiveness in children arouses despair in the hearts of many parents. Children who destroy things may be roughly divided into two main groups. Those who do it innocently or unintentionally, those who do it deliberately with malice.

Fortunately the former is much more common and parents who realize the distinction between the two groups, and seek out the underlying causes, are usually able to redirect their children's activities and help forestall the more serious problem of malicious destructiveness.

Happy, Puppy Dog Type

Here is the bouncing baby who has no respect for anything around the house be it a family heirloom or a jar of cold cream. For him the desire to taste, feel and examine is all important and a slap on the hand or loud "No's" have little effect. Fill the needs of this child with toys that come apart and mud in which to dabble. Make sure that the valuables are well out of reach as well as anything with which he might hurt himself. It helps too, if he has a spot of his own for romping around.

Curious Monkey Type

Usually older and more orderly in his destructiveness this child will dismantle a watch, unscrew door knobs and tear papers into tiny shreds, then more than likely try to reassemble the bits and pieces. The material, the way it's put together, whether it will crack, splinter or shatter are what interests him.

A four or five-year-old who destroys things not his own should be helped to fix up what has been damaged but without scolding. Giving him proper play materials will help satisfy his inquisitive nature — old watches, broken dolls, odd and ends for his first box, reading material that explains how things are made, what makes them "tick" and so on.

Bull in China Shop Type

Then there is the clumsy child. He touches an article and it breaks, he bumps into things, knocks them over and demolishes them without seeming regard. Help is what he needs, not scolding. The doctor will advise about his coordination, sight and hearing. Often it's just a slowness in development calling for patience and understanding in helping the child develop the knack of handling things.

Live Wire Type

He doesn't know his own strength. Whether he is two or twelve, this child needs special handling. Broken couch springs, trampled garden flowers, flattened pea pods, bear witness to his muscular vigor. Such children should be protected against themselves. Enforce rules constantly — "No wrestling in the living room" or "bouncing on the floor" or "touching dad's desk".

Constant reminders may be necessary and, what is more important, plenty of alternatives. For the under six supply a mat in the basement, heavy blocks, boxes, boards, climbing apparatus and swings for "muscle play" and a desk of his own. The older child should have opportunities for rough and tumble sports. With such outlets for their abundant energies, super activities in the house can be more readily curbed.

The Lone Wolf

Finally there is the child who destroys for the sake of destroying — deliberate and calculating. The kind that sets fire to curtains, floods the bathroom or smashes some valuable object with malicious intent. And also include here the child who gets pleasure out of destroying the play of other children.

Something has gone wrong in this child's growing up, and unless handled with skill and deep understanding, his attitude can settle into a persistent defiance and destructiveness.

Parents often need professional help (family doctor or mental health clinic) to learn the cause, for the destructiveness itself is but a symptom, like temper tantrums or excessive thumbsucking. Taking matches away from the child who starts fires is but a temporary precaution; the underlying motives should be learned and dealt with. It is usually rather difficult, if not impossible, for the parent to determine the reason behind such behavior — that's why outside expert help is advisable in most of these cases.

AND FINALLY . . .

Since it's easier to be destructive than constructive, easier to be messy, careless and clumsy rather than neat, careful and controlled, it's no wonder that children slip into the habits of destructiveness. But it helps to take heart in knowing that they also learn and unlearn quickly and readily, particularly when their stage of development is taken into consideration. With the knowledge of what can and can't be done at certain ages, parents can usually help the child's natural development toward improvement — and that includes winning out over the various types of destructiveness.

Of Many Things . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

The fellow was talking to his poolroom pals. Said he, "I have given my daughter three don'ts only. They are very simple"

I listened. Here, I thought, will be the distilled wisdom of a father advising someone about whom he cares a great deal. Usually, the advice parents give to children is pretty sound.

The fellow enumerated his points by stabbing a finger into his palm. "First, I told her not to argue with her teacher. She did and got tossed out of her biology class for insubordination," he said. "Second" he said, "I told her never to argue back to her Ma. I have tried it myself and I know it doesn't work."

It was his third "don't" that amused the spectators most and brought a good many emphatic nods of agreement. "Don't argue with traffic cops!" he had advised his daughter. "Even when you are right you're stuck."

I think it is probably wise not to argue with policemen, especially very young policemen. We are a nation with tremendous respect for the law and we ought to be. There was a time when the uniform of the Mountie was about the only law in the wild and wicked west. A good deal of that glamour sticks to the young men in Mountie uniforms today.

There is no doubt a few of them abuse this prestige. They grow cocky. They make mistakes. Some of them love to drive their high powered cars far too fast for safety. One admitted recently before a magistrate that he had been driving his car 60 miles per hour through a school zone in pursuit of an automobile which at that time he was not certain was speeding. It was altogether likely that he was acting more dangerously in his zeal than was the motorist he chased, for the motorist had slowed down to thirty to go by the school.

Nevertheless, a magistrate feels impelled to take the word of a constable over that of a citizen, or indeed over that of two citizens however reputable they may be. Unfortunately, this sometimes leads to situations where people have more respect (or fear) for the Mountie than they have for the courts themselves, and thus plead guilty even when convinced of their own innocence.

So I say "If you are right, argue with the cops. It won't do you any good, perhaps, but it will do this country good. Unhealthy fear of a uniform, especially by an innocent person, is a bad omen for a nation. We don't want any of it here in Canada where a man should be presumed innocent until he is proven guilty!"

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

Put a ring around June 22. That is the day of the annual clean-up at Oxville cemetery, also the day of the annual meeting. There is a lot of work to do. If you have a truck and take a load of black dirt it would be appreciated as several graves should be filled in. Also mowers, rakes and clippers will help to make your relatives' and friends' last resting place a credit to the community.

Mr. Lloyd Knutson underwent a serious operation in the Lloydminster hospital during the past week-end. We are glad to hear he is doing as well as can be expected.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wesley of Edmonton on the birth of a daughter, Monday, May 30, in the Royal Alex hospital. Her name is Lynette. Mrs. Wesley was the former Laura Knutson.

Mrs. John McAmmond left for Calgary on Saturday to visit with her son Fred for awhile.

On Saturday we had a very pleasant visit from former residents of Paradise Valley when Mr and Mrs. Howard Allison and Ray called in. The Allison family have all grown up and are now married. Howard has done well since going to the city.

PROMOTION IN R.C.A.F.

A native of Paradise Valley, 38-year-old Sqdn. Ldr. George Kitching has been transferred from the R.C.A.F. Station 5 Air Division in Vancouver to R.C.A.F. Station at Cold Lake. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kitching of Sudbury, Ont. Sqdn Ldr Kitching was educated at Paradise Valley, 150 miles east of Edmonton and at the Edmonton Normal school where he obtained a teacher's diploma in 1941. He joined the air force in 1942, trained as a navigator and served overseas with Bomber Command. Following the war he entered the U. of A. and graduated in 1949 with his B. Ed. degree. He re-entered the air force in 1951 as an aircraft control officer. He has also served at Calgary, Sudbury and as exchange officer with the U.S.A.F. at Tacoma, Wash. He is married and they have a family of three. Mrs. Kitching was the former Phyllis Thibodeau.

We are getting our share of gravel on roads and side streets in the district. Not so good just now for driving but if it ever rains we will be quite happy to have the gravel. We understand that the government will rebuild the road from Shaw's corner to McLaughlin this summer.

Mrs Walter Earnis and Tom spent the long week-end at Melfort, Sask., visiting with old friends and relatives. Mr and Mrs. Park Dobson and family went to their cabin at Loon Lake for the week-end.

Mr and Mrs M Hoskins have returned after three weeks' vacation spent at Ottawa with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr and Mrs Herb Foxwell and family. They report lots of rain in Ottawa.

W.A. TO HAVE 'HOBO' TEAS

The Paradise Valley United Church W.A. met at the home of Mrs R. Thibodeau on Tuesday June 7 at 8 p.m. with a good attendance. Mrs. Deaville and Mrs. W. McLean were hostesses. Mrs. F. Sirett, the president, was in the chair. Mrs. Gunn gave the treasurer's report in the absence of Mrs. F. Kragnes, who has been spending some time in Edmonton with her daughter Beatrice whose husband, Murray McDonald, has been in the hospital undergoing surgery. Mrs. C. Bell led the devotional exercises and Mrs. J. Gordon read the study on "Statement of Faith". The ladies are asking for voluntary help in cleaning and painting the interior of the church and varnishing of woodwork on June 28, 29 and 30. The help of all interested will be appreciated. A donation will be sent to Lake Whitney and to the Associated Temperance Forces of Alberta. The A.T.F. expects to reach every high school in the province this year with lectures and films on Alcohol Education. Reports were given by the various committees. The Teasdale wedding reception was catered to on June 3 and plans are being made for catering to Gloria Elliott's wedding reception on June 24th. It was decided to continue the 'Hobo' teas again so expect a visit from a group any day. When you are asked to join a group, come as you are and bring a dime. The hostesses mustn't feel embarrassed in any way. A cup of tea is all that is expected. The date of the next meeting will be announced later as it has not been definitely decided whether July or August will be the holiday month. Mrs Gunn has charge of the Cradle Roll in the church so if anyone wishes the names put on of any children under four years of age please contact Mrs Gunn.

Farmers' Day, June 10, was a warm, pleasant day but very few picnics were reported. Wildwood held a fine community get-together. The main interests were the softball games which continued throughout the afternoon and evening. The Paradise Valley team came out first with Wildwood second. This was a very close and exciting game. Dick Rayson came in with a run to break the tie.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wolf left on Friday for points in Saskatchewan to visit with some old friends whom they have not seen since their homestead days many years ago. They will no doubt see quite a change in the intervening 27 years.

Weather is warm, with moisture going fast. Roads are rough with lots of fresh gavel, so better watch your step.

Trail Riders Enjoy Outing At Ranch

Local Trail Riders of the district were joined by horse lovers from as far away as Vegreville to give a total attendance of over 50 at the gathering at Ireland's ranch near Grizzly Bear coulee last Sunday June 5th.

Participants from a distance brought their horses in trailer or truck and Mr and Mrs Ireland supplied riding horses to a few. The Trail Ride started in the early afternoon at the ranch and continued on through the coulee and adjacent parts of the country.

Returning at the conclusion of the afternoon's ride, everyone was served a supper, after which the program of competitions and demonstrations started. There was barrel racing, musical chairs, cutting horse competitions and demonstrations of riding skill as well as pony rides for children.

During one race it was necessary for the riders to go through a gate obviously too narrow for four horses at a time. Hans Wulf's horse, accustomed to running without the necessity of jumping, had as startled a look as any horse ever gets when he was put to jumping a fence to avoid the congestion at the gate.

Among those present at the Trail Ride at Ireland's were: Mr and Mrs Wayne Ireland; Mr and Mrs N Schmidt, Vegreville; Mr and Mrs J McGaughey; Mr and Mrs J Marfleet; Mr and Mrs Ray Williams and Marilyn; Mr and Mrs Ort Strome and Beverly; Mr and Mrs Tom Smith; Mr and Mrs Bob Maggs; Mr and Mrs Jim Ferguson and girls; Mr and Mrs John Tower; Mr and Mrs W. Whitlock and Keith; Mr and Mrs Ralph Thomas and family; Mr and Mrs Bud [illegible] and family; [illegible]; Herb and Janet Hall; Pete Malvaschuk, Isabel Mix, Darryl Truman, Chris Maggs, Wayne and [illegible], [illegible] and Shirley Porter.

B.P.O.E. Convention Held at Wainwright

MANNVILLE. — On June 10 and 11 members of the B.P.O.E. from all over Alberta met at Wainwright for the 33rd annual convention of Alberta Elks. Address of welcome was given to the gathering by Carl Stafford, the mayor of Wainwright, on behalf of that town's citizens. Also bringing greetings, Henry A. Ruste M.L.A., addressed the convention, wishing them every success in their deliberations. Introduction of the Grand Exalted Ruler and other lodge officers followed.

Reports of Bro. Harvey Switzer, president of Alberta Elks' Association, and reports of the D.D.G.E. rulers of all districts were presented. The convention business continued throughout the day until adjournment when a barbecue supper prepared by Irma Lodge 308 was served at the fair grounds. A dance followed.

Business of the convention resumed on Saturday when the Grand Exalted Ruler gave his address and Supreme Honored Lady McCullough of Edmonton was presented and favored the members with a short address.

Election of officers and installation of same took place and lunch was once again served by ladies of the O.O.P.F. Provincial Patrol inspection followed and a parade to the cenotaph where a short ceremony was held. Patrol teams competition, in the Separate school auditorium, provided a wonderful display and was certainly well worth seeing. This was followed by presentation of trophies and a banquet in the United Church basement. A social and dance concluded two full days.

A TREE GROWS

DERWENT. — A tree is growing on the roof of Ed Charchun's garage here in Derwent. The venturesome tree is about three feet tall and the leaves resemble that of a poplar.

This was first seen by Mrs. Ethel Hicks whose home is near the garage. Upon first sighting it she could not believe her eyes. She spread the news about the oddity around town and many interested nature fans came and viewed it.

Anyone wishing to see this tree had better come soon as Ed no doubt will be using it for firewood shortly.

THE SECOND LINE OF DEFENCE
The tremendous strides that have been made by scientists in the development of suitable chemicals have revolutionized weed control and have done much to aid in the battle against weeds.
It would be a mistake, however, to rely upon chemicals alone. Tried and tested cultural methods, the use of clean seed and the prevention of the spread of weeds will continue to be important as the farmers' second line of defence. These constitute good farming practices for which there can be no substitute.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Loans To Alberta Cities And Municipalities to Total $30 Million

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Alberta municipalities which have applied for capital loans from the Municipal Financing Corporation will soon know where they stand.

Three of the provincial government's top financial officials — Provincial Treasurer Ted Hindman, deputy treasurer Fred Stewart and Provincial Auditor Keith Huckvale — were to be in New York this week making final arrangements for a $30,000,000 loan for the corporation.

The loan will be the first of two the MPC hopes to float this year. A second loan of about the same amount will be required later in the year to meet municipal capital requirements.

At the week's end there was no definite word on the interest rate the MPC will have to pay, but officials said it probably would be just over five per cent. Originally the corporation hoped to borrow on the Canadian money market this year, but the interest rate has been too high.

LOCATION IS TOP SECRET

The Alberta cabinet is in the process of selecting a site for an alternate centre of government for use in the event of wartime or peacetime emergency. But the location is top-secret.

That was the word last week from Agriculture Minister Leonard Halmrast, the minister in charge of civil defence. He said federal civil defence officials have asked all provincial governments to establish emergency headquarters to provide continuity of administration in the event of disaster.

Alberta has chosen the general area for its emergency capital, Mr Halmrast said but the exact site has not been chosen. Even when it is, he said, the location will remain secret.

The general election in Saskatchewan last week left Alberta Social Crediters with little to be happy about.

Socreds were counting on the Saskatchewan election to add at least a little fuel to the fire of their plans for a big march on Ottawa. Premier Manning, who was in Regina for one Socred rally, came back with the impression Social Credit had a fair amount of support.

When the voting results left Socreds without a seat in the Saskatchewan Legislature, Mr Manning had no further comment.

Orvis Kennedy, Social Credit organizer who worked hard in [illegible] was out of the city and unavailable for comment on the results.

But it's clear that the Saskatchewan results won't help the Social Crediters in their efforts to build up a national organization strong enough to be a serious contender in the next federal election. What's more it won't provide ammunition for those in the party who want to draft Premier Manning as national Socred leader.

The only comfort Socreds could take was in the fact that Progressive Conservatives also were left completely out of the Saskatchewan picture.

NEW FORESTRY LOOKOUT

Officials of the Alberta Forest Service were justifiably proud last week. They'd just about finished the province's first forestry lookout station built entirely by helicopter.

The station is on top of a 6,300-foot mountain in the upper Saskatchewan River country about 30 miles southwest of Nordegg. The site is inaccessible except by air, so materials and equipment were airlifted in by 'copter and assembled on the spot.

John Carlos is the spotter in charge, and he'll be marooned on the top of the mountain until late fall. But his room at the top gives him a magnificent view of thousands of acres of woodland that the forest service wasn't able to watch from existing towers in the area.

Early Wednesday morning a car went over the bank landing right side up in the ditch opposite the Ferris [illegible]. The occupants of the car, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Dumont and a friend, [illegible] Larson, received only a shaking up while the vehicle was not extensively damaged.

Mrs. Alec Marsh journeyed to Lloydminster on Thursday to see her dad who is recovering in hospital from a stroke.

Mr Jim Peterson passed away Sunday after a [illegible] illness in the hospital at [illegible] South Dakota. The Rev Carl G. Lien conducted services the following Thursday at the Ella Cummins' home in Wilmot S.D. with interment taking place in the local cemetery. Glen Foster Hartvig Anderson, Andy Jensen Warren Stowell, Alec McDonald and Richard Johnson acted as pallbearers.

June Meeting Of Dewberry W. A.

The June meeting of the Dewberry United Church W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. May Braithwaite with ten members and three visitors present. Following the hymn, "Just As I Am", and a reading from the Bible, Mrs. W. Porter gave the reading for the day from the Upper Room.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted, also the treasurer's report given. Committees were formed for the two wedding receptions in July at which the W. A. will do the catering. A motion was made and seconded to give a donation of twenty-five dollars to the Camp Whitney fund.

The benediction brought the meeting to a close, after which lunch was served by the hostess.

There will be a July meeting this year and it will be held at the home of Mrs. Wm. S. Porter.

Elsie Hanlan Is Struck By Car

Elsie Hanlan, seven years old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hanlan of Edmonton and formerly of Vermilion, was injured when struck by a car in the city on June 1st. The injuries consisted of deep lacerations to head and knee and a partial fracture of the left collar bone. The little girl is recovering nicely and has now been released from hospital.

Dr. Hanlan has recently attended an R.C.A.F. Association convention in Toronto as a delegate from 780 Wing R.C.A.F., Edmonton. While in Toronto he attended the graduation ceremonies for 32 graduates from the Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College.

Leaves Mannville To Work in Leduc

MANNVILLE — After many years of service with the local Leitch hardware, Jim Johnstone, electrician, has moved to Leduc to work with Reynar Electric.

Both Jim and Edith have been extremely good citizens and will be definitely missed. They have one daughter Doris who will join them in Edmonton where they have an apartment on the south side, on conclusion of the school term. In October they will move to Leduc when a house will be available for rent.

Rev. Canon V. P. and Mrs. Cole who served the Mannville mission for some time, are also now residents of Leduc in charge of the Anglican church there. The Johnstones will be happy to renew acquaintances with Rev. and Mrs. Cole. The Anglican church here loses a choirmaster in Jim and a faithful organist in Edith.

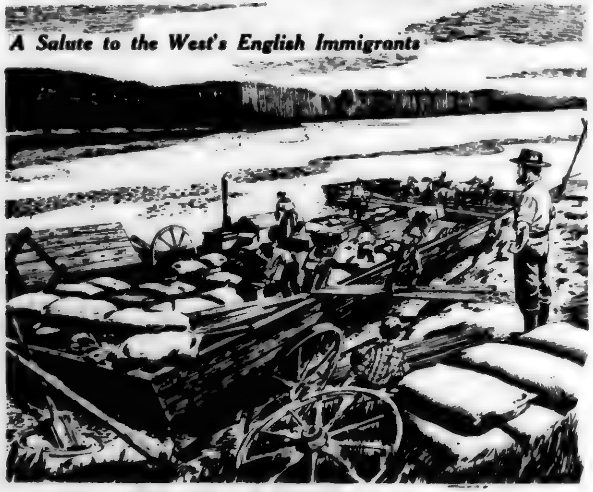
PROUDLY WESTERN
A Salute to the West's English Immigrants



Barr Colonists on the North Saskatchewan River above Lloydminster - 1904

Of all heroic stories written into Western history, that of the Barr colonists dramatically demonstrates the courage characteristic of English-born pioneers.

Recruited from London's working classes by a clergyman, Rev. I. M. Barr, who has been called variously an "idealist" and a "knave", the 2,300 Barr colonists jamming a converted Boer war troop ship to twice its normal capacity, sailed from England on March 31, 1903. They were bound for "the promised land" - the fertile plains west of the [illegible] of the North Saskatchewan river.

At Saskatoon hardship began to pile on hardship. Deserted by Barr, victimized by merchant suppliers, demoralized by their loss of possessions, disheartened by the savagery of the Canadian climate, they nevertheless made the agonizingly-slow journey by wagon across the prairie from Saskatoon. There a heart-breaking winter followed, for the colonists were woefully handicapped by their lack of agricultural knowledge.

Yet they stayed. The following year other Barr colonists joined them, some landing by rail at Strathcona to come down river in make-shift barges and scows, a ten-day journey during which men, women and children huddled together under no covering but a sky lashing cold spring rain.

And time has proved it was indeed a promised land they found!

Two young bicycle riders tied for top place in the bicycle Roadeo held last Friday evening. Amassing 80 points of a possible 100 were Maida Edey, 11 years old and in grade 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Edey; and Herbert Gould, also 11 years old and in grade 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gould. Maida is shown, left and Herbert, right, in the front row. The contest was sponsored by the Kinsmen. In back row, shown from left to right are Kinsmen Bill Flechuk, convener of the committee, Bob Carmichael of the Alberta Highway Traffic Board who presented the prizes, and Art [illegible], president of the Kinsmen Club. Young Cyclists Tie For Top Place In Bicycle Roadeo

Kinsmen Present Each with Bike

Maida Edey and Herbert Gould each won a bicycle at the bicycle roadeo which culminated a series of seven lectures and demonstrations to members of the Pedal Pushers Club, eligible to children of grades 4 to 6 inclusive. The purpose of the club was to instruct young bicycle riders in traffic rules and safety rules. Pedal Pushers clubs are directly affiliated with the Alberta Safety Council.

In Vermilion it was the Kinsmen Club which organized the Pedal Pushers with the instruction being given by Cpl. Peter Morris, Const. Bob McDowell, Bill Flechuk, Arne Usnik and Jack Trapp.

The roadeo held Friday evening was a test of the riding ability, traffic rules and traffic signs. Cpl. Morris was chief judge assisted by Bob Carmichael of the Safety Branch of Highway Traffic Board. Assisting in judging were Fred Stewart, Archie Husby, John Webb, Peter Link and L. Mayhew.

THE WINNERS

The Kinsmen had offered one new bicycle to the winner of the roadeo but when the judges found that Maida and Herbie were tied they generously decided to give each a bicycle. The complete list of prize winners is as follows.

First: Maida Edey and Herbie Gould tied with 80 of a possible 100 points. Runners-up were Brian Lovig, Laureen Ross and [illegible].

The Pedal Pushers Club results in children riding bicycles being much more conscious of the rules of the road, thereby greatly increasing the safety of cycling and cyclists.

School Trustees Plan Public Meeting

School district ratepayers will have an opportunity to air their views at a public meeting in the Kitscoty high school auditorium on Saturday June 25th at 1 p.m.

This meeting has been arranged by the Vermilion School Trustees' Association to hear all ratepayers on any school problems. There are complaints that at the annual ratepayers meeting in the winter there is too much time taken up with money matters and the financial statement, leaving no time for other matters.

This is your chance to have your say. There will be an interesting program of speakers and unlimited time for ratepayers to make their wishes known. A good turn-out to these meetings assures of their continuance and assures the ratepayers of a voice in their own affairs.

Be on time. The meeting must start early as there are many important subjects on the agenda.

BLOOD DONOR CANVASS STARTS THIS WEEK

Four churches in Vermilion are supplying canvassers for listing donors for the blood donor clinic which will be held in the Legion hall on July 5.

There will be about seventy canvassers, one for each block. The captains in charge are: Mrs. Jessie Stephens, Anglican; Mrs Chas Thompson, Alliance; Mrs Ruby Samuelson, United; Mrs. Malachi Killen, Catholic.

Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion is sponsoring the campaign to get donors for the clinic. The committee consists of Tommy Thompson, Alex Callbe and Ernie Buckingham. Should anyone be missed in the town canvass he or she could phone any one of this committee or one of the captains. There will likely be quite a number of country people who will not be contacted and they are kindly asked to put their name on lists at Craig's store, Stephens' store, Vermilion Co-op or Tom Boy.

However, if anyone does not get listed it is quite alright to come anyway to the clinic. The hours are 2 to 4.30 and 7 to 9.

Many people in this town and district have never donated blood to the Red Cross clinic before. The Red Cross [illegible] all to come around to support the drive for donors. The records of Vermilion Municipal hospital show that in 1959 there were over one hundred more bottles of blood brought in from Edmonton than were obtained at the blood clinics here. It is hoped that 500 or more people will visit the clinic on July 5th.

It might be of interest to Vermilion people to learn that Mrs H Johnston, Tommy Thompson and Mervyn Hill have donated blood more than 25 times each. These are quite wonderful records and they should be proud of them.

Ken Brown's Home Run Sparks Locals

In their first home game since May 23rd the Vermilion Ghosts gained revenge for a previous defeat by outscoring the Irma Tigers 6 to 2 on Wednesday June 15.

Strikeouts were the order of the day for the first six innings as the pitchers showed their superiority over the batters, and the [illegible] at 0-0. Then came the seventh inning — Ken Brown provided a home run to start things off, the locals took complete control and were leading 6-0 at the start of the ninth. This was where Murray Millar saw his shutout go by the boards when the boys committed two errors and Irma got their only two runs.

The Ghosts are showing steady improvement and have played almost errorless ball in the last three games. The hitting is still on the rusty side but that also will improve as the season goes on.

Practise time for the Ghosts is at the [illegible] park every Tuesday and [illegible] Provincial park each [illegible]. This useful bit of information seems to have slipped the mind of some players as they have not been out lately. [illegible] perfect.

Camper Comments:

Learn To Swim Program To Start

Applications for swimming lessons are coming in slowly, due perhaps to the cool weather, but please get them in soon so the staff will know what to expect. Some people are delaying their registration because of transportation problems. In this connection it is suggested that those interested take the initiative, talk to friends and neighbors and arrange a car pool. One family brings the district children in for one lesson, then another family brings them in for the next lesson and so on. By doing this, time and money consumed will not be too great for any one family. Attempts to arrange a bus service from each town are being made, but an interested person to handle details is urgently needed in the respective centres. Anyone wishing to volunteer in this regard, please contact Mac Fenton, Lake-front, Vermilion, or phone 187 for information.

Adult classes will be [illegible], and night classes will be arranged for those who want them. Just write "evening classes" on your registration form.

Once again, your cooperation in getting your applications in [illegible] will be greatly appreciated. Send them to the swim director, Vermilion Park, or leave them in the mail box on the front of the lifeguard office at the lake.

SUMMER IN VERMILION!

The holidays are starting soon — for the school children at least. During the course of the next two months many families will be going on vacation for two or three weeks, or for whatever time father has off the job.

But for most of the summer it will be a case of using the recreation facilities at hand. In this we, the residents of Vermilion and district, are fortunate to have a choice of many types of summer sports and activities.

It is appropriate that Canadians start the vacation season with a holiday known as Dominion Day. We are fortunate to live in a country that gives us the freedom and the standard of living that enables us to have the time and the wherewithal to enjoy our recreation periods. We are fortunate to have weather that, although we sometimes grouse at it, we don't fear it as do those who live in parts of the world subject to earthquakes, typhoons, hurricanes, tidal waves and other manifestations of nature's destructive powers.

Right here in Vermilion we have a chance, of an evening or a week-end, to partake of the enjoyment of the lakeside, with boating, swimming, fishing and picnicking. We have an excellent golf course. Baseball games can be readily and cheaply enjoyed. We haven't far to go to reach fishing spots that would arouse the incredulous envy of fresh water fishermen from many parts of the world.

This is where we make our living; this is our home; this is our work and our fun. We're glad of it!

PREVENTION IS BETTER THAN CURE

While the 1960 rat situation is better than it has been in previous years there is still no room for complacency in our rat control program, says D. Stelfox. Mr. Stelfox is Assistant Supervisor of Crop Protection and Pest Control with the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

Most programs, designed to operate within the framework of the Agricultural Pest Act, place special emphasis on prevention rather than cure; the provincial rat control program is no exception. Regulations established under the Act provide that "every person shall take active measures to prevent the establishment of rats on premises owned, occupied or controlled by him."

Preventative measures should include the elevation of post, rail and lumber piles plus the burning of useless boards and rubbish. Granaries, which settled into the ground when filled with grain, should be jacked-up to facilitate eradication of rats before next harvest.

Pest control officers are carrying additional rat poison which can be safely and effectively placed in feed supplies which are being stacked now for next winter's use. These officers have also been asked to check all premises in ranges 1 and 2 west of the fourth meridian to see that permanent bait stations are in operation. In other ranges the stations will be checked as the need arises.

While stressing the importance of the rat control program and the necessity for co-operation from all citizens concerned, Mr. Stelfox said that co-operation has been good in the past in most districts. He also pointed out that the work must continue as long as the rat situation presents a threat to our province.

PROBLEM DRINKERS EXPENSIVE TO CANADIAN BUSINESS

Problem drinkers cost Canadian business and industry a million dollars every working day of the year, according to an article in the current Maclean's. Their absences, time-wasting and blunders add up to a loss of $300 million a year, says author Sidney Katz.

Yet, he points out, many business leaders do little or nothing to combat alcoholism among their employees. Bosses often think of heavy drinkers as "wicked, morally degenerate creatures," when in fact they are people who can —and should—be helped.

Some alcoholics reach the stage where they cannot appear at work regularly, but others operate as "hidden half men" on the boss's payroll. They come to work, then waste most of the day fumbling through their jobs, sometimes committing costly blunders.

But the real tragedy of the situation, says Katz, is that many employers won't even admit to themselves that there are such people on their payrolls.

He describes actual cases demonstrating that it is far more sensible and economical for a company to help reform the alcoholics in its ranks than it is to fire them or leave them as they are.

One of the most dramatic instances was that of an employee whose multi-million-dollar company almost fired him because he was "a hopeless drunk." But his bosses decided to try to help him.

"Today," says Katz, "he's the head of the firm."

NO SENSE IN LOGIC

Logic is an inferior commodity; for instance, most people will agree that the chance of a people's becoming free is enhanced by compulsory education.

THREE CHEERS FOR OUR SIDE ... I THINK!?

ALBERTA INDUSTRY EXPANDS — This new 11 by 340-foot rotary cement kiln is part of a $4,500,000 expansion project officially opened Friday by Premier Manning, at the Inland Cement Company Limited Plant, northwest of Edmonton. The kiln consumes 3,300,000 cu. ft. of natural gas in the production of some 14,400 sacks of portland cement per day. It will increase production at the four-year-old plant by more than 50 per cent, to 13,200,000 sacks of cement per year.

NEWS from ISLAY

The Strawberry shortcake social held Wednesday June 15th, was a grand success with a large crowd patronizing this effort. It was much appreciated that Marwayne Little League ball team came over to have a game with the Islay little fellows. This was much enjoyed by the spectators. We missed from our midst Mrs Patsy Robertson who had gone to an Edmonton hospital. We surely hope she will be back soon.

On Sunday, Fathers' day, there was a happy gathering at the home of Jack McNeeley, including Mr and Mrs Norman Lambert and Mrs. Josephine McNeeley of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Glover and three boys of Lloydminster, Mrs. Thelma Armstrong and five children, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Anson and Iris, Mr and Mrs. Gordon Purver, Mrs. Marie Steinhauer and Misses Muriel and Gladys Stone. All enjoyed a most delicious buffet supper and had a wonderful visit.

Mrs. Maxine Purves' house from the farm was moved in and nicely placed on the new foundation recently. An addition to it is well on the way. Changes the look of the corner.

Notice a nice new station wagon standing at the house door of Walter McCaughan's. A dandy for a fishing trip, looks like the family could all sleep in it. Remember when we used to go fishing back north forty years ago? We slept on evergreen boughs or just dug a hole for our hip to rest in, spread a horse blanket down and covered up with a quilt made from tailor's samples. A grand opening of Ben and Bob's B.A. service station will be held on Saturday June 25 in the afternoon. Free coffee and doughnuts will be served, and there will be free ice cream cones for the kids accompanied by a parent. There will be door prizes too.

Dear Editor

A party of us went to the lake on Sunday June 19, to hear the Kitscoty Boys' band.

We enjoyed the concert very much and a great deal of credit goes to Mr Christopherson and his band for their fine program.

We were not pleased however with the disgusting display of the children cavorting around on the bandshell while the concert was in progress; some were swinging off the guard rails, others jumping up and down, while one boy was even hitting the side of the bandshell with a baseball bat.

This was very annoying to the audience and I am sure it must have been very distracting to the musicians themselves while they were playing their music. Now if it is impossible for the parents to control their children, couldn't the management of the park have some official there to look after such things as this?

Another suggestion is that it would be much better if someone could act as M.C. so the bandmaster would not have to announce his numbers.

Looking forward to many fine concerts at the lake in the coming weeks and thanking the Standard for valuable space to express opinions and ideas, we are sincerely

2,4-D or MCPA

One should use 2,4-D when spraying oats and flax. Ester formulations are the ones most commonly used in with these sprays, particularly when perennial weeds such as Canada and sow thistle are present. Furthermore, amines should be considered if 2,4-D is used on oats and flax.

There still seems to be a lot of confusion regarding which spray material should be used for which crop, at what stage the spraying should be done and what are the best rates to apply. The time to spray wheat and barley with 2,4-D is when the grain is in the four leaf stage. [illegible] can be continued until the [illegible] stage but since weeds become more resistant as as they become older higher rates of chemicals may be required for the later spraying. The use of MCPA on [illegible] can be done in any stage without damage to the crop. Flax can be sprayed from the [illegible] to the [illegible] stage of growth.

About 6 to 8 ounces of acid equivalent per acre is recommended for these chemicals except when MCPA is used on flax. Here maximum amount should not exceed 4 to 6 ounces of active weed killer and even at this rate there may be some slight effect on the crop. Higher rates can be used on perennial weeds which are a serious threat but some damage may occur under certain conditions.

FEEDING SILAGE

Last week I mentioned some of the advantages of feeding silage. However in order to use silage most effectively the disadvantages should also have to be considered.

1 Disadvantages [illegible] or production may occur occasionally when silage is [illegible]. This may be due to too high moisture content and/or to failure to add a preservative (ground grain, etc.) at the time of ensiling. These [illegible] could result in failure of the animal to obtain enough [illegible] matter or energy to sustain the desired level of production.

(2) Silage contains little or no Vitamin D whereas good sun-cured hay is rich in this vitamin. This fact suggests that silage should not be fed to the total exclusion of good hay for growing stock and lactating cows.

(3) The feeding of silage to milk cows occasionally results in off flavors or odors in milk. The usual cause of silage odor in milk is direct exposure of milk to silage odors.

(4) Mouldy silage has less feeding value than good silage and should be fed sparingly, especially to sheep and horses.

WEEDS AND THE LAWN

The time to attack persistent weeds, such as couch grass, is before the lawn is made, not afterwards. The wise gardener will cultivate the ground for a whole season prior to seeding the grass says Alberta's Supervisor of Weeds and Weed Control, W Lobay. Potatoes are often grown to compensate in part for labour expended on cultivation as an alternative to straight cultivation and the use of chemicals such as TCA, ATA and Dalapon.

The only solution to a serious couch grass infestation in the established lawn is to plough it up and start again. Dandelions, plantain, cinquefoil and [illegible] however can be kept under control by regular mowing, the use of fertilizer and chemical spray. Used at recommended rates, 2,4-D will not injure the grass and prove useful here. For eradication of chickweed, the herbicides Neburon and Kuron are recommended.

Construction Starts On Addition To Clandonald School

CLANDONALD. — Much activity is noticed around the grounds of the Clandonald Separate school where excavation has been started for the new school. When completed it will represent an outlay in the neighborhood of $100,000, and will add another four classrooms and a gymnasium. This will make a total of nine rooms at the Separate school, and will bring to a total of thirteen including the total number of classrooms in Clandonald to thirteen including the public school.

CHANGE IN MANAGEMENT CLANDONALD HOTEL

The Clandonald hotel is now under new management. The former owner Mr. [illegible] has sold recently to an Edmonton family.

WET WEATHER HOLDS UP NEW HIGHWAY

Although considerable delay has been caused by the unusually wet weather, a good start has been made on the highway north from Shaw's corner, north of Clandonald. The section already finished would compare very favorably with any secondary highway seen anywhere in the country. When completed the four miles of new highway will replace a stretch of road which has become badly neglected for several years past.

RAIN IMPROVES CROP PROSPECTS

Recent heavy rains of almost 1½ inches have greatly improved the prospects for hay and grain crops. Caterpillars are playing havoc with the leaves in many spots. It is to be hoped that they do not develop a craving for anything else.

FOR JUNE BRIDES:

New brides this month might appreciate a little basic information concerning cooking.

Cookbooks sometimes, but not always, explain cookery terms.

Are you familiar with the following terms in meat cookery?

SEAR — To brown quickly on all sides.

BRAISE — To brown in hot fat, then cover and cook slowly in a small amount of water or other liquid.

BROIL or GRILL — To cook under an oven flame or electric unit.

FRICASSEE — To sear in hot fat, then simmer in a small amount of water until tender.

EQUIVALENT SUBSTITUTIONS

These are soon learned with practice but the new cook might be bewildered at first. Here are a few common ones:

1 tablespoon flour (for the thickening) is equivalent to ½ tablespoon corn starch.

1 ounce unsweetened chocolate is equivalent to 3 to 4 tablespoons cocoa, plus ½ tablespoon fat.

If using shortening in place of butter use ⅞ to 1 cup of shortening for each cup of butter.

If the recipe calls for one cup of heavy cream which you do not have, then use ¾ cup milk plus 4 tablespoons butter.

To cause sweet milk to turn sour, add 1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice to 1 cup milk and stir. This will replace 1 cup of sour milk on recipe.

LEAVENING AGENTS TO LEAVEN 1 CUP FLOUR

Sometimes you may have to substitute a certain kind of baking powder in a recipe or you may have to use soda and sour milk instead. Remember that the following amounts are sufficient to leaven one cup flour.

Phosphate baking powder (e.g. Magic) 1½ teaspoons
Double acting baking powder (e.g.) Calumet 1 teaspoon.
Baking soda use ½ teaspoon plus 1 teaspoon cream tartar, or, use ½ teaspoon plus 1 cup fully sour milk or buttermilk.

If baking powder has stood in the tin a long time, stir it to lighten the product and to break up any lumps before measuring.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman, Family Farewelled at Alliance Chapel

Special guests at the Alliance Chapel on Sunday, June 19th, were Mr and Mrs. Frank Chapman and children, Jonathan, Esther, Joy, Elizabeth and Sharon. Mrs. Chapman is the former Winnifred Wilson of Vermilion. Having been on furlough the Chapmans are soon returning to the land of Spanish Guinea, West Africa, where they are missionaries under the World Wide Evangelization Crusade. During the service of the day the family were dressed in native costume and sang many songs in the native language.

In the morning service Mr Chapman spoke on the subject "That I may know Him" and also spoke briefly about their work on the mission field. Miss Dorothy Grinde sang "I believe in Miracles" with piano accompaniment by Mrs. J M. Schroeder.

Colored slides of Spanish Guinea were shown by Mr. Chapman in the evening service, including some of Ken and Evelyn Geake and their daughter Susie, who are also working with the same mission in that land. They are formerly from Vermilion.

In his farewell message Mr. Chapman spoke of the remarkable revival which has recently taken place in Spanish Guinea.

After the evening service a fellowship luncheon was served by the ladies of the church and the Chapmans were presented with a love offering to assist in enabling them to return to Africa sometime this fall.

The Chapmans spoke in the Alliance Tabernacle, Mannville, during the afternoon service and related many interesting experiences.

Advance announcement was made of the coming of the "Singing Men" a vocal choir from the Canadian Bible College, Regina, Sask., who will be in Vermilion, July 20th.

Mannville Commencement Exercises Largest Ever Held

MANNVILLE -Thursday June 9th marked an important day in history for 39 grade nine students, as they gathered before a capacity crowd at the high school auditorium. Gary Wright proved a competent host as he introduced the students who proceeded, two by two, across the stage, forming the largest class of grade niners to step forward in Mannville's school history. Principal Angus Smith was his usual witty self as he congratulated grade 7 and 8 on the decorations, and thanked teachers for the honor of schoosing him as M. C. The teachers are Mrs M Morrison and Mrs. J. Park.

Rev. F. G. Andrews led the invocation prayer. Brian Scoggins pleased the gathering with the class theme song "Island in the Sun," which theme was well accentuated by the attractively decorated hall. Academic awards were presented to Robert Baldwin, Elaine Bryden, Arlene Emmott, George Pulyk, Deanna Rudd, Gordon Maron and Marty Park in grade seven. Gail Mercer, Joan Crawford, Dianne Gausvick and Janice Weaver in grade 8. Showing the most improvement in grade seven were Kenny Seymour, Lawrence Yacyshn. In grade eight: Vivian Lynch, David McLaughlin and Patricia Thompson.

Grade seven sports awards went to: Grant Nicoll, Elaine Bryden; grade 8 James Tymchuk, Vivian Lynch; Grade nine to Douglas Blackford, Dianne Knutson.

Principal Smith congratulated all on their fine achievement. Pins will be awarded later. A vocal solo was given by Miss Karen Hubbard. Ross Sargent sang "May You Always". They were accompanied by Kenny Johnson.

Miss Marian Shock gave a splendid valedictory address. Mr D. H. Gunn, Irma high school principal was the guest speaker and was introduced by Mr Smith. He was a warm and humorous speaker. He was impressed with the garde nine talent, comparing days of yore to present day conveniences. Mr Gunn found many new inventions since 25 years ago, which was when he began his career of teaching. There were no T-V sets, few electrical appliances and definitely no rural electrification. The suggestion of centralization of schools was a most unpopular issue. Mr Gunn urged students to remember education is a "Must" for future years, especially as the new era is that of the expert. Aside from education, employees require social development, the knack of getting along with people. Most employees need more education and a knowledge of skilled labor. Opportunities are diminishing for those lacking a high school education, while statistics show even now there is a marked decrease in the number of unskilled laborers. Social development claimed Mr Gunn, begins at home. "As you enter high school next year," he said, "the best wishes of your community are yours, keep your own high ideals and may the blessing of God be with you."

Judy Gerhart on behalf of the the girls fastball team accepted the Junior high school trophy won in the recent tournament.

Girls of the grade 8 class, trained by Mr Dobush and accompanied by Dawn Kreller sang "The Old Village Choir" and the grade 9 class song.

Ends Quarter Century of Service With Derwent Association

Over a quarter of a century of service to the Derwent Co-operative Shipping Association was ended on Saturday June 18th with the resignation of Mr Helmer Meyerman as secretary manager. Succeeding him in this position is Mr John Fedecko. Mr Meyerman was forced to resign due to ill health.

Mr Meyerman was largely responsible for the forming of the association back in the 1930's when a group of local farmers felt that better returns could be obtained by organizing their own shipping concern. Since that time many thousands of dollars have been paid to the members and shippers in dividends. About twenty years ago branches were established at Clandonald and Dewberry.

Last year shippers and visitors were guests at a banquet in Derwent to mark the 25th year of operation. On that occasion Mr Meyerman was presented with a desk set by members to show their appreciation of his many years of service to the association.

In poor health for the past fifteen months or more Mr Meyermann felt that he could not manage to carry on any longer. He is at present at the coast where climatic conditions agree with him better than in Alberta. He plans to be back for a few weeks in July to attend to business affairs.

The new secretary-manager Mr Fedechko is not a newcomer to the association as he has worked as shipping agent in the yards for many years. He has also been in charge of the books for the past year due to Mr Meyermann's failing health. A well known district farmer he served for several years as the councillor in his division of the municipality of Eagle.

Ray Dixon of Prov. Dairy Branch Addresses Rotary Meeting

Ray Dixon, Supervisor of Dairy Cattle Improvement in the Provincial Dairy Branch, Edmonton addressed the Rotary club last Friday.

Mr Dixon's subject was artificial insemination and he related the rapid expansion of A.I. during the past few years. In Ontario over a million cows are bred each year by the A.I. method. A number of groups have been starting in Alberta.

Mr Dixon said that the local group has been in operation since February. A technician is in charge. [illegible] of twelve dairy and beef breeds of cattle is kept on hand at all times.

Walter [illegible], local dairy inspector, introduced Mr Dixon and [illegible] thanked him for his [illegible] discussion on artificial [illegible].

Cuban Missionaries At Alliance Chapel

Special guests at the mid-week meeting in the Alliance Chapel, Tuesday June 21st were Rev. Lavastida, co-founder of the West Indies Mission, and Rev. Henry Werner, formerly a pastor of the Chapel. Mr. Werner spoke on conditions and the opportunities in the West Indies "where the door is wide open to the Christian Gospel."

Mr Lavastida spoke especially about present conditions in Cuba and then gave the devotional message. He concluded with his life story of how he was able to escape from the Spaniards during the Cuban war for freedom, which claimed the lives of his three brothers through starvation. His father was subsequently murdered having fought in the cause of freedom.

The Bible Today

The whole of Africa with its 220,000,000 population is in a state of tumultuous change. The course of Africa's future will be determined in the course of a comparatively few years. The Bible Societies are supporting the Christians who number about 30,000,000 with increasing distribution of Scriptures. New centres of work are being established in which native Africans, in rapidly increasing numbers, are taking places of leadership.

The British and Foreign Bible Society reports that at the moment 1,250,000 gospels are being produced to meet the demand in 65 languages of which half in 35 languages are being produced in Great Britain. Various African presses are producing the other 600,000 in 31 different languages. Included in this number are large quantities of 50,000 to 100,000 in languages like Hausa, Swahili, Zulu and Suto and small numbers of as little as [illegible] for obscure tribes like [illegible] in French West Africa where the Canadian Bible Society share in the work and [illegible] for the [illegible] tribe in Rhodesia. Estimates of the cost of [illegible] gospels to date is $75,000.

New Bible Society Auxiliaries have been established in East Africa and the Rhodesias. In other [illegible] Area Advisory [illegible] have been established.

Golf Club Activities

(Held over from last week)

On Wednesday, June 8th, the Ladies' Golf club organized a very successful pot luck supper for the members of both ladies' and Men's clubs.

Vermilion Golf club was well represented at [illegible] tournaments over the past week-end. Al Locke competed in the tournament held at Sylvan lake for members of the provincial treasury branch staffs which was played on June 11th.

VIKING TOURNEY

The Viking Golf tournament had five representatives from Vermilion. Warren Rosenquist won the second flight, Scott Morgan the seventh flight, and Glen Baldock the ninth flight. Glen also won a special prize donated by the Bardahl Company for the lowest score on the 3rd hole. Seven players tied for this and Glen's name was drawn out of the hat. Russell Carroll and Mac Simonsen also played but failed to land any of the prizes.

PLAY AT LLOYDMINSTER

Dr. C. W. Stephens, Stan Waldenberger, Bob Waldenberger, Glen Gibbons and Andy Roy attended the Lloydminster tourney also held on Sunday the 12th. Glen won the consolation in the second flight, Dr. Stephens won the third flight, and Bob Waldenberger won the consolation of the third flight. Stan and Andy failed in their bid to make the prizes.

The Ladies' Open Golf tournament is scheduled for Sunday June 26th.

Engineer G. Best Honored On Eve of Last Run

Signalizing the completion of forty-three years of service on the railroad, Engineer George W. Best was honored at the Canadian National depot in Vermilion last Friday evening, just prior to the last run he would make as an engineer. When he stepped aboard the railliner running from Vermilion to North Battleford he would be at the controls for the last time.

When Engineer Best came to the station as usual to take over his charge, he was amazed to find scores of his fellow workers and friends from around town, all there to wish him many, many years of happy retirement.

Mr. Best started railroading at Saskatoon in 1917, and all of his forty-three years on the railroad has been in the west and with the C.N.R., first the Canadian Northern, followed by the Canadian National. He has lived at Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Hanna, Melville and North Battleford. For the past two years he has been engineer on the railliner travelling from North Battleford to Vermilion, arriving at 9:20 a.m. Mr. Best would spend the day here and at 8:30 p.m. he would again take over the controls and travel back to his home at North Battleford. Prior to the advent of the railliner he was engineer on trains 5 and 6, for many years. During this time also he spent his days in Vermilion. Mr. Best made many friends while here and the large number on hand to wish him well was a tribute to his friendly and kindly disposition.

Besides the many fellow employees who extended their best wishes were Mayor Melvin Hill, who presented a letter of good wishes from the Town of Vermilion, and Ashley H. Cooper M.L.A., who brought greetings and hopes for a contented retirement, from the province of Alberta.

Railroad groups also sent wires in appropriate terms, while the final train orders were presented by Conductor Howard Mackie ... orders which retired Engineer Best will always keep and cherish.

GEORGE BEST
LAST RUN
1917 1960

Engineer George W. Best receives his final train orders from Conductor Howard Mackie prior to making his last run at the controls of the rail-liner leaving Vermilion last Friday evening. As will be noted on the huge banner fastened securely on the front of the train, Engineer Best was retiring at the end of the run at North Battleford following 43 years of service, 1917 to 1960. —Standard Staff Photo

Islay Teacher Feted At Bridal Shower

ISLAY. The United Church hall, very prettily decorated with white and mauve lilacs, made a lovely setting for a shower in honor of bride-elect Miss Janet Kent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kent of Irwinville.

The setting for the guests of honor, Miss Kent, her mother, and Mrs. Neil McLennan, was a wishing well banked with lilacs, iris, and bleeding heart, with a background of vines and hanging lilacs.

As Miss Kent arrived, all arose and sang "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow". Janet was greatly surprised as she thought she was coming to help the 4-H with a thematic display. As the guests were seated Mrs. Moncrieff pinned a wild rose corsage on [illegible].

Some contests were engaged in creating much fun and laughter, and two poems were read. One poem was composed by our own Islay postess and both were greatly enjoyed.

Miss Kent's mother assisted in opening the gifts and Mrs. McLennan noted them in a book. There were many very lovely and useful gifts, all very beautifully wrapped. Miss Kent, with much feeling, thanked her friends, inviting them to attend the wedding and hoped that they would visit her and Ken when they find a home. Then all enjoyed lunch and a social time. The hall was filled to capacity.

Miss Kent, who has taught in the intermediate room of the Islay school for the past two years, will be greatly missed there and also in the community as she gave freely of her musical [illegible].

The grant to the Park Committee of the Chamber was increased from $450.00 to $500.00.

SPRING BANQUET

Mr. Mireault reported a very successful "Spring Banquet" with slightly more then 120 present and stated he would give a financial report at a later meeting.

Mr. Ralph Wilson, chairman of the Agricultural Committee, reported that District No. 7 of the F.U.A. would be holding its annual meeting here on the 28th of June.

It was decided to write a letter to the secretary of the F.U.A. Mr. George Vindley, extending a welcome to the delegates who will be attending the annual meeting of District No. 7, and offering the assistance of the Chamber in any way decided.

A letter of appreciation from Mr. Davies, United Kingdom Trade Commissioner, to the President expressing his appreciation and enjoyment of his visit to Vermilion, was read.

FIRE CHIEF INSTRUCTION SCHOOLS

Dr. King also announced that three "Fire Chiefs' Instruction Schools" would be held in Vermilion — the first on June 20th, the second on September 3rd, and the final one in early October. He said that Vermilion was found to be the most ideal place in Alberta for these "Schools of Instruction".

Alberta Magistrates Attend Conference

Sixty-five magistrates from 54 Alberta centres attended the fourth annual Magistrate's Conference held in the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium recently. Car Registrations At All-Time Peak

Automobile registrations in Alberta are continuing to set new records, according to figures released last week by the Highways department.

At the end of May 290,334 passenger cars had been licensed compared with 279,130 at the same time last year. The significant thing about it is that the figures cover barely more than the first month of the current licensing year.

A motor vehicles branch spokesman said there's little doubt that before the summer is out passenger car registrations will top last year's 12-month total of 313,727.

Sharon Johnson proposed the toast to the Queen. The toast to the church was given by Joan Robbie, to which Rev. Shortt replied. Marion Fairbairn toasted the mothers and Mrs. Hathaway graciously replied to this.

The head table guests were: Rev. and Mrs. Shortt, Mr. Snider, Mrs. Berry of the W.A., Mrs. Dow of the W.M.S., Mrs. Rea of the Explorers; all had a few kind remarks. Betty Ann Hathaway, on behalf of the girls, presented Mrs. Gardiner with a gift in appreciation of her year's work, to which Mrs. Gardiner replied and gave a short resume of the year's activities. To the ladies who catered is extended grateful thanks.

The programme was held upstairs and commenced with piano solos by Sharon Johnson, Carolyn Rooks and Barbara Shaw.

The Explorer Affiliation [illegible] followed by their Graduation Service, was next, after which the C.G.I.T. Lanyard ceremony took place. Diana Adamson was the assistant senior with Mrs. Gardiner. Eight girls received their lanyards signifying they have reached the age of 15.

THREE GRADUATES

The closing item was the graduation ceremony, with three graduates, Joan Beattie, Grace Hale and Peggy Hancock receiving their diplomas. Each girl gave an interesting address on what C.G.I.T. meant to her. Cecile Wells, on behalf of the groups, presented each girl with a sterling graduation pin.

This was the closing project for the term. It is hoped all will be back in the fall, and in the meantime there is C.G.I.T. camp at Lake Whitney, Aug. 3rd to 10th. It promises to be a wonderful camp with excellent leaders and instructors.

Army Helicopter Lands in Mannville School Yard

MANNVILLE — Great excitement was created Friday at noon, June 10th, when a helicopter, attached to the R.S.A.S.C. at Wainwright landed in the Elementary school yard. Within minutes every pupil of the school was outside to see, what was to them, one of the seven wonders. Likewise young and old made a hasty trip to the school yard also to view the strange sight.

Apparently the Army were obliged to return from Lavoy, where manoeuvers were planned, to obtain permission of the Municipal District of Minburn, whose headquarters are in Mannville, to land there. The pilot thrilled Jackie Stefanyk by lifting him inside and placing a helmet on him. A co-pilot was also in the helicopter.

"TRAFFIC TOLL APPALLING," STATES PRIME MINISTER

Prime Minister Diefenbaker has called on all Canadians to co-operate in Canada's nation-wide summer vacation campaign to control the "in-a-hurry" drivers who risk their lives and the lives of others to get where they're going as fast as they can.

Called "Slow Down and Live", the drive operates through June, July and August, sponsored in Canada by the Canadian Highway Safety Council simultaneously with the United States and Puerto Rico.

Referring to Canada's 1959 traffic toll of more than 3,300 lives, the Prime Minister writes, "Everything must be done to combat this senseless loss of life." He urges motorists to obey traffic laws and drive carefully at all times.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority

A friend of mine recently told me how he used his car to cement his relationship with his ten-year-old son. A busy man, he suddenly realized that the boy did not come to him for advice and companionship.

Searching for a common interest, he discovered that his boy like many other youngsters, could identify any make of car on the road. So one Sunday, Dad suggested a "driving lesson".

In the car, he allowed the boy to hold the steering wheel while he explained the meaning of such road markings as double white lines, single lines and dotted lines. Then he asked the boy whether or not he should pass the car ahead. That led to a discussion of passing on hills and curves. Soon, the boy's interest had carried the conversation into car mechanics and other subjects. Weather permitting, the Dad-and-Son Sunday drive [illegible].

My friend is a happier man these days. Not only is safe driving becoming second nature to his young son, but talking things over with Dad is becoming second nature too!

Empathy — Understanding the individual and his situation, [illegible] and trying to do something about it.

Sympathy is too subjective — empathy objective.

I will give you a brief outline of our setup: government: Federal, Provincial Government, Municipalities and last but not least our home front voluntary agencies.

[illegible] — Welfare

FEDERAL

1. Family Allowances
2. Old Age Security
3. Old Age Assistance
4. Pensions, Allowances: Federal and Provincial 2%

Other Federal Departments operate extensive Welfare programs for particular groups as a. Labor Department Workmen's Compensation and its placement service

b. Department of Veterans Affairs

PROVINCIAL:

1. Child Protection
2. Mother's Allowances
3. Workmen's Compensation

MUNICIPAL:

1. Care of its own relief problems
2. Care of unemployment relief
3. Some attendant social services, playground activities and provincial and federal plans for encouragement of physical fitness such as parks, wading pools and swimming pools.

VOLUNTARY AGENCIES:

Government programs are supplemented by a wide variety of activities by voluntary organizations. Here the emphasis is on service rather than financial support e.g. Counselling services, [illegible]

[illegible] — Health

FEDERAL — as in pamphlet

1. Immigration medical quarantine including administration of [illegible]
2. Food and Drug Control
3. Narcotic Drug Control
4. Public Health Engineering.
5. [illegible]
6. Civil Health Service (consultant counselling, examination and first aid for Federal employees)
7. Laboratory of Hygiene [illegible]

In addition to these the Federal government [illegible] to provinces in fields of a. [illegible]

b. [illegible]
c. Nutrition
d. [illegible]
e. [illegible]
f. Social Hygiene
g. Blindness Control
h. Hospital Design
i. [illegible]
j. [illegible]

PROVINCIAL:

1. [illegible]
2. Cancer
3. [illegible]
4. [illegible]
5. [illegible]
6. Social Hygiene
7. Tuberculosis Control
8. Vital Statistics
9. Public Health Nursing
10. Municipal Hospitals
11. Sanitary Engineering.

MUNICIPAL:

1. All municipalities employ preventive measures against communicable diseases e.g. services for quarantine and isolation.
2. Many municipalities operate their own hospitals.
3. Hospital inspection services. In some areas [illegible] boards maintain their own health services, medical and [illegible] staff.

VOLUNTARY AGENCIES.

Now we are [illegible] some [illegible] have made a great [illegible] to Canada's [illegible] welfare program at home and abroad.

Example of home [illegible]

Example abroad — UNICEF — inception 1946, 1958 Canada contribution $650,000 for vaccination against TB.

There is need all over the world and quite likely always will be. Thus keeping this in mind where economic [illegible] regardless of cause, it should be received with safe guards so that dependence is not the encouraged nor prolonged.

God give me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change,
The courage to change the things I can,
And the wisdom to know the difference.

CNR IS ALL DIESEL NOW

Greeted by a large crowd of railway fans, retired CNR employees and officials, locomotive No. 6043 is seen (top) at Winnipeg as it completed the last steam-powered train run of the Canadian National Railways system.

This historic event, said J. R. McMillan, vice-president of CNR's western region, was an occasion for pride as well as nostalgic sadness . . . pride because the company has completed its dieselization program; and sadness because the steam locomotive, a faithful servant for 124 years, has retired. He added that through the power and strength of steam, Canada has expanded from small settlements to a network of thriving cities extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

At left, Premier Duff Roblin of Manitoba, congratulates Engineer Lou Routledge and Fireman Nicholas Shewchuk, who manned No. 6043 on its last run from The Pas, Man.

Lower Air Fares?

Trans-Atlantic airlines have tuned out the over-capacity blues and now are racing to meet amazingly strong demand, says The Financial Post.

Airmen describe bookings to Europe for 1960 as fantastic. If this continues, lower rates eventually could be the result.

Unless the international or economic scenes take a turn for the worse, airmen are betting they will carry well over a million passengers across the Atlantic in the six months April to September.

New Safety Measures Developed By Alberta Department of Labour

An increasingly common type of accident was simulated recently by the Factories Branch of the Alberta Department of Labour, to test the strength of a new nylon safety belt and two types of lifeline.

The tests were designed to subject the equipment to an impact as great or greater than that of a person falling from an oil derrick.

The safety belt was secured to a steel cylinder and locked to the lifeline. The other end of the line was fastened to a dynamometer which measures impact force when a free falling object is suddenly arrested. The dynamometer was attached to the ceiling approximately 20 feet above the floor. Using a platform and pulley system, the test weight was elevated and then dumped. The length of fall was controlled by rope length allowing sufficient room for rope stretch.

The first test used ½ inch nylon rope, 12 feet in length with a 200 pound weight. At the end of the free fall the nylon rope stretched 1.92 feet subjecting the safety belt to an impact force of 2800 pounds.

The second and third tests used the same kind of rope and with a weight of 250 pounds. The tests were designed to measure the loss of elasticity and resultant characteristics of the material. The 250 pound weight registered an impact of 2500 pounds stretching 3 feet the first time and stretching 2.15 feet the second with an impact of 3275 pounds. Increased impact weight was due to decreased rope elasticity. The safety belt had shown no damage up to this time.

A one-inch manila rope was used for the fourth test. Attached to a 250 pound weight the rope stretched 4.71 inches at the end of the 12 foot fall, registering an impact of 9000 pounds. Again the greater impact was caused by the comparative lack of elasticity in manila rope.

The greater impact from use of manila rope caused slight damage to the eyelets on the safety belt buckle, although it suffered no severe damage.

One-inch manila rope is made with a maximum breaking weight of 9000 pounds but due to its non-elastic characteristic should be used only to 20% of maximum. Nylon of the half-inch size has a breaking strength of 3000 pounds, but due to greater elasticity may be used to 70% of maximum.

The safety belt tested is of a new design, made almost entirely of nylon. In addition to having greater strength than the cotton web model the nylon belt is impervious to oil, gasoline and moisture, which may rot a cotton belt and cause it to fail. The tested belt also had a newly designed attaching ring which is less subject to damage than the "D" ring. All safety belts used in the oil industry must pass a test of 250 pound weight dropped 6 feet on a 6-foot manilla rope.

The Factories Branch works in co-operation with the Workmen's Compensation Board to ensure the regulations which require the use of safety belts on all oil rigs, are complied with. Periodic checks are made at derricks to verify the lifeline and safety belt. Investigation into injuries or fatalities at a well site is also conducted by the Branch.

During 1959, two oil workers were killed as a result of falls from oil derricks. Two others who fell with safety belt were slightly injured. Unreported falls in which the worker suffered no injury make it impossible to establish the number of persons whose lives have been saved by belts. The Factories Branch reports in some cases a belt has been available to the victim but he was not wearing it.

Red Cross National Water Safety Week is June 19 - 25. If you find yourself swimming in a current, don't struggle against it. You'll exhaust yourself. Swim with the current, and at the same time diagonally towards the shore.

Sharon Dyck and Merilyn Watt Winning Essays on Safety

Within the next few days 150 schoolrooms in Alberta will receive wall plaques from the Alberta Safety Council. Hand lettered certificates, mounted under plexi-glass on a wooden base, will show that a pupil from the schoolroom has written an essay on farm safety which was chosen by the judges to receive first prize for the school division. The pupil will receive an enamelled lapel pin to keep as a permanent personal memento.

This is the tenth year the Alberta Safety Council has offered farm safety essay contests for pupils in grades five, six, seven and eight in the province's rural schools. Fifty-two school divisions entered with an estimated [illegible] students writing essays. Prizes are offered in each school division and the Correspondence Branch and the Indian residential schools for the best essay from grades five and six and the best essay from grades seven and eight.

Subjects for this year's contest were "Chemical Safety" and "Recreational Safety".

Division winners for Vermilion School Division are Sharon Dyck of Vermilion in the grades five and six group, and Merilyn Watt of Woodvale in the grades seven and eight group.

CHEMICAL SAFETY

By Merilyn Watt, Grade 8

Mrs. Jones was pacing the floor uneasily. She glanced toward the dark barnyard, and then to the east field where the lights of her husband's combine still glided in steady circles.

Bill Jones had said not to bother with the chores, but if he was too late coming home to put the cows in the corral.

Mrs. Jones still pondered for awhile, but finally decided to give her three-year-old daughter a light lunch and put her to bed. Fifteen minutes after Janey had snuggled under the covers, Mrs. Jones was sure she was sound asleep. Then she put on her coat and walked out into the darkness.

The young woman chased the cows into the corral and then hearing the noises of the hungry, squealing pigs, she decided to save her husband some work and feed them.

Meanwhile in the house was Janie, finding herself alone, decided to get up and "help" mommy. The first thing coming to her mind, of course, was to get supper for daddy.

Looking around the kitchen for something to eat, Janie went to the lower cupboard and took out a pretty orange box with a "pussy" on it. After setting many other things on the table, Janie selected the white can with the white flakes. Thinking it should be very good, she tasted a bit. Frantically, Janie tried to spit out the burning substance. She turned in circles and ran about uttering strange sounds. Finally, her body went limp and the child fell to the floor.

Presently, Mrs. Jones, having finished the chores, returned to the house to prepare her husband's supper. She had an odd feeling as she started towards the house, and glanced towards the field where her husband was working to see if all was well there. The lights moved steadily on. Mrs. Jones sighed: "All is well". She opened the house door. She glanced at the kitchen table. It was covered with various foods. White flakes were spilled on the table. Her eyes fell to the floor. There lay the limp body of her daughter. Beside the child a lye can unfolded the sad story to the terrified mother. For a moment the young woman stood motionless, a jumble of thoughts flying through her mind. Was this really happening to her, or was it a nightmare? At last, really grasping the details of the situation, she bundled the child in a blanket and flew for the family car.

Within [illegible] minutes she reached the nearest doctor. The doctor quickly examined the child. Slowly, his eyes rose to those of the anxious mother. He shook his head. Too late! The child was dead!

These grief-stricken parents could have prevented the accident by following these simple rules:

1. Never leave a child alone in a house.
2. Never leave dangerous or poisonous chemicals within reach of children.
3. Never let material things rule their lives.

with Acadia's new A+ PLAN

Chances are, many of your household possessions, your home, your car, are already protected by insurance. Then, you know the peace of mind this protection brings. But isn't it bothersome trying to budget for half-a-dozen-or-so premiums, falling due every so often—sometimes during awkward, financially-strained periods of your year? Of course it is! You simply name the items you wish insured; if you don't wish all your possessions covered, your Acadia man—the man with the revolutionary new A-Plus Plan—will be glad to tailor a coverage package to your individual requirements—you'll still have only one low premium to pay!

THREE EASY WAYS TO PAY! 1. Two-month portion of premium down, the balance in 10 monthly payments. 2. quarterly, 3. semi-annually. Simply choose the one which best suits your budget. All three are designed with your convenience in mind. The second big plus in the all-new Acadia A-Plus Plan!

SPECIAL MONEY-SAVING AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE CATEGORIES! Big plus number three in this great Plan of benefits. BIGGEST PLUS OF ALL! ACADIA'S EXCLUSIVE "MORTGAGE PAYMENT PROTECTION"! This attractive bonus is yours and goes into effect the minute you enrol in the Plan, no matter what your coverage, complete or partial! Here's how it works: should you become totally disabled by accident, or suffer an accidental death, Acadia will pay off your mortgage. The cost? A surprise—this exclusive feature costs less than $10 a year for most householders.

"ON-THE-SPOT" CLAIMS SETTLEMENT! A mighty important plus—fifth big plus in Acadia's all-new A-Plus Plan. Once your Acadia man insures you under the Plan, you can be sure that if you ever have a claim, you'll get claim service second to none. Never an annoying delay when it comes to settling up—Acadia settles your claim on the spot! Any present Acadia policyholder will vouch for this.

ACADIA'S A-PLUS PLAN IS ALL-CANADIAN! This sixth big plus in Acadia's all-new A-Plus Plan is well worth remembering. Acadia knows the insurance needs of Canadians; has protected Canadian possessions since 1862.

HOW HOT IS OUR GAS?

The varying heat content of natural gas supplied to communities served by Northwestern Utilities, Limited is measured and recorded by calorimeters such as the one pictured above. This instrument measures a small amount of gas and continually burns it to determine the heating value. Chief instrument technician, Al McGarvey, left and assistant Cliff Gates adjust one of the 12 calorimeters strategically located throughout Northwestern's system. They are located at Wetaskiwin, Red Deer, Viking, and nine in and around Edmonton. These locations allow for accurate measurement of the variations of gas supply during the year. Fourteen different sources are now feeding seventy communities in the gas company's widespread system.

Alberta Holds Teen-age Safe Driving Roadeo

CALGARY — The 1960 provincial Teen-Age safe driving roadeo champion is Vernon Raff of Medicine Hat. Vernon was presented with the Imperial Oil trophy and a cheque for $100 at a banquet held recently.

Runner-up in the competition was Jay Tierney of Calgary and third place was taken by Milo Peavey of Lloydminster. They won trophies and prizes of $75 and $50 respectively. The roadeo was organized by the Red Deer Jaycees and sponsored by Imperial Oil Limited.

Twenty-three teen-agers from all parts of Alberta tackled the tough series of tests at Montgomery on Sunday. First their driving knowledge was tested in a challenging one-hour written examination.

Then they were put through their paces in a series of driving skill tests which involved [illegible] line driving, parking, [illegible] curve and offset. Finally the 23 teen-agers were taken out on the streets of Montgomery and marked on their ability to drive under actual road conditions.

Following the roadeo the teen-agers were feted at a banquet where the guest speaker was Honourable Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways. Prizes were presented by Graff Miles, [illegible] Marketing Manager for Imperial Oil. No one went home empty handed as every contestant received a new camera.

Ron King of Wainwright, who represented this area, placed sixteenth. He was third in the written quiz and seventh in the road check, but lost ground in the skill test.

Water Safety Around the Home

SWIM SAFELY!

1. Because children love to play in water they must be watched constantly if there are creeks, rivers or ponds, no matter how small, near the home. A ditch, flooded after a storm, can be a death trap.

2. Cover open wells. Attention to this constant danger will prevent tragedy.

3. Make sure deep excavations in your neighborhood are fenced, and small children supervised at play. Anticipate and prevent that one fatal slip.

4. Garden ponds and plastic wading pools should be supervised while children are at play... and closed off when supervision is absent. Remember... children have drowned in as little as two or three inches of water.

5. Around the home teach your children to avoid these dangers.

Blood Donor Clinic Set For Tuesday

Vermilion Branch of the Red Cross Society will hold their annual blood donor clinic on Tuesday, July 5.

Canvassers have made house-to-house visits this week. Listings of donors are not complete as yet but it is expected that [illegible] names have been taken down. This is hardly as many as hoped for as the objective aimed at was three hundred in the town and district. This means that everyone on the list must respond or Vermilion will be short of the quota.

It is quite possible that some people have been missed in the canvass. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 65 may come to the clinic without being on any list. If you are in doubt about being able to give blood, a drop is checked and your health history is discussed with the doctor in charge. He is very experienced in clinic supervision and can decide whether you should donate blood or not.

It would appear that the best time to come to the clinic which will be held in the Legion hall between 2 and 4 30 and between 7 and 9 p.m. is soon after it opens in the afternoon. You will possibly not have to wait at this time.

Over sixty canvassers have visited houses and interviewed country people during the past two weeks. The need is urgent. None of us know from day to day when sickness or accident may strike. Somebody else's blood may save our lives. We should all cooperate in offering our blood and not wait until someone in the family needs the transfusion service.

The clinic will be at Mannville on July 4th, so if you can't attend the Vermilion clinic on July 5th perhaps you can go to Mannville on July 4th.

Local Girl Wins High Guiding Award

Margwynne Clendenning, the daughter of Mr and Mrs. E. W. G Clendenning has earned the Gold Cord award for Guides. The Gold Cord is emblematic of the highest standing it is possible for a Girl Guide to achieve in her work. As far as can be ascertained from the records, Margwynne is the first Vermilion Guide to qualify for the Gold Cord, and is one of a very few Canadian girls who have achieved it.

There are many rigorous tests to be passed before winning a Gold Cord. Margwynne has earned thirty nine proficiency badges, has her First Class standing, passed an oral and practical test before a board of examiners in Edmonton, was recommended by the local leaders and sister guides, has performed services of benefit to the community, has shown considerable knowledge and familiarity with some foreign country and has camping experience and ability. All these accomplishments must have been attained three months prior to her 17th birthday. Margwynne is 17 years old as of May 1960.

Because Guide activities, except for camping, have been recessed for the summer holidays it is expected that it will be some time in the fall before Margwynne is officially presented with her Gold Cord. In the meantime she has the satisfaction of having completed an outstanding achievement, to her own credit, and to that of her family and community.

RCAF and Ghosts Split Twin Bill

R.C.A.F. fastballers from Cold Lake and Vermilion Ghosts split a twin bill at the park on Sunday before very large crowds of fans.

The Ghosts were trailing 6-3 in the first game but staged a 5 run rally in the 6th to win 8-6. Batteries were Murray Miller to Lorne Scoggins for the Ghosts. Bill Giddings to Jack MacKenzie, R.C.A.F.

R.C.A.F. took an early lead in the second encounter and finished with a 7-3 victory. The longest hit of the game was by Joe Winters who tried to stretch it into a home run but was cut off at home plate by a marvellous peg from the outfield.

Batteries: R.C.A.F. Omer Coffee to Jack MacKenzie. Vermilion Ghosts: Andy Redford to Lorne Scoggins.

Saddle Tramps Here Sunday, July 10th

Here is good news for thousands of people who hear Len McDonald and his Saddle Tramps over the radio and who flocked to see him in person at the Vermilion lake last summer. Len and his troupe of entertainers are coming back to Vermilion and will be the big attraction at the official opening of the summer season at the park on Sunday, July 10th. The program will start at 2 o'clock, so don't be late. More about Len and his Saddle Tramps next issue.

Mr and Mrs R B Carmichael and son Robert will be moving to Calgary at the end of the month. Bob will be with the Highway Inspection Branch Safety Division of the Alberta Government in Calgary.

Old Timer of Town Dies in Edmonton

A well-known and respected Vermilion old time resident, John McNeale Donnelly, passed away in Edmonton on June 20th, at the age of 85 years.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Edith Wilter and Mrs Frances Borton, both of Edmonton, four sons Claude of Lloydminster, George of Victoria, Clifford of Toronto, Laverne of Oakland, California, twenty grand children and two great-grand children.

Fair Only A Month Away; Horse Racing New Feature

Vermilion's Annual Exhibition will be held this year on July 28th, 29th and 30th, and plans are well under way for a successful event. Requests for prize lists have been more numerous than usual, indicating a wider interest than ever before in classes open for exhibit. This is especially true in the case of beef cattle and light horses, and the directors are looking forward to a fine showing of outstanding livestock.

ANNUAL FAIR CAMP

The annual Fair Summer Camp is scheduled for July 25th to 28th inclusive at the Provincial School of Agriculture and already there is an enrollment of more than eighty young farm people. Accommodation will still be available and all interested in attending should send their applications to the Secretary-Manager as soon as possible.

PROGRAM OF HORSE RACES

A program of racing is being arranged for Saturday afternoon, July 30th, and those having speedsters are cordially invited to have them entered for these events. The races to be staged are as follows: Free-For-All, one mile; Free-For-All, half mile; Barrel Race; Children's Pony Race; Chariot Race and Consolation Run. Purses will amount to $400 and the meet is expected to attract fast horses from all over the area.

AGRICULTURAL BUILDING PLANNED

The proposed new agricultural building to be erected at a cost of some $200,000 will not, of course, be built in time for this year's exhibition, but committees of the Agricultural Society and the Town of Vermilion are busy formulating plans and obtaining the best technical information possible with a view to having the new agricultural building an outstanding one in Western Canada. It is anticipated that construction will get underway within a few weeks and the town and district of Vermilion will have a structure to which they can point with considerable pride. The eventual moving of many of the existing fair buildings is envisioned in the long range plans, making for an exhibition and recreation plant that will be second to none in Alberta or Saskatchewan.

LIVESTOCK EXHIBITS BEST

Those who are familiar with the Vermilion livestock exhibits will agree that they compare favorably with exhibitions in much larger centres and it is certain that the new building will greatly enhance the opportunity for showing livestock to the best possible advantage.

EXCELLENT GRANDSTAND AND MIDWAY

The grandstand program for 1960 will again be under the very capable management of Tom Drake of Kansas City and fair patrons are assured of excellent performances. New midway rides and shows will prove attractive and Vermilion, the first fair in Alberta and only the second in Western Canada to do so, is this year distributing free kiddies day tickets to youngsters over a wide area. These tickets are good for grandstand admission or for free rides and shows on Thursday, July 28 up to 6 p.m. and some 6000 such free tickets have been distributed throughout the area served by Vermilion fair. Distribution to children up to grade six has been possible only through the generous cooperation of school principals and teachers, to whom goes the thanks of the Agricultural Society. Estevan fair in southern Saskatchewan adopted this plan a year ago and having met with notable success the idea was taken up by the directors of Vermilion fair, ever ready to adopt any plan which serves the best interests of those who have so well supported the fair over a long period of time. It is hoped that children will carefully preserve their free tickets and make good use of them on the first day of the 1960 fair. Midway operators have assured the management that all rides will be in operation not later than 1:00 p.m. on Thursday, July 28th.

MONSTER PARADE

A monster parade is being organized and all business men and citizens generally are invited to take part; there is little question but that the parade brings a great many people to Vermilion Fair adding to its success. In addition to participation in the parade, merchants and others are asked to have flags on hand so that the town may be gaily decorated on the three days of the [illegible] Fair.

ADVANCE SALE OF TICKETS

The advance sale of tickets will open on July 9th this year making it possible for [illegible] families to attend the Vermilion Fair at nominal cost. The Board of Directors fully realizes that the support of the entire district is necessary to continue a successful operation and, at this time cordially invites every citizen to join in promoting Vermilion's 1960 Fair, scheduled for July 28th, 29th and 30th.

Visiting Firemen Aid Retarded

"Firemen 'Help' My Child" was the new version of the age-old battle cry of the firemen.

On Thursday afternoon, students from the Vermilion Retarded Children's school, were guests at a fire-fighting demonstration in connection with the recent short course held here. Treated royally, the children were greatly enthralled with the whole spectacle and the bright red engines, and to finish off a wonderful experience, fire officials Emil Eyford of Hay River, N.W.T., and Herbert Forcand of Entwistle, Alberta, presented the teachers with $10 on behalf of the firemen.

Heartfelt thanks of the Association go out to these public-spirited men.

DOMINION DAY . . . THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOUNDATION OF TRUE DEMOCRACY

What does Dominion Day stand for? Fire works? Long week-ends? Another holiday? All too often Canadians forget that July 1st is, in fact, Canada's birthday — a day to observe that historic event of July 1st, 1867, when Confederation took place with the passing of the British North America Act by the British parliament. Canadians should be aware that July 1st is "The anniversary of the foundation of true democracy."

PARENTS RESPONSIBLE . . . SUPERVISION SAVES LIVES

After a long season of having your hair done and getting [illegible] clothes ready so that you could attend various functions in some semblance of respectability, to say nothing of the [illegible] months spent in getting the children off to school, it's [illegible] to let one's hair down, literally, during the all-too-brief summer.

Quite a number of us head for our favorite spot at the beach or [illegible] and do just that. It feels good to be free of all those responsibilities for awhile! And there's no doubt [illegible] we deserve some respite.

It is regrettable that many parents take their summer sabbatical too literally however, because there is one area in which we just can't afford to relax, and that is in the constant supervision of our children — most especially when they are near or in the water.

Children of all ages love to play in the water, and it is [illegible] a job to keep them away from it. Just when we adults [illegible] feel like a nap, or it's time to start supper, is the time when they are sure to be clamoring for a dip! The youngsters have a poor sense of timing in these matters, as far as we grown-ups are concerned.

If the tads don't heed your warnings to keep away from the water, then it's still the adult responsibility to watch them—nap or no nap, meal or no meal. The blunt facts are that, if you fail in your responsibility to supervise your children for every second that they are [illegible] or in the water, then you may not have at least one child to work for when school-time comes around next autumn. It [illegible] too often to too many parents every year. But [illegible] will not bring back a small life.

The children should also be taught the rules of water safety, and the reasons why these rules have been made. After all, they [illegible] to enjoy the water, and to respect it — but not to fear it.

Your Canadian Red Cross operates an extensive Water Safety Service throughout the country. We urge you to contact your Red Cross Branch for water safety information. Learn the rules of water safety yourself, and pass them on to your children. Then, supervise them every minute that they are near the water, to be sure that they always carry them out.

In the carefree days of summer, your children can't always be expected to think at all times for themselves. You may expect them to do so, but they don't. It's your responsibility — it's up to YOU.

FARMERS' DAY

For a number of years Farmers' Day has been marked in Alberta early in June. While it has not been established as a provincial holiday, school children have had the day off and throughout the province farmer picnics, rallies, sports days and other similar celebrations have become the order of the day.

While June is an appropriate month as far as the farmer is concerned, it has perhaps been an unfortunate choice for school children. School authorities claim that the holiday comes too close to the final examinations and that students can ill afford to take the time off from their studies. Because of the [illegible] from the city school officials, the provincial government has now ruled that next year Farmers' Day will not be a province-wide school holiday. Instead, local school boards will decide whether or not it is to be observed.

It is fitting that Farmers' Day be marked in Alberta, for although there has been spectacular development in the petroleum and manufacturing industries, agriculture still remains the basic industry. It provides employment, either directly or [illegible], for far more people than any other single industry. It would be unfortunate if Farmers' Day is forgotten. However, if it is dropped, perhaps it will have been the fault of farmers themselves and their organizations for [illegible] taking full advantage of the occasion to tell the [illegible] of the towns and cities about the industry and convincing them that agriculture is worthy of tribute.
